Mrs. Berringer, the old lady mentioned yesterday as destitute and freezing, has been taken care of by the authorities, who will have her placed in an asylum at Davenport.

The Main street line of cars started yesterday as far as the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy depot. The Broadway line also runs, not only as far as the Broadway depot of the Union Pacific, while a large sleigh makes hourly trips to the transfer depot.

The pleasant weather, which caused the thermometer to rise to 24 above zero yesterday, brought out on the streets many people who have been huddled for the past week. A large number enjoyed sleigh rides and last evening quite a number of sleigh parties were out.

The "Jumbo" derrick was raised yesterday at the new government building. It is sixty-five feet high, and is capable of swinging a ten-ton stone. The hauling of brick has finally begun, and the much looked for start on the superstructure will soon take place.

C. H. Sherraden yesterday received from his uncle in Florida a box of fine oranges. In the lot were some extra large ones, so large in fact that it was difficult to make some believe that they were not melons or squashes.

George Gerspacher was arrested last evening on an indictment found against him by the grand jury, charging him with being implicated in the killing of Hughes. He seems to have got into this trouble by endeavoring to shield the man for, who is under arrest as a principal in the affair.

Sam Morrison, the driver of the hook and ladder company, appeared before the city council last evening and denied the charges made against him. He demanded a thorough investigation. The matter was referred to the fire committee, which will meet at 3 o'clock this afternoon to listen to the evidence.

Coffman's Case.

The case of Mr. Arch Coffman, who shot and killed a man named Main at Avoca, has not reached an end, although the grand jury failed to find a bill against him. Judge Looftorow has granted the request of the district attorney to have the case resubmitted to the next grand jury, and the present bond will continue to give security for Mr. Coffman's appearance. It is claimed by him, and believed by many others, that the shooting was in self defense, but the public generally would feel better satisfied to have the case tried and decided upon the evidence.

A Fireman in Trouble.

Sam Morrison, one of the oldest firemen in the city and who has done long and faithful service, was yesterday laid off by the fire committee and Neil Voor his put in his place as the driver of the hook and ladder truck. The cause of the change is reported as quite sensational, and the charges made are of too serious a nature to be readily believed by Morrison's many friends. It is said that a woman living near the engine house was informed by her little daughters that Morrison had insulted her. Morrison returned from exercising his horse he found the woman waiting for him at the engine house, armed with a black snake whip, which she proceeded to use against him. Finding an investigation into the causes leading to the sensational scene, Morrison was laid off duty.
