A Howl From Utah.

A recent editorial in the Bee regarding the exposure of immoral practices in Utah outside of the Mormon camp has thrown the Salt Lake Tribune into violent spasms.

According to that paper the Bee has become another subsidized sheet in the interest of polygamy. This is an awful indictment, but we must grin and bear it heroically.

Fortunately for the Tribune cranks polygamy has not been entirely wiped out, and Mormons still persist in their defiance of the laws.

The friends of the Tribune against the Bee will hardly be justified in the light of the notorious position that we always have taken in support of the imperial and rigid enforcement of the law against polygamy.

It may be fortunate for the people of Dakota that such a man as Butler, of Hamburg massacre notoriety, leads the opposition to their admission to the Union.

The Lincoln Journal displayed a good deal of enterprise in issuing a sixteen-page paper yesterday morning.

At its last meeting the Omaha board of trade, acting upon the request of the national board of trade to designate a congressman from Nebraska who would represent the mercantile interests in the movement to pass a national bankrupt law.

A reporter for the New York Telegraph interviewed Jay Gould the other day in regard to his views on the postal telegraph proposition.

The Iowa congressional delegation has not been active since this session opened. Senators Wilson and Allison have taken a very active part in the proceedings and introduced important bills.

With the beginning of the New Year the county commissioners should turn over a new leaf with regard to their proceedings. Their regular meetings should be held at a fixed time each week, and no special meetings should be held without notice being published.

The prohibitionists have coined a new word—log-jumping. The prohibitionists' national organ, the Voice, gives the following definition: A newswriter is a man who leaves one party for another without having been convinced that the second party is right, or without any intention of remaining in it.

At the telegraph, telephone and electric light wires in the business center of Chicago will be put under ground within a year. It is about time that Omaha should take steps to follow suit.

St. Louis is in luck for once. She has recovered $75,000 which St. Louis county loaned to the Missouri Pacific for the election of the site for a handsome Christmas present.

Some grumblers in Council Bluffs are inclined to find fault with Mayor Vaughan for taking all of that appropriation for the three delegates to the recent mayors' convention.

The indications, according to the latest cablegrams, are that Gladstone intends to crown his political career by carrying through, if possible, a scheme that will be satisfactory to Parnell.

A Nevada edition of the Standard and Appeal reports that the Barber trial is not a success. The barber tried to tilt him to run the paper, and he was accordingly pulverized.

The Nebraska railway commission, Nebraska State Board, the late republican legislature had but one object in passing the act that brought it into existence.

The Council Bluffs Globe avers that only Mayor Vaughan, of that city, actually attended the convention, the other three delegates remaining at home.

The Nebraska railway commission has at last secured a decided victory against the Nebraska Pacific railroad company.
