Quietly Wedded.

A great surprise was yesterday given the friends and acquaintances of Miss Kittie Ingolsby, one of the late employes in the telephone central office, and Ed. Sherlock, a partner of Henry Wagner in the saloon business. This big surprise was the announcement of the very quiet marriage of these two on Monday evening, and their departure on the train yes-terday morning on their bridal tour to St. Paul. One or two of the young men in business in this city claim that Kitty, as she was familiarly called through the phone, quietly gave them the tip over the wire on Monday morning. The Public Library.

The trustees of the Free Public Library of the city of Council Bluffs have prepared their annual report to the city council. The board consists of Horner Everett, presidente iz C. Bloomer, secretary: A. W. Street, N. D. Lawrence, W. R. Vaughan, J. D. Edmundson, J. P. Casally, P. B. McMemomy, J. R. Reed. The terms of office of Mr. Lawrence and Mr. Edmundson expire at the first meeting of the city council in 1886.

The receipts of the year from the litertax and incidentals amount $2,817.03, and with the each on hand at the beginning of the year makes the total, $3,180.92. The expenditures were $2,637,27, leaving a balance and net of $543.65. There has been paid for new books, $751; for salary of librarian, $600; for rent, $249; hights, $122; and many books bave been rebound, money expended for magazines and for insurance, incidental ex-penses, etc., all shown in detail by the

The report closes as follows: Our library has been designated, on request of Hon. Joseph Lyman, as the depository of government documents for this congressional district. Our list of both national and state documents is very large, and comprises over 2,000 volumes We have also a very large collection of newspapers and pamphiets bearing on the early history of the city and county. Among others a complete set of the bound volumes of the Council Bluffs Bugle, both daily and weekly, have been added during the year. There has been a most gratifying increase in all depart-ments of the library during the year. The visitors to it have averaged over 100 daily and the number of books taken from its shelves have reached nearly eighty per

As heretofore noted, a large proportion of these books are taken and read by pupils in our public schools, and they also gather in goodly numbers around the tables in our reading room, busily intent on storing their minds with useful and interesting information. Much care is taken in purchasing books and periodicals, to seclect those especial

y fitted for our youthful readers. All persons residing in the city over 12 years of age, can, on being properly vouched for, take books from the library and hold them for a period of two weeks. Not a single book has been lost during the past year, a fact which speaks loudly in favor of our system, and the watchful care and vigilance of our excellent li brarian. The reading room is open to the free admission of all, whether residents of the city or strangers.

The library and reading room are open from 2 to 9 o'clock on each day except Sundays, and the latter is open on Sun-days from 2 to 6 o'clock in the afternoon. A proposition is now pending to open the doors at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, and continuously on every day, except Sunday, until the present hour of closing. It will add about $200 a year to the expense. The trustees would be glad to receive from the city council, and our citizens, an expression of their wishes on this presents.

Although our present library room answers our present purposes very well, yet the time is not distant when more commodious quar-ters will be required. The increasng attendance in our reading room and to the reference books in cases especially devoted to them, will render an enlargement an imperative necessity.

The establishment of free public libraries is designed to cultivate a love of reading, and thereby aid in the diffusion of knowledge through the community, and also to carry forward in the minds of the young the work of education com-menced in the public schools. We be-lieve all these objects are largely pro-moted by the establishment and practical workings of the noble institution placed in our charge by the city council. It is supported by the small tax of three-fourths of a mill upon each dollar of the assessed valuation of the city. We trust and believe that it will be continued and cheerfully paid, to the end that the city of Council Bluffs, the first of the cities of the state to establish and maintain a free school library within its limits, may become as noted for its institutions for the education of the young and for the fullest intellectual and moral culture among all classes of its population as it is now for its pre-eminent physicial and business capacities.

Gallagher-Paschel Wedding. The marriage of Lieutenant Hugh J. Gallagher to Miss Amelia G. Paschel took place yesterday morning at St. Francis Xavier church, Rev. Father McMenomy officiating, assisted by Rev. Father Healey. The altars were beautifully adorned and brilliantly lighted, while the auditorium was crowded to the utmost with interested friends. The bride was attired in veil. The groom appeared in full military uniform. Miss Mary Paschel, sister of the bride, attended her. She was dressed in cream colored satin. The groom was attended by Lieutenant Fred L. Palmer, of Company E. Twenty-first eream colored satin, and wore the white L. Palmer, of Company E. Twenty-first United States infantry. He was also in military dress. These young men were room mates during their four years at Western, were unable to attend on account of illness. His brother, P. J. Gallagher, was in the party, as were also the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Paschel, and her sisters.

Mrs. D. J. O'Neill gave Membelssohn's walking wareh on the organ, and in the wedding much on the organ, and in the song portion of the service was assisted by Meses Katic and Nettie Gerner, After the ceremony at the church, a reception was given at the residence of the bride's parents on Willow avence. The gathering was a large and brilliant one. The refreshments were bountiful and temptingly served, and all the arrange; ments were so generously planned and happily carried out as to make the affair highly enjoyable to all.

Pinching Ritchie.

Jerry Ritchie, who has had quite a sensational career here, is in more trouble. The charge of having been "knocking down" in Bushnell's store, where he was employed, was quietly dropped, although at the time of the disclosure it created a great sensation. The amount taken by him during a course of years was sup-posed to amount to several thousand dol-lars. Mr. Bushnell, who had treated him more as a son than an employe, did not prosecute the case criminally, and Ritch-ie's folks made good about $2,000 of the deficit.

The matter has rested there. In the meantime young Ritchie's pentent promises to reform have been frequently broken. Lately he was concerned in a saloon row in Sioux City, and was put in sation row in Stoux City, and was put in-jail there. Yesterday he returned to this city. Mr. T. F. C. Johnson, one of the grand jury now in session, went before Justice Schurz and filed an information charging Ritchie with the larceny of $1,000 from Bushnell. Young Ritchie had purchased a ticket for California. and had gone over to Omaha by the time the warrant was out. The justice tele phoned to Omaha, and Ritchie was ar-

Chief of Police Skinner and City Marshal Guanella went over to Omaha after Ritchie and returned last evening on the 6:30 o'clock dummy with him under arrest. He was placed in the city jail, where he remained last night. He will be brought to the front this morning to face the music. It was understood that he was on Monday night brought from Sioux City in charge of two officers. Cy Dan-forth signed his bond for $500 at the request of Jim Wilson, a local sport. Funeral of Hughes. Yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock a hearse, drawn by two white horses, and two two-seated sleighs drew up in front of the Union Avenue hotel for the purpose of conveying the remains of James Hughes to their last resting place. The same mysterious air prevails at the hotel as has ever since the morning of the shooting.

In the hotel office there were seven of eight men, some of whom were entire strangers to the BEE man, who was on hand, and from indications and outward appearances it is very probable several of them were friends of the gang of confi-dence men of which the deceased and the 'major" were members. W. C. Estep, of the unc W. C. Estep, of the undertaking firm of Field & Estep, pinned pallbearer badges onto four men indicated by George Gerspacher, and the remains, which were lying in a neat imitation rosewood coffin in the parlor, which is located next to the the parior, which is located next to the room in which Major Williams shot. Hughes, was then lifted into the hearse. The pall bearers were: Johnny Allen. Teddy Hakes, Dan Baldwin and Bob McMullen. In addition Mike Glynn and George Gerspacher followed the remains to St. Francis Naviar aboved.

Rev. R. J. Healy performed the simple burial service which lasted about tifteen minutes. There were in all nine persons, including a BEE representative and the undertaker, who attended the services. The remains were interred in the Catholic cemetery.

With the close of this week Col. J. H. Keatley will vacate the editorial chair of the Evening Globe. He has occupied this position for a long time and wielded one of the sharpest democratic pens in the state. His connection with that paper has caused the Globe to take quite a position and wield much influence as a democratic organ and as a newspape despite its limited facilities for news. I wilf be a great loss to that paper.

The losses in 1885 were $30,000. The chief complains of the lack of a sufficient number of paid men. The called men cannot be so well depended on, especially in the winter. He recommends the ap-pointment of three more paid men, deeming the expense no greater than to keep more called men and the service more satisfactory.

C. K. of A. Officers. Last night at the regular meeting of branch No 234, C. K. of A., the following officers were installed: Spiritual director, Rev. R. I. The County Board.

At yesterday's session of the supervi-sors Col. J. H. Keatley was re-elected county attorney, and the salary slightly increased, it being fixed at $660 instead of $600. The board checked over the school fund, finding it all right, and then busied themselves with various routine business. The board will be in session all the week.
