

THE DAILY BEE. COUNCIL BLUFFS Saturday Morning, September 19

MINOR MENTION.

Rolter, merchant tailor, for fine good Mrs. F. Rohrer entertained a tea party yesterday afternoon.

The Chicago lumber company on Main street have sold out to S. McConley, of Chicago.

The paving contractor, Mr. Folsom, will commence at once the work on Willow avenue.

A motion for a new trial has been filed in the case of Forshelmer & Co. vs. J. T. Stewart.

In the case of Stone vs. the city, a motion for new trial was argued yesterday in the circuit court.

The institute for the deaf and dumb was yesterday supplied with 350 chairs by S. S. Keller & Co., of this city.

All the jurors in the circuit court have been discharged and the court will probably close the term to-morrow.

The Presbyterian ladies are busily preparing for the Women's Exchange which opens in the rink on the first of October.

Rev. Dr. Stone, of Omaha, will preach in the Baptist church to-morrow (Sunday) morning. No preaching in the evening.

L. R. Warner, of Keg creek, has claimed the horse that was found saddled and bridled without an owner on the streets.

The long drawn out cemetery case has at last reached the arguments, and occupied Judge Connor's attention yesterday afternoon.

In the case of the Oskaloosa Bridge company against Raymond & Campbell demurrer was presented yesterday in the circuit court.

In the case of T. N. Bray vs. A. T. Flickinger in the circuit court, the jury yesterday brought in a verdict for Mr. Flickinger.

The Avoca division of the circuit court of this county will convene on Monday next after which Judge Connor will go to Canville and hold court there.

While skating at Orono, Me., Miss Nellie Holt, a cousin of C. F. Adams, of this city, fell backward recently and received injuries which caused her death.

The old county court house is rapidly disappearing. The tearing down process goes quietly on, and inside of a week the old building will have entirely disappeared from view.

The funeral services over the remains of Percy Moomaw, the fifteen-year-old son of Phil Moomaw, was largely attended yesterday afternoon at the Methodist church, at which the Rev. A. K. Bates officiated.

In the case of Mrs. Bachelor against Lazardrout, Judge Connor yesterday granted a temporary writ of injunction restraining the defendant from using the slaughter house in the southern part of the city.

Services in the Congregational church to-morrow morning and evening. Preaching by the pastor. Morning subject, "Wheelless Chariots;" evening, "Owning and Being Owned." A cordial invitation extended to strangers and all who may wish to attend.

James O'Brien has filed an information before Justice Fralney charging C. H. Oblinger with threatening his life. Oblinger having on Thursday filed information before Justice Schurz charging O'Brien with adultery with Mrs. Oblinger, which case comes up for trial next Tuesday.

The United States fish commissioner has sent to Congressman Joseph Lyman blank applications for German carp. Those who desire to stock fish ponds with these should make their wishes known at once, and can secure the applications by calling on or addressing Mr. Lyman.

George Mason, the young man who had quite a sensational career here as an employe of Mr. McIntyre, is reported as going into decline by consumption, and having been obliged to return to his old home in New York state, where he is bravely fighting the dread disease, and being tenderly cared for by his friends.

City Attorney Holmes is of the opinion that the council cannot legally reduce the back taxes on the big elevator and the stock yards. He holds that the council may correct mistakes made by the clerks or assessors, but that where the fault lies with the owners of the property the case is different. They have a chance to present their petitions and complaints to the board of equalization, and if they neglect doing so, and sin away the day of grace willfully, they cannot very well come in long after the taxes have become due, and ask for a reduction then. The claim of the elevator company is that they have met with heavy losses by the breakage of machinery, and consequent interference with business last year, and that the property paid no revenue, and was therefore not really as valuable as the assessment showed, and that they are willing to pay on a smaller assessment. The claim of reduction on the stock yards is on the ground that the larger portion of the yards has been removed to Omaha.

If you wish to make legitimately from Ten to Fifty Dollars per day, write to Judd & Smith, No. 34 Fourth street, Council Bluffs.

Abstracts of title and real estate loans, J. W. and E. L. Squire, 162 Pearl street.

BOOM FOR THE BLUFFS.

Opening of One of the Finest and Largest Establishments in the West.

The name of the People's Store has become a familiar one through the enterprise and untiring energies of Eiseeman, Rodda & Co., who have now so enlarged and improved their store and stock that it is one of the largest and best in the west, and one which will compare favorably with those to be found in Chicago and other large cities. Their opening was an event which almost dazzled Council Bluffs, and the showing was such as had never been equaled here. Goods, goods, in endless variety, rich and pleasing, appeared on all sides, and when one had taken a look at one department there were plenty of other departments to visit, each a store in itself. There were eleven electric lights to add to the brilliancy of the scene in the evening, and the whole seemed like an immense exposition rather than the establishment of a single firm. The departments were made still more attractive by several hundred stands of flowers and plants, and the throng of gaily dressed ladies and gentlemen made the scene appear somewhat like a grand reception. The scores of employes were kept busy showing goods, and devoted their time and attention to this alone, the sales being deferred to a more convenient season.

There are ten of the separate departments, each of which would alone make a very good sized store for any city, and each of which is replete with new goods of the latest and best. The stock of silk, satins, velvets and velveteens, forms one of the departments, and it is indeed a rich one. The dress goods department presents a magnificent display of the products of both domestic and foreign manufacturers, and it seems as if the ladies would never cease their exclamations of surprise and admiration. In black and mourning goods there are numerous varieties never before shown in this city, and many which are just appearing in the eastern markets.

Probably in no one department is there a richer display than in the cloak room. It seems as if a lady would have no difficulty in finding just what she wanted, for the prices range from $1.50 to $500, and yet there such a variety that it is bewildering and puzzling. Some idea of the establishment may be gained from the fact that this one floor holds a stock of $35,000, and this is but a portion of the whole.

One department is devoted to hosiery and notions, another to lace, embroideries, corsets, and ladies' underwear, still another to sheetings, shirtings, prints and ginghams; then there is the linen department, where there is an immense stock of table linen, napkins, towels and Irish linens. The boots, shoes, rubbers, etc., form a store by themselves, yet opening into and connected as a part of the whole. For the gentlemen and boys there is a large stock of clothing, hats and furnishing goods. In fact it is impossible to give a detailed account of the amount and variety of the stock, which has thus been opened up by this firm.

Council Bluffs need no longer take off its hat to any city, for it can boast of an establishment which is equal to any. Its extent is such that the enterprise rises really above a mere matter of personal profit and interest, and becomes more of a public enterprise. It cannot but help the city, and indirectly many will receive a benefit from it besides those who have the honor of being the owners. Such an establishment must soon be known over a large extent of territory, and cannot but draw to this city a large amount of trade from a distance. It is a start in the right direction, and marks Council Bluffs as having passed the line of being a great town into the place of being a great city. Eiseeman, Rodda & Co. certainly merit a hearty support in their enterprise, and the coming year should be for them an even more prosperous one than the one which has passed.

When Council Bluffs can thus put to several large stores, yet combined in one, and under one management, and containing such a rich and varied stock, it ought no longer to envy any city under the sun.

Dr. Wiles, Eye, Ear and Throat specialist, Room 5, E. Ave. st. b'k.

The Caucuses Called. The republicans of Kane township will meet in their several wards on Saturday, the 19th of September, 1885, at 7:30 p. m. for the purpose of electing delegates to attend the county convention to be held at Council Bluffs, Iowa, on the 24th day of September, 1885.

In the First ward the caucus will meet at Welsch & Clauston and elect six delegates.

In the Second ward at the city building and elect nine delegates.

In the Third at the county auditor's office and elect seven delegates.

In the Fourth at the old republican headquarters under the Citizens' bank. The delegates so chosen will also constitute a convention of the republicans of Kane township, which will convene in Masonic hall immediately after the adjournment of the county convention, and nominate one candidate for township treasurer and one candidate for constable, to fill vacancy caused by death of Jack White, and one candidate for assessor for Kane township without the city of Council Bluffs.

E. J. ABBOTT, First ward. J. C. RHODEBERRY, Second ward. B. W. HIGHT, Third ward. WALTER I. SMITH, Fourth ward.

A NEW RESORT. Council Bluffs to Have a Grand Picnic Grounds and Boating Place.

It is a little late in the season to have much talk about summer resorts, but there is another season coming, and a project is now on foot in this line which is of great importance to this city. Mr. John H. Atkinson, of Mills county, a gentleman of means and business ability, is arranging to create a popular resort and pleasure grounds at Spring Lake, which is but a short distance from the city. The city council has lent its encouragement to the enterprise by giving him the only right to let for hire pleasure boats for a term of five years, provided that he will within two years spend $2,000 in improving the grounds. It is said to be his purpose to spend many more dollars, if the enterprise receives the proper encouragement. Mr. Myester, who owns grounds there, has given him the free use of these, and Mr. Atkinson is to grade up the ground above high water mark, put into the lake row and sail boats, build storm shelters and houses, prepare laws and all the necessaries for a picnic ground and pleasure resort for the summer. The place will be made a delightful one, there always being a nice breeze there, and plenty of good fishing. It is expected that arrangements will be made also for a railway station there, and other details are being thought out and planned for so as to make the resort one which will draw hither many people from a distance, as well as accommodating the residents of this vicinity. The work will be commenced at once, so as to be ready for next year's business.
