

THE DAILY BEE. COUNCIL BLUFFS. TUESDAY MORNING, OCT. 20. OFFICE: No. 12 Pearl Street.

Minor Mention. Refer, the tailor, for full goods. Every voter should see that his name is on the registry.

The council is to try to have a meeting to-morrow evening. S. R. Dennis was yesterday fined the regulation size for being drunk.

Permit to marry was yesterday given to Ernest Evers and Louisa Bolmers, both of this city. The pipe for the Pearl Street sewer is being placed on the ground, and will soon be placed under it.

Owing to the absence of Secretary Curtis, there will be no entertainment at given at the Y. M. C. A. to-morrow evening. Col. Elstock, of Des Moines, is to address to address the Germans of this city in their own language on Wednesday night.

J. G. Scott, the Main street hardware man, seems to have adjusted his financial affairs, and yesterday reopened his store for business as usual.

The funeral services of Charles Madison were held yesterday afternoon, and were very solemn and impressive and attended by many sorrowing friends.

The many friends here of A. B. Keith, editor of the Democrat Bulletin, will sympathize deeply with him on learning of the death of his little son, aged only thirteen months.

Justice Frainey has discharged Trank and Shields, who were arrested for robbing young Hunter out of quite a large amount of money, while all three were on a spree together.

The new policeman, Myers, made his first capture yesterday, in the form of an alleged vagrant. When asked what his name was he said, "Myers," the officer's breath by saying it was Myers.

If you want to get your money's worth, if you want to laugh until you can laugh no longer, if you want to see the two funniest men on earth, take in the "Two Johns" to-night at the opera house.

The ladies of the Episcopal church are preparing for a most entertaining on the 17th of November. The ladies of this church are working nobly to raise means to help build the beautiful new edifice.

Revival services, conducted by Rev. Thomas Harrison, will be held each evening of this week at Broadway M. E. church. Young people's meeting at 6:45 p. m. Preaching service at 7:30. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

The programme for the letter carriers' annual ball, to be given in Benson's hall, this evening, consists of twenty-four numbers, and as good music has been provided, and other requisites for a merry time, the occasion will be a success.

A petition has been filed in the district court on behalf of a number of farmers, asking that the receiver of the Mutual Iowa Live Stock Insurance company be required to cancel the policies which they look out of the company and return to them the premium notes, the collection of which, they claim, is being forced long after the policies became worthless.

Mrs. Larson, who owns a little house on the bottom, is in great distress over the way a man is treating her. A man, whose name she has been unable to learn, broke the lock of the house, which she had to vacate, and proceeded to occupy it, and refuses to put up any rent or to vacate. She has sent out a warrant for his arrest for the cost of a ticket, and they should be encouraged by all. The police get kicks enough. Once a year at least they should be reminded in a substantial way that the public has some kindly feelings for them.

It is reported that some of the leading business men are about to institute an investigation of the record of the mayor, and to gather up in tangible form the facts concerning his official acts, and determine whether there is cause for any further action. There is a good big field to work on if they hunt up the bottom facts in much of the street talk. The mayor has not been sitting quietly down, whatever else he may be doing, in his activity and his foolishness of judgment, he has done many acts concerning which the people would be better satisfied if a committee of responsible citizens should be able to say were on his right. The mayor himself would doubtless court such an investigation of his official record.

Last Saturday morning, while running down a steer on horseback, Roy Coolman was thrown in such a manner as to receive severe injuries about the head. Drs. Parish and Stempel were immediately called and found that the left side of the forehead had been crushed in, the nasal and cheek bones fractured, requiring the removal of portions of the skull and one half of the nasal bone. This delicate operation was successfully performed, the pieces removed being 24 inches long and 1 1/2 inches wide, and at 4:30 writing, Wednesday, the little fellow seems in a fair way of complete recovery. It was a very close call from instant death, and when one considers the character and wife start to-day for Davenport to attend the state convention of the Y. M. C. A.

Mrs. J. J. Bliss returned last evening from New York where she has been for several weeks selecting new goods for her many customers. Her selection is a very fine one, and she will doubtless make a success of it. Miss Pelso, the well known artist, left yesterday on a visit to her old home in Nebraska City, and after remaining there a time will go east, her health having become such as to necessitate her giving up her classes here, and seeking rest and recuperation for a year to come.

Have you ever seen fine pastel works? If you want a visit to your parlor, call at Chapman's Art Store and buy one before they are all gone. If you wish to make legitimately from ten to fifty dollars per year write to Judd & Smith, No. 34 Fourth street, Council Bluffs.

THE LAST FOND HOPE GONE.

The Major Loses His Grip on the Workingmen, Who Saub Him.

NEGLECT AND DEATH OF A BOY.

The Senatorial Muddle Caused by Anderson—A Warning to Council Bluffs Washers—Incidents and Pointers.

The Irrepressible Major.

Mayor Anderson, who starts out as an independent republican candidate for senator in Page and Fremont counties, seems to be causing much trouble, and the Clarinda Journal thus depicts the situation:

The senatorial trouble in this district is a most vexatious thing, and it all comes from the ambition and ambition Major Anderson, who, defeated for congress a few years ago, seems determined to recover himself, even if he has to bulldoze and overrule the rights of everybody in his own county.

He did not dare to appeal to the people of the district in the usual way, but, to create no suspicion, he simply worked two or three times at the county convention the vote stood for senator, Anderson 92, Perry 12, Wm. Eaton 4. The next step in the conspiracy was to come to Shambaugh and Page counties, and to get the vote of Anderson had selected his own delegates, and he was present. It was, therefore, one man against fifteen: one man detaching to all Page county that is to furnish two-thirds of the vote necessary to elect a senator. Anderson set himself up as a bigger man than all the republicans of the district. Such outrageous action on the part of Major Anderson deserves and will receive the condemnation of all far-sighted men. The Page delegation conceded the nominee to Fremont, but did not propose to be browbeaten out of any voice as to who the candidate should be.

Do not wait until the last day before calling at W. W. Chapman's, 101 Main street, to purchase one of those large size oil paintings for $2.50.

A Hardware Failure. J. J. Scott, wholesale and retail hardware, failed yesterday morning and made a complete bill of sale to the banking firm of Oliver & Posey, his heaviest creditors. Scott's assets are estimated at $3,500 while his liabilities exceed this by a small amount.

A Child Dies From Exposure. From Dennison, through the medium of the Review, comes the details of the horrible death of a little 7-year old boy, which has called forth the righteous indignation of the community.

Andrew Brinkman and his family, consisting of three children to which he was the father, and of a wife and two children to which she was the mother—both parents having been twice married—reside three miles north of Denison.

The family is extremely poor. They own a team and cow, and having no inclosure, all the children from the 11-year old boy down to the 3-year old girl watched the cow by turns.

The boy was little boy named Henry, 7 years old, of weak constitution and delicate health, to whose charge the herding of the cow chiefly devolved. He was bare-footed, and his little legs showed bruises numerous, old and new, caused in the grub and brush. He went out on Saturday noon on the hill opposite the house to herd the cow as usual. Evening came but no boy; the father had gone to town; the little children searched some of the mother—and it was his own mother called. She heard him not. The father and a neighbor came home about 8 o'clock. It was dark and they searched with a lantern. They inquired at two neighbors, but at 10 o'clock in the morning they gave up the search and went to bed. During the night the cold cruel rain came down. On Sunday it rained, and the little search was made. On Sunday noon that father and mother went five miles from home to a christening and merry-making, staying until Monday noon. They still thought he was with some neighbor. No effective search was made until Wednesday, after G. McArthur, as township trustee had been notified, who made appointments with the neighbors to meet at 8 o'clock in the morning. About 10 o'clock the child was found, about 300 feet from the house on the hill opposite in the hazel brush. Evidence showed that he did not die until Monday or Tuesday. His little legs were about two inches in the ground. He died in extreme agony.

Whether the child fainted from weakness or was attacked with sudden illness, no one could tell, but the condition of the body and the surrounding ground, that he died as late as Sunday or Monday. There is no evidence that the parents were criminals by intent. The death is simply the result of stupidity, indifference and gross negligence.

An inquest was held on Wednesday evening. Dr. Fitzgerald, coroner; A. H. McArthur, August Anderson and M. T. Hill were the jury. J. Fred Meyers, clerk. Ten witnesses were heard and the verdict in substance was that the child came to his death by exposure on Sunday last, and that the parents were guilty of gross negligence in not providing for the child. Dr. Fitzgerald has issued warrants of arrest with a view of having Brinkman and wife answer for manslaughter.

Sensible Remarks of Labor. The rain interfered somewhat with the meeting of the workingmen on Sunday evening, it being a dark and dismal night for folks to wander out. Still there was a goodly sized audience of about sixty or so, and there was a goodly amount of enthusiasm shown. Judge Bartlett, of Omaha, was present, and was the principal speaker of the evening. He discussed the labor question at some length, and the listeners seemed interested. There were several local orators, who gave their views pretty freely in regard to local matters. Among the speakers were Mr. John Short, Mr. John Ahles and Mr. Kilgore. The city administration got some very sharp raps from these gentlemen, and some very plain truths in regard to the causes of complaint on the part of the laboring classes. The little mayor was present, and he thought he saw an opportunity to win back the workingmen by his usual suave manners and unobtrusive promises. He generally offered to put a hall for their next meeting, provided they would go in with him on a "grand rally"; but as they had learned from past experience that such a "grand rally" meant a meeting for the mayor, they very promptly sat down on the little scheme, and to make matters worse for him, they told some very unpleasant things for him to hear. The last effort of the little mayor will probably cause him to let the workingmen alone, so that they may go ahead with their regular business, which they have the good sense enough to manage without his help or advice.

Owing to the stormy condition of the night, and the consequent falling off from the natural attendance, it was decided to adjourn the meeting until Wednesday evening at which time it is expected there will be still more interesting addresses, and the invitation is still a broad and cordial one for all to attend, except those who have got personal or political schemes to get through.

The Female Ball Players. The advent in the city yesterday of the young ladies who are gaining such a reputation as athletes and base ball players, caused as was to be expected a good deal of curiosity on the part of the gay young men, and the sly old ballhounds. The company made a street parade, but they gave no seeming encouragement to the wistful glances, and the deftly worked handkerchiefs and twirling canes of the pretty young men, who sighed for a further acquaintance. The fashion plates who are thus so eager to earn the charms, should be warned by the experience told of two Des Moines youths, who had the same ambition, and who had their ambition gratified. It is said that these two young spouses of Des Moines, succeeded in getting slightly acquainted with two of the young ladies, and that they flattered themselves they had made such an impression that they could induce the ladies to take a drive with them. The girls were fully prepared to handle just such young fellows, and so they consented, and the young men secured an elegant carriage, and away the quartette rolled into the country roads, where the scenery was supposed to be especially fine. Having got a distance of two or three miles from the city, the pleasant chatting suddenly stopped, and the young fellows were suddenly aware that the girls were fully prepared to handle just such young fellows, and so they consented, and the young men secured an elegant carriage, and away the quartette rolled into the country roads, where the scenery was supposed to be especially fine.
