

THE OMAHA DAILY BEE COUNCIL BLUFFS. TUESDAY MORNING, NOV. 17.

OFFICE: No. 12 Pearl Street. Published every morning except on Sundays and public holidays. By H. W. THURMAN, Manager.

MINOR MENTION.

Reiter, the tailor, for fall goods. There is to be a dance in Grange hall, Garner township, on Thanksgiving evening.

Permit to work was yesterday given to Lloyd Smith, of Norfolk, and Mrs. Evan L. Turner, of Des Moines, Ia.

The mayor has another reformatory spirit. He commenced at the wrong end. He has started on the people.

Large stumps and water, at a depth of several feet, are greatly bothering the trench diggers on Madison street.

Several teams were started in at work on the sewer ditch yesterday, and the force is to be largely increased soon.

Rooms on the second floor of the city jail are in demand now. The rush at this lodging place is greater than for months past.

Watman & Meyer have made arrangements for muzzing the skating rink and intend leasing it out for balls and entertainments this season.

A horse stolen Sunday night from William Lewis' barn, has been found by Marshal Bates, but the bridle and saddle, valued at $40, are still missing.

The paving of North Second street was completed last evening at 5:30 o'clock. The blocks are being delivered, and Park avenue will also be completed in a few days.

A. S. Benz has nearly completed his new residence in Palmer's grove on Franklin street. It is a six-roomed house and is to have all the modern improvements.

Revival meetings will be begun to-night at the Methodist mission at the corner of Sixth avenue and Sixth street. Services will be held nightly during the week, beginning at 7:30 p. m.

In marching from the jail to the court room with the gang yesterday, a watch, stolen from John Johnson, colored, had a watch stolen from his pocket. It was found later in the day and given back to him.

Some are already being named as probable candidates for city officers at the next spring election. They are probably named thus early because they will have so far to run before they get there.

The funeral of Mrs. C. Perspacher was held yesterday afternoon from the Catholic church and was largely attended. The family desires through the Bee to express their thanks to their many friends for the sympathy and kindness shown in many ways during her illness and at the time of her death and funeral.

Yesterday afternoon O'Leary Mullen had occasion to shoot a dog, which was acting strangely on Broadway. The officer fired three shots before the dog gave up the ghost. One of the balls glanced off the strong jawbone of the dog, missed hitting a gentleman and lady. In shooting in the streets this should be thought of. The paving stones are well calculated for balls to carroll on, and great care should be taken.

The project for organizing a company for the encouragement of manufacturing here, is meeting with considerable favor. It is proposed to have a hundred shares, of $1,000 each, and the company to divide the $100,000 among several factories. It is believed that in this way a quarter of a million of dollars can be secured in manufacturing here, and the local capital would be safely invested. Such a move will help the city greatly. The project should not be allowed to die out.

There is a strong probability of the active business men of the city organizing for the purpose of securing a man who can command respect and exert influence. It is now believed that any great chances opening up in the city improve these opportunities, it must have as its recognized head a man of life, responsibility, and one who knows how to talk business to business men in a business way.

The public has been watching for some time to see what would be the first arrest made by the mayor's pet, Nugent, when he has put on the police force. The event has at last taken place. His first official act is in keeping with the man. A young man from the country drove into the city with two maidens fair, and hitching the horse to a post, the trio went to the hardware. After the shop they took some oysters. Nugent noticing the horse and buggy standing so long on the street arrested the horse for vagrancy. He put the rig in a livery stable, but forgot to make any record of his police headquarters. The young fellow finding his horse gone reported to the police that it had been stolen and a long hunt was made for it. At last some one ventured to speak to Nugent about it, and he remembered where he had placed it. Having made this glorious capture, he will probably rest on his laurels.

Notice to Teachers. In view of the change to be made in the conduct of this office, no certificates will be issued during this year, excepting to those who are to teach this winter.

The Hunt for Foyer.

On reading in the Bee yesterday morning about George P. Foyer, who absconded from Glenora, Ont., about November 7, with $8,000 of Canadian money which belonged to the American express company, of which he was agent, a number of people in this city thought by the description given that they had seen the fellow in this city.

Mr. J. C. Mitchell, the ticket agent at the Wabash and the Missouri Pacific railroads, who has his office in the room with the American express company, on the corner of Broadway and Main streets, says that when he read in the Bee the item about Foyer it reminded him of a man who came into the express office on Saturday last in quest of a package. He says the description tallies with that of the man wanted, only the red beard was clipped as with scissors so that it was unrecognizable and as if it had been growing about a month or so.

Young Jim Bowie, the son of the agent, remembers the man that Mitchell refers to, and he remembers that the package was to be addressed to J. C. Mitchell, at the express office, on Broadway and Main streets.

When asked where the package was to be from the stranger gave an evasive answer and was informed that Canadian money was rather suspicious money to handle just now. Mr. Warner, the American Express company detective, and Col. De Bevoise, of the express company, were notified, and the man was arrested. It was proven, however, to the satisfaction of these gentlemen that the stranger was not the man wanted. He had left the express office and received $250 from his wife. One thing that excited suspicions was that in the letter his wife requests him to "Be sure and all the money before leaving."

Foyer, the absconder, when in Omaha gave the name of James Whiting, and it is thought he is in the company of a woman.

Another stranger appeared at the Citizens' bank yesterday with $95 Canadian money changed. From all that can be gathered it seems a plausible theory that Foyer is not trying to work off the money himself, but that he has succeeded in placing at least a part of it in the hands of others. The unusual amount of Canadian money being cashed here and in Omaha, and the persons cashing it, are certainly not to be regarded as suspicious, if it is in the hands of others. Rounding Them Up. Yesterday was such a field day in the police court as has seldom been known here. The police, the night before, under some fresh burst of enthusiasm, "rounded up" several good sized herds. The disreputable part of Pierce street known as "rotten row" was visited, and about a dozen women, black and white, were gathered in. Frank Adams' house was also pulled, and a large number of colored gentlemen arrested. Then there was a gathering in of several stray ones from off the streets. In all there were about forty cases to dispose of, most of them charged with vagrancy, which covers a variety of sins. Gambling, prostitution, etc., as well as being without visible means of support, constitute vagrancy. With this wide field the number gathered in was after all only a small portion of those liable to conviction.

Among the gentlemen of color were "Campaign," who is a coachman for one of the aristocratic families of the city, but he was discharged; Charles Curtis, a roofing jobber, who is in custody at election time. His case was continued, he having a sick child demanding his attention. Oscar Wild and Alex Jenkins, who work for Mr. Straub, were at once discharged as being hard workers, and not vagrants. Frank Adams, Harry Green and Julius Saviers had their cases continued until Friday, and gave $50 bonds. One of the colored girls, Smith, was fresh from Omaha, and was sentenced to go there at once, and keep away from here. Two of the Johnson family were up, and one was let go, the other was released on his own recognizance to await further investigation. Among the white were Charles Santford, known as "Cute," who remarked that he did not think he had proved very smart to get run in; John Alden, who admitted that he worked for Jim Wilson, in his gambling house, had his case deferred. Lloyd Forgrave also had a continuance. Johnnie Maher got bonds, and was let out. In the crowd was J. W. Knight, who used to be an Omaha policeman, and who is known as "Sandy."

There were eleven women, whose cases were disposed of in various ways. Some were continued, others were discharged, and a few were put on their trial. Not one of them admitted being guilty, and nearly every one claimed to be "working out." Such a large portion of them made this claim that the judge, in bidding the marshal to bring them up, told him modestly to "bring up the hired girls." May Alley was found guilty of being drunk, but her best man paid the fine.

William Jeffries, Charles Allen and John Bell were charged with fighting on the street with fists and bottles. Their cases were put off until this morning.

Andrew Hauk was charged with stealing five dozen bottles of "B. H." from Wheeler & Harrell's place. His case went over to the morning.

Albert Carle and Mike Sedwig were fined for being drunk.

The court room was crowded all day.

THE JUDGE AND OFFICIALS WERE KEPT ON THE STRAIN, AND THE SPECTATORS WERE QUEER.

The judge and officials were kept on the strain, and the spectators were queer. It was a wonder, it may be that he was so ashamed of the representations he has lately made in the Chicago papers that he concluded to have a spur of reform. It is a pity that the mayor's object is to get rid of some of the bores and prostitutes, he will do well.

Change of Time Tables. The change of the time tables of the railroads is not quite as extensive as many believed they would be. The Rock Island, Northwestern, Milwaukee & St. Paul and Q., instead of leaving the transfer about 5:27 p. m., do not now leave until 8:30 p. m. The K. C. arrives at 8:30 p. m. instead of 7:30 p. m., which allows that road to make close connections with the other roads. The Union Pacific through express now leaves at 10:35 a. m. instead of 11:00; the Lincoln passenger at 2:15 p. m. instead of 1:45 and the "Denver" at 7:30. There is some little change in the morning times. They now leave the Broadway depot at 7:45—8:05—8:30—9:05—10:15—11:30 a. m. 1:30—2:30—3:30—4:30—5:35—6:30 and 11:45 p. m.
