

THE DAILY BEE.
COUNCIL BLUFFS

Tuesday Morning, September 15.
Office No. 12 Pearl St.

Delivered by carrier to any part of the city for twenty cents a week.

H. W. TILTON. Editor and Lessee.

MINOR MENTION.

Reiter, merchant tailor, for fine goods.
The work of paving is expected to commence in a few days.

The Athletics downed the expressmen's nine on Sunday by a score of 17 to 11.

Attend the grand opening at the People's store Wednesday and Thursday evening.

The supreme court is to meet here on the 21st, and the United States courts on the 28th.

Grand opening at the People's store Wednesday and Thursday evening.

Permit to wed was yesterday granted to Jacob Korth and Jennie Hartier, both of Portsmouth, Shelby county, Iowa.

The grand fall opening at the People's store promises to be the grandest affair of the season. Everybody welcome.

Everybody is invited to attend the grand opening at Eiseman, Rodda & Co.'s People's store Wednesday and Thursday evening.

Yesterday morning Justice Shurz tied the matrimonial knot uniting Mr. F. E. Klimus, of Cheyenne, to Miss Cecilia Hoeger, of Omaha.

The case of Lewis, charged with assaulting Beecroft, has been dismissed, and the cruel war of expression may now be considered ended.

The evidence was all got in the case of Forschheimer vs. J. T. Stewart yesterday in the circuit court, and the arguments were commenced.

The police court was unusually devoid of items yesterday, and the judge had to look at the calendar twice before he would believe that it was Monday morning.

Peter Peterson, who accidentally shot himself in the ear at Avoca three weeks ago, instead of dying, as everybody supposed he would, is in a fair way to recover.

One of the great needs of the city is some systematic and thorough cleaning of the paved streets. Then when a heavy rain comes it will wash the pavement clean, instead of covering it with deep mud.

Henry Ellis, who lives about eight miles south of here, displayed at the Bee office yesterday some wonderful corn, measuring twelve to fourteen inches to each ear, and presenting a curious showing of varieties.

The Ancient Order of Hibernians have completed the general arrangements for their ball in Masonic hall on the 1st of October. They propose making it the greatest social event ever given here under the auspices of that society.

Mason Long, of Ft. Wayne, has arrived here and is stopping at the Ogden house with his quartette. He is a reformed gambler, and proposes to make a lively attack on sin here, giving street addresses, and having his singers to draw the crowds.

There are several cases to come up in the supreme court here, which are of general interest, among them being two cases against the city, one of M. Gilfeather, the other of Scofield and Cavin. One prohibition case is on the docket, it being that of J. G. Lemon vs. Henry Wagner.

Tom Bowman, as chairman of the democratic county central committee, has called the county convention for the th. All other calls, such as have been published without any signatures, but merely "by order of the county central committee," are pronounced to be spurious, and to have been got up for the purpose of misleading and causing a squeal in the camp.

The alley along side the city building is in a much more horrible condition than the cemetery, and there seems to be more death to the square inch, than those fighting the cemetery claim for that piece of ground. The whole building is filled with a stench which at times is unbearable, and the doors have to be closed to enable the officials to stay there to transact needed business.

Yesterday afternoon Willie Olmstead, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Olmstead, entertained a large number of his young friends at his home on Sixth avenue. The little folks were very hospitably entertained, and a merrier lot of children never celebrated the birthday anniversary of one of their mates. The entertainment lasted from 3 o'clock until 6, and nothing was left undone to make the youthful guests enjoy the hours, which went by too quickly to suit them.

Bids Wanted.
The undersigned will receive bids till Sept. 3, for supplying the institution for the Deaf and Dumb with meat. Bidders will indicate different grades with rates for each. H. C. HAMMOND, Sept. Inst. D. and D.

Substantial abstracts of title and real estate loans, J. W. and E. L. Squire, 102 Pearl street.

REMOVED.
The T. N. Bray stock of boots and shoes will be removed to-day to 106 Main street, two doors below the old stand. The stock will be closed out at greatly reduced prices.

F. N. BRAY, Proprietor.

If you wish to make legitimately from Ten to Fifty Dollars per day, write to Jud & Smith, No 34 Fourth street, Council Bluffs.

THE LARCENY CASE.

Further facts as to the career of the parties before coming here.

The arrest of Howard and Doss, in this city, for the larceny of some goods from Mrs. Grimmelman, has called forth the following facts from the Sioux City Journal, the pair and the woman having had rather an interesting career there.

It appears that the woman has been landed at the Milwaukee house for some months, passing as Mrs. Doss. About August 1 she left the bed and board of Chris, taking with her as he claims, an $80 cloak, a $60 silk dress, his, besides some table silver and bedclothes. Chris would hardly be recognized on the street wearing his $80 cloak and $60 silk dress, but he wanted them all some, because they were his. His boarder, W. H. Howard, the big man with the blonde mustache that frequents the foot of Nebraska street, went before Justice Foley on the 5th inst., and swore to a warrant charging her with grand larceny, in that she had stolen an $80 cloak and a $60 silk dress from Chris Doss. The warrant was issued, and given to Mr. Howard, he saying that he did not then know where the woman was and when he found out he would get an officer to serve it. Justice Foley says that Howard was not deputized as an officer to serve the warrant for the woman's arrest. The woman's connection with Mr. Doss had a somewhat unusual origin. She came to the hotel as a boarder. During the absence of her husband in Sioux Falls, an attachment or something sprang up between the landlord and his boarder. The husband heard about it, and came down to Sioux City. The report at the time was that Chris paid the husband a fair cash price, he relinquishing all right and title to the said wife and consenting to a divorce. After that Mr. Doss and the ex-wife got on well for some time, but during the summer trouble arose, and culminated as above stated.

MORE REFORM.

The Attempt to Close the Saloons on Sundays.

The chief of police gave his orders Saturday that no saloons should open on Sunday. A like order has been issued in times gone by, but has seldom been enforced strictly, but this time it was accompanied by a threat that all offenders should be arrested and fined. The order was not very generally observed, the front doors being pretty well shut up, but the rear doors being slightlyajar. Yesterday morning the filing of complaints against the offenders began. Informations were drawn up against Mrs. R. A. Gibson, Oliver Lower, F. C. Gerstenberg, Mike Nolan, Smith & Meyer, John Kramer, M. Boehling and William Lacy. Just what will be the result is hard to tell. The mayor says he will not allow the saloons to run on Sundays unless the council so directs him. He proposes to throw all the responsibility onto the aldermen, and to be ready to clear himself before the saloon men, putting the blame on the council for not telling him to let them run, and claiming all the glory among the temperance folks for taking this stand against the saloons. If the council should advise him, on Sunday, he will still retain his pose as a reform mayor as long as he is in the presence of the righteous, and then laugh at them as he molts his lips behind their backs. The people will not be blinded, however, to the fact that the mayor is the chief executive officer of the city, and the head of the police.

Death of Mr. John Rain.

Mr. John Rain, a former resident of this city, died Sunday night about 5 o'clock, at the residence of his son, John G. Rain, near Florence, Neb. He had reached the ripe age of 84 years, and had been ill health about two months. He was recently with his children here, and under medical treatment, and seemed to be improving, but soon after his return he began to decline again, and despite the tender care of friends and the skill of physicians, death claimed him. Mr. Rain was born in Stanhope, Durham county, England, and came here in 1857, and lived in this city until about ten years ago, when he went to make his home with the son at whose house he died. He leaves two others, Robert and William, two well known residents of this city, and two daughters, Mrs. Ralph Simpson, and Mrs. Charles Proctor. The old gentleman had many acquaintances and friends in this city, and the announcement of his death will cause sorrow to many. The funeral will be held at the residence of Mr. R. Simpson, No. 618 Washington avenue, at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Quarrel Over a License.

Yesterday Fred Gerstenberg was again on the war path. The trouble seemed to be concerning his saloon license. It seems that the court recently issued an injunction restraining Brasfeld from running a saloon any longer, and Brasfeld then sold the saloon to Gerstenberg. The government license which Brasfeld had taken out, still hung on the wall as required by law, and this, it is claimed, was so changed as to read, "Brasfeld & Co." A government official got after the matter, and Brasfeld fearing that he might get involved in trouble wanted to get possession of the license and make Gerstenberg get out a new one for himself. He sought advice, and as a result he got a constable to go with him, as to protect him in case of trouble and proceeded to the saloon, and despite the protests of Gerstenberg he took down the license, and put it in his pocket. Gerstenberg went off in hot haste to have something done about it, and wanted Brasfeld arrested, and the constable impeached and a great many other things done, but the quarrel had not ripened into any case in court up to last evening, though the air is thick with threats and breathings of fire.

I Can't afford to Walk.

Such was the remark made by an old citizen, who had been looking over the stock of carriages and buggies, phaetons, etc., now being offered at specially low prices at H. F. Hattenauer's factory on Fourth street. When one can get such first-class work, all home made, and made on honor, and get it at such remarkably low prices as Mr. Hattenauer.
