OMAHA WHOLESALE MARKETS

Trade Review.

The past week has shown increased activity in almost all branches of business.

The demand for all kinds of produce has been fair. There has been a great demand for good butter. Large quantities of the butter received the past week have been of inferior quality, a great deal of the butter being in such bad condition that it was necessary to dispose of it the same day or turn it over to the packers.

Eggs, which were quoted the first of the week at 8c, have advanced to 11c, and there is still a strong demand. A great many stale eggs were received owing to the neglect on the part of shippers to candle properly.

There is a glut of poultry and consequently a decline in prices. The demand for chickens is unprecedented in this market, but the receipts have been more than enough to meet it. The Plymouth Rock appears to be the favorite with buyers.

The grain market has been quiet and prices have remained steady. Buyers complain of the poor quality of the new oats which are coming into market.

Although it is still rather early in the season for an active business, the autumn trade in dry goods is beginning to exhibit considerable animation. Mail orders from old customers and traveling salesmen are rapidly increasing, and within the last few days a good many merchants have arrived from the west for the purpose of selecting autumn goods. They invariably report fine crops and a healthy feeling regarding trade, and they back up these assertions by purchasing good-sized bills of miscellaneous goods. The new styles of dress goods are now in full stock, and buyers who put in an early appearance will have the pick of an unusually attractive assortment.

The same thing, so far as an increase in volume of trade is concerned, may be said of the grocery business.

Wholesale druggists have no reason to complain, as their sales have been very good during the entire week. The movement continues to run somewhat ahead of last year, and prices rule comparatively steady.

The wholesale lumber market has experienced an advance of from 50c to $1.00 per thousand, owing to an increase in freight rates from the northwest.

The grain market is very quiet and quotations remain about the same.
