Frightful Case of a Colored Man.

I contracted a fearful case of blood poison in 1883 was treated by some of the best physicians in Atanta. They used the cld remedies of mercury and potash, which brought on rheu taits u and impaired my digestive organs. Every joint in me was swellen and full of p in. When I was given up to die, my physicians thought it would be a good time to test the virtues of Switt's Specific. When I commenced taking S. S. S., the physician said I could not live two weeks under the ordinary treatment. He commenced to give me the medicine strictly a cording to directions, which I continues for several menths. I took nothing class, and commenced to improve from directions, which I continues for several menths. I took nothing else, and commenced to improve from the very first. Soon the rheumalism left me, my appetite be came all right, and the ulcers, which the dector said were the mest frightful ne had ever seen began to heel, and by the let of October, 1834, I was a well nan again. I am stronger now than I ever was before, and weigh more.

was a very queer genius and that every one though; he had an untold amount of gold buried on his piece somewhere. He went erazy after a while and it is said once remarked of having sown a crop of gold but no one not'ced the foolish glib of the crazy man. Before another season the poor old bachelor died, leaving his money secret untold, to the discovery fifty years later by a mere accident by Mr. Huebner. Joe Hemingway was known to have relations living at Brazil. Ind., but nothing has been heard of them for several years.

"100 Doses One Dullar" is true only of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it is an unanswerable argument as to strength and economy.
