

THE DAILY BEE. COUNCIL BLUFFS

Wednesday Morning, August 26. Office No. 12 Pearl St. Delivered by carrier to any part of the city for twenty cents a week.

MINOR MENTION.

Ralter, merchant tailor, for fine goods See Cooke & Morgan's 50c, 75c and $1.00 skirts. The city council meets to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The jurymen in the circuit court have been excused until next Monday. James McAuley and George Pifer were yesterday fined as plain drunks.

The end of the fill on Sixth street has been badly washed away by the late rains.

One train of twenty-five cars of live stock went out over the Northwestern yesterday morning.

Permission to marry was yesterday given to M. C. Parks and Minnie Davis, both of Oakland, Iowa.

Ben Long yesterday concluded to change his plea to disturbing the peace, and he paid the usual fine.

Fifty dozen Ball's corsets just received at Cooke & Morgan's.

The evening prohibitory organ has at last plucked up courage enough to gently chide the saloon men for their Sunday picnic.

One of the boarders at the Tremont house had his room burglarized Monday night, and lost a suit of clothes and a pair of shoes.

The institution for the deaf and dumb will not open until the 23d of September, the delay being caused by the repairs necessitated by the storm this summer.

DIED—At the residence of his son, fifteen miles east of Council Bluffs, Iowa, on the 23d of August, Peter Liddell, a native of Rutherglen, Lanarkshire, Scotland, in his eighty-sixth year.

The circuit court met at last yesterday morning, but little of public interest was accomplished, the time being taken up with the call of the calendar, the filing of motions and the entering of defaults.

Special drive in red twilled flannels, 25c worth 40c at Cooke & Morgan's.

The Episcopal social is to be held this evening in the Masonic hall instead of at the residence of Mrs. J. B. Atkins, as previously announced. There will be good music and other necessities for a happy social season. The admission will be twenty-five cents.

Eva Lamont, who has caused the police no little trouble by her boldness and hilariousness on the streets, was again arrested yesterday, but released on her solemn promise to leave the city last night, a masculine friend of hers promising to take her with him.

Mayor Lovell, of Neola, seems to be in trouble. He has been charged with disturbing the peace which it is supposed to be his duty to preserve, and the case has been continued for a few days, as he proposes to fight it out. Lovell is a democrat and has aspirations to the office of sheriff, and it seems that some of his political rivals want to have him put on the record unfavorably.

It is reported that the postoffice fight is being resumed in the interest of Bowman. Having shown that his faction is stronger than Vaughan's he may start in afresh, but he hasn't got Wells Cook out of the way yet. The republicans, and many democrats are content to have Armour hold the fort, as his administration has certainly been an excellent one for the business men, without regard to party, and those who delight in having the service bettered here, are satisfied to let him stay, but the politicians will not have it that way, and the strife will go on.

Officer Kirk on Sunday night had his attention attracted by a crowd standing in front of the Colorado house, evidently drawn there by the fact of the presence of the German band, who are boarding at the house. He went inside and called on Mr. Cramer, the proprietor, to make his German friends and boarders clear the sidewalk, but the proprietor had no inclination to do so, and told the officer that it was the business of the police to clear the walks if he wanted them cleared. The two had a little talk of not the friendliest sort, and yesterday Cramer was brought into court on the charge of disturbing the peace, but the judge concluded to discharge him.

Judge Aylesworth is keeping his decision of the fire chiefship contest under advisement. In the meantime a new move is reported. Some of the citizens want to have both the new chief and the old one dropped, and Harry Birkinbine, the engineer of the water works company, chosen for chief. It is said that some of his friends have about persuaded him to serve, and without cost to the city, his connection with the water works and his desire to have them show up as well as possible in case of fire, being a greater incentive than a salary. If Birkinbine should go in it is safe to predict that there would not be so much foolishness as is indulged in now. There is need of a stricter discipline, and a more effectual manner of the department, and this would doubtless be brought about at once.

The mayor in his little organ has set on foot more extended inquiries than he intended. He intimates that it would be well for the officials to examine the accounts of the late city clerk, and also remeasure the paving for the benefit of the city engineer's record. If there is to be a thorough examination of all the records and official doings, there may be some other revelations made not so pleasant to those who start the quarrel and throw out the suspicious hint. Such seems the return thrust. The people are ready for any sort of a showing. Let the investigation be made, only let them be thorough and impartial. Honest men have nothing to fear, and the feelings of the dishonest ones should not be considered. Let the mayor not be content with hinting at crookedness, but in his official capacity he should avail himself of what he knows or pretends to know as a newspaper man.

ELEGANT WEDDING AND STYLISH PARTY Stationery, the finest and most complete line ever brought to the city now at FAYOR'S BEE JOB OFFICE. Invitations, Programs, Regrets, Calling Cards, etc.

THE LATEST STYLES, and in quantities to suit. Also a beautiful line of ENGRAVED FOLDERS AND CARDS. Call and see them. All orders filled promptly, and the work will be guaranteed to equal the best.

Wonderful Art. In accordance with the announcement made, No. 34 Pearl street is proving a most attractive place, especially for the ladies. The New Home sewing machine company is there, making for a few days an exhibition of embroidery, arrangements, and fancy needle work, and the showing without any exaggeration is one of the richest, and in some respects the most marvellous of anything ever seen in this city. The ladies look, admire and wonder, and on all sides it is heard the query, "How is it done?" The Bee man don't know, but there is in attendance a gentlemanly young man named A. M. Howland, who is ready not only to explain, but to give ocular evidence that any and all of this rich embroidery can be done quite easily on this machine, of which B. M. Wilbur is the general agent. It is sufficient for the Bee to warn its many readers that those who delight in the beautiful will miss a great sight if they fail to attend this exhibition, for never in this city has there been its like.

Substantial abstract of title and real estate loans. J. W. and E. L. Squires, 102 Pearl street.

IOWA ITEMS. The new Catholic church at Keokuk will be dedicated next Sunday. The state auditor will shortly transfer the surplus school money to the needy counties.

Two unknowns, a man and woman, were arrested near Dubuque last week, for forgeries committed in the east.

Peter Peterson, a young Dane of Avoca, through his careless handling of a revolver, gave himself a fatal wound by its accidental discharge on Thursday night.

Suit was entered at Dubuque, by Andrew Anderson against L. D. Randall & Co., leather merchants, for $6,000 for injuries received by falling into a cellar owned by the defendant.

The Davenport Gazette says that beyond doubt the real Rock Mountain locust is visiting Iowa, and has recently been reported "flying in such millions over Keokuk county as to appear like a snow storm."

M. Sorenson, a tenant farmer near Walnut, in Pottawattamie county, hanged himself in his barn at an early hour on Friday morning. The suicide was a man 50 years of age, and leaves a wife and several grown children.

On Thursday last John Shields was arrested in Des Moines charged with stealing seventeen head of horses. John insisted that he had stolen but twelve head, and seemed injured that the extra five should be charged against him.

The latest freak of postal lightning is that of Richard Huskins, appointed by the president to Lone Tree. He is eighty years old, and has lost his memory, his eyesight, and generally debilitated from senile decay, all of which is supposed to constitute a sound demerit.

The grain buyers of central Iowa have organized a protective association for mutual benefit. Officers were elected as follows: President, M. McDonald, of Bayard; vice president, E. A. Abbott, of Marshalltown; secretary, George Heaton, of Perry; treasurer, L. Mott, of Des Moines.

Lieut. Charles J. Clark, Tenth United States infantry, has been detailed to inspect the various regiments of Iowa national guards at their encampment, and to make report of the drill, discipline and proficiency of the Iowa militia to the adjutant general of the United States army.

D. W. Honk, an American express messenger, while unlocking his messenger box at Des Moines Thursday, was shot in the breast by his own revolver falling from his scabbard and the hammer striking the iron box or safe on the floor, exploding the weapon with the unfortunate results stated.

Tony Kringle, a Dubuque loafer and thug, after partaking of the hospitality of a local named Patrick Judge in the way of fifteen or twenty drinks, attempted on Thursday night under cover of darkness to murder and rob his daylight friend, beating him in an unmerciful manner over the head with a club.

In what is known as the Steele neighborhood near Montezuma, in Pottawattamie county, the rattlesnakes have alarmed the people to the extent that one field of grain, if not more has been left to waste, as the venomous reptiles were so numerous that no one would venture in to help harvest the ripened grain. A Mr. Steele killed fifty-two rattlers on his place during the season.

The great Alexander, adjutant general of Iowa, invaded Davenport last week and permitted himself to be interviewed. It was his last and greatest effort. He informed the anxious people of the town that for noble and slightly residences and beautiful women it was the banner town of the state. When the town arose next morning and read his opinion, nothing was so good for him, in fact he took a special train out of town.

POUNCED ON THE PLUNDER.

The Goods Stolen at Grand Island Found by the Police in This City.

Yesterday's Bee contained an account of the pursuit of two colored men by an officer in Omaha, the men being wanted for stealing in Grand Island. One of the fellows was shot through the arm, and captured, while his comrade made good his escape. The fellow who escaped had the plunder, and yesterday he made an attempt to ship it from here. The plunder was in two grips, and these he sent to the United States express office, by another colored man, who gave his name as O. Johnson, and he wanted the goods shipped to Oscar Jones at Des Moines. Chief of Police Skinner took out the necessary papers, and captured the goods, which proved to be the property stolen. The colored man who brought the goods to the office claimed to know nothing about the man who had sent them by him, and showed a willingness to help the officers in hunting him. The grips contained clothing and barber tools, and some of the razors bore on their blades the name of their owner, William Howell, so that there could be no question of their identity. Other of the goods belonged to Thomas Goodchild, and to Dr. Johnson. The officers have hope of catching the other of the crooked pair, and were following a hot trail yesterday.

PERSONAL. Riley Clark, of Neola, was in the city yesterday.

Mell Bellinger is still confined to his home by illness.

County Recorder Chambers is confined to his home by illness.

J. P. Organ, of Neola, was in the city yesterday attending court.

J. M. Rankin, of Red Oak, was among those at the Pacific yesterday.

H. H. Van Brunt left last evening for Rockford, Illinois, on business.

W. J. Trotter and Fremont Benjamin, of Avoca, are in attendance at court.

Mrs. E. Troutman and children have returned from a visit to friends in Atlantic.

Miss Louisa and Mollie Chapman, of Kansas City, are visiting the Misses Luskowski.

Conductor Clapp, of the Northwestern, returned from Wisconsin, and is again handling the punch.

Jacob Harb, a late partner in the "Two Jakes" barber shop, left yesterday for Hot Springs, Arkansas.

L. H. Joselyn, who has been visiting his daughters, Mrs. Tilton and Mrs. Pryor, started back yesterday for his home in Wisconsin.

SICK STOCK. L. P. Judson has been losing a number of cattle lately with a peculiar disease, and a like disease has appeared among cattle in Hazel Dell and Bomar townships. The doctors have not decided what its cause are, but an examination of some which have died shows that the organs are all in a healthy condition except the stomach, and it is therefore thought that the cattle have been eating some harmful substance.

Trouble continues among the hogs in Neola township. The disease has baffled the skill of the Shenandoah doctors and it is continuing to carry off large numbers, especially pigs. Henry Rihthon has lost about a hundred, and it is still losing more. His brother, James has lost about the same number. E. Donovan has lost about eighty-five. Henry Butler, in the same neighborhood, has lost a number. The hogs in some cases die in two or three days after being taken sick, while others worry along a week or two, but there are few cases of recovery.

A JUSTICE'S INDIGNATION. How a Wife Beater Found "Meroy" in a Jefferson Market Police Court.

New York Telegram. "You vile wretch! You villain. You despicable scoundrel! Hanging is too good for you; you ought to have a stone tied around your neck and be thrown into the river!"

It was upon the head of James Hoolihan, a long-bearded, sanctimonious-looking man, 50 years old, of No. 189 Seventh avenue, that Justice Murray poured the above stream of adjectives in Jefferson Market police court. Hoolihan was arrested upon complaint of his neighbor for molesting his young, half-witted wife. He had locked her in her room all day yesterday without food, and when he came home at night began to beat the poor creature. The neighbor's wife has brought her ill-treatment of his wife has brought her ill to his present condition.

The prisoner was terrified at the magistrate's violence, and he held up his hands in supplication for mercy. "Meroy, you coward!" almost hissed his honor in the heat of his indignation; ask me for the kind of mercy you gave that poor helpless woman and you'll get it. Six months at hard labor in the work-house is what I'll give you.

"Oh, judge, give me one more —" began the prisoner, sinking on his knees before the bench and weeping. "Get up there, you sneaking hypocrite, or the officer will kick you into jail!" cried the magistrate.

The man ceased weeping and cast a sinister look out of his green gray eyes at the justice as he moved back toward the prisoner.

Rev. W. M. Leftwich, D. D., of Nashville, Tenn., pronounced Red Star Cough Cure a magical remedy for throat and lung troubles.

Conclusive Evidence. A couple of gentlemen stood on Vine street, says the Cincinnati Enquirer, talking about one thing or another, when a beggar made a plea for alms, showing that his right hand was gone as an inducement to contribute. One of the gentlemen gave the fellow a dime, but the other refused to ante up. "How did you lose your hand?" the beggar was asked. "I was coupling cars and got my hand so badly mashed that I had to have it cut off, sir."

You were trying to steal a watch from my pocket, and I am the very one that did it. The only mistake I made was in shooting at your hand instead of your heart. The beggar didn't stop to parley, but sneaked off with celerity.

"Didn't want to Ketch It." A gentleman who spent several years teaching gives the following account of a teacher's interview with a boy of about 14 in a rural district. Other teachers have probably had similar experiences: "What is your name?" "Sam."

"What is the rest of it?" "Sam-yell."

"What is your surname?" "Middle name's Hozayer."

"And the last?" "Jackson."

"Jackson, then, is the name of your parents?"

"No, mum, it ain't. One 'em is named Wilyum and t'other one Mary Jane."

"How old are you?" "Dunno."

"What! A boy as large as you doesn't know his age?"

"Yesum."

"A boy of your size ought to know the exact year of his birth."

"I do know the year."

"What year was my sister Harriet?"

"Indeed!"

"Yesum; we're twins."

"I want you to ask your mother how old you are, and tell me to-morrow."

"She dunno; she dunno nothin'."

"That is not a very nice way to talk about your mother."

"She don't keer."

"Why don't she?"

"She dead."

"Where do you live?"

"To home."

"Where is your home?"

"Over yon." "This with a jerk of his head over his left shoulder."

"Have you any books?"

"No, mom; I don't need none."

"Why not?"

"I'm only in my a b a's."

"Then you have never had any educational advantages?"

Boy scratches his head and says: "No, mom; not that I know of. But I've had atryplap. If what you said is worse nor that I don't want ter ketch it."

THE REMINGTON Standard Type Writer

At the New Orleans Exposition. 1. The jury of awards critically examined the various writing machines, and decided by a three vote to give the highest award to the Remington.

The decision of the jury was ignored by the committee of awards, and other jurors were added to constitute new jury.

This second jury also critically examined the various writing machines, and made the award of a first class gold medal, the highest award, to the Remington Standard Type Writer, for "simplicity, durability, ease of manipulation and speed."

The report of this jury was made, delivered to and accepted for by the committee of awards on May 30.

The members of this jury were never discharged.

No other jury examined the Remington Standard Type-Writer at New Orleans.

The signers of the award are honorable and well known gentlemen. Their addresses are Chas. A. Morgan, ex-Governor of Louisiana; R. G. Dunn & Co., New Orleans, La.; Ex-Governor Frank Dyer, U. S. Commissioner of Kansas, and President of the U. S. Board of Commissioners, Chanute, Kas; Geo. A. Heaton, Esq., stenographer and secretary of the board of U. S. Commissioners, Columbus, Ohio.

The affidavits of these gentlemen and the history of the contest, which we are preparing pamphlet form, will be pleased to furnish on application.

The following is the report:— The World's Industrial and Cotton Centennial Exposition, New Orleans. Jury report. Application No. 845; group 8; class 614. Competition.

The undersigned jurors in the above entitled case, having carefully examined the exhibit made by Remington & Sons, (New York), and all competing exhibits, concur in recommending the award of a first class medal to the Standard Type-Writer, for simplicity, durability, ease of manipulation and speed.
