

THE DAILY BEE. COUNCIL BLUFFS. WEDNESDAY MORNING, OCT. 14. OFFICE: No. 12 Pearl Street.

Published by contract in any part of the city at twenty cents per week.

Minor Mention.

Better the tailor, for fall goods. To-night is the Agemo entertainment. Supper at the rink to-night after 8 o'clock.

Only two drinks were fined in the police court yesterday. Roller skating at the Agemo to-night.

In the federal court, the case of Cummings vs. the Wabash railway is still on trial.

The Agemo armory is the finest collection of weapons ever seen in Council Bluffs.

Get ready your paper costume for the Agemo grand march.

Five Minutemen were naturalized here yesterday. Politics must be getting warm here.

The company presenting "A Wife's Honor" number ten, and are stopping at Beechle's hotel.

You may never get a chance to see Agemo again. It is in great demand. It is at the rink to-night only.

The mayor has adopted the phonetic system of spelling, and in one of his recent literary effusions has a good deal to say of "Lipsick, Germany."

Lewis Myers, who used to be with the United States express company, has been appointed on the police force, the only German of all. He will make a good one.

The Ladies' Industrial society will hold a business meeting at Mrs. J. E. Harkness' 202 First avenue, Friday afternoon, at 2 o'clock. A full attendance is requested.

The piling for the foundation of the new court house has been let to Mr. Robinson of Omaha, as the lowest bidder. The work will probably be commenced tomorrow.

Deputy U. S. Marshal Troutman has started for Fort Madison with Trip, who was sentenced for two years for passing counterfeit money. Rather an unpleasant trip for both.

Two trains of cattle from the ranch of A. M. Jackson & Co. reached here Sunday from the west. There were about 700 head, and one train load was sold here, and the other shipped to Chicago.

There were an unusual number of burglaries made Monday night to burglarize Goldenstein's store, on Broadway, next to Mrs. Metcalf, who was awakened by hearing the fellows cutting away to get into the window and when, by giving the alarm, stopped further proceedings.

The "Two Johns," who made such a hit here last season, are to be here on the 20th of this month. They will have a big show, surely, for they cannot be from any more laugh-provoking comedy. The "Two Johns" are indeliberately funny.

Officer B. J. Austin has received the sad news from his old home in Virginia that his only sister died there on the third of this month. She has been ill for over a year, and was quite low when he visited the old home last spring, so that the sad news was not wholly unexpected.

The inspector, paving committee, engineer and others pronounced the paving of Willow avenue as being according to contract, and the council has accepted the work and ordered it paid for. This puts an end to the complaints whispered recently.

B. F. Williams, the miller at the Crystal Mills, while opening the box at the elevator yesterday afternoon, got his hand caught, and the skin and flesh quickly removed from four of his fingers, the injury being a very painful one, but he luckily escaped without having any bones broken.

Irwin, who was arrested and brought back from Omaha on the charge of being concerned in the burglary of Scott's hardware store here, has not had his examination, and the time has not been set. He claims that the goods found with him were given to him by a stranger who sold him. They have been identified as being Scott's goods.

On Tuesday, Oct. 27, there will be an excursion from here to Madison, the very heart of the famous White River country. The through train of day coaches and palace sleepers will start from here at 6:55 a. m., and the fare for the round trip will be only $2.10. Full information can be obtained from H. C. Cheyney, the southern western passenger agent, No. 507 Broadway.

The city has decided not to wait any longer for the county and the Oskaloosa bridge company to settle their misunderstanding about the bridge, and Broadway, and that on Seventh street, and will now have approaches put in, so that the streets may no longer be obstructed, and the public can have the advantage of using the bridges, and let the differences be settled later in the courts.

The mayor of our city now declares that "star chamber caucuses are at a discount." This will suit the people, especially if the mayor means to do away with "star chamber" council meetings, such as was once held in the back room of his justice office, when he was given the job of going east on a bond-selling trip, and given money to pay the expenses of the trip, or that other famous midnight meeting, when the council allowed him on the quiet, $165 for "attendance on office, stamps, etc." Yes, star chamber meetings should be at a discount, and when their proceedings are given to the public through the Bee, the mayor ought not to go around among the city officials, trying and trying to find out who gave the thing away to that bothersome Bee man.

If you wish to make legitimately from Ten to Fifty dollars per day write to Judd & Smith, No. 31 Fourth street, Council Bluffs.

Work on the Streets.

The city council, which was supposed to be elected on a retrenchment platform, and which has for the most part shown much more care and wisdom than its predecessors, was started at its last meeting on the presentation of bills showing that the street work for the past five weeks or so, has amounted to about $2,500, and this, too, without any special work being done beyond repairs, cross-walks, etc. It seems that there has been no very careful system about street work, the supervisor receiving orders first from one, and then another, the total amounting to more than any of the aldermen realized. In their startled condition the city fathers concluded to make a radical change, and they ordered all work suspended, in all the wards, and passed a resolution that hereafter the supervisor should not do fifteen cents worth of work without having the written order of at least four of the aldermen. The trouble seems to have been that each alderman has been ordering work, and when the bills are brought in, making a big total, they have felt inclined to blame the supervisor for expending so much money. Under the new order it will be more difficult to get work done, and more easy to see who is really responsible for having it done.

LIEUT.-GOV. MANNING RESIGNS

The Wrangle Over the Fire Chiefdom Promises to Be Settled Saturday.

STOPPING STREET REPAIRING.

A Happy Wedding at Logan Draws Several From the City—Entertainments and Points Personal and Political.

Lieut.-Gov. Manning Resigns. Lieutenant-Governor O. H. Manning returned home yesterday from Des Moines, where he placed on file with the governor his resignation, as follows:

Council Bluffs, Ia., Oct. 13, 1885.—By me, O. H. Manning, Lieut.-Gov. of Iowa. I hereby respectfully tender to you my resignation as lieutenant-governor of Iowa. I have a long and pleasant connection with the Central National bank of Topeka, Kansas, and the Topeka Loan and Investment company, in which I have for some time had an interest. I have arranged to remove with my family at once, which fact necessitates this resignation at this time. Profoundly grateful to the people of Iowa for the honor and confidence reposed in me, and hoping for your excellency continued success and prosperity, I beg leave to remain, yours very respectfully,

O. H. MANNING.

As indicated by the resignation, Mr. Manning intends to leave at once for his new home in Topeka, and the announcement comes not only with surprise, but regret to many throughout the state, and especially to those cities, and during his residence here, have come in closer contact with him, and learned more truly his sterling worth as a citizen. It is a loss to city and to state. When almost a boy he was elected to the legislature, and made the chairman of the judiciary committee, and his ability soon showed itself as being that of superior quality, which could stand the test of the most delicate or the easiest deliberations of committee sessions, in fact, wherever placed it attracted the admiration of all. Thus recognized, he rose rapidly. He was nominated by the republicans for lieutenant-governor while he was out of the state, and without even consulting him. Elected to that honorable position, he showed the same strong qualities of head and heart, and in the formation of committees and presiding over the senate he won the highest praise, and showed himself fully worthy of it. He was re-nominated for the position by the republicans, and he was elected, and in the congressional halls of the nation. There was a boom of the people in his favor, but, as is so often the case, a few politicians, who were more adept in pulling the wires than in the people, thwarted the common wish, and although there were a majority of delegates to the convention who favored him, some of them were led away by shrewd scheming and the people's wish was defeated. He has since returned to the practice of law, and living the quiet life of a citizen. The people of Kansas will find in him a sterling gentleman, always affable and one of the people, and yet fearless in his expression of honest opinion, and never flinching or carrying favor. A young man, he has a bright future before him, and Iowa cannot but regret that he leaves her borders to make his home in another state.

His future here would have speedily brought him still further up and higher in honor, but while going into another state he seems to lose much that is at least in prospect, still he cannot but win success in whatever line of duty and in his law may be placed. Many friends in this city will part with him and his regretfully, and if well wishes can avail, there will be a shower of blessings fall on them.

The Fire Chiefdomship.

Although the courts have decided that Walters never was and is not now the legal chief of the fire department, she continues to wear his brass buttons and to adorn his breast with the badge of a full-blown chief. The ordinance under which he was elected has been declared to be void, and the council has chosen as a temporary chief Charles Sanderson, but to this Walters still proposes to protest, and to hang onto the office whether or no. The tenacity with which he clings to a position which pays the enormous salary of $900 shows him to be a fit member of the mayor's party. The city attorney has decided that although Walters is not entitled to the office and never was, yet as he has served in that capacity he should be entitled to pay, and on this recommendation the council has allowed him for back salary the sum of $220. The faulty ordinance has been repealed, and as soon as the new ordinance goes into effect a new chief will be elected, and in the mean time Sanderson will serve as chief. Next Saturday afternoon at 8 o'clock there will be a practical fireman, and it is his intention to appoint an assistant, John Templeton, and rely on him as he is a fireman from boyhood up, and the former chief of the department. In such a case Templeton might as well be chosen the chief, and he would fill the position well, as he has in the past. There is also talk of electing Harry Birkinbine, the engineer of the water works company, as his position and interests here cause him to take a lively interest in the success of the fire department. It is understood that he will serve as chief without pay, but in any event he would make a good one. Some of the friends of Captain Rapelle, of No. 4, are urging his name as chief, and he has a strong backing. Some think Sanderson, who is now acting, should be retained. Whatever the council does will be satisfactory to the citizens, if they will only choose a man who will insist on some sort of discipline in the department. There is no reason why the fire department should not be under as strict orders as the police department. There should not be allowed any drinking or carousing, no leaving of the houses without some permission, and regulation, so that a house will always be manned for duty. In fact the department wants a head, a clear one, too, and one which the boys will respect and obey.

A Wife's Honor.

Last evening "A Wife's Honor" was presented at the opera house, and proved to be all that had been promised for it. The plot is laid on the old groundwork of intense love and jealousy, and the situations, strikingly presented, are recalled by new avenues, and the pathetic and humorous are so deftly intermingled as to make pleasant reliefs to each other. Lawrence Marston, the author of this play, shows that he can act as well as write, and in the leading roles makes a strong part of Baron Kotok. He is an artist of quick and intelligent perceptions, and shows culture as well as strength. Miss Lillian Dunston, as the baroness, shows herself to be a strongly emotional actress. The company is a well balanced one, and proves a strong support to such excellent talent in the leading roles. This afternoon they will appear in matinee, and will also occupy the opera house this evening. Those who have been longing for some good entertainment at the opera house should not miss this opportunity, for it is seldom that such a treat is offered here.

There was a merry wedding at Logan last evening, in which Council Bluffs people will be more than ordinarily interested, as the fortunate bridegroom was none other than John Pugh, who is now the chief clerk of the "Q" at Pacific Junction, but who formerly lived here, and who is known among many circles. The worthy young lady whom he has won is Miss Mattie Grosvenor, and the wedding took place at her home in the presence of the relatives and a few invited guests, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Brown, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Mitchell, Mr. W. W. Chapman, and Mr. John Kintz, of this city. The happy pair start to-day for Virginia on their wedding trip.
