MINOR MENTION.

Reiter, the tailor, for winter goods. L. A. Chapman and wife, of Stanton, Iowa, dined at the Ogden.

Topic at the Methodist church to mor row morning, "Fast Young Men." Only one drunk, and that a plain one without bangs, in police court yesterday. The colored angel in Metealf Bro.'s show window drew a large crowd last

J. M. Ledgerwood, the Chicago gents' farnishing goods man, was in the city yesterday.

C. S. Hungerford, the "Diamond King" of Chicago, was interviewing the trade here yesterday. Permit to wed has been granted Perry Hatcher, of Missouri Valley, and Eliza-beth Peters, of Beebetown, Iowa

Rev. J. Fisk will preach to-morrow at the Home at 3 p. m. The children lead in the singing, and services will be held in the new chapel.

W. H. Knepher, who has a grocery on Broadway, yesterday presented Yard-master Jones of the Northwestern with an elegant meerschaum.

The only trains that leave this city tomorrow for the east are over the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacitic and Chicago, Burington & Quincy railroads. The first annual masquerade ball of the German Ladies' society is to be given in Beno's hall New Year's eye. Mrs. Peter Beck is secretary and Mrs. John Morgan president of the society. Rev. Dr. Cooley preaches to-night the sermon at Atlantic at the installation of the new pastor, the Rev. M. D. Bevan. The Atlantic church will be rededicated to-morrow, the Rev. Dr. Reed preaching. Preaching by the past or of the Baptist church to-morrow morning. In the even-ing there will be union services in the Presbyterian church, the Baptist, Con-gregational and Presbyterian churches

In the district court yesterday the case of Keeline against the city was put on trial. In this case the plaintiff seeks to be relieved from having certain property taxed for city purposes, claiming it re-ceives none of the benefits of city improvements, being located too far out.

On Thursday evening Justice Shurz married Mr. Collamer Smith to Mrs. Clara Reynolds, at the home of the latter, No. 1802 Eighth street. There was a small gathering of friends. There was a merry time, even if the groom and bride have passed the romantic period of life

The stone sidewalks are too smooth for even the feet of the wicked which stand in slippery places. Several lawyers, even, attending court in the Masonic hall, have had bad tumbles there in going and coming. There are other walks of this kind which also require some roughening process.

Why not pass an ordinance compelling property owners to have their sidewalks cleaned off inside of twenty-four hours after a snow? Eastern cities have such ordinances, and by Council Bluffs' council making one a number of men could get employment who are now compelled to be idle when snow is on the ground.

The Y. M. C. A. propose to make the ing, a real treat to all attending. The concert is No. 1, and deserves a crowded house. It is expected to give universal It is expected to give universal tion, and the association agrees to refund the price of admission to any person who attends and at the close of the evening reports himself as dissatisfied. They mean business, and propose to work upon business principles. One of the novel uses of the telephone occurred at Capt. Russell's office last evening. P. D. Kelley, of North Platte, negotiated a sale of 160 acres of land to a stranger across the river, the barto a stranger across the river, the bargain being started and completed, except the signing of the papers, all over the telephone, without either of the parties ever having seen each other. It cost Kelley 52.60 for the use of the telephone for the time required. He doesn't begradge the amount, however, row he made well on the sale, and gained a decidedly new experience.

cidedly new experience. John Davison, a tailor, who came here from the east a few weeks ago, died at the home of William Brix yesterday morning, about 1 o'clock, under peculiar circumstances. About a week ago Davi-son, who was boarding at the Creston house, fell down stairs, having been drinking a little freely. In the fall he injured his head, but it was not thought to be a serious hart at the time. He has been acting a little strangely ever since, and on Thursday became rather wild. He was taken to the county jail, under the supposition that he was insane, and had better be sent to the asylum, but investigation showed that the man was very ifl, causing delirium. He was then taken from the mil and placed in care of Mr. Brix. He died a few hours after being taken there. It is thought that death was caused by the bursting of a blood vessel.

Some time ago several gamblers, against whom indictments were found by against whom indictments were found by the grand jury, took a change of venue to Carroli county. They there pleaded guilty, and were fined. This county has been trying to get Carroll county to pay back the money thus collected into the treasury of this county. Carroll county refused, taking a different view of the law. The question has been carried into court, and being decided against this county, an appeal was taken to the supreme court, which has just decided. preme court, which has just decided, affirming the decision of the lower court. Carroll county thus collects and keeps the fines for offenses committed in this county. The gamblers will be pleased at this, for they feel that if the grand jury does not let them alone, it will do the tay payers here, no good, finescalls. jury does not let them alone, it will do the taxpayers here no good, financially, to indiet them. If indieted, they will take changes, and pay their fines to another county, rather than let this county have the satisfaction of getting the money. They think now it will be little inducement for taxpayers to bother them. The amount involved in the Carroll county case is about $600. roll county case is about $600.

DANGERS IN COUPLING CARS.

A Street Carving-Tribute Paid to the Unknown -Personal and Pithy Pointers Gleaned in A Merry Club.

One of the leading social organizations this season is known as the Married Ladies' Progressive Euclire club. Many of the leading ladies and gentlemen are members, and the gatherings have been unusually interesting. The club was organized by Mrs. A. M. Jackson, Mrs. G. C. Camp and Mrs. F. M. Gault. The membership is now quite a large one, among those enrolled being: Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Camp, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Gault, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Rice, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Cory, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Bushnell, Dr. and Mrs. Macrae, Mrs. McDowell, Mr. Frank Lawrence, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Henry VanBrunt, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Conover, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Crockwell, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hancock, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Everett, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. James, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Loomis, Mr. and Mrs. J. Y. Fuller, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Lefferts, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Clark, Mr. and Mr. George Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Elwell, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Sapp, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Dangers of Coupling. The accident at the transfer by, which young Kulins lost his life, has revived much discussion concerning the modes of coupling cars, and the dangers attending the work. The state board of railroad commissioners have sent to the governor a report of two accidents, giving the deta is of each, and urging that some action may be taken at the coming session of the legislature. Coo of the accidents is that by which Mr. Hoover, yaramaster at Sloux City, was instantly killed. After giving the details the board communications.

comments thus:
"The obvious lessons from this sad accident "The obvious lessons from this sad accident are, first, as long as the style of coupling now in use, which compels men to go in between cars at all, is allowed, every precaution should be taken to keep all crossings, culverts and plankings in switch yards in safe order. The elevation of the ends of these planks at the sidewalk, some three inches above the ground, or the level of the ties, made this a danger-case also and doubtless the cause of this or the level of the ties, made this a dangerous place, and doubtless the cause of this man's death. The ends of these planks should in all cases be graded up with earth or something so there would be no offset against which a man could catch hi feet. When the dead mau was found he was lying near an extremely dangerous place for a man to be, especially in the dark, coupling cars. There were places where a man's foot would go down through the opening and render him very liable to stumble and be caught by moving cars. This place, however, is now safely planked over.

The next lesson taught is the absolute necessity of some better way of coupling and cessity of some better way of coupling and uncoupling cars, than going between them. The frequency of these fatal accidents is too great. If railroad companies will not of their own motion put on safety couplers, the legislature must compel them to do so,"

The other accident was one which occurred at Fort Dodge, by which P. F. Jackson lost a hand. After giving the details the board says.

Here again a young man must go through life with one hand as a penalty for some-body's fault more than his. There must be a national law requiring all cars to be made to a certain standard and form and then ritted up with safety couplers. If one kind of car is good enough for one company it is good enough for another of the same gauge and doing precisely the same kind of work. At any rate the difference cannot be enough to cause the great risk now necessary to the life and limbs of so many men.

The case of young Kuhns, and the use

The case of young Kuhns, and the use of coupling sticks, shold also be looked into by the railway commissioners, and a report made on that. The move to force the railway companies to make less dangerous provisions for coupling cars will be looked on by the railway employes with great favor.

An Evening of Song. The concert given last evening at the opera house was a very choice one. The Misses Merkel sustained their well carned reputation, and those who never before knew why these sisters are such favorites here found out last evening. Both have sweet voices, and their voices blend so nicely that in duets it is difficult to distinguish the least shading bordering on a lack of harmony. Miss Futter, who took a prominent part in the entertainment, showed herself to 5 really grand. She has a very strong voice and one of great sweetness, with wide range. She shows culture, and her wide range. She shows culture, and her voice seems to be at her control in every respect and at all times. Inspired with such ambition as is landable to an lowa girl, she does not propose to rest content with the laurels already won, but is making ready to further her culture by studies in Europe. She evidently has the making of a grand artist. Those who had the pleasure of hearing her last evening will watch her future career with renewed interest. The other features of the programme were excellent. As all here know, Mr. Treynor is a tenor of more than ordinary voice and culture. His singing is always listened to with pleasure. Mr. France of Omaha was a great addition to the entertainment, he baying a bass voice of great power which he handles well. He called forth honest applause, and merited the many words of praise heard among the auditors. Miss Julia Officer served as accompanist. She showed excellent.

"Dead and Unknown." On reading an article in the BEE of th 7th, with the above heading, one of Council Bluffs, gifted ladies has penned the following:

Out in the cold bleak night alone To freeze, to die, With none to hear the last faint cry; No triend, or kin, To answer why this thing hath been, Father, mother, Where are they? Sister, brother, Hath none of these Heard his mourning on the breeze?
Heard no sad call?
His friends—was he bereft of all?

No child, no wife, To breathe a prayer to God for life? Unknown and dead, Out in the night with reason fled, To die alone. To die, by all the town unknown, And find at last And find at last

Δ pauper grave, to hide the past;
With none to care; None to shed a sorrowing tear;

Ah! What dark tale

Might this sad sieeper not unveil?
Sorrow, and sin,
Misfortune, it perchance hath been,
That man should die,
Alone out under the freezing sky— And died unknown And died unknown,
To quit this world at night alone.
Bo angels keep,
Sweet viglis while such wand'rers sleep?
Do Christians pray,
While such sad lives doth ebb away?
One prayer this night
I breathe; May thou in Heaven's light,
Forgiven, blest,
Be crowned with Jesus Christ at rest.

Vail had its weekly sensation in the form of a stabbing affray on the street the details of which are thus given by the Observer:

A "ittle stabbing affray took place on our streets Monday evening between Jack Cough in and a man by the name of Johnson, which, as we understand, came about in this way: Early in the evening Coughlin and Johnson engaged in a row, arising from an old feud, and several blows were passed, wherein Johnson rather got the worst of it, until the combatants were separated by specta-tors. Johnson disappeared and it was supposed he had gone home, and that the racket was ended, but such was a mistake, as a short time afterwards John-son met and attacked Coughlin with a knife, and proceeded to carve his victim up in the latest style. Coughlin parried the blows the best he could until they were again separated by by-standers, but not until he had received several ugly gashes on the face and arms. The doc-tor was summoned and the wounds were dressed, which were found not dangerous, and with proper care they will soon heal. Johnson made his escape and up to the time of our going to press no ar rests have been made.

Usually settles in the back or limbs, and often so completely overpowers its victims that all business or labor has to be abandoned. Our readers should remember that Hood's Sarsaparilla is not recommended as a positive specific for rhou-matism; its proprietors doubt if there is, or can be, such a remedy. But many people who were most severely afflicted, state that they have been positively cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. The disease is often the result of impure blood, —hence the power of this great medicine over it. Its success in many severe cases justifies us in recommending its use to all
