A Novel Church Entertainment - A Crooked Second Hand Goods Dealer-A Newsy Budget of Small Items.

[FROM THE BEE'S LINCOLN BURBAU.] The suprema court convened yesterday morning and the first case under consideration was the Judge Mitchell mandamus. Judge Mason appeared and argred the case for the intervenor and contended that inasmuch as the constitution gave the legislature the right to increase the number of judges and the judicial districts every four years, and the legislature having failed to take advantage of that right in 185), that, therefore, the right still remained with them, and they exercised no power beyond that given to them by that body increasing

The court now has the matter under advisement, and it will propably be a. week before a decision will be reached. In an interview with Attorney General Leese yesterday morning, he said that he war informed that a certain insurance company of Beatrice was doing business in this state, on the same plan as the Farmers & Mechanics association, just ruled out of business by the supreme court, but on inquiry he found that there was two companies in Beatrice, one of which had complied with the law and had its cash capital of $100,000. The other had been working on the Farmers & Mechanics plan, but immediately stopped business when he commenced his suit against the Farmers & Mechanics association, and he was informed that they would henceforth do no business until they had complied with the law. The attorney general said he was determined to do his duty, as he understood it, and as the people had elected him to protect them against snide and illegal insurance associations, he was willing and bound to see that the necessary protection would be given them. He said further, that at present he had his hands full of business, but as soon as he had time, he proposed to look into other and different suide institutions waich have been operating in this state to the great financial detriment of the

THE JAPANESE WEDDING. A Japanese wedding occurred Monday night in the Baptist church of this city. This is a novel and interesting kind of entertainment and drew a large audience. The admission was 25 cents, and netted the society $70. The proceeds go to the benefit of the church. The performance consisted of a pantomime, and represented a Japanese wedding-with bride and bridegroom with the necessary attendants, and dressed in the costumes of Japan, together with the old lady who had arranged the marriage between the groom and bride for a financial consider-ation. Tea was drank after the fashien of the Japanese. The most interested spectators were two Chinamen, who, ly their great applause, seemed to take a great interest in the mock ceremony. Mr. Barnaby failed to sing as was an-nounced, but Mrs. Wilkinson acted rs his substitute and was accorded great praise. Mr. Spinlock recited "Church Bells" in a very acceptable manner. On the whole, the fair was a great success, both financially and in the matter of

POLLOWING HIS FORMER EMPLOYER. The case of Dobbins, who was arrested Monday and charged with receiving stolen goods, knowing them to be stolen, came up yesterday before Just ce Brown. The principal witness against him w s the thief who sold the goods to Dobbir s, and he secreted them at his house, in the back yard where he had dug a hole n the ground and buried them. Folitti, tle thief, stated that Dobbins knew that I c had stolen them, because he told him to and Wilson, a partner of Folitti, testil d that all Dobbins gave them was $12.5 and that the goods were worth $10. Among the articles recovered was a valuable for clock. Dobbins was bound over to the district court in the sum of $10. Mr. Dobbins has been engaged in the second hand goods business, and was : t one time employed by Wilson, the notorious second hand goods dealer, who was arrested for having large amounts of goods in his possession some months and which proved to have been stolen at Omaha. Wilson has long since left tor parts unknown, and now Dobbins is tryfig his hand in the second hand goods business. The investigation of Wilson's business broke him up, and it is me e than likely that Dobbins will go the same

A pleasant card party was held Monday night in the rooms of Gen. Cowin at the Paxton hotel. A select number of the guests of the house were present and the evening passed most enjoyably. The astro-meteoro.ogical forecast for the week beginning to day and ending Wednesday, November 4th-October is likely to close, and November open fine and cool, changing to-cloudy, stormy and unsettled, with rains in the south and southwest, snow or sleet north and cold wintry weather.

Mr. John Daily, registrar of the second district in the second ward, against whom some complaint is made because he sits in a soloon instead of a cigar store as he advertised, explains that the cigar store and soloon are adjoining that the former is cold and inconvenient, while the latter is warm and pleasant. Furthermore the saloon is a quiet and orderly place.

To the intense amazement of the neighborhood, yesterday's sun struggling through the heavy veil of grey clouds fell athwart five men standing on the dis-mantled walls of Thos, Murray's long prospective building. Later they were observed to work; two men actually went to wheeling brick, one man to wheeling mortar, another duet to laying brick while Thos, himself stood in the cellar and shouted, "more mort." Mr. Murray assured the reporter, who hastened to the spot, that if cold weather does not intervene, he will have the palatial structure

What Sporting Men Rely On.
Sportsman's News: When Lewis R.
Redmond, the South Carolina moonshiner, cornered, after for eight years eluding the government officials, was asked to surrender, he exclaimed:

Never, to men who fire at my back!" Before he was taken five bullets had gone clear through him, but strange to relate, he got well in the hands of a rude backwoods nurse."

By the way, if Garfield had been in the hands of a backwoods nurse, he might have lived. A heap of volunteer testimony against the infallibility of the physicians has been accumulating of late, and people are encouraged to do their own doctoring more and more. It is cheaper and quite as certain.

Before Detective Curtin of Buffalo eaught Tom Ballard he "covered" him with his revolver. Tom saw the point and tumbled !

Joe Goss was "covered" a few weeks ago and he tumbled, and so did Dan Mace. Death "fetched 'em" with that dreaded weapon-kidney disease. they should have been lively and drawn first. They could easily have disarmed the monster had they covered him with that dead shot - Warner's safe cure, which, drawn promptly, always takes the prey. It is doubtless true that sporting men dread this enemy more than any mishap of their profession, and presumably this explains why they as a rule are so partial to that celebrated "dead shot."

Redmond was right. No man should surrender when attacked in the back. He should "draw," face about and proceed to the defence, for such attacks, so common among all classes, will fetch a man every time unless 'covered by that won-derfully successful 'dead shot."

"Omaha Do Shine."

Cedar Rapids (Iowa) Gazette: To say that the metropolis of Nebraska is a gen would be putting it mildly. It is a combination of gems and is as bright as the evening star. We have not visited Oma-ha before in five years. Then it was a muddy, God-for-saken, dyspeptic looking town, noted for its uncoutiness and misht suit. To day "Omaha do shine." Omaha of five years has disappeared. She went out as the red men are going, as civili-zation advances. But old "civilization" dropped down a "leetle might" over the border line this time and left a good many very bright lowa cities without some of the touching up then should have had. Mr. Leeder, chairman of the committee on fire and water works, said that the resolution was intended to reflect on him, both as to his competency and integrity He proceeded to answer some statements made by Mr. Foray in regard to the water works item over which such a fuss had been made the past two weeks, and which had been investigated. He defied the gentleman from the Sixth (Mr. Furay) to prove his statements or to show where he (Leeder) had been derefict in his duty. He had tried to do his duty while on the committee, and challenged any member of the council to show a single instance of neglect on his part, except in the one matter of the water works item. He con sidered the resolution to have been offered as an insult to him, and he proposed to have satisfaction in some manner

Mr. Thrane said that he thought the resolution should not have been duced, and paid a tribute to Mr. Leeder's

Two Committees Meet and Discuss the Subject.

The special "free text book" committee of the board of education held a special meeting in the board rooms last night in conjunction with the committee of the signers of the petition for free school books. Two of the members of the board of education committee were absent, and no definite step was taken. An informal discussion of the matter ensued, however, which brought out, some interesting

Mr. Copeland, of the school board committee, opened the conversation. "I am personally in favor of adopting the free school book system. I have seen several attorneys, and all of them have expressed the opinion that the step will be a per-fectly legal one. Judge Lake said that if the state school laws provided that the school board should furnish certain things to the children but did not specify school books, he doubted whether these school books could be legally furnished. But I have examined the matter and found that the law does not so specify, but provides that all necessary appliance may be furnished, in which category. I think text books might be included. In fact, the law provides that the board shall make up a list of all free books issued during the year, which indicates, I should think, that the purchase of free books, to a certain ex-tent at least, was contemplated by the

Mr. Coburn suggested that free school books were supplied in some of the country districts, and there was no reason why the same thing should not be done

Mr. Jenkins, of the petition-signers committee, said that the children of the poorer class of people did not attend school as much as they should, because their parents cannot stand the attendant expense. As a rule, the poorer the man the larger his family and the greater his expense in sending them to school. This was not as it should be. The idoption of the free book system would tend to re-move the obstacle to the education of the poorer people. This was done in Penn sylvania, Massachusetts and New York

MR. CONNOYER QUESTIONED.
"I am decidedly in tayor of free

"Isn't it true that there are less than 6,000 children in this city attending school?" asked Mr. Coburn.

'That is about the figure." returned Connoyer. Isn't it also true that that is about half the number of children of school age count, would attend school if free school books were given them? Don't you think that the parents would make an extra effort to furnish the children with clothes, and otherwise get them in con-dition to attend school if they were assured that there would be no expense on the score of books? Many a man in the city who is earning, as you might say, a daily pittance, cannot afford to send his children to school on account of the cost of books, and is too proud to allow them to be dependent on the city. So far as concerns the objection that this adoption to the new book system would toster the feeling of communism, on the principle tree schools ought to fos

Secretary Comoyer said that while fa-voring the adoption of the system, he thought that the loard should set about it right away. Perhaps it would be a good plan to give free supplies to the children at first, such as peneils, papers, slates, drawing books, tracing books, etc., the cost of which in a year's time amounted to quite & sum. Afterwards the entire fist of text-books the entire fist of text-books could be supplied free.

Mr. Copeland suggested that the plan of furnishing the smaller supplies be adopted at once, and that beginning with next year the text books be supplied free of cost. He was followed by Mr. Coburn, chase of music books, states, and other

Mt J. E. Wigman declared himself as in favor, decidedly, of the free-book movement. Anything which would tene to further the education of the masses is grand thing. Compulsory education ight to be the rule in America, as it was n Germany.

A further discussion ensued, develop ing, however, no point of further special interest. It was decided that the two committees should meet next Monday evening about 7 o'clock, before the board meeting, in order to take definite action in the matter.

In conversation with a reporter last night, Sceretary Connoyer said that it would require about $10,000 to carry the free book plan into effect. At present he said there was no money in the treasury to expend in this way. The committee, he said, had been obliged to call a cessation of work on building improvements, because the funds therefor were growing low. On this account, he said. NO MONEY AT PRESENT. growing low. On this account, he said, the plan could not be at once put into execution.
