

LINCOLN.

Privileged Gambling Leeches Sucking the Life Blood of the City's Morality.

Barefaced Collusion Between them and the City Officials.

The Mike McDonald of Lincoln—A Pleasant Banquet to a Worthy Gentleman—Short Items.

AT THE CAPITAL.

THE GAMBLERS AGAIN. Late last Saturday evening Sheriff Miller and his deputy, Newberry, went into the room at No. 146 South Eleventh street, and Mr. Newberry, in an excited tone of voice, called upon Mangler, one of its managers, and told him that he was arrested for selling liquor without a license. A but reporter who had previously been informed that the arrest would occur, asked the sheriff what the affair was, and received a stolid look from that official and the simple reply: "Nothing. The prisoner, Mangler, was taken to the county court, where he asked for a continuance until to-day, which request the court granted."

The complaint was investigated, no doubt, through a certain gambling interest in this city, which has opposed the opening of the new gambling house in the district. Some time ago J. D. Kuehn transferred the saloon to Glaeser & Mangler, since which time the two men have run it. September 1 Dana Hyde, well known in Lincoln, and who, with Richard O. Hastings, alias "Dead Eye Dick," a former Omaha sport, and more lately employed by John Sheedy, the Mike McDonald of Lincoln, rented the second floor of the saloon building and furnished it as a gambling hall. Hyde & Hastings opened up for the purpose of catching the surplus funds of countrymen and "grays," which privileges have been enjoyed by Jack Sheedy and his partners.

As has been already stated by the Bee, the new house was opened on the 10th inst. The complaint of T. F. Hatch, an abstract writer, who undoubtedly was instigated in his work by the "boss." When the first article on the matter, which gave the full story, appeared in the Bee last week, a commotion such as has not been raised in Lincoln for years among the sports and politicians and city officials interested ensued. It was the second floor of the saloon building and furnished it as a gambling hall. Hyde & Hastings opened up for the purpose of catching the surplus funds of countrymen and "grays," which privileges have been enjoyed by Jack Sheedy and his partners.

It is stated on good authority that a certain oculist and lawyer, who was at first engaged by Hyde & Hastings to fight their case, went over to Sheedy, and it is true that he was the person who wrote the warrant which was served against Hastings when that individual was arrested for keeping a gambling house, and being a common gambler and having no residence. It will be remembered that Hastings was arrested for keeping a gambling house, and being a common gambler and having no residence. It will be remembered that Hastings was arrested for keeping a gambling house, and being a common gambler and having no residence.

Major Burr has declared that he does not wish the gambling vice to spread in Lincoln. Curiously enough when this information was conveyed to Hyde & Hastings they were open for business, and consequently on the same footing with Sheedy, unless perhaps that individual enjoys a privilege under this administration which no other blacklegs or gamblers can secure. Major Burr will be necessary to explain his position in this matter, for as it now stands the law is against him, at least with the Sheedy gang as against other crooks and gamblers. It is alleged in defense of Sheedy that he is "square man," and that the reputation of Hyde & Hastings suffer in comparison with that place. Of course, any one who is at all acquainted with gambling, gamblers or gambling houses knows that they do business to make money, and when that can not be done they close their places. Sheedy owns his houses, has, or is alleged to have, plenty of cash and other evidences of wealth. When the ring or other political influence is brought to bear against his house, money is always produced or is equivalent in influence given.

During the last spring election when Hon. John Fitzgerald was placed in nomination for mayor on the democratic ticket against Burr, it is understood that the ring worked for Sheedy's place and got his active support and cooperation in favor of Burr as against Fitzgerald. Sheedy also pledged, according to what is stated in the Bee, to give a certain amount of money for campaign expenses. The amount was never paid, or at least young Carter alleges not. But it is said that Sheedy agreed to do so to Burr's behalf at that time, the mayor now extends through his appointees, policemen etc., immunity to Sheedy and to him alone.

One of the small rascals of this city, of whose stock Sheedy is said to own $1,000, has been in favor of allowing no opposition in the gambling business to "strangers," and other "blacklegging" is an evil which can easily be suppressed if the proper steps are taken by the authorities. It can never be suppressed if one institution like Sheedy's is allowed full control and power like the McDonald ring has had for the past fifteen years in Chicago. Joe Mackie and other men of that class are just now getting their deserts as the result of a fight in the interests of morality and good government by the citizens of that place. Lincoln cannot afford to shake off the shackles which now apparently bind it with a vice-like grasp, and show to the state at large that in name it has no longer tolerated with even a suspicion of corruption.

From last winter's session of the legislature until the present time about $11,000 has been won on the faro games in Lincoln's gambling hall alone. According to an account kept by Hastings when he dealt the faro game and received a twenty-five per cent interest, the amounts by the day from November 21, 1884, to the last day of that month were as here given. It will be seen that the game is uniformly won: Nov. 21, won, $3 29 00; Nov. 22, won, 13 00; Nov. 23, Sunday, (no game); Nov. 24, won, 947 00; Nov. 25, lost, 184 00; Nov. 26, won, 39 00; Nov. 27, won, 211 00; Nov. 28, won, 5 10; Nov. 29, won, 133 00; Nov. 30, Sunday, (no game).

Total winning, $1,279 00; Total losing, 184 00; Net winnings, $1,195 00. The balance of the account would take too much space to give, but as said, it aggregates over $11,000. During the time covered in this enumeration many members of the legislature were frequent visitors to Sheedy's place, and it was during that period that the suppression of gambling in the state came up and was defeated. Sheedy and his friends had as much to do with the defeat as any of the balance of them, and his house was the principal rendezvous for the lobbyists for that bill during the time it was before the legislature. He has become a power in Lincoln such as has never before been known in that district of this city or the state of Nebraska. None of the gamblers of Omaha, even at the time of Mayor Chase's and Marshall Guthrie's indictment and the latter's conviction and incarceration in the penitentiary, ever took so bold a stand as Sheedy now does in his own behalf, aided by the city officials, or at least some of them.

It is stated on good authority that a prominent railroad official of the Union Pacific, who resided in Lincoln, lost some time since

$2,400 at Sheedy's and the amount went into the bank's treasury. Afterward the man's wife raised such a row that he was compelled to demand the money back again. One thousand eight hundred and forty dollars was given him. A Lincoln contractor also lost $1,000, which was never refunded. Sheedy's place should be closed up, and right away. If it is not closed up when the attention of the mayor and city officials is thus called to it, it shows a disposition on their part to not carry out the law. Especially is this true that now of all other times should gambling of all classes be suppressed, if only during the continuance of the state fair.

A BANQUET TO MR. THOMPSON. At 8:30 o'clock Saturday evening last, in response to an invitation issued by a committee of prominent citizens, something like 300 guests assembled in the parlors of the Commercial hotel to meet Mr. D. E. Thompson, superintendent of the Burlington & Missouri river railroad, to congratulate him upon his safe return from Europe after a pleasant trip, during which time his health was materially benefited. After a short season of social chat the party sat down to a fine repast made up from the following menu.

- Oysters, Stewed, Raw. Rhine Wine. Chicken Salad. Salmon Salad. Claret—Fonnet Caud. Cold Chicken. Cold Turkey. Cold Chicken. Cold Tongue. P. C. Beef. Celery. Chocolate Ice Cream. Lemon Sherbet. Fancy Cakes. Angel Cakes. French Kisses. Vienna Rolls. Mixed Nuts. Raisins. California Fruits. Chocolate. Tea. Cakes.

After dinner the chairman of the evening, Mr. I. M. Raymond, rapped the assemblage to order, and after graciously alluding to the guest, announced the toast: "Nebraska; its Continued Development and Prosperity," was responded to by Chief Justice Cobb, in a brief speech upon the subject. "Lincoln; our Sturdy and Enterprising City," was responded to by John Fitzgerald. He was followed by Thomas P. Kennard. "Our Goals: Health, Prosperity and Happiness," was answered by John B. Wright, W. L. Billingsley and Hon. Patrick Egan, all of whom happily expressed to Mr. Thompson the appreciation and good wishes of his friends. Mr. Thompson replied with much feeling and in well chosen words. The railroads and the press were toasted and eloquent answers given in each instance. Great credit is due Mr. Egan for his active efforts to make the occasion an entire success.

Several thieves entered several rooms in the Commercial hotel Saturday night and robbed guests of money and valuables amounting to over $200. Milton Nobles and his company open tonight at Funder's opera house in the new play called "Love and Law," written expressly for Mr. Nobles. The Bee will contain a full description of the fair grounds and exhibits to-morrow. They were crowded out to-day on account of the length of the article on the gamblers. The visitors already crowding into the city is the best evidence that the fair will be a great success.

DISCRIMINATION IN THE PRICE OF COAL.

To the Editor of the Bee. I see in your issue of the 9th inst., where you indirectly ask the Union Pacific railroad company why there is a difference of $2.50 between coal delivered in Denver and coal delivered in Sidney, when the difference in the haul is only eight miles. Will you please ask the B. & M. railroad company why it is that they can haul a ton of coal from their mines in Colorado to Lincoln, Neb., and sell it for $6.75, yet if they drop that same coal twenty miles nearer the mines, viz: at Crete, Neb., they charge $9 for it? Such are the facts, or were so on Wednesday, September 2, (when I inquired at Crete) and on Saturday, September 5th, (when I inquired at Lincoln). If coal was a luxury, I would not complain, but it is such a necessity that every family in Nebraska is compelled to have it, nor would I say anything if they sold it at Crete for $6 and at Lincoln for $9, for almost any one could afford to give $6 for good coal in this state. But when they undertake to charge within fifty cents as much for soft coal at Crete, as hard coal can be bought for at Omaha, I say it is not only enough to make a man "kick," but kick hard.

A READER. ST. PAUL, Neb., Sept. 10.

A Shooting Burglar.

A regular fusillade about 1 o'clock this morning called quite a number of people to the corner of Tenth and Haney streets. The shooting proved to have been done by Officer Ballymy against an escaping burglar. The policeman saw a man, with a bundle under his arm, walking in a suspicious way up Haney street, creeping close to the wall of Stephenson's livery stable. The officer started towards him, when the man suddenly pulled a revolver and fired. Ballymy returned the fire and closed up on him. The fellow sprang behind a wagon standing on the wall and quickly fired three more shots, and then ran up the street. The officer followed closely, firing as he ran. At Eleventh street the man turned to look to the alley, where he managed to elude his pursuer and escape.

Fifty Work of Polygamists.

SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 13.—This morning at 1 o'clock some parties threw two quart jars full of privy vault filth mixed with sand through a window of the parlor of United States Commissioner McKay, who has heard most of the unlawful cohabitation cases. One burst, splattering the floor and furniture and ruining the room. Two were also thrown at the window of United States Attorney Dickson, aimed at a bed where he slept, but struck outside the window eaving, bursting over the outside walls, and if one had struck him he might have been killed. Two were thrown into the house of Assistant Attorney Varian where his wife was alone with a child, doing much damage. No clue to much indignation. It is claimed to be a preconcerted movement.

THE LAST DAY.

Close of the Omaha Fair and Exposition Saturday.

The End Under Blue Skies—The Great Races Bunched—A Talk With a Member—Notes on the Grounds.

Under skies which, granted to the entire week, would have been worth $25,000 to the association, the Omaha fair and exhibition for 1885 entered its last day. A stiff wind throughout the night had done much to absorb the mire which the merciless rain had spread over the city, roads and grounds. The track was certainly still heavy, but hard work applied all morning brought it by noon into passable condition. Beginning with the dawn, the hundreds and thousands of visitors and residents in the city who had been waiting an opportunity to see the great show began to pour out Sixteenth street and Sherman avenue. All the forenoon the crowds arrived and with noon their numbers redoubled until there was in the afternoon an immense throng in attendance. Many of the exhibitors manifested a desire to move their exhibits, but the superintendents interposed and but few took away their goods before 3 o'clock. After that time and during the evening and throughout the night and yesterday the active work of removing the exhibits was pushed and the grounds and buildings cleared of the numberless attractions which have combined to make the show the greatest in the history of all Nebraska.

The committee Saturday decided to award the first premium for the best crazy quilt to Mrs. Charles Westren of this city. The Parker, Robertson & Co. exhibition was awarded by the special committee to Mrs. John Barker. To Mrs. F. M. Robertson of Plattsmouth was given the Echolm & Erickson silver set for finest specimen of hand sewing. It was first thought by the directors Friday that the fair would be continued over into this week and the general opinion prevailed that in such an event the Phyllis and Joe Davis race would be trotted Tuesday. But later in the day the cold race being trotted and won by Consul in three straight heats, the board went about among the horsemen and at last reached conclusions. The horsemen were found to be unfavorable to a continuance of their engagements here as the greater number had entries elsewhere. The pressure brought to bear by the demands for speed classes in the fairs at St. Joe, Lincoln and Kansas City next week necessitated expedition of affairs here. It was determined that the remaining features of the fair should be concentrated into Saturday, and the show closed. In a following section the schedule of the races will appear.

SATURDAY'S RACES.

The following races, embracing the free-for-all and the Phyllis-Joe Davis race, the greatest attractions of the entire programme, came off Saturday: 2:30 class, Trotting—Purse, $500; divided, $300 to first; $150 to second; $50 to third. Following were the entries in the free-for-all: Bice, Dan D, Mattie Harle, Patsy Olinker, Silvertail, Daisy D, Little Elm. It was later determined to give the two mile dash, running, and the following were the entries: Barton, Gan, Rowell, Resumption, Bellek, Low Clark. Such a field of horses and such an exhibition of animal speed never before in Nebraska entertained 12,000 people during an afternoon. The programme was long and to ensure its completion an start was made at noon.

Following is a brief synopsis of the races, beginning with the 2:30 class trot: Summary—Trotting, 2:33 class, six entries, five starters, purse $500, divided. THE BICYCLE RACE. Following were the entries in the bicycle race: Thomas P. Blackmore, Perry Raduloff, F. C. Cowig, T. H. Merriam, J. W. Follie and O. H. Gordon, all members of the Omaha Bicycle club. Blackmore won the first heat, Merriam second. The second and third heats were won by Merriam. Best time, 3:58. TO EXILED OMAHANS. As a recognition of the handsome exhibit from the Pacific coast, which the Bee mentioned before, the following resolutions were adopted: NOTES. Mrs. John S. Briggs, for the fifth successive year merits the praises which tact, energy and devoted perseverance merit. To her judgment and skill, the harmonious execution of many of the most important plans connected with the great show are due. Victory Brewster has been awarded the A. Polack prize for the best article on education. It is a prevalent opinion among the liquor vendors and manufacturers of gambling devices upon the ground that the rain was a prompt and practical answer to the prayers of the W. C. T. U. When the unregenerate confess a belief in the efficacy of prayer, the season is ripe for a revival. One of the pleasant features of the fair was the appearance here of the splendid brass band of Parlin and Orcredoff, of Canton, Ill. This band was brought here at the expense of the firm, the cost being something over $500. The organization is one of the most noted in the state of Illinois, and at a contest in Chicago some time ago carried off the first prize over thirty other bands. It has been selected to lead the Valled Prophets' parade during the great carnival week in St. Louis. The balloon fell into Out Off lake, about a half a mile from the ground and Prof. Hunt was forced to swim ashore. The Japanese daylight fire works were wonderful and superb. PUGILISTIC POINTS. GALVESTON, Tex., Sept. 13.—The News' Dallas special says: The much expected prize fight between McGregor, known as "The St. Joe Kid," of Fort Worth, and Wm. Black, alias Ross, alias McGraw, of California, came off to-day at a point twenty-two miles below Dallas, on the trunk railway. At 4 o'clock a train of ten coaches left the depot crowded with sporting men from Ft. Worth and other points. After five hotly contested rounds, "The Kid" knocked Black out and won the fight. NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Dominick McCaffrey, of Pittsburg, is here and says he is anxious to take Sullivan's place in the battle with Ryan. He declares his belief that he can knock Ryan out in three rounds. George Lister, of the minstrel company which engaged Sullivan to do statue business, will on Monday play a forfeit to Sam Sullivan against any man in the world for from $10,000 to $20,000 at the close of the season, and offers to back McCaffrey against Ryan for $5,000.

THE YACHTS BECALMED.

SANDY HOOK, Sept. 12, 10 a. m.—The weather is cloudy, wind weak, blowing five miles per hour. The Genesta and Puritan are passing out to the starting point. The signal service still predicts very light, generally southerly winds. 10:30 a. m.—As the Genesta neared the Hook the little sloop Vixen drew up, leaped the Genesta's stern and stopped along in a stately fashion until she left the Genesta astern. The Genesta then set the club topsails, but kept astern of the little flyer. 12:15 p. m.—The yachts are still becalmed. The present indications are that the race will not come off to-day. 1:15 p. m.—Wind veering to the south, very light; no prospect of a race. 1:45 p. m.—The race is called to-day. NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—The Puritan and Genesta did not even start to-day in their outside race. They were at the starting point at 11 o'clock, but there was no breath of wind till 1:30 when the committee announced its intention of starting soon. After 2 o'clock p. m., when there was a good breeze from the southwest, the Puritan started, but the Genesta, Mr. Webb said he understood that they were not to start till 11 o'clock, as they could not finish in the dark. The Puritan's people also objected for the same reason. The race was postponed till Tuesday. On Monday the yachts will sail over the New York yacht club course (inside). NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Conditions are not wanting that there will be another large crowd to attend the meeting of the yacht club to-morrow. The race will be over the club course at 11 o'clock, but there will be no start till 10:30 sharp.
