

THE DAILY BEE.

OMAHA OFFICE, NO. 111 AND 113 PEARSON ST. NEW YORK OFFICE, 100 N. 5TH ST. BOSTON, 100 N. 5TH ST.

Published every morning, except Sunday. The only weekly newspaper published in the state.

TERMS BY MAIL: One Year, with premium, $10.00; Six Months, with premium, $6.00; Three Months, with premium, $3.50.

ADVERTISING: All communications relating to news and editorial matters should be addressed to the Editor of the Bee.

THE BEE PUBLISHING COMPANY, PROPRIETORS. E. ROSEWATER, EDITOR.

PAT FORD was put up to be butchered. His left hand friends will be promptly accommodated.

If the Douglas county democracy had gone out gunning for defeat they could not be more certain of their game.

The harps of Pritchett, Gallagher and Herman are still hanging, so to speak, on the weeping willow tree of long deferred hope.

Mr. POINTS should withdraw from the ticket. He cannot afford the sure defeat which he will experience if he keeps his present company.

"It is evident," says the New York World, "that public opinion in Wyoming is hostile to the Chisamen." Slightly so, we should judge.

The enthusiasm of Judge Bencke's friends for the democratic nominations cannot be discovered with the largest sized magnifying glass.

Mrs. LANGTRY refuses to pay her English dressmaker's bill. The Jersey Lily is leading fashionable society in this as well as in other respects.

FIFTEEN cigarette factories have been lately started in the City of Mexico. A decrease in Mexico's population may be confidently looked for in the next census.

The name of George Washington appears upon the Omaha registration lists. We violate no confidence in saying that he will vote the republican ticket this fall.

"My policy," in the case of President Cleveland, is creating almost as much division in the party ranks as Andy Johnson's did eighteen years ago among the republicans.

SEVIA has crossed the Bulgarian border and will probably be met by Bulgarian troops. It looks as if the band were really about to strike up on the Balkan frontier.

New York republicans are united and New York democrats are divided. The return of the megawump adds new interest to an already interesting canvass in the Empire state.

FORD or COBURN? It won't take the average voter long to decide the question. Even the "men of influence" will deliver their usual slim number of votes on such an issue.

NINE-tenths of the butter sold in Chicago is oleomargarine. This is one of the resulting benefits from stock yards and large packing houses, which is not generally appreciated by the public.

ONE by one the official heads are dropping into the basket, but the groans which come from the democracy over the slowness of President Cleveland's guillotine are enough to draw tears from a statue.

The county nominations paralyzed the Herald. It wants two days to think it over and promises to discuss them in detail Tuesday morning. Like a dose of castor oil, the longer the doctor looks at it the harder it will be to keep down.

"ONE of the most prominent defects of our graded system," is the heading of an editorial in an eastern paper. One of the most prominent defects of Omaha's graded system is a deficiency in payments, which will be somewhat removed when spring opens.

DOUGLAS county democrats made a desperate attempt to match the republican ticket, but it was a failure after all. The republican nominees will be elected even without the split in the democratic camp which will break wide open the chances of several of the candidates.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND is reported by his brother-in-law as predicting republican success in New York. Administration organs will now have an opportunity of explaining to the Jacksonian democracy how this latest attitude of the president is in the line of the best and dearest democratic aspirations.

Just at present, Carl Schurz is praising the administration for its devotion to civil service reform. If that vacancy in the civil service commission is filled by a man whose last name does not happen to be Schurz, Carl will get down from the fence in double quick time and once more join the ranks of the straight-outs.

The decision of the supreme court at Lincoln that mutual insurance companies must comply with the general insurance laws of the state strikes once and for all the business of wild-cat insurance in Nebraska. Other states have been worse swindled than Nebraska by bogus insurance sharps, who can only ply their trade in the absence of regulating laws.

NEBRASKA'S insurance law has now been found competent to deal with this evil, and companies who wish to do business on the assessment plan must show up their capital and system of skip to more congenial climes.

A Roaring Fare.

The railroad commission has been making fifteen minute stops along the Elkhorn Valley to receive complaints from citizens. They were accompanied in their travels by the editor of the Republican, who notes with surprise the universal impression that the commission is a roaring fare.

Of course the commission is a fare, "a roaring fare," and an expensive fare. It was not the reply of the republican party to the demand for railroad regulation as the Republican insists.

The means adopted by the attorneys and political cappers of the railroads to block any effective railroad regulation by placing plant tools under the guise of popular servants, in the hands of the great corporations.

The people of Nebraska have not been deluded for one moment by this device of the transportation companies to stifle the public demand. Complaints of railroad discrimination and extortion are as frequent to-day as they were before the creation of the commission.

Last week recorded a fearful railroad disaster on the Hackensack meadows. A west bound express on the Pennsylvania line, without a moment's warning, crashed into an emigrant train standing in the fog at a local cooling station.

Legalized Manslaughter. Last week recorded a fearful railroad disaster on the Hackensack meadows. A west bound express on the Pennsylvania line, without a moment's warning, crashed into an emigrant train standing in the fog at a local cooling station.

The country postmaster's union. A large convention of country postmasters will assemble next month in Chicago to take action regarding various injustices to which they are subjected by the government.

Officials in Cuba have a frank and free way of feathering their nests which makes the eyes of average New York or collector of customs at Havana had to give all his salary to the political boss in Spain who appointed him, yet he lived well during his two years' term and took $93,000 back to Spain.

The West and Honest Money. The charge made by some of the advocates of the demonetization of silver, that opposition to what they call "honest money" invariably springs from the west, is unjust and ungenerous.

No one is, admittedly, in favor of "dishonest money." Capital and labor alike, wherever the subject is intelligently discussed, desire a stable and solid basis for our circulating medium.

Mr. Tilden is again experiencing a violent attack of cholera. Rose Conkling threw a bouquet of roses to Judge the other night.

Senor Valera, minister of Spain, is the handsome diplomat at Washington. Mr. Murphy, the cyclist, is coveting the mules in the Great Smoky mountains.

George W. Childs has been pill bearer at the funeral of thirteen distinguished men. New York cities have discovered that Mary Anderson has an exceedingly ugly foot.

Justice Thurman, of Ohio, will never be heard of again by the people of this country so long as he carries his red bandana with him. Mr. Busted is the name of a Maryland editor who recently read from the publication of his paper. His explanation is reason enough.

Josh was shrewd. How the Dead Humorist Turned His Humor Into Cash. Inquiry of the several publishers of Jock Billings' humor, since his death, reveals the fact that the first year's sale reached $20,000 copies.

A Brass Foundry Burned. A fire alarm sounded at 4 Saturday morning from box 13, Eleventh and Dorcas streets, called the department to Vinton street, near South Thirtieth, where Interlock brass foundry was situated.

CALLING ON THE CONDEMNED

A Visit to the Cage of Quin Bohannon at Otoe County's Jail.

The Criminal and His Career. Every-Day Life of the Doomed-His Opinion of Nebraska's Penitentiary—Gere's Vote in 1882—Analyzed—City Briefly.

Quin Bohannon, the condemned murderer, was visited last Saturday at the Otoe county jail, at Nebraska City, by a Bee reporter. The cell occupied by Bohannon is on the south side of the building, and the cell in which he is confined is what may be called an iron cage.

The crime for which Bohannon now stands convicted by the judgment of the supreme court of the state was the killing of James Cook, at Waverly, Neb., in February, 1882. During a discussion over a trivial matter, the spelling of a word, a quarrel arose between the men.

Bohannon's life has been written by newspaper men in the state and it is only necessary to say that he was born in Kentucky at a small place called Bagdad in the eastern part of the state. According to Bohannon's statement his father owned a small farm, but in his own words he asserted that "he never saw the old man do a lick of work in his life."

Bohannon had finished this rather incoherent statement at a short, dry laugh, and commenced talking about something else. When asked why he had such an aversion to the penitentiary, he said he had good reasons, but would give no particulars.

Bohannon has a patent for a corn sheller which he invented during his term in the penitentiary. He has said, many times, that he already holds an office under the state government. The last legislature created the railroad commission, and under the law the three members of the body were each allowed a secretary at a salary of $2,000 per year.

Bohannon's religious belief seems to be that of a future existence, but he seems not to have any faith in orthodox. Bohannon has his small cage fixed up in grotesque form. Out of the paper depends from the ceiling, and upon the walls he has made frames of paper, into which are set pictures of his sister, Betty Bolt, himself and a number of other friends.

A man named Wm. Badger, living in South Omaha, was found Friday evening in an unconscious condition on the Burlington & Missouri tracks, near the Seventh street bridge. His scalp was badly cut and had profusely. Upon being taken to the hospital and revived, it was discovered that his pockets had been rifled, his watch and some small change being taken.

THE CRIMINAL AND HIS CAREER.

Every-Day Life of the Doomed-His Opinion of Nebraska's Penitentiary—Gere's Vote in 1882—Analyzed—City Briefly.

Bohannon's religious belief seems to be that of a future existence, but he seems not to have any faith in orthodox. Bohannon has his small cage fixed up in grotesque form. Out of the paper depends from the ceiling, and upon the walls he has made frames of paper, into which are set pictures of his sister, Betty Bolt, himself and a number of other friends.

Bohannon has a patent for a corn sheller which he invented during his term in the penitentiary. He has said, many times, that he already holds an office under the state government. The last legislature created the railroad commission, and under the law the three members of the body were each allowed a secretary at a salary of $2,000 per year.

Bohannon's religious belief seems to be that of a future existence, but he seems not to have any faith in orthodox. Bohannon has his small cage fixed up in grotesque form. Out of the paper depends from the ceiling, and upon the walls he has made frames of paper, into which are set pictures of his sister, Betty Bolt, himself and a number of other friends.

Bohannon has a patent for a corn sheller which he invented during his term in the penitentiary. He has said, many times, that he already holds an office under the state government. The last legislature created the railroad commission, and under the law the three members of the body were each allowed a secretary at a salary of $2,000 per year.

Bohannon's religious belief seems to be that of a future existence, but he seems not to have any faith in orthodox. Bohannon has his small cage fixed up in grotesque form. Out of the paper depends from the ceiling, and upon the walls he has made frames of paper, into which are set pictures of his sister, Betty Bolt, himself and a number of other friends.

Bohannon has a patent for a corn sheller which he invented during his term in the penitentiary. He has said, many times, that he already holds an office under the state government. The last legislature created the railroad commission, and under the law the three members of the body were each allowed a secretary at a salary of $2,000 per year.

Bohannon's religious belief seems to be that of a future existence, but he seems not to have any faith in orthodox. Bohannon has his small cage fixed up in grotesque form. Out of the paper depends from the ceiling, and upon the walls he has made frames of paper, into which are set pictures of his sister, Betty Bolt, himself and a number of other friends.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Advertisements under this head 10 cents per line for the first insertion, and 7 cents for each subsequent insertion. Seven words will be counted as one line; they must run consecutively and must be paid in advance.

TO LOAN MONEY. The Omaha Financial Exchange, 150 Farnam street, up-stairs, makes loans on all classes of security.

MONEY TO LOAN—On chattels. Woolley & Harrison, room 20, Omaha National bank building.

MONEY TO LOAN—On real estate and chattels. D. L. Thomas.

MONEY TO LOAN—On real estate and chattels. W. R. Coffey, room 4, 115 Farnam St.

MONEY TO LOAN—On real estate and chattels. W. R. Coffey, room 4, 115 Farnam St.

MONEY TO LOAN—On real estate and chattels. W. R. Coffey, room 4, 115 Farnam St.

MONEY TO LOAN—On real estate and chattels. W. R. Coffey, room 4, 115 Farnam St.

MONEY TO LOAN—On real estate and chattels. W. R. Coffey, room 4, 115 Farnam St.

MONEY TO LOAN—On real estate and chattels. W. R. Coffey, room 4, 115 Farnam St.

MONEY TO LOAN—On real estate and chattels. W. R. Coffey, room 4, 115 Farnam St.

MONEY TO LOAN—On real estate and chattels. W. R. Coffey, room 4, 115 Farnam St.

MONEY TO LOAN—On real estate and chattels. W. R. Coffey, room 4, 115 Farnam St.

REAL ESTATE.

FOR SALE—One-half interest in restaurant doing largest business of any place in town. For particulars address T. A. DeLoe, Office 340-25.

FOR SALE—One-half interest in restaurant doing largest business of any place in town. For particulars address T. A. DeLoe, Office 340-25.

FOR SALE—One-half interest in restaurant doing largest business of any place in town. For particulars address T. A. DeLoe, Office 340-25.

FOR SALE—One-half interest in restaurant doing largest business of any place in town. For particulars address T. A. DeLoe, Office 340-25.

FOR SALE—One-half interest in restaurant doing largest business of any place in town. For particulars address T. A. DeLoe, Office 340-25.

FOR SALE—One-half interest in restaurant doing largest business of any place in town. For particulars address T. A. DeLoe, Office 340-25.

FOR SALE—One-half interest in restaurant doing largest business of any place in town. For particulars address T. A. DeLoe, Office 340-25.

FOR SALE—One-half interest in restaurant doing largest business of any place in town. For particulars address T. A. DeLoe, Office 340-25.

FOR SALE—One-half interest in restaurant doing largest business of any place in town. For particulars address T. A. DeLoe, Office 340-25.

FOR SALE—One-half interest in restaurant doing largest business of any place in town. For particulars address T. A. DeLoe, Office 340-25.

FOR SALE—One-half interest in restaurant doing largest business of any place in town. For particulars address T. A. DeLoe, Office 340-25.

FOR SALE—One-half interest in restaurant doing largest business of any place in town. For particulars address T. A. DeLoe, Office 340-25.

FOR SALE—One-half interest in restaurant doing largest business of any place in town. For particulars address T. A. DeLoe, Office 340-25.

SNEEZE! SNEEZE!

SNEEZE until your head seems ready to fly off; until your nose and eyes discharge a large quantity of thin, irritating, watery fluid; until your head aches, and you feel as if you were being pulled and pulled at every nerve.

Complete treatment with Inhaler, $1.00. One bottle of Inhaler, one box of Catarrhal Solvent, and one improved Inhaler, in one package, may now be had of all druggists for $1.00.

THE ONLY absolute specific we know of—"The Catarrhal Solvent" (Rev. S. W. Munroe, Louisville, Ky.) "I have not found a case that I did not relieve at once."—(Andrew Lee, Manchester, N.H.)

Complete treatment with Inhaler, $1.00. One bottle of Inhaler, one box of Catarrhal Solvent, and one improved Inhaler, in one package, may now be had of all druggists for $1.00.

ROYAL HAVANA LOTTERY

Drawn at Havana, Cuba, Every 10 to 14 Days. Tickets in Fifths, Whites, Etc. Fractions per cent.