

CHEERED BY YANKEE DOODLE

The First Exhibit of the Hebrons First in the War for the Union.

Successful Raid on Independence, Missouri—Four Condemned Prisoners Released—Nebraska's Share in the War.

Written for the Bee: In 1850 the census showed a population of only 28,000 in round numbers, in Nebraska, then a territory. A pretty small population out of which to raise a regiment of a thousand men to the spring of 1851, for the war that had then begun...

EFFECT OF A LAND TAX.

Its Benefits and Beauties Pointed Out in Detail.

The Inequalities of the Present System of Taxation—The Justice of Protective Duties.

There is no man in the present world who is not benefited by it, and no man who is not benefited by it. It is with great pleasure I note the discussion of the labor question at its very vital. I am pleased to see the Bee, as it always has been, standing on the side of the oppressed, unflinchingly, amid the taunts and sneers from those who are the champions of those who live of the sweat of others' brows...

EFFECT OF A LAND TAX.

Its Benefits and Beauties Pointed Out in Detail.

The Inequalities of the Present System of Taxation—The Justice of Protective Duties.

There is no man in the present world who is not benefited by it, and no man who is not benefited by it. It is with great pleasure I note the discussion of the labor question at its very vital. I am pleased to see the Bee, as it always has been, standing on the side of the oppressed, unflinchingly, amid the taunts and sneers from those who are the champions of those who live of the sweat of others' brows...

EFFECT OF A LAND TAX.

Its Benefits and Beauties Pointed Out in Detail.

The Inequalities of the Present System of Taxation—The Justice of Protective Duties.

There is no man in the present world who is not benefited by it, and no man who is not benefited by it. It is with great pleasure I note the discussion of the labor question at its very vital. I am pleased to see the Bee, as it always has been, standing on the side of the oppressed, unflinchingly, amid the taunts and sneers from those who are the champions of those who live of the sweat of others' brows...

FIRE AND SMOKE.

Damaged our stock of clothing about three thousand dollars, while amount the insurance companies paid us. Therefore being paid for the damage done by

FIRE AND SMOKE

We are enabled to make a great a sacrifice without any loss whatever to ourselves. We have a line of suits that we sold at a big bargain for $12. The insurance companies allowed us $4 on each suit. Being damaged by

FIRE AND SMOKE

But the damage is invisible and we will allow the purchaser the $4 reduction and sell it for $8. We have another line of suits that we sold at a bargain for $15, which were also damaged by

FIRE AND SMOKE

And we will sell that same $15 suit at a reduction of $5 allowed by the insurance companies, giving the suit to a purchaser for $10. Our space is too limited to say more than that all goods found in our store, damaged by

FIRE AND SMOKE

Will be sold at a reduction of two-thirds to one-half. Remember we are constantly receiving new goods, and beyond a doubt the finest merchant tailor made clothing ever brought to Omaha. Our new clothing has not been damaged by Fire and Smoke but will be sold on the basis on which we started, "Honest Goods at Honest Prices. Don't forget our place, the

FAMOUS CLOTHING PARLORS

1310 DOUGLAS STREET, Opposite Wood's Museum. Open Evenings Until 9 O'Clock. CHARLES SHIVERICK, FURNITURE, UPHOLSTERY AND DRAPERIES.

IN THE CHAIR.

The Comforts Americans Enjoy in a Barber's Shop, To-Day.

Baltimore American: The man who patronizes barber shops in the United States are not aware, perhaps, that they enjoy a boon denied to their brethren in other countries. The truth of this statement was learned from the barber on North Calvert street who declared that of all places on earth the United States was the best place to get a clean, comfortable shave. This compliment to the barber shops of the land of the free was paid on the strength of the vast improvements made in barbers' chairs here the same old-fashioned chairs that a well-drawing stone does to the kitchen. The pride of a barber shop is the chair. The barber may be skillful and swift, the soap pure and fragrant, the brush easy and gentle, the towels clean and white, but these all together could not atone for the absence of an easy chair. To the United States belongs the credit of getting up barber-chairs that are as easy as a feather bed...

IN THE CHAIR.

The Comforts Americans Enjoy in a Barber's Shop, To-Day.

Baltimore American: The man who patronizes barber shops in the United States are not aware, perhaps, that they enjoy a boon denied to their brethren in other countries. The truth of this statement was learned from the barber on North Calvert street who declared that of all places on earth the United States was the best place to get a clean, comfortable shave. This compliment to the barber shops of the land of the free was paid on the strength of the vast improvements made in barbers' chairs here the same old-fashioned chairs that a well-drawing stone does to the kitchen. The pride of a barber shop is the chair. The barber may be skillful and swift, the soap pure and fragrant, the brush easy and gentle, the towels clean and white, but these all together could not atone for the absence of an easy chair. To the United States belongs the credit of getting up barber-chairs that are as easy as a feather bed...

A SURPRISED COUNTESS.

An Austrian Lady's Stolen Necklace and its Recovery.

Vienna is much agitated over a scandal there. The Countess of L., a great lady moving in the court circles there, is passionately fond of pearls—a fact which is the cause of her great loss. She is the Countess of L., a Jewess who the Countess received a visit from her jeweler, who very strongly recommended her to become the purchaser of a magnificent 'royal' of pearls. She acquiesced, and the jeweler, after the usual amount of haggling, sold her the necklace for a sum which she thought was a bargain. She had not worn it a week when she discovered that it was missing. She was very angry, and she determined to get it back. She went to the jeweler and told him that she had lost the necklace. He was very sorry, and he offered to replace it for the same price. She refused, and she determined to get it back by other means. She went to the police and reported the theft. The police searched for several days, but they did not find the necklace. She was very disappointed, and she was determined to get it back by other means. She went to the jeweler and told him that she had lost the necklace. He was very sorry, and he offered to replace it for the same price. She refused, and she determined to get it back by other means. She went to the police and reported the theft. The police searched for several days, but they did not find the necklace. She was very disappointed, and she was determined to get it back by other means...

Advertisement for John Wanamaker's Tailoring & Agency, featuring 'FALL AND WINTER SUITINGS AND OVERCOATINGS'. Includes prices for business suits, dress suits, and overcoats. Located at 1511 Douglas St. Manager: J. F. VAN SICKLE.