COUNCIL BLUFFS.

ADDITIONAL CITY NEWS.

THE KNIGHTS OF THE GRIP.

Where Council Bluffs Commercial Men Spent their Christmas.

A REPRESENTATIVE CROWD.

Where and With Whom a Number of Representative People of Both Sexes Masticated the Festive Gobbler—A Joyous Holiday.

The majority of the commercial men, who either make this city their home, or who travel for Council Bluffs business, were in the city yesterday partaking of Christmas turkey with either their parents, wives, sisters, or some other fellow-lodgers.

They were probably more traveling men in the city yesterday than there have been in many a day, not even excluding the days on which Vaughan's commercial men's gathering was held, and the turkeys' constant "Baw" will leave for some export to account for.

The following are the names of some of them, and the business they represent while on the road:

George T. Phelps, a representative of J. C. Hoffmann & Co.

W. Rougion, of the firm of C. A. Beebe & Co., the furniture house.

E. W. Dayton, representative of the Crystal Mill and Grain company.

M. F. Sayre, J. T. Hamilton, C. C. Trovel, J. G. Stenness, S. D. Wadsworth, E. J. Poretsky, and A. Marsh, representatives of Deere, Wells & Co.

C. E. Reed, B. F. Lankton, Z. S. Herick, R. Stuart, H. W. Patterson, of the Keystone manufacturing company.

George T. Phelps, general agent Peru Pacific, excelsior, rubber, chemicals and blood tonic, in reality of other goods, the use of mercury or other.

A. B. Enderton, of the Eagle manufacturing company.

J. M. Sprague, George C. Johnson, C. L. McDonald and W. T. Shiland, of the Sandwell manufacturing company.

W. B. Judd, H. C. Cook, A. J. Conlee, Fred M. Loomis, A. H. Southworth and S. W. Knapp, of the firm of Bradley & Co.

W. S. Cass and W. H. Taylor, of the Marcellus manufacturing company.

D. J. Clark and U. W. Gregg, of the Russell manufacturing company.

J. J. Vandever and O. D. Fitch, who represent Van Brunt, Thompson & Co. on the road.

Charles D. Harmon, general agent of the Husker drill company, Dr. A. J. Parsons, general agent of the St. Paul harvester, and J. Maloney of the same house.

O. P. McKee and A. McMillan, general agents for Nebraska and Iowa respectively, of J. C. Brown & Co., of the Minnesota Chief threshing; J. C. Prescott, general agent Plano harvester company; Harry Hinworth, general agent, and Richard A. Hayward, of the Hayward check roller; and with headquarters with Van Brunt, Thompson & Co.

George Rudlo, who travels for Lanz Brothers; Buffalo, N. Y., starch and soap house, and two other city houses.

F. H. Orrent, of the Council Bluffs export company.

Thomas Northrop and W. H. Beall, of Mayer & Craig.

N. J. Swanson and B. V. Kidd, of the Swanson music company.

H. Coffman, L. T. Whitehead and E. Marrow, representatives of Shugart, White & White.

H. C. Adair, general agent Perkins' wind mill; Frank Lawrence, of the Olds wagon; Major H. C. Barnes, general agent of J. C. Case, of the same house.

McGargar and L. A. Devine, representing Buckeye mowers; John S. Gretzer, general agent Grand Four plows; C. S. Fisher, general agent of the Hayward manufacturing company; J. A. Crowley, general agent E. K. Hayes' plows, etc., all making their headquarters with Shugart, White & White's implement house.

Frank L. Yenick, who lives here and travels for a Chicago house in which he has an interest.

William Keeline, E. C. Drake and W. Ed Blain, the heavy men who represent Messrs. Keeline & Felt's wholly new hardware.

William Patterson, William Turner, V. Hunter and R. S. Chalmers, who push business for the Empka Hardware company.

A. L. Knapp, M. C. Knapp and P. A. Gerberich, of the Mueller Music company.

L. C. Dunn, H. B. Watson and O. D. Haigh, missionaries of Perogy & Moore.

Frank Daniels was the only representative of M. E. Smith & Co. in town, the others all dining at the hotel.

George P. Moore and Alex. Malmrose, who travel for Metcalf Bros.

E. E. Harvey and N. W. Miller, who help to drum the trade for Z. T. Lindsay & Co.

Ira Hendricks, Henry Eiseman & Co.'s representative.

W. C. Pomfret and J. L. Clark, who handle drugs, etc., for Messrs. Harke, Haas & Co.

C. R. Frank and J. C. Cole, of Cole Bros. Lightning Rod and Pump house.

H. R. Stewart, G. E. Tammara, and R. S. Richardson, of the Motting Cracker company.

Messrs. Schneider & Deck, of the house of that name.

George Harkley and Peter Anwarda, representing the liquor house of John Linder.

C. B. Judd and S. T. Smith, of the Electric Light house of Judd & Smith.

E. G. Braund, of Schindler & Nestor's liquor house in Omaha.

Henry Douglas, of the Nonantum Wares company of Boston.

J. M. Riney, O. E. Deane, E. C. Gleason, George Reider and W. T. Davis, all locally representative of Groneweg & Schenck's wholesale grocery house.

John E. Woodward, who travels for Kingstons' Oswego starch, and makes his home in this city.

A. L. Dille and H. A. Gleason, of Writ & Duggins.

Harry Walbridge, E. Durr and Nate Cornell, of L. Kirsch & Co.'s grocery house.

J. J. Stork, J. J. Jones, R. J. McBride, J. B. Freckling and M. D. Fezler, of Stewart Bros., wholesale grocery.

Otto Vogeler, of Beckman & Co., the harness house.

G. B. Wise, who has his headquarters here, and travels for Raymond & Campbell, bridge builders, in all probability travels more miles than any man in this city. He averages about 100 miles per day, and goes all over the west.

George Sieker, who now represents Clark Bros., of Omaha, on the road, spent yesterday here.

A number of traveling men at their Christmas turkey out of town.

Capt. W. R. McCullough, of Keeline & Felt, died at Springfield, Mo., where his family are spending the holidays.

H. W. Young, of the Russell Manufacturing company, picked turkey bones at his home in Sioux City.

All the men connected with the Boston Tea company dined on the road.

John Beall, of M. E. Smith & Co., dined at Afton, while N. W. Rayley was in Walnut; George Tracey in Omaha, and John T. Hinesley in Ashland, Neb.

E. S. Tuttle, of Keeline & Felt, spent Christmas under the parental roof in Burlington.

J. M. Adams, of E. E. Adams & Co., "chawed" turkey in Minnesota.

W. E. Brock, one of the finest commercial men on the road, and who does missionary work for Perogy & Moore, dined at Des Moines at the home of his sister.

RELIGIOUS.

There are 3,092 Jesuits engaged in missionary work.

The First Congregational church building at South A. St. is 30 years old.

Spiritualists have become so numerous at Atlantic that they propose to build a temple.

James H. H. of Colorado, recently subscribed $50,000 to the Methodist university of Denver.

Of the 50,000,000 of people in the United States in 1880, 10,000,000 were communicants in the evangelical churches—more than one-fifth of the entire population.

The Congregational church at Wallingford, Conn., during a continuous existence of more than two hundred years, has had but five pastors. An average service of forty years and more is usual.

"Day-Preacher" Harrison's five weeks' engagement at Milwaukee proved a failure. The collections barely paid him for the current expenses, and the four hundred converts will have to pay his bill for $500 for services, and $300 for board.

Dr. Charles H. Sorenson is but 51 years old, and his health is now nearly gone, and he is a broken-down old man, when only 12 years ago he was the pastor of a small Baptist chapel at Waterbury in Cambridge, had been a well-known character in the city of New York, and had become one of the sensations of the city.
