The contract of the city of Lincoln with Chester B. Davis for the plans and is a phase of the matter entirely over-looked by the city council in its haste to woods, was appointed for the purpose. award the work to Mr. Davis. The city has not yet voted any bonds for the payment of Mr. Davis' claim nor for the construction of the sewerage system. Under the law no such bonds can be voted made to the city for the bonds, no notice to vote bonds has been given nor any of style. the requisite steps yet taken for the con-struction of the Lincoln system of sewerage. Under the sgreement stipulated by the city council when it decided to give Mr. Davis the work, it was underno appearance in Lincoln yet it is presumed he is busy with his drawings, and tion, or any other preliminaries, have yet been submitted to the voters of Lincoln.

The proposition, should it be made September 1, could not now be voted on before October 1, and then the twenty days and encouragement during the state tournsment at Grand Island.

The gentleman was called to order by Calef Justice Cobb, but the anger evinced by him could only be cooled by a shower of blank grape and cannister such as only an attorney can use when he desires to throw dust or work upon the credulity of an innocen and simple minded set of people. Mr. Lamb was asked by the court what he wanted, whether he wanted to make a motion, interpose an objection or other wise object to the proceedings. Mr. Lamb was not able to tell just exactly what he did want and said nothing, any more than that "He did not want the interference of outsiders," meaning Mr. Mason, who has taken up the case to prevent the people being robbed of the out-landish claim of Webster's for $14,000.
