General Manager Callaway Details the Union Pacific's Condition.

A REPORT TO THE COMMISSION.

Suggestions Followed in Most Instances—Hotel Men in Legal Trouble—Various Capital News.

[FROM THE BEE'S LINCOLN BUREAU.] The following report was received by the board of railway commissioners from General Manager Callaway of the Union Pacific to-day:

OMAHA, Dec. 5.—C. H. GERR, Esq., Secretary of the Board of Railway Commissioners, has received your favor of December 3. Up to date the following disposition has been made of your recommendations so far as improvements are concerned:

Waterloo—All recommendations granted as necessary and desirable, and plans drawn for same.

Yutan—Name of station changed to Yutan.

Wahoo—New depot, additional side-track, and other improvements planned for.

Weston—Recommendations carried out.

Valparaiso—New depot and extensive changes arranged for.

Holmesville—The change of track crossing approach to bridge has been planned, but as the change involves a change of line for a long distance and heavy work it cannot be undertaken this season.

Beatrice—The company has made a comprehensive plan for general improvement of this station.

David City—Crossing has been put in.

Benton—The name cannot conveniently be changed to "Richland" owing to the fact that there is a station of that name on the Kansas division of this road.

Scottsbluff—A large new depot has been planned.

North Loup—The proposed extension of the road to Ord will relieve this station materially, and render enlargement unnecessary.

Shelton—Crossing and walk recommended have been constructed.

Kearney—Crossing recommended at Burlington avenue has been put in.

Osceola—Side track has been moved so as to give room for a depot, and founds filled, and location given for elevator and coal shed.

Gothenburg—Stock yards are built and extension of the road to Ord will relieve this station materially, and render enlargement unnecessary.

The improvements planned out in the foregoing, and others recommended by you, will be carried out as quickly as the resources of the company will admit.

The operating expenses for the year ending last year show an increase of nearly $500,000, indicating that the company is doing all that it can be reasonably expected to do in improving the physical condition of its property.

In regard to our train service: As recommended by the board, a first class passenger train, running between Lincoln and St. Louis, was put on Nov. 15, 1885. Grand Island and North Loup trains will be changed to run to North Loup at night and return to Grand Island in the morning, as soon as the line is extended to Ord and Loup City in the spring. To do so before would necessitate the building of engine houses at North Loup and Howard, which would be a heavy expense.

The following changes have been made in the tariffs referred to by you:

Risings—On September 22 the rates on cut stone from Holmesville to David City were reduced by making both 75 cents per 100 pounds.

Shelby—The fourth class rate from Omaha to this station has been reduced from $4 to $3.00 per month.

Plate Center—Rates were incorrectly informed as to this company's rates on coal at this point and Fremont. We deliver Rock Springs coal at the same carload rate to Plate Center as to Fremont.

Silver Creek—Grain rates from this station and Osceola have been made the same.

Clark—The rates on stone to this point have been satisfactorily adjusted.

In respect to the charge that our local grain and stock rates to Omaha are equal, and in many instances in excess of the through rates to Chicago, I would state that there is no truth whatever in the charge. Our local rates to the Missouri river are the same as our proportion of the through rates to Chicago.

In regard to the complaint made in western portions of the state that there is a charge the same price there for our Rock Springs coal as is charged further east, we think our position tenable. Taking into consideration the cost of mining the coal, the haul over 400 miles of mountainous road, the cost of switching and hauling, the price of $6.00 in western Nebraska allows little or no margin. Appreciating as we do the importance of settling up and developing the state, by making no additional charge for the distribution of coal hundreds of miles further east, we would rather have the reasonable complaint can be found.

In regard to the general subject of rates in Nebraska this company desires to bring some facts to the notice of your honorable body, which it trusts may be of service in your frequent discussions with the people of this state.

THE COMING IRISH CONVENTION.

The Idea of a Factional Gathering and Irish-American Dissension Rehearsed—A Budget of State Specials.

LINCOLN, Neb., Dec. 7.—[Special to the Bee.]—The attention of Patrick Egan, president of the Irish National League, was called by your correspondent, today, to the fact that the Irish National League, which was announced that Parnell would not attend the National convention in Chicago and intimating that considerable feeling would probably be expressed at that time. In reply to interrogations as to his advice on the matter, Mr. Egan said:

"The statement that Mr. Parnell will not come over is, I am sure, mere conjecture. He has promised to come. I know he wishes to come and I believe he will come. In any case three of the very best men of the party will certainly be sent over."

The statement that the long and arduous journey elected for two constituencies is absurd. The new parliament will meet about the second of February, and whoever comes over will have ample time to get back by that time. With regard to the reported factionism, I have only to say that there are some divisions among the Irish-American people, just as there are in various American party organizations, but, fortunately, they are not of a nature to divide the party into two constituencies.

The question as to whether or not the Irish-American element as a whole will support Parnell is a question which has never before been, and I have every reason to expect that the approaching convention will settle the matter. It is a question which has never before been, and I have every reason to expect that the approaching convention will settle the matter.

Being questioned in regard to the result of the English elections, Mr. Egan replied that he was assured of Parnell's plans. Continuing, he said:

"Even should Mr. Gladstone have a small majority, which means, I believe, a safe, the Irish party, being all workers and men who will stay constantly by the house of commons, could carry his own terms, and I am absolutely certain of it. Consider that the result of the present election practically precludes the termination of English rule in Ireland through the medium of an English parliament."

Geneva Having a Boom. LINCOLN, Neb., Dec. 7.—[Special to the Bee.]—Graders on the railroad line from Fairmount to Geneva commenced work at the Geneva end of the line this morning, and they have been at work on the Fairmount end for several days. Everything in Geneva is booming and our prospects are bright.

Peabody, Scott & Co. started their elevator one week ago to-day, and another buyer commenced work Saturday, so competition is brisk.

Thrown from a Train. NEBRASKA CITY, Neb., Dec. 7.—[Special to the Bee.]—James McAleer, a prominent grain merchant of Omaha, Neb., while trying to get on the eastbound train from Lincoln this afternoon at Patuxia, while in motion, was thrown violently to the ground, striking his face on the track, and sustaining a severe though not serious wound. The train was stopped and the wounded man taken on board and left at his home.

A Horse Tail Bobber. NEBRASKA CITY, Neb., Dec. 7.—[Special to the Bee.]—At Tecumseh, Charles Brown was yesterday bound over to appear at the district court of Johnson county in the sum of $100 to answer to the charge of bobbing the tails of two fine horses, the property of the Rev. Mr. Wood, of that city.

Prize Fires Reported. LINCOLN, Neb., Dec. 7.—[Special to the Bee.]—It is reported here that a destructive fire is now raging in the western part of the state in the vicinity of Logan. No particulars obtainable here at present.

A Failure at Hastings. HASTINGS, Neb., Dec. 7.—[Special to the Bee.]—A. Woolman, boots and shoes, as signed to the sheriff this morning for the arrest of his creditors. Condition of business unknown.

A Brewery Burned. WILMOT, Neb., Dec. 7.—[Special to the Bee.]—The brewery of M. B. Hoken here burned last night, and the entire stock estimated at $20,000. Insurance, unknown.

THE COLUMBUS BEAUTY. Minnie Desher and her Strange Condition—A Physician's View of the Case.

A reporter for the BEE met Dr. Ellwood, of North Bend, in the Paxton round last night, and in the course of a conversation with him gained some interesting points about the Columbus wonder, Minnie Desher. The young lady, the public will doubtless remember, has for more than a month lain in a sort of trance, neither speaking nor moving about. Dr. Ellwood has just arrived from Columbus, and while in that place made a careful examination of the girl's condition.

"Yes," he said, when questioned by the reporter, "I managed to see the young lady, though I had some difficulty in procuring entrance to the house. The doctors have been out on pressing in their attention, and the case is overpowering curiosity, painfully obtrusive. So the old gentleman has concluded to bar out reporters, doctors and the public, and I had a hard visit of it. But my friends of the family are allowed to see the young woman. And I don't blame the old gentleman for being mad. One of the papers, for instance, stated that the house where the Desher family lived was a dirty Dutch hotel, and that the girl had lain in a filthy condition, without a change of clothes, for four weeks. When I met Mr. Desher, and told him what I wanted, he was fumed to be crabbed and savage. The first thing he said to me was, 'Well, I suppose you have come to see the dirty Dutch hotel, eh? I'll pack you into the latter place, if you don't want to take a look at his daughter.'"

"I want to say here that nearly everything that has been written about the case is erroneous. The general impression entertained here is that the girl is decidedly wrong. In the first place the girl is not asleep any more than you are at the present time. It is, in fact, a case of hysteria, and, but most of the time she is in a state of what the family call waking. In this latter condition she breathes regularly and her eyes twinkle nervously all the time. She requires food. She eats as you or I do, but eats as often as every three hours. She sits up and swallows milk homestead and scraped apple, etc., without any difficulty. Once in a while she will refuse a certain variety of food as though it did not please her. When she drops off to sleep, she will snore regularly, and her every attention will be that of a person in the repose of slumber. She lies in a room of the sitting room. When one enters this apartment and sees the young lady lying on the bed in her cot, her first impression is that the house is a circus. This idea is soon dispelled upon closer inspection."

When one enters this apartment and sees the young lady lying on the bed in her cot, her first impression is that the house is a circus. This idea is soon dispelled upon closer inspection."

How do you account for the remarkable conditions of the young woman?

"In my opinion, she is suffering with a case of hysteria, cataplexy—a hysterical fit or catalepsy. These cases are quite common and are generally curable. The patient ought to have careful medical treatment, and in the event that he does the recovery is generally hastened. Generally, however, the affected person comes out all right in time, the period of the trance extending in some cases to many months. Occasionally a violent shock, such as that of a battery, or the application of hot water to different parts of the body, will bring the patient to his senses by suddenly arousing him. Yes, the young woman in question appears to be in a state of absolute insensibility to pain. You can prick the flesh violently with a pin or steel instrument and she will never wince, nor will any movement indicate that she feels the pain."

"You think she will recover in time, do you?"

"Yes, I am confident that she will—that is if her condition is maintained as at present. She appears to be in a perfectly healthy condition. Since the morning she first lapsed into the trance state, forty-three days ago, she has not lost a single pound. Her flesh is not marble-like, as has been stated, nor is it flabby or spongy, but is normally firm and moist. What I expect the girl's pulse was regular and sound at 80, with temperature 98 and respiration 18. The action of the heart is regular, the kidneys are healthy and the bowels move regularly. In fact, as I have already said, I could not discover a single abnormal symptom. These features of the case inspire in me the confidence that the young lady will pull out all right in time. I think when she recovers that her faculties will resume their wonted condition—that she will be as bright and healthy and active as ever. I am, in fact, a doctor, and I have no regular attendant physician. I think that if her father would turn the patient over to some competent practitioner, relief would come much more quickly. It is, Mr. Desher, better to allow any physician to assume control of the case."

For several weeks back a gang of suspicious individuals have been making almost daily visits to the store of C. McDonald, at the corner of 10th and Douglas streets. From the windows of the latter place they have watched the store, and generally visited it when Mr. McDonald was away. Mr. McDonald, a prominent merchant of Omaha, Neb., has been reported in a complete republican vein, the majorities on the state ticket being about 60, and on the county ticket ranging from 50 to 75. This is said to have been the first time for many years that the entire republican county ticket has been elected. This is said to be due to the fact that the majority Frank Hill, of the convention and his wife's great personal influence and his wife's Pilot supported the democratic ticket.

DIRTY, BUSTLING BLAIRITES.

Railroad Connections Improving Their Traffic Accommodations.

An Excellent Water Works System—Projected Packing House—The Political Fight and the Result—A Lady Postmistress.

BLAIR, Neb., Dec. 7.—[To the Editor.]—It has been some time since our last visit to this place. While there has not been a rapid growth, the little city still shows steady advancement and permanent improvement. Business is active considering the fact that farmers are still busy in the corn fields. Crops in this county are reported excellent. Much stock will be fed and fattened here this winter.

The powerful arm of the Chicago & Northwestern railway company is plainly seen and felt here in railroad matters. Instead of one mixed train each way a day, as of yore, there is a constant train of passenger trains, many of which are loaded with cattle from the White River country, and with the immense traffic of the Elkhorn valley, both roads now have first class passenger service.

The city is moving in the right direction in establishing a first-class system of water works. Fairbanks & Co. of St. Louis, are the contractors, and have the work nearly completed. The test will probably be made some day this week. There will be about four and one-half miles of water mains to start with, to which more will be added next year. The supply will be from twenty-four galvanized iron wells driven 100 feet deep. The water is clear as crystal and it is thought that the supply will be inexhaustible. It will be forced to two reservoirs on the top of the south hill, which is about 250 feet above the main portion of the city.

I learn that parties here, of which Mr. H. B. Dexter and a Mr. Wilkinson are the principal movers, are about to establish a packing house of considerable capacity. This is a much needed institution here, and the farms of this county can readily supply the stock.

Among the new institutions here is the Blair Savings bank, recently started, and now in full operation, with a capital of $100,000. Heavy capitalists, both here and abroad, are among the incorporators and stockholders.

There was an adjourned term of the district court held here by Judge Walsely in November, and we heard a citizen remark that it was a term for the relief of suffering humanity, as no less than six divorce cases were tried in one day.

We learn that the recent political contest in this county was, as usual, somewhat spirited and resulted, as has been reported, in a complete republican vein, the majorities on the state ticket being about 60, and on the county ticket ranging from 50 to 75. This is said to have been the first time for many years that the entire republican county ticket has been elected. This is said to be due to the fact that the majority Frank Hill, of the convention and his wife's great personal influence and his wife's Pilot supported the democratic ticket.

The young lady recently appointed postmistress, Miss Clark, has been duly installed and everything about the office looks tidy and comfortable.
