

THE DAILY BEE. COUNCIL BLUFFS Saturday Morning, August 29, Office No. 12 Pearl St.

MINOR MENTION.

Refier, merchant tailor, for fine goods. The city council has adjourned until Saturday evening of next week.

The saloon of G. Schroeder was yesterday closed by a writ of attachment on a claim of $40 due on rent.

The interior of engine house No. 1 is being improved, new stalls being made for the horses, and other needed changes being made.

Services in the Congregational church tomorrow morning and evening. Morning subject: "Strangers and Pilgrims." Evening subject: "Self Respect."

Permits to marry were yesterday issued to Chris. Rohr and Eliza Heckman, both of Oakland; John Henrigan and Mary Henderson, both of this city; R. S. Condit and Lottie Simmons, both of River Sloux.

The colored man arrested by Officer Horton Thursday night on suspicion of being one of the fellows wanted for the Grand Island burglar was turned loose yesterday, it appearing that there was a mistake. It isn't much of a day at the police station if there is not looked up at least one fresh Grand Island burglar.

Extensive preparations are being made for a grand demonstration and picnic of the Sunday schools of the city next Wednesday. The schools are to gather at Bayless park and march through the principal streets, with banners and bands to Palmer's grove, where the picnic will be held.

The news has been received by telegram, of the death of Little Blanche, daughter of Henry L. Frank, of Leadville, Colorado, and lots of this city. The body will be sent here for burial, to arrive Sunday morning. Notices of the time and place of the funeral will be duly given.

The furniture was being moved out of the old Episcopal church yesterday, preparatory to having the building torn down to make room for the foundations of the new court house. The furniture is being stored temporarily in the Masonic block, and negotiations are pending to have services held in the skating rink until the new church is completed.

There is talk of making an attempt to have Honey Creek lake in Crescent township added to the park system of Council Bluffs, and so improved and regulated as to make it a popular resort. It is said that there are a large number of fish in the lake, and that seines are being used to catch them, and that the sport will soon be all gone if some steps are not taken to put it under control.

Charlie Hanington about a week ago was tossing up a copper penny to show some sleight-of-hand trick, and played it so successfully that the penny disappeared in his throat. It has caused him a great deal of suffering, and there were fears entertained that the boy would meet with serious consequences, but yesterday he was successfully relieved of the presence of the threatening coin.

"Texas," who is better known by that name than his real name, Richard Baker, was released from jail yesterday, under bonds of $300 to keep the peace, he promising stoutly that no more Colfax water should gurgle down his dusty throat and that he would no more indulge in such pastimes as pounding his wife, or trying to set the house on fire. Richard Baker went security for "Texas."

J. N. Morris, the city passenger agent of the Milwaukee & St. Paul, has been distributing some charming reading matter in regard to that road. Mr. Morris is one who makes friends in whatever field he is at work. The Bex man knew him first when a conductor on the Wisconsin division, and can bear witness that he was as much of a favorite, and as attentive to business there as he is now in his later position. He is doing good work for the St. Paul.

Miss Sadie Jacobs and Miss Lizzie Wyckhoff, of Hamburg, are in the city and are making arrangements to open a select school and kindergarten here. These young ladies have had experience, and bear the reputation of being excellent teachers, and they have already secured a number of pupils, with an excellent prospect of having a large number of applications as soon as they can complete arrangements. The kindergarten is especially needed here, and the other departments will also receive liberal support, without doubt.

Honors are easy. When Judge Whiting was here the other evening Colonel Keatley was the only democrat whom he honored with a call. Whereupon the little mayor roared, and declares that Judge Whiting was not in the city at all. Now the mayor shouts that he has received a letter from Judge Whiting, and that it is the first letter written to any democrat in the city. It remains for the colonel to deny that any such epistle ever came here, but the colonel is built on a little broader gauge, and does not worry so about the little attentions of this sort.

The Fairview cemetery case took up the time of Judge Connor yesterday, it being a continuation of the attempt of O. R. Scott to get an injunction, restraining the further use of the grounds on the ground that the cemetery endangers the health of the city. A number of witnesses were examined, but little new was developed. Attorney Scott had a big pile of medical books, from which he proposed to read for the benefit of the court, opinions to brace up his position. A number of doctors were sworn, and the defense is to produce a large number of witnesses. It seems that the case has but just commenced, and the public is already wearying.

In Justice Schurz's court yesterday there was an interesting jury trial, the contest being over a grocery bill. An Omaha attorney was engaged in the case, and his methods of trial were so peculiar that at last the justice got impatient and wanted to know if that was the way he tried cases in the courts of Omaha. For if the courts there would allow such ways he wanted to go over some day and see the strange sight. The attorney sharply replied that the justice courts in Omaha were organized for the administration of justice, and not for robbery, as seemed the justice of Iowa. The lawyer drove near the edge of the contempt dead line, but stepped back by saying he meant no disrespect.

It seems strange that the mayor should keep perfectly mum about any funny business of any of the city officials until he assumes the role of an editor, and then should indulge in such intimations of long-standing crookedness. What has he been up to during the long past in which he has been mayor? Why has he not broken the silence, instead of waiting until some of his democratic brethren have stepped on his horns? If he is sincere in wishing matters run straight here has acted with suspicious silence. It seems that the public is not far out of the way in feeling that he is using his little flyer as a sly means to revenge himself on those of the democratic camp who would not endorse all of his ways and further all of his ambitions. Whatever the motive, however, it is hoped that there will result such a stirring up that if there has been any funny work it will be shown up.

HEIRS AT LAW. Where There's a Will There's a Way to Try and Break It.

In February last William Nixon, an old resident of Hazel Dell township, died at the home of his only son. He left three married daughters, and in his will he cut off all his children with five dollars each, and left his property, the chief of which is 120 acres of land in that township, to his son's two boys. It seems that the daughters are not satisfied with his disposition of the estate, and they propose to contest the will, and break it if possible. They claim that the old man was not of sound mind when he made his will, and that in his dotage he was unduly influenced by the son and daughter-in-law. The son, on the other hand, claims that the will was made four years before the old man's death, and that there are plenty of witnesses to testify to the soundness of his mental faculties. The son says that the girls have got to be enthusiastic spiritualists, and that they have held circles in which it is claimed that they saw the spirit of the old gentleman, and that the spirit told them he was sorry that he had disposed of the property as stated in the will, and that it was not right. The brother was asked to make it right by having the sisters given $500 each, and not have any law suits, but he refused, and told them that if they saw the spirit of the old man again to tell him, if he was not satisfied, to come back and fix it up himself. Such are the statements of the two sides of the contest.

Read. To close out the old stock we make the following low offer on Pianos and Organs: Webster upright piano, style 1- $290 " " " " " " " " 345 " " " " " " " " 375 Chase " " " " " " " " 225 " " " " " " " " 250 " " square grand " " " " 250 Western Cottage organ, " " " " 50 Call or address Mueller Music Company, 103 Main street, Council Bluffs, Iowa.

SPOOF EPISLES. The Femines Indulge in Dishing Letters. An Omaha lady arrived in the city yesterday, and took quarters at the Essex house, corner of Vine and Bryant streets, and procuring a messenger sent the following note to a lady living on Bancroft street: "If you do not either prove your statements or retract them I shall have you arrested for blackmail, and the life of my daughter in her present artificial condition. I mean to stop this business, and at once. A answer to above address before 4 o'clock this afternoon, or arrest will follow!" The messenger delivered the message, and the lady to whom it was delivered simply wrote in reply across the same envelope, "Go ahead."

No arrests had occurred up to last evening, and probably the Omaha lady is nursing her wrath, and devising ways and means. Substantial abstracts of title and real estate owned by J. W. and E. L. Squire, 102 Pearl street. A Rare Chance. All who can appreciate a ride in a first-class, well made carriage, buggy or phaeton, should call on Mr. H. F. Hattinger, Nos. 27, 29, 31 and 33 Fourth street, and see his elegant and complete stock, all of his own manufacture, and learn the remarkably low prices he is making for the next thirty days. To parties at a distance he would be pleased to send his catalogue and quote prices on application. He proposes to sell a lot of his first-class, home made work regardless of the cost of manufacture.

A FAIR SUPPLY.

Council Bluffs Will Furnish Three Fairs With Big Showings of Implements.

A number of implement dealers and general agents of farm machinery in this city are making preparations to attend the fairs shortly to come off. Omaha and Des Moines hold fairs from September 4 to 11 inclusive, and the Nebraska state fair at Lincoln takes place the week after.

Below is a list of persons in this city who will exhibit and represent their houses at these fairs: Deere, Wells & Co., will exhibit at both Omaha and Lincoln, and Messrs. M. S. Sayre, J. T. Hamilton and C. C. Troxell, their representatives, will be in attendance upon customers.

Van Brunt, Thompson & Co., will make a display at Lincoln. The senior members of the firm are J. J. Vanderveer will be the honors to those interested in implements, and A. W. Coorsen general agent for Hiram Davis & Co.'s bugles, will be there and coach Vanderveer in the race for the sale of bugles, and in all probability they will double up and go to the fair, and Lincoln. A. McMillan, general agent for Iowa for the "Minnesota Chief," who makes his headquarters in this city with Van Brunt, Thompson & Co., will attend the Des Moines fair while O. P. McKiasen, general agent for Nebraska for the "Chief," will "draw" at Omaha and Lincoln.

C. D. Harmon, general agent for the Hoosier Drill company of Richmond, Ind., whose headquarters are also with Van Brunt, Thompson & Co., will "show" at Des Moines, and after taking a square meal or two at home on his return, will put up his canvas at Lincoln, which will be the headquarters on the grounds for all Hoosiers in Nebraska. W. H. Allard, general agent for the Milwaukee harvester, will "quietly," (if he can), take in the fair at Des Moines, and after seeing the sights of Iowa's capital city will go to Lincoln.

Harry Haworth, general agent of the celebrated Haworth check rower, who has been lately giving his attention to his landed interests, will am on Des Moines and Omaha each next week--not that Harry's smile will reach from Omaha to Des Moines--but he expects to put in a few days at each place and then appear in Lincoln afterward.

The Russell Manufacturing company will exhibit in Omaha and Lincoln, and E. C. Harris, manager of the Council Bluffs branch, with H. W. Young and U. W. Gregg will attend the three fairs. John S. Greizer, general agent of the Grand DeTour Plow company, will be on exhibition at Lincoln, but not at Des Moines, although he'll attend. G. C. Prescott will quietly hand out picture cards and show up the Plano binders and mowers, of which he is general agent. He will be at Des Moines, Omaha and Lincoln.

W. L. Patterson, R. Stewart and H. W. Patterson will do the grand for their friends at the Omaha and Lincoln fairs while they show up the goods of the Keystone Manufacturing company.

The Eagle Manufacturing company's representative, A. B. Boderson, will attend Omaha and Lincoln. W. S. Cass, general manager of the Council Bluffs branch of the Marcellus Manufacturing company, will go to Des Moines, provided he gets the malaria out of his system, and on his return will exhibit W. H. Taylor and L. G. Hammel at Lincoln.

E. C. Barnes will exhibit the J. I. Cass plows, of which he is agent. The major will attend at Des Moines and Lincoln. Shugart, Walte & Wels will send L. F. Whitbread to Lincoln to look after their interests, and some of the firm will also attend, probably F. Wels.

T. W. McCargay, general agent, and L. A. Dayton, agent of the general agent of the Buckeye binder, whose headquarters are with Shugart, Walte & Wels, will make things hot at Des Moines for other binder men. David Bradley & Co., who have a building on the Omaha grounds, will make a fine display of all kinds of farm machinery, bugles, etc., at Omaha. Mr. W. W. Loomis, treasurer, and E. H. Merriam, secretary of the company, will keep their eyes on their exhibit, while W. B. Judd, the heavy weight, and F. M. Loomis, the light weight of the house, will run the show in connection with H. C. Cook, and after exhibiting at Omaha will attend the Lincoln fair.

Dr. Wiley, Eye, Ear and Throat specialist, Room 5, Everett block.

COLLECTOR (SALOON LICENSES).

The City Begins to Enforce the Pro Ordinance by Roundabout Prosecutions.

The city authorities have been finding it difficult to enforce the new ordinance requiring the saloons to pay $25 a month in advance for the privilege of selling "drinks not prohibited by law." Some of the saloon men have paid promptly, but many have held off, claiming that they would not pay until all were made to pay, and a few have protested against paying under any circumstances, as there was no protection to be given by the city against suits brought by the prohibitionists. The prediction has been made that the city could not force the collection of this license, and that the city would find it as difficult to close up the places refusing to pay as it has proved for private parties to close them.

The attempt to force the delinquents to come to time was begun yesterday. The first move on the part of the city authorities is to prosecute those who have not paid their license, under the ordinance requiring them to close at 11 o'clock at night. As fast as the evidence can be secured, showing that any delinquent has kept open after hours, and that the evidence can easily be secured against any and all the saloons here, complaints are filed and the costs commence piling up. Seven saloons men were thus brought to time yesterday. It is predicted that most of the delinquents will thus be compelled to settle, but the authorities in using this means virtually agree that those who do pay may keep open as long as they please. Police regulations are to be brought to bear only on those who do not pay license.

A Dreadful Disease. Read, ponder and profit thereon. Kemp's Balm for the Throat and Lungs is conceded by all who have used it to excel any preparation in the market as a complete Throat and Lung Remedy. All cases afflicted with the dreadful disease--Consumption--will find speedy relief and in a majority of cases a permanent cure. The proprietor has authorized Schroder & Conrad, Druggists, No. 211 15th street, to refund the money to any party who has taken three-fourths of a bottle without relief. Price 50 cents and $1. Trial size 10c.

W. D. Evans, of Malvern, is in the city visiting his daughter, Mrs. Z. T. Lindsey. William Underwood, general adjuster of the Commercial Union Insurance company, is in the city adjusting the recent loss by fire of the Co. house.

L. C. Baldwin has gone to Des Moines, where he serves as one of the directors of the state fair, and superintends some of the most important departments.

Miss Carrie Lubert, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. J. S. Greizer, returns to her home in Sioux City this morning. She will be accompanied by the Misses Falkenhauer, of Sioux City, who have been east visiting.

O. P. Dodge, secretary and treasurer of the Grand DeTour Plow company of Dixon, Ill., who has been here, left yesterday for Kansas City, and will then go to Chicago to attend the plow manufacturers' association meeting.

In making the assertion that Pezoni's medicated complexion powder is entirely free from injurious or deadly poisons, we do it upon the authority of a thorough chemical analysis. It is one of the oldest face powders in American market, and is used in the families of some of our most prominent medical men who have personally acknowledged to the proprietor that they not only considered it harmless, but esteemed it highly beneficial in every respect. Sold by all druggists.

Sit on the Men. Miss Maryatt says: "We must sit on the men."

In a letter addressed to his sex: "We must sit on them once and then sit again; 'Tis the way to solve problems that vex; 'As you've done in the past continue to do; The men will be wiser for it; Whoever you find a male biped or two, Sit down on them, sisters, oh, sit!"

We interpret this vigorous injunction to mean: "If to illustrate we are allowed--That women must sit not behind nor before--But always on men in a crowd. This will simplify matters upon the street."

If the woman, whenever they sit, Will look o'er the lot, when the seats are so scarce, And pick out the man that will fit. In case explanation is needed of that, We would advise you just what we mean; That fat woman sit on the men that are fat, And lean ones on those that are lean.

THE REMINGTON Standard Type Writer

At the New Orleans Exposition.

The jury of awards critically examined the various writing machines, and decided by a thirds vote to give the highest award to the Remington. The decision of the jury was ignored by the committee of awards, and other jurors were added to constitute a new jury. This second jury also critically examined the various writing machines, and made the award of a first class gold medal, the highest award, to the Remington Standard Type Writer, for "simplicity, durability, ease of manipulation and speed." A third jury of this award was made, delivered to and accepted for by the committee of awards on May 20. The members of this jury were discharged. No other jury examined the Remington Standard Type-Writer at New Orleans. The signers of this award are honorable and well known gentlemen. Their addresses are: Chas. A. Morgan, Esq., southern manager of R. G. Dunn & Co., New Orleans, La.; E. B. Governor, Frank Baco U. S. commissioner of Kansas, and president of the U. S. board of commissioners, Chanute, Kan.; Geo. A. Beaton, Esq., stenographer and secretary of the board of U. S. commissioner, Columbus, Ohio. The affidavits of these gentlemen and the history of the contest, which we are preparing pamphlet form, we will be pleased to furnish on application. The following is the report: The World's Industrial and Cotton Centennial Exposition, New Orleans. Jury report. Application No. 845; group 6; class 614. Competition. The undersigned jurors in the above entitled class, having carefully examined the exhibit made by Remington & Sons, Inc., New York, and all competing exhibits, concur in recommending the award of a first class medal to the Standard Type-Writer, for simplicity, durability, ease of manipulation and speed.
