

THE DAILY BEE. COUNCIL BLUFFS Monday Morning, September 21

Delivered by carrier to any part of the city or twenty cents a week. H. W. TILTON. Editor and Lessee.

MINOR MENTION.

Reitor, merchanttailor, or fine... The county board of supervisors is to meet on Thursday. Cattle in Garner township are still suffering from Texas fever.

The democrats will hold their caucus next Saturday evening. Work on the foundations of the new court house will commence this week.

Anton Lipp was arrested by Officer O'Brien as a plain drunk Saturday night. The police Saturday night run in E. Butler for sleeping off a plain drunk on the sidewalk.

Prof. Morris' dog show is to be at the opera house to-night and to-morrow afternoon and evening. Omaha promises to send two cars of people over here to the Knights of Labor ball Wednesday evening.

The circuit court adjourned Saturday noon until this morning, when the final business will be disposed of. Council Bluffs' police force is invited to attend the annual ball of the Omaha police next Thursday night.

Yom Kippur, the Jewish day of atonement, was duly observed here, services being held all day in Aracann hall. Eiseman, Rodda & Co. Saturday raised the American flag and "The People's Store" flag on top of their building.

A dead horse has been lying on Benton street until it has become a terrible nuisance to those living in the vicinity. The Congregational ladies are arranging for a social and entertainment at the residence of the pastor next Thursday night.

Rev. Dr. Stone, of Omaha, officiated at the Baptist church yesterday morning, in the absence of the pastor. There was no evening service. The Council Bluffs Presbytery is to meet in Marsa, commencing to-morrow evening, the meeting to close with the Thursday evening session.

The name of M. F. Rohrer is brought to public gaze as a prospective candidate for county treasurer on the democratic ticket. A wrye choice could be made. A valuable case of instruments, evidently belonging to some physician, have been left at the BEE office, where the owner can secure the same on application.

Mrs. Lauterwasser, for a number of years trimmer for H. Friedman, is now occupying a like position at Mrs. O. A. Rogers' millinery store, No. 341 Broadway. Prof. McNaughton has secured the services of F. J. Breese, an experienced taxidermist, who will put in a month's work in the high school department of natural history.

The circuit court will do little or no business here to-day, Judge Connor going to Avoca to enter up some defaults in the court there, he being able to give but one day to that court now. Council Bluffs horses are not slow after all. At Red Oak John Nicholson's Beecher took first money in the mile race, and second in the half mile. Dr. Wade Cary's Sunshine won the free-for-all trot on Friday.

John Cochran, living at the corner of Ninth street and avenue G, and who has been ill for some time, was yesterday sinking quite rapidly, and fears were felt that he would not survive long. Taylor Woolsey, having purchased a rendering establishment in Mapleton, Iowa, will devote his time to that for the next few months, leaving Mrs. Woolsey to look after the restaurant business here.

The incoming Northwestern passenger train Saturday evening ran into a freight car at Missouri Valley causing a little wreck and general shaking up of passengers, but fortunately no serious damages or injuries. When Prof. Morris was here last year with his trained dogs, he bought in this city a French poodle, which he named "Council Bluff," and which he has so trained that it has become one of the best dogs in the show.

The cases growing out of the taking of goods claimed to be the property of Mrs. Gimmelman have been dismissed, no prosecuting witness appearing. The charge against Dues of being too intimate with Mrs. Gimmelman has also been dropped. H. F. Carlton was snugly snoring in a chair in front of the Pacific house at a late hour Saturday night, and when the police shook him up and told him to go home he got angry, and was shown the way to the police headquarters, where it cost him $7.00.

Complaint is made that some mischievous boys hang around the yards of the Chicago & Rock Island railway, and amuse themselves by un-cupping ears, and carrying off pins, hooks, etc. If the mischief is not stopped the boys are to be brought to the front. The Eicher-Walters struggle over the chairmanship of the fire department is expected to come up before Judge Aylesworth to-day without fail. As a like expectation has been pinned onto several other days, it will be hard to make the public believe that it will really come off at all.

"Old Tige" is no more. He was 20 years old, and died of rheumatism of the heart, caused, it is supposed, by his service running to fires. He has been one of the fire horses since 1868, and was a faithful servant and a general favorite among the men of the department.

The Chautauque club is preparing for its fall and winter course of study and reading, and those who desire to avail themselves of this chance to enter the "college of the people" are invited to meet at the residence of L. W. Tulleys, No 151 Park avenue, this evening.

Since Ed. F. Cogley has taken the position of publisher of the opera house programme amusement goes have no cause to grumble. The programme is neat and tasty, and is supplied with new, spicy paragraphs which serve to while away the moments of waiting. It is a decided improvement over its predecessors, and is certainly a creditable one.

The McGibeny family is to give an entertainment here Thursday evening, October 1, and a unique and meritorious entertainment is promised. The family is made up of fifteen persons—father, mother and thirteen children, and all are musicians. They have created much enthusiasm throughout the east, and are making a triumphant march to their home in Portland, Oregon, from which they have been absent for ten years.

As John Christianson, Col. Tulleys' hostler, was riding a pony belonging to Col. Tulleys on Main street on Saturday afternoon, the pony became frightened and dashed up against a buggy containing Mrs. Overholtzer and daughter, breaking eight spokes out of the buggy and knocking the pony and man down and fracturing both bones, (tibia and fibula) in Christianson's right leg. He was taken to the residence of Mr. Tulleys on Park avenue, and surgical aid summoned.

The saloons had a Sunday run yesterday without any proclamations or threats of arrest hanging over them. A week ago the valiant little chief of police announced that any saloon men keeping open houses on Sunday would be arrested Monday and fined. Monday a number of informations were filed, and warrants issued, but only one was served, and in that case a continuance was granted, and nothing done about it, so that the chief of police got little backing in his attempt to close the saloons on Sunday, and this week it was not attempted.

Oscar Linder and George Wesley had a little show of their own Saturday night which ended in both of them being arrested, charged with disturbing the peace. Young Linder is one of the upstarts at the opera house, and young Wesley, who was in the gallery, refused to take off his hat, claiming that his eyes were weak, and he needed a shade. Some rough talk was given by him to Linder, and the latter went down stairs and got an officer, who restored peace. After the show, as the crowd was coming out, young Wesley indulged in some more talk about Linder, and the latter and he had another bout, in which Wesley was struck in the face, and had his finger nibbled. The boys gave security for their appearance this morning, when the court will determine who was most to blame.

A family named Brayton, living near the K. C. round house, excited a good deal of sympathy among the neighbors yesterday by the narration of how they had been turned out of house and home because they did not pay their rent. The man said that the owner of the house, Mr. Hopkins, would not wait until Saturday night, when the man expected to get paid off, but that while he and his wife were both away from home, their goods were moved out of the house, and their little children set into the street. There was quite a crowd about the place yesterday morning listening to the financial troubles as narrated by the head of the family.

The end man of the mayor's dime show has nearly tickled himself silly over the way he has battered the BEE man by claiming that he patronizes Omaha stores, instead of Council Bluffs merchants. The little jokes might bother, if there was any truth to base them on, but as it is, the BEE man has only one suggestion to make, if the manager of the dime show would only do his buying in Omaha instead of Council Bluffs, it might be a great relief to the book-keepers and collectors, and do more to hurt Omaha than anything else he could do, unless he changes his spots. It might be a little difficult for him to try the experiment, for he is not unknown even there. The BEE man is frank to admit that the dime showman patronizes certain classes of business here more than he does, and more than the showman ought to, but the showman's weaknesses ought not to be brought up against him as a punishment for his making a fool of himself in the show. He can't help it. He was made that way.

The all-powerful compactor not only shows his ability in reading matter, but occasionally in advertisements. D. A. Benedict had a card in the BEE calling attention to the fact that he is a sign writer, but the leaving out of the word "sign" leaves him posing before the public gaze as a "writer." Benedict has ability and education enough to thus pose if he wanted to, but he doesn't need to so long as he has such demands on his skill in writing signs. He has lately finished a sign for his own headquarters which will bear comparison with anything in the country, especially the monogram of "Adge," which is entirely new, a device of his own, and not only is the design wonderful but the execution is really artistic. The letters are so graduated in size, the first in the word being the largest and the last the smallest, and are so nicely shaded and interlinked that it seems more like an ingenious bit of relief carving than painting on a smooth surface. He will soon have it displayed on the street over his place of business.

If you wish to make legitimately from Ten to Fifty Dollars per day, write to Judd & Smith, No. 34 Fourth street, Council Bluffs.

CITY CAUCUSES.

The Chief Contest Seems To Be Over the Nomination for Sheriff. The republicans on Saturday evening held their ward caucuses to select delegates to attend the county convention to be held in this city next Thursday at 11 o'clock. The following was the result:

FIRST WARD. George Carson, chairman; H. Van De Bogart, secretary. Delegates—Vic Keller, Fred Davis, A. S. Bohman, E. B. Gardiner, H. C. Hill, Joseph Gramer. The delegates were instructed for H. H. Field for coroner.

SECOND WARD. T. J. Evans chairman, Elias Sears secretary. Delegates—C. R. Scott, Jacob Sims, C. F. Adams, J. B. Williams, Ed Mott, Jo Spaulding, O. E. Baswick, Theo. Bray, T. J. Evans.

THIRD WARD. B. W. Hight chairman, W. R. Ingham secretary. Delegates—E. Rosenkrans, J. W. Morse, Geo. F. Smith, Wm. Haverstock, W. F. Sapp, D. Malby, John Lindt.

FOURTH WARD. H. W. Hart chairman, G. H. Stillman secretary. Delegates—O. H. Manning, John Coggsall, George Hunter, Walter Smith, A. T. Flickinger, Frank Everts, John Green, W. H. Linnard, J. T. Beckley, J. D. Edmundson. There is a good deal of political gossip now, as the county convention draws near. The caucus seems to have been harmonious, the only sound of complaint heard being in regard to the Fourth ward, where in both camps there is apt to be excitement, if anywhere in the city. The Armour men claim that in this ward the Armour men were all on hand at an early hour, and the polls were opened at 7:30 o'clock, and kept open only about ten minutes, there being but 44 votes cast, of which the supposed Galtier delegates got but 13. This minority is said by the Galtier men to be due to the fact that the did not think the business was going to be put through in such a hurry, and they arrived too late. This is given for what it is worth.

In the other wards Armour is supposed to have got the great majority of the delegates. Galtier is said to have come in the First ward, two in the Second, six in the Third, and two in the fourth, thus giving him only eleven out of the thirty-two delegates in the city. The lead which Armour has in the city, if as stated, will settle the matter as between him and Galtier, and some of Galtier's friends are advising him to pull out, and walk into some more copious session for reaching for the office of sheriff. It is whispered that Clatterback, who has been working for the nomination as sheriff, united with Armour in defeating the election of Galtier delegates, and that the understanding is that when the convention meets Armour will be sprung for treasurer, instead of sheriff, and the attempt will then be made to jump Clatterback on to the ticket for sheriff. This report can hardly have anything at the bottom of it, and will find few to credit it.

The most interesting race here this fall will be for the shrievalty, especially if Armour or Galtier is nominated by the republicans, and Perry Riel by the democrats. Each of this trio is deemed invincible by their friends, and an exciting race could not but be the result.
