

THE DAILY BEE. COUNCIL BLUFFS. MONDAY MORNING, DEC. 7. OFFICE: No. 12 Pearl Street.

CONFIDENT OF A FORTUNE. A Discreet Heir to the Towley Estate, with All the Links Complete. A VERY DISCORDANT TRIO.

Reiter, the tailor, for winter goods. The district court opens here to-day. Big bargains in boots and shoes at Bray's, 106 Main street.

It has been announced in a recent copy of the Liverpool Weekly Post that the British government has decided to pay over to all the legal heirs of the Lawrence Towley estate their proper proportion of the money. The estate amounts to the enormous sum of $200,000.00 in money and 400,000 acres of land, the greater part of which consists of city and village property.

Belle Hatcher. The scene was a very pretty one, and the form of her sailor lover as it appeared to her as she gazed from the window, was well assumed by Harry Atkins in the new play, "The Song of Mrs. A. P. Hanchett."

Front coiffures are worn in fluffy curls, chert and Louis styles. The back hair for daily wear is dressed in a Catalan braid, about two inches below the nape of the neck, looped up, and a figure 8 made of wavy tresses on the crown close to the front curls.

Strongly Suspected.

The police have nabbed a fellow, who gives his name as Tom McGorry, and who is looked upon as a hard case. He was thought to be the fellow who lately robbed Mrs. Tietzer, but that lady fails to identify him. It is also suspected of being the thief who knocked down and robbed an old German a short distance in the country a bit two weeks ago. He has been sent to the county jail on a charge of vagrancy, and efforts are being made to have the evidence accumulated in regard to the robbery of the farmer, before his time of release expires.

Great Closing Out Sale

Of the large stock of dry goods and carpet store of E. Dowling. Having determined to retire from the dry goods business, we will offer our immense stock of carpets, comprising the choicest coloring and the newest makes of W. J. Sioane and E. S. Higgins, and other leading manufacturers. We will offer our immense stock of silks, including a full line of Girmand Bros., in all colors and black, for which we have been the exclusive agents for Council Bluffs and Omaha for the past fifteen years. We will offer our immense stock of velvets, plushes, brocades, dress goods, flannels, linens, towels, napkins, hosiery, notions, broche and imitation Indian shawls, cheap at all manner of outside wraps at prices that will close them out in the quickest possible time. Remember these goods are not bought as the majority of merchants buy goods, but were bought for cash from the leading manufacturers and importers, and only goods suited for the finest city retail trade.

Finest display of meershaun and smokers goods for holiday gifts. T. D. King & Co., Cigars and Tobaccos, 543 Broadway.

Fuller-Merkel Concert.

All music-loving people will hail with delight the coming musical treat on the 11th at Dohany's new opera house. The Merkel sisters are too well and favorably known to need any comment. Miss Fuller has a rare gift of voice, as all who heard her on last Sunday at the Presbyterian church can attest. She is an artist and a most conscientious artist. Let all our citizens show their appreciation of courage, hard work and talent by giving these few sisters of song a crowd of hearers. The admission is only 50 cents, and 75 cents for reserved seats.

Every one buying 25 cents worth of T. D. King & Co., has a chance, free, in the great drawing, December 24.

Ladies and gents get a ticket to the grand drawing on January 1, with every 25 cents worth of goods purchased of Arthur Leick & Co., 23 Broadway. The choicest candies, California fruits, nuts, cigars, etc., always on hand.

Millions in Sight. It has been announced in a recent copy of the Liverpool Weekly Post that the British government has decided to pay over to all the legal heirs of the Lawrence Towley estate their proper proportion of the money.

The estate amounts to the enormous sum of $200,000.00 in money and 400,000 acres of land, the greater part of which consists of city and village property.

The estate was inherited by four brothers of the Chase family, three of whom, William, Aquila and Thomas, came to this country before the revolutionary war.

The direct heirs of these brothers number about 800, which will be an average of a million dollars each.

An effort was made about twelve years ago to obtain possession of the vast estate, but owing to a legal quibble brought up through the false claims of a would-be heir who had no title whatever except what he manufactured from whole cloth, the work of years was overthrown and the case dropped.

Papers at that time made out tracing the lineage of the Chase family are now on file at the public archives at Washington, D. C.

Council Bluffs has one of the direct heirs to this estate in the person of Mrs. H. A. Smith, wife of D. W. Smith, the well known engineer of the City Roller Mills.

The mother of Mrs. Smith is said to have been a direct descendant of the Chase family on both sides, her father being a descendant of Aquila, and her mother of William Chase.

Twelve years ago Dr. Chase, an eastern gentleman, who was also a descendant of the family in question, wrote a letter to Mrs. Underhill, mother of Mrs. Smith, requesting her to send him a record of her genealogy as far back as she had the means of tracing it, as he was going to London for the purpose of investigating the claim, and wished to take said record with him.

Mrs. Underhill consulted with the request and sent a genealogical record of the family, consisting of four or five pages, tracing the ancestry clearly from her mother back to William and from her father back to Aquila Chase.

Mrs. Underhill was a lady of high standing, and having lived here till her seventy-fourth year in the same locality where Wm. Chase had formerly resided.

She had always been particular about collecting records and keeping the same in proper order and as a result was fully able to comply with the request in the letter of Dr. Chase.

Before sending said record the same was carefully copied and is now in the hands of Attorney N. P. Underhill, of Dunlap, Iowa, said gentleman being a brother of Mrs. Smith, who also has another brother, A. M. Underhill, who is at present in Colorado.

Mrs. Smith has sent for a copy of the record and expects to receive it within a few days, and the copy which was sent to Dr. Chase is supposed to be in the public archives at Washington, D. C., along with the other papers that have been turned over from the court of chancery in London, where the case remained in litigation for twenty-six years. It is hoped the arrangements made will be effected, with the result in awarding each of these heirs their proper proportion of the estate.
