

THE CITY NEWS BUDGET.

A Battle in Archbold Between a Family and a Horse-thief.

ANOTHER ANTI-CHINESE RIOT.

Democratic Primaries—Two Young Lads Abducted Last Evening—What a Boy is Worth—Other Interesting Local News.

A SMALL BATTLE.

Exciting Encounter of a Sarpy County Family With a Horse Thief.

Constable Lee, of Oklahoma precinct, was informed Wednesday of a rather sensational episode at the home of Harrison Warner, about five miles south of the city and in the limits of Sarpy county. One of the Warner boys came up Wednesday and sought relief from Constable Lee, but returned on being informed that Sarpy county authorities alone had jurisdiction.

The young man stated that on arising at day break Wednesday morning he and his father were attracted by a noise in the barn, and arming themselves went out just in season to discover to their leading out one of the horses. The thieves, on being discovered, took to flight, one for the woods and the other, who carried a Winchester, running around the barn and around the clearing towards the house. Old man Warner followed this last with a shot from his rifle, and the fugitive, in evident alarm, ran into an out house, near the dwelling and shot at the door. From this out house the robber fired once, shattering the old man's arm near the wrist, inflicting a very dangerous wound. The father's place was quickly taken by two of the boys, and the young man proceeded to dislodge the thief. They filled the shed full of holes hoping that a shot in passing through might catch the man inside. The young man fired for every corner in which a responsive shot would come through the einks in the building and whistle in warning proximity to one of the boys. At last by a steady maneuver about noon the thief was driven from the work as a heavy stone ball was lodged in the scamp's thigh. He was taken to the house and a neighboring doctor called to dress the wound.

Two young lads, sons of Charles Allen, of this city, were forcibly abducted from their place of residence on North Sixteenth street last evening, and are supposed to have been taken from the city. The facts in the case, as reported last evening, are about as follows: Charles Allen was some time ago granted a divorce from his wife and given the custody of his children. After the couple had separated Mrs. Allen became a common prostitute, and has been living in Omaha most of the time since. Mr. Allen at length desired to get her out of the Emmet house, but finally put them in charge of a lady living on North Sixteenth street, where they have been living until last night. During the evening a lady called at the house and asked to see the two boys, saying she was a friend of their mother's, and had brought them a present. As soon as they appeared, however, she quickly seized the youngest of the two in her arms and taking them by the shoulder, hurried them out on the street. She quickly placed them in a carriage standing near by and drove rapidly away.

The woman with whom the children had been staying ran after them as rapidly as possible, but soon lost sight of them. She then proceeded to the Emmet house, and inquired of the proprietress for the whereabouts of the children. She was informed of the loss of his children. Some of his friends at the hotel, when informed of the abduction, endeavored to trace the woman, and found that she had gone directly to the depot with the intention of taking the Denver train. Whether she did so or not is unknown. She is supposed to be Mr. Allen's divorced wife, but why she should desire to steal the children is a mystery, as she is said to be leading an abandoned life. Something new will probably be developed in the case when Mr. Allen receives the intelligence of his loss.

ANOTHER OUTBREAK.

Chinese Section Men at Rock Springs Mobbed.

Wednesday night, about eleven o'clock, a mob of white men attacked the section house at the old town of Rock Springs, about three miles from the mining camp that bears the name. The house was filled with Chinamen, about thirty in number, who are employed as section men. The attacking party raised terrorizing shouts and firing a few pistol shots in the air began smashing the windows with sticks in favor of the Chinamen. The mob then entered the scene and took refuge in the hills. After making a wide detour they came into camp this morning in a most wretched condition after a night of deluge. The weather in the hill weather which now prevails there. The authorities and remaining military were informed but were unable to discover the identity of the rioters. Those supposed to be some of the striking miners, who were barred out from work and yet loiter about the town. Their purpose is evidently to terrorize the coolies so that they will gladly leave the region. Efforts will be made to forget out and punish all parties concerned in the outrage.

The mines at Rock Springs were steadily operated yesterday and elsewhere at all points where order has previously been restored.

What is the Boy Worth?

His first two years of life at $1,750. His next five years, at $200 per year, or 1,000. His next eight years, at $200 per year, or 1,600. Total cost when 15 years old, $3,350.

The above is the statement made by Mrs. Henry in her address last evening at the Denver street Methodist church on "What is the Boy Worth?" The statement, the lady said, was based on careful calculations which she had made during years of experience in providing for her own family of fallen boys.

The cause which had led her to figure out the cost was a remark which had been made to her by a business man while she was engaged in the temperance work. The gentleman had said: "You can never make a success of anything unless you can prove there is as much money in temperance as there is in whisky." In order to convince him that there was a big balance in favor of temperance she decided to make the calculation, which she assured her hearers, was none too high. She illustrated her point by drawing a word picture of two young men. One had wasted his money in the saloon, and yet he had revenue to his country by drinking liquor, and finally landing in the gutter or the prison. The other husband his energies, exerted himself to improve all his opportunities, and yet he was a disreputable member of society. Place the two in a balance and which is worth the most? One is a wasted life, absolutely worthless, while the other is a living monument of a traitor to his country.

The saloon, Mrs. Henry said, is a traitor to the home, the nation and the church. The boy, with all his worth, is wretched, if corrupted, and finally robbed of all that is good. At the law upholds the institution just as much as it does the church and the home.

At the close of Mrs. Henry's remarks a prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. DeWilder and the congregation dismissed. The address was most interesting and was listened to with close attention by the audience present. Mrs. Henry will speak again this evening on the subject of "The Unanswered Prayer."

Public Works.

The board of public works held an important session yesterday. Bids for several grading contracts were opened and awards made.

The contract for what is known as the Harney street grading was awarded to E. D. Callahan. There will be 40,000 cubic yards of earth to be removed, and the contract price is 15 cents per yard.

This contract includes the grade a Harney street from Seventeenth to Twentieth streets, Seventeenth from Farnam to Howard, Eighteenth from Farnam to Harney, Nineteenth from Farnam to Harney, Twentieth from Farnam to Harney. This, it will be noted, will remove the banks about the new court house, which have since remained ungraded. The county will bear a portion of the expense.

The contract for grading Burt street to a point 300 feet west of Division street is let to O'Brien & Fankler, for 18 cents. The job will involve the removal of 20,000 yards of earth.

Stutt & Hannell secured the contract for grading Seventeenth street between Paul and Grace. Fifteen thousand cubic yards of earth will be removed. For 3,000 yards the contract price is 20 cents, for the balance 14-9-10 cents.

Chairman House of the board said to a reporter today that probably all this grading work will be finished by next week, at January 1.

The asphalt paving around the exposition building has been completed.

The Menominee Brown democrats at the primaries. What has that factional fight got to do with the county election? We are going to fight the republicans, and not the Morton-Brown men. Please don't forget that. Goodness knows, we shall have enough to do to elect the republicans without quarreling among ourselves."

THE DELEGATES.

The following are the delegates, selected by wards: First Ward—Delegates, P. Deamond, Charles Kaufmann, W. H. Spaulding, Thomas Casey, William Neve, A. Foll, Owen Slaven. Second Ward—Delegates, Julius Nagel, Dennis Cunningham, E. F. Moriarty, P. W. Lynch, Fred Bortwick, George Anthon, J. J. Mahoney. For assessor—James Donnelly, Sr. Third Ward—Delegates, Julius Meyer, Pat Ford, August Weiss, A. B. Snowden, Jerry O'Grady, H. Parish, F. Wirth. For constable—Paul Stein. Fourth Ward—Delegates, W. A. L. C. G. Penzel, Peter Cunniff, C. S. Goodrich, C. S. Montgomery. For assessor—W. J. Monni, for constables—S. N. Mello, John Kokosani. Fifth Ward—Delegates, Thomas H. Daily, Henry Ostoff, James Hollan, James Douglas, Dan McCoy, John Donahoe, John Cummings. Sixth Ward—Delegates, Martin Cannon, Max Cooper, Andrew Schmitt, O. Carmichael, John Morris, John Bellich, Hans Rasmussen.

THE VETERAN'S CANDIDATE.

The Omaha Veteran club, at its last meeting, elected Edmund Bartlett, its nomination for justice of the peace, in the third district, as an independent candidate, and that gentleman has accepted it. Mr. Bartlett has for several years been one of the best of the peace, and has gained a reputation for being wise and impartial in his decisions.

Two young lads, sons of Charles Allen, of this city, were forcibly abducted from their place of residence on North Sixteenth street last evening, and are supposed to have been taken from the city.

The facts in the case, as reported last evening, are about as follows: Charles Allen was some time ago granted a divorce from his wife and given the custody of his children. After the couple had separated Mrs. Allen became a common prostitute, and has been living in Omaha most of the time since.

Mr. Allen at length desired to get her out of the Emmet house, but finally put them in charge of a lady living on North Sixteenth street, where they have been living until last night.

During the evening a lady called at the house and asked to see the two boys, saying she was a friend of their mother's, and had brought them a present.

As soon as they appeared, however, she quickly seized the youngest of the two in her arms and taking them by the shoulder, hurried them out on the street.

She quickly placed them in a carriage standing near by and drove rapidly away.

The woman with whom the children had been staying ran after them as rapidly as possible, but soon lost sight of them.

She then proceeded to the Emmet house, and inquired of the proprietress for the whereabouts of the children.

She was informed of the loss of his children. Some of his friends at the hotel, when informed of the abduction, endeavored to trace the woman, and found that she had gone directly to the depot with the intention of taking the Denver train.

Whether she did so or not is unknown. She is supposed to be Mr. Allen's divorced wife, but why she should desire to steal the children is a mystery, as she is said to be leading an abandoned life.

Something new will probably be developed in the case when Mr. Allen receives the intelligence of his loss.

ANOTHER OUTBREAK.

Chinese Section Men at Rock Springs Mobbed.

Wednesday night, about eleven o'clock, a mob of white men attacked the section house at the old town of Rock Springs, about three miles from the mining camp that bears the name.

The attacking party raised terrorizing shouts and firing a few pistol shots in the air began smashing the windows with sticks in favor of the Chinamen.

The mob then entered the scene and took refuge in the hills.

After making a wide detour they came into camp this morning in a most wretched condition after a night of deluge.

The weather in the hill weather which now prevails there. The authorities and remaining military were informed but were unable to discover the identity of the rioters.

Those supposed to be some of the striking miners, who were barred out from work and yet loiter about the town. Their purpose is evidently to terrorize the coolies so that they will gladly leave the region.

Efforts will be made to forget out and punish all parties concerned in the outrage.

The mines at Rock Springs were steadily operated yesterday and elsewhere at all points where order has previously been restored.

What is the Boy Worth?

His first two years of life at $1,750. His next five years, at $200 per year, or 1,000. His next eight years, at $200 per year, or 1,600. Total cost when 15 years old, $3,350.

The above is the statement made by Mrs. Henry in her address last evening at the Denver street Methodist church on "What is the Boy Worth?"

The statement, the lady said, was based on careful calculations which she had made during years of experience in providing for her own family of fallen boys.

The cause which had led her to figure out the cost was a remark which had been made to her by a business man while she was engaged in the temperance work.

The gentleman had said: "You can never make a success of anything unless you can prove there is as much money in temperance as there is in whisky."

In order to convince him that there was a big balance in favor of temperance she decided to make the calculation, which she assured her hearers, was none too high.

She illustrated her point by drawing a word picture of two young men. One had wasted his money in the saloon, and yet he had revenue to his country by drinking liquor, and finally landing in the gutter or the prison.

The other husband his energies, exerted himself to improve all his opportunities, and yet he was a disreputable member of society.

Place the two in a balance and which is worth the most? One is a wasted life, absolutely worthless, while the other is a living monument of a traitor to his country.

The saloon, Mrs. Henry said, is a traitor to the home, the nation and the church. The boy, with all his worth, is wretched, if corrupted, and finally robbed of all that is good.

At the law upholds the institution just as much as it does the church and the home.

At the close of Mrs. Henry's remarks a prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. DeWilder and the congregation dismissed.

The address was most interesting and was listened to with close attention by the audience present.

Mrs. Henry will speak again this evening on the subject of "The Unanswered Prayer."

Public Works.

The board of public works held an important session yesterday. Bids for several grading contracts were opened and awards made.

The contract for what is known as the Harney street grading was awarded to E. D. Callahan.

There will be 40,000 cubic yards of earth to be removed, and the contract price is 15 cents per yard.

This contract includes the grade a Harney street from Seventeenth to Twentieth streets, Seventeenth from Farnam to Howard, Eighteenth from Farnam to Harney, Nineteenth from Farnam to Harney, Twentieth from Farnam to Harney.

This, it will be noted, will remove the banks about the new court house, which have since remained ungraded.

The county will bear a portion of the expense.

The contract for grading Burt street to a point 300 feet west of Division street is let to O'Brien & Fankler, for 18 cents.

The job will involve the removal of 20,000 yards of earth.

Stutt & Hannell secured the contract for grading Seventeenth street between Paul and Grace.

Fifteen thousand cubic yards of earth will be removed. For 3,000 yards the contract price is 20 cents, for the balance 14-9-10 cents.

Chairman House of the board said to a reporter today that probably all this grading work will be finished by next week, at January 1.

The asphalt paving around the exposition building has been completed.

The Menominee Brown democrats at the primaries. What has that factional fight got to do with the county election? We are going to fight the republicans, and not the Morton-Brown men. Please don't forget that. Goodness knows, we shall have enough to do to elect the republicans without quarreling among ourselves."

THE DELEGATES.

The following are the delegates, selected by wards: First Ward—Delegates, P. Deamond, Charles Kaufmann, W. H. Spaulding, Thomas Casey, William Neve, A. Foll, Owen Slaven.

Second Ward—Delegates, Julius Nagel, Dennis Cunningham, E. F. Moriarty, P. W. Lynch, Fred Bortwick, George Anthon, J. J. Mahoney. For assessor—James Donnelly, Sr.

Third Ward—Delegates, Julius Meyer, Pat Ford, August Weiss, A. B. Snowden, Jerry O'Grady, H. Parish, F. Wirth. For constable—Paul Stein.

Fourth Ward—Delegates, W. A. L. C. G. Penzel, Peter Cunniff, C. S. Goodrich, C. S. Montgomery. For assessor—W. J. Monni, for constables—S. N. Mello, John Kokosani.

Fifth Ward—Delegates, Thomas H. Daily, Henry Ostoff, James Hollan, James Douglas, Dan McCoy, John Donahoe, John Cummings.

Sixth Ward—Delegates, Martin Cannon, Max Cooper, Andrew Schmitt, O. Carmichael, John Morris, John Bellich, Hans Rasmussen.

THE VETERAN'S CANDIDATE.

The Omaha Veteran club, at its last meeting, elected Edmund Bartlett, its nomination for justice of the peace, in the third district, as an independent candidate, and that gentleman has accepted it.

Mr. Bartlett has for several years been one of the best of the peace, and has gained a reputation for being wise and impartial in his decisions.

Two young lads, sons of Charles Allen, of this city, were forcibly abducted from their place of residence on North Sixteenth street last evening, and are supposed to have been taken from the city.

The facts in the case, as reported last evening, are about as follows: Charles Allen was some time ago granted a divorce from his wife and given the custody of his children.

After the couple had separated Mrs. Allen became a common prostitute, and has been living in Omaha most of the time since.

Mr. Allen at length desired to get her out of the Emmet house, but finally put them in charge of a lady living on North Sixteenth street, where they have been living until last night.

During the evening a lady called at the house and asked to see the two boys, saying she was a friend of their mother's, and had brought them a present.

As soon as they appeared, however, she quickly seized the youngest of the two in her arms and taking them by the shoulder, hurried them out on the street.

She quickly placed them in a carriage standing near by and drove rapidly away.

The woman with whom the children had been staying ran after them as rapidly as possible, but soon lost sight of them.

She then proceeded to the Emmet house, and inquired of the proprietress for the whereabouts of the children.

She was informed of the loss of his children. Some of his friends at the hotel, when informed of the abduction, endeavored to trace the woman, and found that she had gone directly to the depot with the intention of taking the Denver train.

Whether she did so or not is unknown. She is supposed to be Mr. Allen's divorced wife, but why she should desire to steal the children is a mystery, as she is said to be leading an abandoned life.

Something new will probably be developed in the case when Mr. Allen receives the intelligence of his loss.

ANOTHER OUTBREAK.

Chinese Section Men at Rock Springs Mobbed.

Wednesday night, about eleven o'clock, a mob of white men attacked the section house at the old town of Rock Springs, about three miles from the mining camp that bears the name.

The attacking party raised terrorizing shouts and firing a few pistol shots in the air began smashing the windows with sticks in favor of the Chinamen.

The mob then entered the scene and took refuge in the hills.

After making a wide detour they came into camp this morning in a most wretched condition after a night of deluge.

The weather in the hill weather which now prevails there. The authorities and remaining military were informed but were unable to discover the identity of the rioters.

Those supposed to be some of the striking miners, who were barred out from work and yet loiter about the town. Their purpose is evidently to terrorize the coolies so that they will gladly leave the region.

Efforts will be made to forget out and punish all parties concerned in the outrage.

The mines at Rock Springs were steadily operated yesterday and elsewhere at all points where order has previously been restored.

What is the Boy Worth?

His first two years of life at $1,750. His next five years, at $200 per year, or 1,000. His next eight years, at $200 per year, or 1,600. Total cost when 15 years old, $3,350.

The above is the statement made by Mrs. Henry in her address last evening at the Denver street Methodist church on "What is the Boy Worth?"

The statement, the lady said, was based on careful calculations which she had made during years of experience in providing for her own family of fallen boys.

The cause which had led her to figure out the cost was a remark which had been made to her by a business man while she was engaged in the temperance work.

The gentleman had said: "You can never make a success of anything unless you can prove there is as much money in temperance as there is in whisky."

In order to convince him that there was a big balance in favor of temperance she decided to make the calculation, which she assured her hearers, was none too high.

She illustrated her point by drawing a word picture of two young men. One had wasted his money in the saloon, and yet he had revenue to his country by drinking liquor, and finally landing in the gutter or the prison.

The other husband his energies, exerted himself to improve all his opportunities, and yet he was a disreputable member of society.

Place the two in a balance and which is worth the most? One is a wasted life, absolutely worthless, while the other is a living monument of a traitor to his country.

The saloon, Mrs. Henry said, is a traitor to the home, the nation and the church. The boy, with all his worth, is wretched, if corrupted, and finally robbed of all that is good.

At the law upholds the institution just as much as it does the church and the home.

At the close of Mrs. Henry's remarks a prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. DeWilder and the congregation dismissed.

The address was most interesting and was listened to with close attention by the audience present.

Mrs. Henry will speak again this evening on the subject of "The Unanswered Prayer."

Public Works.

The board of public works held an important session yesterday. Bids for several grading contracts were opened and awards made.

The contract for what is known as the Harney street grading was awarded to E. D. Callahan.

There will be 40,000 cubic yards of earth to be removed, and the contract price is 15 cents per yard.

This contract includes the grade a Harney street from Seventeenth to Twentieth streets, Seventeenth from Farnam to Howard, Eighteenth from Farnam to Harney, Nineteenth from Farnam to Harney, Twentieth from Farnam to Harney.

This, it will be noted, will remove the banks about the new court house, which have since remained ungraded.

The county will bear a portion of the expense.

The contract for grading Burt street to a point 300 feet west of Division street is let to O'Brien & Fankler, for 18 cents.

The job will involve the removal of 20,000 yards of earth.

Stutt & Hannell secured the contract for grading Seventeenth street between Paul and Grace.

Fifteen thousand cubic yards of earth will be removed. For 3,000 yards the contract price is 20 cents, for the balance 14-9-10 cents.

Chairman House of the board said to a reporter today that probably all this grading work will be finished by next week, at January 1.

The asphalt paving around the exposition building has been completed.

The Menominee Brown democrats at the primaries. What has that factional fight got to do with the county election? We are going to fight the republicans, and not the Morton-Brown men. Please don't forget that. Goodness knows, we shall have enough to do to elect the republicans without quarreling among ourselves."

THE DELEGATES.

The following are the delegates, selected by wards: First Ward—Delegates, P. Deamond, Charles Kaufmann, W. H. Spaulding, Thomas Casey, William Neve, A. Foll, Owen Slaven.

Second Ward—Delegates, Julius Nagel, Dennis Cunningham, E. F. Moriarty, P. W. Lynch, Fred Bortwick, George Anthon, J. J. Mahoney. For assessor—James Donnelly, Sr.

Third Ward—Delegates, Julius Meyer, Pat Ford, August Weiss, A. B. Snowden, Jerry O'Grady, H. Parish, F. Wirth. For constable—Paul Stein.

Fourth Ward—Delegates, W. A. L. C. G. Penzel, Peter Cunniff, C. S. Goodrich, C. S. Montgomery. For assessor—W. J. Monni, for constables—S. N. Mello, John Kokosani.

Fifth Ward—Delegates, Thomas H. Daily, Henry Ostoff, James Hollan, James Douglas, Dan McCoy, John Donahoe, John Cummings.

Sixth Ward—Delegates, Martin Cannon, Max Cooper, Andrew Schmitt, O. Carmichael, John Morris, John Bellich, Hans Rasmussen.

THE VETERAN'S CANDIDATE.

The Omaha Veteran club, at its last meeting, elected Edmund Bartlett, its nomination for justice of the peace, in the third district, as an independent candidate, and that gentleman has accepted it.

Mr. Bartlett has for several years been one of the best of the peace, and has gained a reputation for being wise and impartial in his decisions.

Two young lads, sons of Charles Allen, of this city, were forcibly abducted from their place of residence on North Sixteenth street last evening, and are supposed to have been taken from the city.

The facts in the case, as reported last evening, are about as follows: Charles Allen was some time ago granted a divorce from his wife and given the custody of his children.

After the couple had separated Mrs. Allen became a common prostitute, and has been living in Omaha most of the time since.

Mr. Allen at length desired to get her out of the Emmet house, but finally put them in charge of a lady living on North Sixteenth street, where they have been living until last night.

During the evening a lady called at the house and asked to see the two boys, saying she was a friend of their mother's, and had brought them a present.

As soon as they appeared, however, she quickly seized the youngest of the two in her arms and taking them by the shoulder, hurried them out on the street.

She quickly placed them in a carriage standing near by and drove rapidly away.

The woman with whom the children had been staying ran after them as rapidly as possible, but soon lost sight of them.

She then proceeded to the Emmet house, and inquired of the proprietress for the whereabouts of the children. She was informed of the loss of his children. Some of his friends at the hotel, when informed of the abduction, endeavored to trace the woman, and found that she had gone directly to the depot with the intention of taking the Denver train. Whether she did so or not is unknown. She is supposed to be Mr. Allen's divorced wife, but why she should desire to steal the children is a mystery, as she is said to be leading an abandoned life. Something new will probably be developed in the case when Mr. Allen receives the intelligence of his loss.

ANOTHER OUTBREAK.

Chinese Section Men at Rock Springs Mobbed.

Wednesday night, about eleven o'clock, a mob of white men attacked the section house at the old town of Rock Springs, about three miles from the mining camp that bears the name.

The attacking party raised terrorizing shouts and firing a few pistol shots in the air began smashing the windows with sticks in favor of the Chinamen.

The mob then entered the scene and took refuge in the hills.

After making a wide detour they came into camp this morning in a most wretched condition after a night of deluge.

The weather in the hill weather which now prevails there. The authorities and remaining military were informed but were unable to discover the identity of the rioters.

Those supposed to be some of the striking miners, who were barred out from work and yet loiter about the town. Their purpose is evidently to terrorize the coolies so that they will gladly leave the region.