

THE DAILY BEE. COUNCIL BLUFFS.

THURSDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 1. OFFICE: No. 12 Pearl Street.

Delivered by carrier in any part of the city at the rate of five cents per week. Manager: H. W. THURSON.

MINOR MENTION.

Water rents are now due. Better, the tailor, for fall goods. T. O. Carlisle, of Missouri Valley, was in the city yesterday.

Judge C. C. Gale, of Des Moines, was in the city yesterday. J. P. Harris, agent of the McNish-Johnson minstrels, was here yesterday.

The police received a message last evening from Panama, Iowa, to arrest Silas Pratt, who is wanted there for arson.

Charles Nelson, one of the live men of Council Bluffs, was visible here yesterday, his stalwart form looming up in evident healthfulness.

Two vagrants were before the court yesterday, but were released on a promise to hang about some other town for awhile and not bother here.

The case against Benham, the colored man arrested for burglarizing Mrs. Anderson's boarding house on North Main street, has been dismissed, he showing an alibi.

Justice Schurz happily tied the knot Wednesday morning, uniting Fred H. Schultz with Mrs. Lotts, both of Minden, the ceremony taking place at the residence of Mrs. Weber, on Main street.

Hon. D. O. Finch, the recently appointed United States district attorney, received his commission Tuesday, and was here and qualified yesterday morning, ready to enter upon his active duties.

George Bobbington yesterday filed a mechanic's lien on the African Methodist church for $31 for lumber furnished. The colored folks seem to be having a hard struggle to get their place of worship paid for.

George Mason, the young man formerly in McIntyre's employ, was recently reported as being dying in a hospital at his old home in New York. This is now corrected by one of his friends, who says young Mason is now in Missouri, and is as hale and hearty as ever.

Min failed to draw as large houses here as was expected. He has improved since his last appearance here, but the public does not seem to look upon him as so great a sensation as when he first appeared, and his appearance this time has attracted little attention or comment.

The city council meets to-morrow evening as a board of health, to consider the advisability of having a union slaughter house and meat inspector. The butchers and others interested are invited to be present and to express their views.

The young ladies in charge of the art gallery at the exposition have been very successful in securing a large number of new pictures for that department. With the experience gained from last year's work and the greater advantages of this year, they expect to have a larger and finer collection than previously displayed.

The work of tearing down the old court house, and clearing off the ground for the new, has so far progressed that it is expected the work of excavating will commence today. About thirty men are now employed so far, but the force will be increased when excavation commences, and more teams put to work.

The McGibeny family, who are to give an entertainment at the opera house this evening, arrived at Council Bluffs yesterday and took a day's rest, there being so many little folk in the company that they need an occasional breathing spell. They appeared at Plattsmouth Tuesday night and go from here to Fremont.

The Daily News is the name of a sprightly paper which is being published during the fair at Missouri Valley, this being the third year in which it has appeared. The enterprise seems to be successful and is certainly a creditable one and well managed. L. E. Cook being the proprietor and L. Ballou the editor and manager.

The Saturday Times, of Des Moines, presents to its readers a special issue of interest and merit. It contains a number of Des Moines newspaper men, and interesting articles from their pens, besides illustrations of the Times building and offices. Its columns are well filled with society, musical and musical news, and in its special field the Times is winning laurels right along.

The funeral of the infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund McNulty, took place yesterday afternoon from their residence at Streetsville, Iowa. Frick preached the funeral sermon. Mr. and Mrs. McNulty are almost strangers in the city, they having moved here only a few weeks ago from Des Moines. There were, however, a goodly number of the acquaintances and neighbors who showed their sympathy by their personal presence, and kindly words and deeds.

The United States court developed nothing of special public interest yesterday. The two cases already mentioned were still being heard, one before Judge Shiras, the other before Judge Love. At this term of court it is expected that the saloon cases, transferred from the state to the federal court, will come up on a motion to send them back to the state court. This will prove the most interesting feature of the present term, as it will virtually settle the question as to the validity of the prohibition law.

The celebrated McGibeny family are in our city, prepared to give one of their grand musical concerts this evening under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. They are a jolly, merry-making band of cultivated musicians, who cannot fail to captivate. The opera house about to be crowded to-night to witness the concert. At fifteen minutes past 12 to-day they will play an instrumental selection from the balcony of the opera house, thus affording the multitude an opportunity for hearing them in the open air. The school children are invited.

The institution for the deaf and dumb opens with every indication of a successful and satisfactory year. There are already 230 pupils here, a larger number than in any previous year this early in the term, the pupils always being a little more slow and irregular in coming in than in the public schools, they being scattered all over the state. On the opening day there were 300, a greater number than on any opening day in the history of the institution. Everything seems to be moving along smoothly, and good work is being done.

A number of the citizens on First street have joined in a protest against the city council ordering sewerage on that street, claiming that it is a needless expense, and that there is no outlet for the sewer, if completed, it will come soon fill up, and be a waste of money. They will present their views in the form of resolutions at the next meeting of the council. The council has promised the citizens that they would not force the putting in of the sewer if the property owners were opposed to it, but when the bids were opened, it was found that the work could be done so cheaply now, the aldermen thought that the property owners who had before objected, would now change their minds. It seems that some, at least, will not.

THE NIGGER SHOOTER CRAZE.

Revolting Against Race—The Sewer Gas Problem—Gears' Calamity—Notes Gathered About the City.

An Unpopular Money Lender.

The readers of the Bee were informed through its columns some time ago of the robbery and attempted murder of Dr. Ordway, in Monona county. The district court, which has just closed its work there, has spent nearly the entire time of the term in trying the men who were arrested and charged with being the doers of the deed. These were Frank Struble, Tom Struble, and John McBride. It was claimed that in January last they visited Dr. Ordway's house, under the pretense of getting some medicine for a sick child, and that when the doctor was lighting the lamp a shot was fired through the window, wounding him severely in the face. The fellows then seized a trunk containing several thousand dollars of mortgages and notes, and that these were afterwards burned by them. The sheriff claimed to have found bits of burned paper in Frank Struble's dog pen, and that he was told by Tom Struble where the trunk had been hidden in a ravine. Last spring, Frank Struble was tried on the charge of attempted murder but was acquitted. Tom Struble has admitted his complicity in the crime, and McBride has now been tried and found guilty. Frank Struble has been sentenced to twelve years in the penitentiary, McBride to ten years, and Tom Struble to three years.

Despite the heinousness of the crime the three boys have considerable sympathy felt for them by many. It seems that Dr. Ordway has the reputation of being a hard-faced money lender, and sharp in his loans, and exacting in his collections and foreclosures. He has caused quite a feeling against him, and this leads to the sympathy felt for those who took such high-handed means of ridding the community of him, and to wreak revenge upon him for their real or fancied injuries.

Shoot the Shooters. Among the boys everything goes by a craze. Just now the craze is breaking out into epidemic form in regard to sling shots, or "nigger shooters." Every boy who is big enough to hold a nickel in his fingers until he can reach a toy store, is arming himself with one of these shooters. They are simply a letter Y, or a croch, with a piece of rubber, which is stoned or a shot put into it, and shap, away the missile flies, swift as a bullet from a gun, and about as sure to break a window or put out an eye as any missile which could be sent flying through the air. The other evening a lady walking along Bancroft street was thus hit in the back of the head, and quite badly hurt, and this is only the beginning of the evil. Some of the storekeepers are catering to the boys' demands, by getting in big supplies of these shooters, and the supply is still further augmented by home manufacture. The state law has forbidden the sale of toy pistols, and yet they can do hardly more harm than these shooters. It is almost impossible to do much with the boys, if they once get supplied with these dangerous toys, and the only remedy seems to be to stop so far as possible the sale of them. The city authorities are looking up their powers in the matter, and some action will be taken to suppress the threatened nuisance.

The Race For Sheriff. The nomination of Perry Reel for sheriff does not seem to have awakened that unanimous enthusiasm in the democratic camp which it was supposed it would. Some of Mr. Lovell's friends declare that they will not support Reel, and that they will sooner or later get even with Mr. Pusey for forcing his nomination. They declare that before any of the aspirants for sheriff entered upon a canvass of their chances, they told Reel that they would not enter the field if he was going to accept the nomination, and they were assured by him that he would not under any circumstances consent to run. The other candidates were allowed to run on this understanding, and after gathering up their strength Reel was nominated. Just how much soreness will be felt by the time the votes are to be cast, no one can tell, but there is some hard talk now. Mr. Reel has been looked upon as an invincible candidate, and yet with some feeling of dissatisfaction in his own party, and with such a worker and so popular a man as Phil Armour to run against him, he will find he has all he can do to keep from being distanced. Mr. Reel made a good sheriff, and is a man who is respected by all, but there is no doubt that Armour will make as good a sheriff, and as Reel has declared that he does not want the office the people may take him at his word and give it to Armour. The race will in any event be an interesting one.

Fighting Rats and Sewer Gas. Harry Birkinbine has returned from his eastern trip, and during his absence gathered up some facts in regard to sewerage which he will lay before the council. He is anxious that the sewers should be so constructed as to prevent sewer gas from crawling into houses, and at the same time prevent sewer gas from being forced into the houses, or foul water in case of overflow. The device which he recommends is simply a hinge valve, which is placed in the house sewer so that it works automatically, it opening to let the water out, but drops at once, closing the sewer, and preventing the trouble indicated above. He has prepared himself to explain the matter before the council, and that body will be urged to pass an ordinance requiring that all house sewers shall be provided with this preventive. In other cities they are being used, and as it is a simple contrivance, adds no special expense, and is said to be almost indispensable to healthy house sewerage. Mr. Birkinbine is entitled to credit for showing so much interest in the welfare of the city, and his willing assistance in all public enterprises.

Hurt in Dodging a Robber. The man, Geary, who fell off the platform of the C. B. & Q. freight house Tuesday night, proves not to have been so seriously hurt as was at first feared. He says he was on his way to a train to go out and meet his brother, who is also a railway man, and that he was followed by a man, who he thinks, intended to attack him, thinking he had money. To judge this man he went onto the platform, and as he was looking back to see if the fellow was still following him, he walked right off, falling with great force to the ground. When picked up by the police and brought to headquarters, it was thought his leg was at least broken, but it has proved to be only a severe sprain, which will keep him from work for some time. He only came here a few days ago, his home being in Danversville, Wis., and since being here he has been employed in the Union Pacific yards switching.

Who is Fire Chief? Judge Aylesworth did not get around to deciding the Eicher-Walter contest yesterday, and the public will have to wait another day before knowing which of these two gentlemen is entitled to the office of chief of the fire department. It has been predicted that the decision would be that neither of these men had been elected with strict legality, which would cause another delay. Walters holding until the council amends the defective ordinance, and goes through the form of another election. Another prediction is that the court will dismiss the case on the ground that Walters, having possession of the office, cannot bring a quo warranto proceeding against Eicher, who has not got the office yet, but that the proceedings should have been brought by Eicher against Walters. If either of these predictions should prove correct, it will be some time yet before the end comes, and Walters is made to give up the place.

Too Dear Clothes. A short time ago a young man named Finley was arrested for stealing a suit of clothes from the Carson hotel, and on the preliminary examination the value of the clothing was declared to be high enough to warrant his being held over to answer to the district court. He was accordingly brought here and lodged in jail. An application has now been made for a writ of habeas corpus, it being claimed that the value of the clothing was such as to make it petty larceny at the most. The matter is to be heard before Judge Aylesworth next Tuesday.

The Exposition. The fruit and jelly department at the exposition next week will be under the supervision of Mrs. E. A. Huber, and a nice line will be on sale for all housekeepers who are not supplied. These goods are made by members of the exchange and are the best home made goods. It will pay all to make their purchases early in the week before the selection is gone.

Sam Ford has sold his business, and is planning to take a trip, it is rumored, to Europe. He is quite reticent about the matter, but it is whispered that during his absence he will take observations, and gather up the best plans for the building here next season of a natorium and skating rink, so as to meet the demand for a good place to bathe in summer and to glide upon the real ice in the winter. Such an establishment would doubtless be a success here, unless it should happen to be an exceedingly cold summer, and an unusually warm winter.
