PROCEEDINGS OF THE DEMOCRATIC STATE CON-

VENTION. COLUMBIS, Ohio, August 20.-The dexocratic state convention was late in assembling this morning. The sub-committee on resolutions, appointed last evening, remained in session until 5 o'clock this morning, and then being unable to agree, turned the subject over to the full committee, which is still in session at 10 o'clock this morning, and probably will not be ready to report before noon. Other business before the convention this morning will be of a routine character, and will be readily disposed of.

GETTING DOWN TO BUSINESS. The convention was called to order by T. J. Gogan, chairman of the state central committee, and the committee on permanent orpanization reported Hon, John Follett, Cincinnati, permanent cuairman; Hon Geo, H, Hull, Lima permanent secretary. The principal feature of the speech made by Fol-lett was a strong endorsement of the present administration, and complimenting the convention on the favorable auspices under which it had met, with the national government the committee appointed at a meeting of the state voters union to memoralize the state conventions of the two parties for resubmission of the second amendment to a vote of the people. The report asked resubmission of the second amendment closing saloons on Sunday and a general remedy of the existing evil from drink traffic. It was referred to the committee on resolutions under the rules.

HOADLY NOMINATED, The committee on resolutions not being ready to report, the convention proceeded to nominate a caudidate for governor. M. O. W. Geddes off red the name of Gov. Hoad-ly in a long speech recounting his brilllant record as governor, and his administration, and also paying a high compliment to Judge Thurman, and announcing that he could not allow the use of his name before the conven-tion. Geddes concluded an elequent speech by moving the suspension of the rules and nomination of Hoadly by applamation. This was received with long applause and no word of objection. Ges. Michael Ryan, of Cincin-nati, followed, seconding the motion. When the motion was put the vote was unanimous and enthusiastic with the exception of a few unanimously amid great applause. Before further proceedings Governor Hoadly was introduced amid great enthusiasm, and explained why he had not been a more outspok en candidate for the nomination.

THE PARTY HAD BROUGHT HIM THROUGH BEFORE IN AN AMBULANCE, without much effort on his part, and he the rules of precedent. The convention was free to ac; without asking and he could not help but respond to the call and with better health would hop for even better results. In the discharge of his trust he courted the most searching criti cism in all official acts. He endored the work of the last legislature, saying that noth ing was done by it which Judge Foraker could have found to complain of. He thought Foraker instead of finding fault with the present administration should be a fitting mem-ory to Rutherf rd S. Hayes, and the legislature which robbed Cinclanati of local self gov ernment. Hoadly defined bimself as against prohibition and old not believe regulation and to him. After the governor concluded, on motion of the Hamilton county contingent low them which had opposed his nomination, three ter-devil. cheers were given. The names of Hon. Chas. D. Martin and Judge W. J. Gilmore were presented for the nomination of supreme judge, long term. Gilmore's name, however, was withdrawn and Martin nominated unanimously by acclamation. THE PLATFORM. 1. The democracy of Ohio, in convention se sembled, congratulate the country upon the election and isauguration of the democratic candidates for president and vice president of the United States. This fortunate result and the wise andministration that has followed, have already dispelled the illusion that democratic success was inconsistent with the busi ness interests of the country or perilous to freedmen. The revival of prosperity and the begun to demonstrate the beneficiency of dem-ocratic principles, even before any session of congress has enabled the country to realize ne full fruition of their application.

2. We congratulate President Cleveland and his cabines on the auspicious beginning they have made in necessary reforms of govment and heartily endorse their administration.

3. We approve the measures taken by a democratic congress for preventing the ac-question of unearned lands by railroad comcanies, and a democratic president in firmly solding the public lands for public use, and in preventing their unlawful occupation.

4. We reaffirm the pla form of pricciples adopted by the democratic national convention held at Chicago in 1884.

5 We commend the administration of Gov. Hoadly and the work of the Sixty-sixth

We especially commend the fidelity of the democratic members of the Bix yearth general assembly to the pledge of the party in favor of licensing the traffic in intoxicating liquers, and we denounce the fraud and hypeerisy of the republicans in defeating the measure of reform.

S. The democratic party is, as it slways has been, opposed to symptuary legislation and unequal taxation in any form, and is in favor of the largest liberty of private conduct con-sistent with public welfare and the rights of others, and of regulating the liquor traffic and providing against the evils resulting therefrom by a judicious and properly graded license system. Under the present constitution of Ohio such system is forbidden, and taxation is limited to property and required to be measured by money statue. We therefore are in favor of a constitutional amendment which shall require the exetum and we promise its shall permit such system and we promise its submission for adoption by the people, if the necessary three-fifths of the next general assembly be compused of democrats.

9. The democratic party is and always has been the party of the people and of the agricultural and wool growing interest, the enemy Hon George W. Bain, of Kentucky, delivered an interesting lecture on "The Safe Side of prison reforms; we favor the preservation of the canals as the cheapest transportation for producers and consumers, and recommend that they be put in efficient condition for the public service.

11. We favor the establishment of an intermediate penitentiary for reform of prisoners not belonging to the criminal classes.

12. We favor a change of the date of state, county and congressional elections to November.

county and congressional elections to November.

2313. We mourn the ceath of Gen. Grant. The citizens of his native state, without distinction of party, so row at his low and cherish the memory of his medest and heroic character and his great deeds, among their proudest public possessions. We sympathize with his bereaved widow and children and we trust and hope that his last words, urging harmony and good will between these sections may be taken to heart by his countrymen, that sectional alienation and hate may be a thing of the past.

may be a thing of the past.

14. Resolved, That in the death of Judge Weekly the state has lost a pure and able jurist and we condole with his family on their rreparable loss.

THE OTHER NOMINEES.

On the third ballot Otherton was nominated on the third ballot Otherton was nominated as candidate for the vacancy on the supreme bench, vice E O. Key, deceased. The ticket was completed by the nomination of Peter Brady for treasurer, James Lawrence for attorney general, and Henry Weible for mem ber of the board of public works, all nominated by acc'a nation. After unanimous adoption of the platform the convention adjusted. THE STATE COMMITTEE ORGANIZES AND ELECTS

They said that they felt grieved because they were not consulted with regard to certain appointments. Some of them say that they have been ignored by the administration. A committee from the various mercantile exchanges called upon Cleve-iand last fall, after his election, for the pur-pose of congratulating him. WABASH WRECKERS, LEADING KNIGHT PROMISES COMPLETE PAR-ALYSIS OF THE BOAD. Special Telegram to The BEE.

CHICAGO, August 20. - "The Wabash strike," said a prominent Knight of Labor who was in the city this morning, en route to Washington to attend the executive board meeting at that place Friday, "was not precipitated by bunglers. There need be no surprise because when the formal order was given the Wabash railroad was not paralyzed. Paralysis will come over it soon, and because practical railroad managers know this is the eason why Wall street is so much disturbed, even before there is any evidence of the strike aving begun."

"What is the condition of affairs now?" "Well, I have just been over the entire line of the Wabash and of the southwest system You must understand that the strike so far is confined to repair shops. And then, as soon as the machinery of our order is put in motion, freight will not be transferred from the Wabish to the Union or Kansas Pacific lines. I see, by the way, that the Chicazo morning papers state that no action is being taken at Denver; but there will be action taken just the same. The Denver district assembly meets on Friday night, and if the Union Pacific attempts to handle Wabash freight or repair Wabash rolling stock a strike will at once be ordered on that road. "A PICAYUNE AFFAIR," THE OPINION OF GOULD AND OTHER MOGULS

ON THE WABASH STRIKE. Special Telegram to the BEE. New York, August 20 .- The Sun's says:

Jay Gould's unexpected arrival in his yacht the Atlanta, from Vineyard Haven, yesterday morning, gave rise to a report in Wall street that the issues involved in the Wabash strike were more important than is generally supposed. Significance was given to the order forbidding all Knights of Labor in the employ of the Union Pacific and its branches, and Gould's southwest system or any other rail-road to handle in any magner Wabseh rolling stock. It was argued that this order virtual ly shut out nearly 60 per cent of the Wabash rolling stock now used by the Missouri Pacific and Union Pacific systems. Should the Wabsah attempt to roll its stock over the Wabash attempt to roll its stock over the these systems of roads, the strike, it is declared, would assume large proportions and become a decidedly interesting factor in stock speculation, not to speak of the influence it would have on the general trade of the country. Receiver Solan Humphreys, of the Wabash, after saying he received several telegrams from St. Louis belittling the strike and its influence, went to the Western Union building to confer with Gould. Vice Presibuilding to confer with Gould. Vice Presi dents Ho: kins, Hays and Hoxis, of the Mis dents Horkins, Hays and Hoxis, of the Missouri Pacific, were there consulting with President Jay Gould, and afterwards Gould said he had heard very little about the Wabah strike. He did not think it of much importance and did not see how the strike c u'd run into the Missouri Pacific system. "I den't see why it should," Gould continued, "because all Missouri Pacific employes are well and promptly paid." Secretary O. D. Ashly, of the Wabah, thought the strike, "a picayune affair." "The road," he said, 'is insolvent, and perhaps we have been rather slow vent, and perhaps we have been rather slow in payments, but under no circumstances will we agree to the terms demanded by the Kuights of Labor." Naw York, August 29 - Jay Gould says, in regard to the strike, that he don't think it of much importance, and didn't see how the strike could run into the Missouri Pacific system. Some business men made large deposits to show their confidence in the bank, and matters seemed progressing favorably for the bank, when about 2 o'clock, to the surprise of everyone, the bank's doors were closed, and the following notice was posted: "This bank has suspended payment by order of the comptroller of currency, as per telegram:

Washington, August 20.—A. M. Britton, President City National Bank, Fort Worth, Texas.—An examiner has been ordered to take possession of, and examine your bank.

take possession of, and examine your bank. Close the doors and hold all assets as they are until his arrival.

J. S. LANGWORTHY, President Britton states that he notified the tressury department of the defalcation, and received the above reply. Britton and a number of other bankers in this city in mediately framed a telegram to the comptroller, asking him to rescind the order closing the bank, but just as their protest was about to b telegraphed,

THEY DISCOVERED A POBGED CHECK for $2,500, also a note for $600, and concluded to allow the doors to remain closed until a thorough examination is made.

thorough examination is made.

Nichols was also city treasurer and an examination of his account to-day revealed the fact that he was also a defaulter to the city of Fort Worth in the sum of $31,300. His bondsmen are responsible men, and the probabilities are that the city will lose nothing Included in his shortage to the city are $5,000 in city bonds, which are missing, and twenty Tarrant county bonds for $500 each, aggregating $10,000, market value. These are supposed to have been sold in the east.

It was also discovered that Nichols, in his capacity as vice president of the City national capacity as vice president of the City national bank, had borrowed $13,000 from three—other bank had borrowed $13,000 from three other banks in the city. These loans were immediately paid by the City national bank. It is believed that Nichols hypothecated for persona loans all his shares in the bank, and in other corporations in which he was a stockholder. As near as can be estimated to night, the shortage of Nichols to this bank and the city of Fort Worth aggregated $75,000. His unsecured loans from outside parties will bring the shortage up to he shortage up to

ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND OR OVER. ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND OR OVER.

He owned considerable valuable property here, and at other points in Texas, but it is believed that everything was mortgaged to secure outside loans, the aggregate of which no one knows at this time. There no longer exist a doubt but that Nichols committed suicide. Physicians say the symptoms of his death indicate strychnine. No explanation as to how or when the dead banker lost his money is yet forthcoming. It is said he was interested in silver mines and other hazardous enterprises. ardous enterprises.

MYSTERIOUS MAXWELL,

PROBABLE SOLVING OF THE IDENTITY OF THE

ST. LOUIS ENIGMA. London, August 20.-Hugh Brooks doubtless identical with Maxwell. He was formerly a clerk in the office of Brown & Ainsworth at Stockport. About eighteen months ago he passed an examination, and mmer ced the practice of lav at Hyde. He not with little success. In January last he impounced that he had an important lawsuit n Dublin, which required a primary visit to London, and he left rlyde, taking with him a London, and he left hyde, taking with him a tricycle and photograph apparatus belonging to Dr. Sidebothom, of Hyde, having evident-ly sold his own effects to pay his creditors. Shortly after Brooks departure, the curate of ROME, August 20.—The Unfinished $10,000 stake race was completed to-day. The description gives not fifth, Kenilworth the sixth and Joe Davis the seventh heat and race. In the last heat Kenilworth weat to pieces on the home stretch and was distanced. So Davis takes first and third money, Adelaide will mass at Keren in September, and march of a watch which he sold to High Brooks.

The portrait of Maxwell, published in a Washington paper, exactly resembles Brooks.
Hugh was about five feet six inches high, and had a dark moustache and square chin, with a supercilious air and drawling voice.

It is certain that Hugh and Prelier became equainted in England, and sailed for America together, and it is equally certain that Hugh was short of funds. The fact that Hugh dab-bled in medical experiments makes the chlooform story plausible, Letters reached Hyde, which were dated at St. Louis a couple of days prior to the murder. One contained an Easter card addressed to Hugh's former sweetheart. The case has caused much excitement at Hyde.

POOLING ON PRICES.

THE DISTILLERS OF THE WEST FORM A NEW

COMBINATION. CHICAGO, Ill., August 20.-The Western Export association, which has regulated the price of whisky for a number of years, ceased to exist to day by a vote of its members, and has been succeeded by what will be known as the American Spirit company. The cautes leading to this change of name, were that the rules of the old organization were not sufficiently binding to prevent the distillers from disposing of any amount of spirits on the market below pool rates. At the meeting held to-day it was decided to consolidate the distilling interests more firmly, and effectually regulate the production and prices by organizing a chartered stock company. Sixty-seven of the seventy-five members of the Western Export association were present, and a motion to the above effect was carried. An agreement was subsegreatly drawn up and signed by all present. The proprietors of the eight distilleries not represented will be urged to join the new
