Where Was He? General Hazen's "Narrative of Military Service," just published, is in many respects an interesting volume.

While General Hazen is brazenly sounding his own horn, the silent records of the war department are echoing back a different refrain.

It is proper, in this connection, to remark, in addition to what has been heretofore reported by us, that the Ninth Iowa regiment should receive special commendation for standing the shock of the enemy.

When the two big democratic bosses, Miller and Boyd, made their onslaught on the democratic primaries and carried Douglas county by machine methods...

Viewed from the standpoint of public improvements, it is to the interest of every citizen that the proposition should carry. The assurance of the early construction of the city hall will stimulate property owners on upper Farnam to erecting and costly blocks of office and store buildings within the next two years.

Among the most blatant and blatant trials of the big bosses was Pat Ford, who aspires to be a great boss and expects to lord it over the common democrats as sheriff of Douglas county.

Pat Ford has not done a square day's work in many years. He has been fed at the public crib almost ever since he came to Omaha.

Pat Ford will find that "hood-o" doesn't always win against brains and ability.

The New York misgump will in all probability cast his ballot for the straight republican ticket.

Vote for the paving bonds. The onward march of public improvements in Omaha should not be stopped.

DR. MILLER better book himself up on the early history of Pat Ford before he goes off half-cocked in his opera house harangue.

LOUIS BERKA, Lee Helsley and Gustavo Anderson will make Justices Brandes, Weiss and Bartlett enquire whether they were running at all on election day.

WILLIAM COBURN should receive the vote of every reputable citizen who desires to see the office of sheriff in the hands of an intelligent and upright man.

As usual, the assessors have been forgotten. The same old crowd will go in because the tax payers have let the matter go by default.

The Belt line company put in a big day's work in track building on Sunday. We presume the company acted upon the principle of "the better the day, the better the deed."

THERE are some things that Dr. Miller can't explain, and one is how Pat Ford became the possessor of property worth from $20,000 to $50,000 in a few years from "honest labor."

THROW out the old gang of justices, whose coat mills have disgraced Omaha long enough. The republican ticket on justices fills the bill which honest men are ready to endorse.

WE NEED a radical change in the management of county affairs. Mr. O'Keefe has been altogether too delinquent in looking after the interests of our taxpayers.

PAT FORD drew a bagful of $5 gold pieces from one of the banks on Saturday. Pat evidently proposes to pave the town with five-dollar gold pieces on this election day.

CHARLES P. NEEDHAM, for county clerk, can safely appeal for the votes of our tax payers regardless of party, on grounds of integrity, ability, and eminent fitness for the place. His majority ought to be a rousing one.

WILL Mr. Pat Ford tell us some of his early history before he came to Omaha? It might be interesting to workmen to know how Pat played double in the mining regions and gave the workmen away in one of the struggles for living wages.

GOULD has returned to New York from his western trip and is taking a lively hand in the state politics if some of his opponents among the newspapers are to be believed.

THE Union Pacific general offices are again on wheels. This time, according to the Kansas City Times, they are going to Kansas City.

are again laying their plans to find the neck pole. The inventory of the estate of the late Emery A. Storms shows the assets to be only $2,000.

The late Emery A. Storms was a relative of the late John E. Babcock, of the corps of engineers. "Paradise V. Nash" is fifty-two, and has an income of $10,000 a year.

The King of Bavaria owes him $2,500,000. The name of the newspaper he tried to run is not known.

Dr. Mary Walker would like to vote, but probably thinks it might blight her prospects of securing a husband.

Col. Fred. Grant last week paid the last $100 of his $7,000 for his estate upon his last wish.

Dr. J. L. Linn, in a letter to the editor of the Bee, says that he is a doctor who gives it as his opinion that money was paid for the corpses taken from the poor farm.

At Ashland, Mrs. Brush, an old lady over 70 years of age, was standing on the depot platform when a man running at full speed ran over her.
