THE PUBLIC GRAZING LANDS.

The government land system, so far as it applies to grazing lands that are not adapted to agriculture, is discussed at considerable length and in an intelligent manner in the New York Evening Post of a recent date by "a Colorado ranchman." His attitude is against the monopoly that has been created by the "cattle barons," who have frozen out the small cattle raisers. This result is due to the evils of the present land system. The settler, who proposes to engage in cattle raising on a moderate scale, is under the present law deprived of all his rights, or rather he is prohibited from acquiring any rights worth maintaining, or which, if maintained, would be of any help to him in earning a livelihood or supporting a family. A settler upon the western grazing lands is absolutely debarred by fixed conditions of soil and climate from engaging in any other industry than that of stock-growing. Neither by homestead, pre-emption, purchase nor lease can he acquire from the government a right to sufficient pasturage for the support of enough cattle, sheep, or horses to furnish him subsistence. He can no longer fence in enough "free range" for his livestock to protect it, and prevent it from drifting upon the territory of some monopoly cattle-king, or to keep other cattle from trespassing upon his limited patch of grass. He has no remedy whatever against imposition, and being defenseless he becomes the victim of the monopolists. He has no legal rights outside of his 160-acre tract. Outside of that the monopolist has the same rights that he has, but being the more powerful the cattle-baron dictates to him whatever terms he pleases. The numerous cowboy troops of the cattle-king make two unpleasant for him that he soon becomes disgusted, and sells out his little herd, together with his pre-empted land or homestead and the improvements, at the first opportunity and at a sacrifice. The "heavy" cattle owner, whose herds have done the mischief, is the only available purchaser, for the settler's cattle are mixed with his and scattered over the plains for twenty to fifty miles around, and he alone can gather them with any economy; and the settler's pre-empted land would be as worthless to any one but the owner of the large herds as it was to the settler himself. These are some of the evils that have crushed out the small stock-raisers, and caused the transfer of their herds to the "cattle-king," who now has a monopoly of the cattle-raising industry upon the government lands in the grazing regions of the west. These monopolists have made it impossible for a poor man any more to attempt to embark in this industry. This profitable business is now only open to men of wealth. A capital of $100,000 is considered only a fair starter, while half a million is not regarded any too much for a cattle raising enterprise.

THE INSURANCE COMPANY OF DAKOTA.

The insurance company of Dakota is building a new office building. It will be 44 by 72 feet, three stories high, with round tower on corner, and will set back from the street so as to allow room for a fountain, shade trees and other ornaments between the building and the sidewalk. The new building is to be on the corner of the street and the sidewalk. The new building is to be on the corner of the street and the sidewalk. METHODIST MINISTERS.

Appointments of the Conference for the Coming Year. Below will be found the assignments of ministers at the Methodist conference which has been in session at Seward since Tuesday, September 17. The conference closed its session on the evening of the 21st inst., with over 200 clergymen in attendance.

THE DARK HORSE.

The dark horse is watching his opportunity in the New York republican state convention. Is it not about time for Chairman Haskell to call a meeting of the republican county committee? The corn crop is now considered safe. It is the largest crop ever raised, the estimate being 1,990,000,000 bushels. The governorship of Virginia is being contested by two ex-confederates. When Greek meets Greek then comes the tug of war. SENATOR MAHONEY is concentrating his work upon the fifteen Virginia counties which gave Cleveland a majority of less than 100 last year. FITZHUGH LEE is conducting his Virginia campaign on horseback. Perhaps an election day he will not know whether he is on horseback or on foot. The New York Grant monument fund has not yet reached $80,000. It is now proposed to raise the other $92,000 by holding a fair in Madison Square garden. A VERY pretty little fight is brewing between the two democratic factions in this city. It will be fought out at the primaries. After this step we shall be able to see who is on top. DRUNKEN policemen should be dismissed from the force. There is altogether too much drinking among the policemen. No officer should be allowed to enter a saloon for the purpose of taking a drink. EVERY public man of the present day thinks it a duty to write a book. Pig Iron Kelley now joins the procession with a volume to be issued under the title of "Lincoln and Stanton." Next!

BUSINESS UNCERTAINTIES.

A Couple of Local Concerns Which Affair Do Not Seem to Harmonize. A row between partners seems to have occurred in the firm of Joslyn & Sackett, merchandise brokers, at 1659 Farnam street. H. H. Joslyn and F. J. Sackett opened business here about two months ago, coming from Danard, Ills. In the meantime Mr. Joslyn, who is in straightened circumstances and hard up for himself, has returned to Danard. From that point he writes an open letter declaring that he does not wish to be longer identified with the Omaha concern of which he is senior member. He avers that he can no longer endorse Mr. Sackett's course of procedure and advises the public if they desire to be informed on S. S. business methods to write to the Minnesota lumber company, and Polo, Ogle county, Ill. He concludes his writing by asserting that the firm will shortly dissolve. Mr. Sackett is in Omaha and seems to be carrying on a business satisfactory to both himself and custom. The T. W. Waller & Co. dry goods agency, which occupies the second story of the Canan building, at the corner of Thirteenth and Douglas, is also figuring peculiarly. Messrs. Barney & Masters, the agents, Monday sold their samples to J. L. Brande & Son. A telegram to Telf, Waller & Co. brought the reply yesterday that Messrs. Barney and M. are not authorized to dispose of the samples. The concern's local attorney is doubtless by this time advised of some course of action to pursue in the premises, but as that gentleman can not be found the result is unknown.

THE THIEF NABBED.

Early yesterday morning William Plum was arrested in the "Omaha L'quor House" on Sixteenth and Capitol avenue, while probably in the act of burglarizing the store. Plum is a colored thief of some local notoriety. He has for the past few months been working for the establishment. Last week he left the place, saying that he would return in a few days. He has not been seen since, until 3 o'clock yesterday, when he was found in a flannel shirt in the saloon. He gave as excuse that he had come back to work, but this story looks rather fishy. For some time past, Connors, the proprietor, has been annoyed by petty thefts which he thinks were committed by Plum.

THEFTS IN TROUBLE.

"Billy Willard," the lame proprietor of the "Little K. C. No." restaurant on Farnam street, who was arrested Monday with his mistress Lottie Comes, for receiving stolen goods, was taken before Stenberg yesterday. He pleaded guilty to the charge of receiving stolen goods, and sentence has been withheld. It could not be proven that Lottie Comes is in any way implicated, and she was released. As for the three boys, who were arrested for stealing the property found in Willard's possession, they are still in jail. Pat Boylan is to be sent to the reformatory. It is understood that Tracy will be held on a charge of robbing Bushman's store. Yesterday the silverware found in Willard's possession was identified as belonging to the firm of Weinstock & Mullen, Eighteenth and Cumine street.

THE SICK DOCTRESS.

Madame Dufos is still confined to her rooms in the Millard hotel suffering from an attack of illness brought on by overwork. Her husband, however, has taken her place on the wagon and packs Farnam street near Fourteenth with crowds as large as his wife usually attracts.

OUT OF DANGER.

It is thought that John Howard, son of Gene A. Howard, is now out of danger. He is still quite ill, however, and has just been suffering from a severe attack of pleurisy.

A MIXED-UP CASE.

Judge Bartlett rendered decision yesterday in the replevin suit of Charles Pressman vs. John Flannigan, a civil suit of some interest. It seems that Pressman undertook to work some land for Flannigan for a certain percentage of the profits. Pressman was to furnish half the seed and do all the work, while Flannigan was to supply all tools and a team of horses. In pursuance of the contract Flannigan turned over to Pressman a team of horses. In a few hours one of the horses gave out. Flannigan supplied another nag. Not long afterwards that "played-out" Flannigan supplied a third horse, a bay mare. From some mysterious reason the mare gave out too, and when Flannigan took her out

When Greek meets Greek then comes the tug of war. SENATOR MAHONEY is concentrating his work upon the fifteen Virginia counties which gave Cleveland a majority of less than 100 last year. FITZHUGH LEE is conducting his Virginia campaign on horseback. Perhaps an election day he will not know whether he is on horseback or on foot. The New York Grant monument fund has not yet reached $80,000. It is now proposed to raise the other $92,000 by holding a fair in Madison Square garden. A VERY pretty little fight is brewing between the two democratic factions in this city. It will be fought out at the primaries. After this step we shall be able to see who is on top. DRUNKEN policemen should be dismissed from the force. There is altogether too much drinking among the policemen. No officer should be allowed to enter a saloon for the purpose of taking a drink. EVERY public man of the present day thinks it a duty to write a book. Pig Iron Kelley now joins the procession with a volume to be issued under the title of "Lincoln and Stanton." Next!

A. H. Fitch, Manager Daily Circulation, Omaha, Nebraska. KELLEY is still a candidate for office. Will he never get tired? The dark horse is watching his opportunity in the New York republican state convention. Is it not about time for Chairman Haskell to call a meeting of the republican county committee? The corn crop is now considered safe. It is the largest crop ever raised, the estimate being 1,990,000,000 bushels. The governorship of Virginia is being contested by two ex-confederates.
