

SPOILED HIS SILVER SPEECH.

Weaver Squelched in an Effort to Spout on the Subject.

THE ADJUTANT GENERALSHIP.

Nebraska and Iowa Postmasters Commissioned—The National Guard Appropriation—The Virginia Coupon Cases—Notes.

The Irrepressible Repeated.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—[Special Telegram.]—General Weaver of Iowa has been very nervous during the past few days in delivering his silver speech. He has made a number of efforts to obtain the floor, but was each time cut off. To-day was a private bill day and Weaver created considerable merriment by attempting to get off his silver speech while a trivial personal measure was under consideration.

THE ADJUTANT GENERALSHIP.

It is said that President Cleveland and the secretary of war have decided that there is a vacancy in the office of adjutant general of the army, and will nominate a man for that rank very soon. General Swain, it will be remembered, was by the court martial suspended from duty until the date when he must be re-elected on account of his conduct since that junior officer has been acting as judge advocate general. Swain has prepared a petition to the president asking that his sentence be set aside or commuted, and it is a question whether the president will increase the pardoning power in this instance or decide that Swain is already out of the act and appoint his successor.

WESTERN POSTMASTERS COMMISSIONED.

The following Nebraska postmasters were commissioned to-day: Edward T. Best at Neligh; Forrest L. Whedon at York; Alvin S. Marsh at Red Cloud; James Murray at Fremont; Charadara Clark at Blair; John F. Brendel at Union; James A. Carlock at Table Rock; Flore Troutman at Danby; Chas. W. Snyder at Cedar Creek; and Joseph H. Marsh at Belvidere.

GOOD NEWS FOR CATHOLICS.

The senate has just passed the bill increasing the annual appropriation to supply the militia with arms and ammunition from $200,000 to $500,000, as requested by the annual convention of the National Guard which met here the first of December. General Slocum has been here to give it a push, and to honor to the senate through the senate text which will cause great gratification among the national guardsmen throughout the country. The money is to be apportioned throughout the states as now.

PERSONAL AND OTHERWISE.

Isaac Power of Norfolk (Neb.) is at the Elkhart.

THE VIRGINIA COUPON DECISION.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—[Special.]—The decision of the United States supreme court in the so-called coupon case from Virginia, is the most important move that has been made upon the political checker-board since the election of last fall. Just what the result will be in the Old Dominion, it is extremely difficult to foretell at present, but the situation there is becoming very interesting from a political standpoint. Said a gentleman from Richmond, last evening: "It is impossible to see where we stand politically. There was not a democrat in the whole state who was not convinced that the decision of the court would be in our favor. Instead of that the court is unanimous in overruling every attempt that has been made to provide for the debt which has been saddled upon us from the past. In the last ten days fortunes have been made in the state in a small way by men who had not the democratic faith in the course of the court. Coupons were sold last week at 40 cents on the dollar, and even lower. To-day they are receiving for all sorts of taxes, and the state is dependent upon these receipts for its current expenses. You can imagine that the prospect is not a very bright one any way we can look at it."

HANGMAN'S DAY.

A Blaspheinous Murderer Swung Off at Leadville. DENVER, Feb. 5.—Munch, one of the three men who murdered Samuel Baldwin near Leadville, October 18, 1870, was hung at Leadville this afternoon. Up to yesterday evening Munch executed Governor Eaton to commute his sentence to life imprisonment. He was very indifferent, driving the clergyman out of his cell with violent blasphemy. This morning when he was to be hanged, he called loudly for a preacher, and earnestly prayed the Almighty's forgiveness. He ascended the scaffold at 10 with a dignified mien, a smile on his face, and was launched into eternity denying his guilt to the last minute of his life.

The Bessemer Steel Works.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 5.—An explosion occurred this morning at the Bessemer steel works of Carnegie, Phillips & Co., at Homestead. It is reported that fifteen men were killed.

The Chess Players.

St. Louis, Feb. 5.—The chess match was resumed at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The attendance was about the same as on Wednesday. A telegram has been received from the works stating that it must have originated from an explosion which occurred Wednesday. The works have been closed now, but are expected to resume to-morrow. The difficulties with the strikers have been settled.

Weather for To-Day.

Missouri weather for to-day: Partly cloudy, with a light breeze from the west, and a few snowflakes.

MONEY SPENT FOR NOTHING.

Vast Sums Paid for Surveying Work That Was Never Performed.

ENORMOUS NEBRASKA FRAUDS.

Evidence Accumulating of Government Perpetrated on the Government—Other Men's Pockets Hold the Ill Gotten Gains.

Surveying Frauds in Nebraska.

CHICAGO, Feb. 5.—[Special Telegram.]—The Times Washington special says: Although the government has spent large sums of money for surveys in Nebraska, evidence is rapidly accumulating that much of the work paid for was never done. Deputy surveyors who get contracts under an exterior township lines—at least they run part of them—and in many cases they never made a pretense of running the interior lines, for which they were also paid. It is not likely that they were allowed to make large sums of money by cheating the government in this way without being obliged to divide with some other people.

NEBRASKA NUGGETS.

A Mad Dog Scare Upheaves the City of Wahoo.

WAHOO, Neb., Feb. 5.—[Special Telegram.]—Wahoo has the hydrophobia. About ten days since a dog, which some supposed was killed, bit a child. The child was killed, and it was known to have bitten a pig, and is supposed to have bitten also a calf and another dog. The pig died two days ago, and about the same time the calf manifested unmistakable symptoms of rabies. It was closely watched by the owner, Rev. Dodder, and when he was fully persuaded that the dog had been killed, it was shot. The dog that was bitten was running at large, foaming and frothing at the mouth, biting every dog that it met. It is believed to have bitten not less than fifty other dogs, and is positively known to have bitten at least a dozen. The vicious brute was dispatched by T. W. Riddle with a shot gun about 4 p. m. yesterday. His dog, which was one of the unfortunate, he had chained up awaiting the time when the dog shall exhibit symptoms of rabies or pass the dangerous period. There is a possibility of a large number of candidates for Pasteur.

Trying to Beat His Creditors.

BLOOMINGTON, Neb., Feb. 5.—[Special Telegram.]—Creditors yesterday attached the stock of general merchandise of J. L. Cook. Cook has been selling at cost for some time with an evident desire to get closed out. A few days ago he tried to convey a large amount of stock into the name of Tom Kinley's name, but was stopped, and this apparently caused the balance of his creditors to come in. He owes nearly all the houses he has ever dealt with, his indebtedness being placed by some at over $100,000, with assets not to exceed $20,000.

Helping the Railroad Road.

WAHOO, Neb., Feb. 5.—[Special.]—At a meeting of the village trustees held last night an ordinance was passed vacating Maple street from Ninth to Fifteenth streets, and the same to be returned to Elkhorn & Missouri Valley railway company. Other ordinance was passed calling a special election to be held March 2, 1886, to determine whether the village should further aid said railway company by voting it bonds to the extent of $50,000.

Hotel Changed Hands.

KEARNEY, Neb., Feb. 4.—[Special Telegram.]—The Grand Central hotel at this place has changed hands. A gentleman named Lemah from Colorado, a practical hotelier, has bought it, and will at once make needed improvements.

Place for the Packing House to Fill.

NEIGH, Neb., Feb. 5.—[Special.]—News was brought here last night of a queer case that occurred at this place in Wheeler county. The postmaster left several months ago, leaving a merchant named Manker in charge by default. Manker sold out last week and left. There is no one there authorized to handle the mail, but F. Randall, editor of the Gazette, is doing so, though numerous citizens have protested against it.

Decided "Sloter" House Victory.

NEBRASKA CITY, Neb., Feb. 5.—[Special Telegram.]—Although no official dispatches have been received, it is learned on good authority that a decided victory was secured by the Sloter house in the election for postmaster. Mr. Morton is proprietor of the Nebraska City News, and all the democrats here, except the nineteen other candidates for the same position, say he is the man who is most entitled to the place. This is a decided Morton victory. Our city this evening is teeming well pleased over the news.

Into the Great Beyond.

NEBRASKA CITY, Neb., Feb. 5.—[Special Telegram.]—The late Mr. McMechan, aged 79 years, died this morning at 5 o'clock. The deceased was one of the first settlers of this county, and mother-in-law of Hon. S. H. Calhoun, one of the leading members of the bar of this city, and mother of Lieutenant A. C. McMechan, United States army. The funeral will take place Monday at 2 p. m.

A Firebug's Work.

HAY SPRINGS, Neb., Feb. 5.—A fire early yesterday morning destroyed Milford's land office, Halley & Sullivan's saloon and Smith's livery stable, causing a loss of $50,000 with only $1,000 insurance. The fire started in the saloon and is supposed to be the work of an incendiary.

Accidental Death.

HUMPHREYS, Neb., Feb. 5.—A farmer named Eugene Blaisdell, living near town, was crushed to death by falling tree which he was cutting down, Wednesday. He leaves a wife and three children.

The Anti-Chinese Movement.

SAN JOSE, Cal., Feb. 5.—The first anti-Chinese state convention convened here today. One hundred delegates representing the anti-Chinese leagues and trade organizations were present. A permanent organization was effected. The general sentiment among the delegates strongly opposed threats of violence. Boycotting was favored as the quickest method of accomplishing the desired ends, and a resolution in accordance with these views was adopted. A resolution was also adopted demanding of congress the abrogation of the Burlingame treaty.

Destructive Fire.

GREENVILLE, S. C., Feb. 5.—At midnight a fire destroyed the stores and stocks of four firms, valued at $80,000; insurance $40,000.

The Failure Record.

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—The total number of failures during the last week were 287.

SETTLING SCREENING ABUSES.

Iowa Coal Diggers Often Mine Merchantable Coal Without Pay.

NOVEL BILL TO AVOID THE EVIL.

The Democrats Positively Committed to Anti-Temperance Education—Legislative Proceedings and Other Iowa Specials.

The General Assembly.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Feb. 5.—[Special Telegram.]—The principal topic of discussion in the legislature so far has been the coal screen question. The present lack of law has permitted grave abuses to arise in the screening of coal, miners in many instances being required to mine merchantable coal for which they receive no pay, owing to the large meshed screens that are used. Several bills to remedy the evil have been introduced but the latest and most novel bill was introduced to-day by Senator Young of Atlantic. The bill allows mine owners to screen their coal in their own way, but prohibits their hanging of screens. The miners, under the proposed law, are to be paid for the lump coal which they take out, and are to have divided among them 40 per cent of the gross receipts from the sale of pea coal, nut coal and slack, the amount to be apportioned among the miners on the first of each month the other 60 per cent of the receipts from that source to go to the mine operators. The senate has taken up the bill to divide the interest in the small coal or waste, and will remove the temptation to widening screens, and will not encourage the increase of small coal, which would be the case, he holds, by a law requiring the coal to be weighed before screening. The design of the bill is to divide the interest of the mine owner and mine operator in such a way that the interest of one will incidentally afford protection to the other in regard to the small coal or waste which occasions all the disputes.

Among the Railroads.

A War in Rates Between St. Paul and Chicago.

CHICAGO, Feb. 5.—The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road announced that to-morrow it will cut the passenger rate to St. Paul to $7, in order to meet the rates alleged to have been made by the Rock Island road. This apparently involves a stubborn war, in which the latter road constantly has the Rock Island & St. Paul roads, with the Chicago and Northwestern aiding the latter.

Construction Ordered.

ST. PAUL, Feb. 5.—Winnipeg special to the Pioneer Press: Cable orders were received from England to-day to build the new railway from Winnipeg lake to Fort Churchill.

Increasing the Army.

BELGRADE, Feb. 5.—The government has ordered all merchants and manufacturers under the age of 40 years to join active army service.

CONNUBIALITIES.

The ten-year-old Emperor of China is clamorous for a wife.

George H. Hewes and wife, of Fulton town, and daughter of the late Pennsylvania, recently celebrated their golden wedding.

Entire Family Burned to Death.

MCGREGOR, Iowa, Feb. 5.—[Special Telegram.]—Early this morning the house of Albert Cooley, two miles south of this city, caught fire and burned with the entire family, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Cooley and three children. The fire started from an ash barrel in the kitchen, and was not discovered until the family had retired for the night. Mr. Cooley threw a trunk from an upper window and is supposed to have returned cut off. The whole family were burned to death when found.

Dosed Themselves to Death.

MARSHALLTOWN, Iowa, Feb. 5.—[Special Telegram.]—Late this afternoon the house of Joseph Cavanaugh was broken into, and Cavanaugh was found dead in bed. Beside him lay a friend named Buckley, breathing feebly, who died in a few moments. Both men were laid Monday evening. They then entered the house, locked themselves in, and took chloroform.

A Defaulter Captured.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Feb. 5.—[Special Telegram.]—J. J. Stuckey, who left town as a defaulter several months ago, was captured in Montana by a private detective of the Hawkeye Insurance company, whom it is alleged he robbed, and brought to this city to-day. He was formerly secretary of the Prisoners of War association, and stood very high in various secret society organizations.

CHEAPER TRANSPORTATION.

THE VALUE OF THE ERIC CANAL IN MOVING WESTERN GRAIN. BUFFALO, Feb. 5.—The Commercial has an interview with Horatio Seymour, Jr., for ten years state engineer of New York. He shows that by deepening the Erie canal, raising the banks a foot and lengthening the locks, the cost of transportation can be reduced from one-third to one-half. He said: Cheap transportation is an absolute necessity to the west. India and Australia today produce more wheat than this country does, and they are becoming formidable rivals in the markets of western Europe. The problem here is to get wheat to the market cheap enough. The development of the northwest is going forward with enormous strides. If we can sell our wheat, this country will have eight hundred millions of bushels annually to move in ten years. What will you do with this vast volume of traffic? The canal, if deepened, will be a great help. The people of the west want the canal enlarged and improved, and if it is not done we must turn our property into the Welland canal and down the St. Lawrence.

THREE KILLED.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Feb. 5.—This morning a passenger train collided at Williamsville (Mo.) with the fast St. Louis passenger train. Three persons were killed, and many others injured. The train was from Memphis, and its fireman, name unknown, were instantly killed. Engineer Walker, of the St. Louis train, jumped, and was badly injured. He is from Aurora (Ill.). His fireman, name unknown, was caught between the engine and tender and crushed to death.

Fear of an Indian Uprising.

ST. PAUL, Feb. 5.—Ada (Minn.) special to the Pioneer Press: The Indians on Red Lake reservation are very uneasy. The fact has just been disclosed that for some time past they have been gathering up all the arms, ammunition and horses in the country. It is feared they have been incited by emissaries from the British northwest.

Powers Advise Caution.

ATHENS, Feb. 5.—The powers have sent a third note to the Greek government advising caution.

THE EASTERN BLIZZARD.

Extreme Cold Continues Throughout New York.

New York, Feb. 5.—The thermometer this morning stands 6 below zero. The present cold snap is by far the coldest of the season, and the suffering among the poor is very great. Trains on the elevated roads are delayed very much. Owing to the snow it is almost impossible for horse cars to start headway. Twenty persons who walked across Brooklyn bridge yesterday had some part of their bodies frozen. Charitable persons bought large numbers of tickets for rides on the Brooklyn bridge cars and had the police give them to poorly clad persons who attempted to walk across. Four steamers arrived at this port yesterday, but no sailing vessels reported. The steamers were evidently covered with ice, and their captains report having passed an extremely cold night off the coast. Large quantities of ice drifted about the harbor yesterday. The dispatch from Fort Lincoln reported the mouth of the sound full of ice, and no water could be seen from that point. Several steamers arrived here yesterday owing to the storm. Some of these vessels sailed from the other end Wednesday night.

A Gallant Soldier's Butchery.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Senator Romero, Mexican minister at Washington, has received from the government of the state of Chihuahua (Mexico), an official report of the unfortunate encounter which the Mexican forces had with United States troops commanded by Captain Crawford at the mountains at Bavis, Chihuahua, on the 11th ult. It is stated in the report that the Mexican force, commanded by Major Maurice Corredor, arrived on that day at a place called Tiopario, in Sierra de Bavis, where they knew that the Apache Indians who had revolted under the leadership of Geronimo were. The Mexicans first on the United States troops in the belief that they were hostile. In the fight which ensued, Major Corredor, First lieutenant Hernandez, and a Cruz, Privates Martiana Madrid and Luz Estrada were killed and four other soldiers wounded. The United States troops, commanded by Captain Crawford at the mountains at Bavis, Chihuahua, on the 11th ult. It is stated in the report that the Mexican force, commanded by Major Maurice Corredor, arrived on that day at a place called Tiopario, in Sierra de Bavis, where they knew that the Apache Indians who had revolted under the leadership of Geronimo were. The Mexicans first on the United States troops in the belief that they were hostile. In the fight which ensued, Major Corredor, First lieutenant Hernandez, and a Cruz, Privates Martiana Madrid and Luz Estrada were killed and four other soldiers wounded. The United States troops, commanded by Captain Crawford at the mountains at Bavis, Chihuahua, on the 11th ult. It is stated in the report that the Mexican force, commanded by Major Maurice Corredor, arrived on that day at a place called Tiopario, in Sierra de Bavis, where they knew that the Apache Indians who had revolted under the leadership of Geronimo were. The Mexicans first on the United States troops in the belief that they were hostile. In the fight which ensued, Major Corredor, First lieutenant Hernandez, and a Cruz, Privates Martiana Madrid and Luz Estrada were killed and four other soldiers wounded. The United States troops, commanded by Captain Crawford at the mountains at Bavis, Chihuahua, on the 11th ult. It is stated in the report that the Mexican force, commanded by Major Maurice Corredor, arrived on that day at a place called Tiopario, in Sierra de Bavis, where they knew that the Apache Indians who had revolted under the leadership of Geronimo were. The Mexicans first on the United States troops in the belief that they were hostile. In the fight which ensued, Major Corredor, First lieutenant Hernandez, and a Cruz, Privates Martiana Madrid and Luz Estrada were killed and four other soldiers wounded. The United States troops, commanded by Captain Crawford at the mountains at Bavis, Chihuahua, on the 11th ult. It is stated in the report that the Mexican force, commanded by Major Maurice Corredor, arrived on that day at a place called Tiopario, in Sierra de Bavis, where they knew that the Apache Indians who had revolted under the leadership of Geronimo were. The Mexicans first on the United States troops in the belief that they were hostile. In the fight which ensued, Major Corredor, First lieutenant Hernandez, and a Cruz, Privates Martiana Madrid and Luz Estrada were killed and four other soldiers wounded. The United States troops, commanded by Captain Crawford at the mountains at Bavis, Chihuahua, on the 11th ult. It is stated in the report that the Mexican force, commanded by Major Maurice Corredor, arrived on that day at a place called Tiopario, in Sierra de Bavis, where they knew that the Apache Indians who had revolted under the leadership of Geronimo were. The Mexicans first on the United States troops in the belief that they were hostile. In the fight which ensued, Major Corredor, First lieutenant Hernandez, and a Cruz, Privates Martiana Madrid and Luz Estrada were killed and four other soldiers wounded. The United States troops, commanded by Captain Crawford at the mountains at Bavis, Chihuahua, on the 11th ult. It is stated in the report that the Mexican force, commanded by Major Maurice Corredor, arrived on that day at a place called Tiopario, in Sierra de Bavis, where they knew that the Apache Indians who had revolted under the leadership of Geronimo were. The Mexicans first on the United States troops in the belief that they were hostile. In the fight which ensued, Major Corredor, First lieutenant Hernandez, and a Cruz, Privates Martiana Madrid and Luz Estrada were killed and four other soldiers wounded. The United States troops, commanded by Captain Crawford at the mountains at Bavis, Chihuahua, on the 11th ult. It is stated in the report that the Mexican force, commanded by Major Maurice Corredor, arrived on that day at a place called Tiopario, in Sierra de Bavis, where they knew that the Apache Indians who had revolted under the leadership of Geronimo were. The Mexicans first on the United States troops in the belief that they were hostile. In the fight which ensued, Major Corredor, First lieutenant Hernandez, and a Cruz, Privates Martiana Madrid and Luz Estrada were killed and four other soldiers wounded. The United States troops, commanded by Captain Crawford at the mountains at Bavis, Chihuahua, on the 11th ult. It is stated in the report that the Mexican force, commanded by Major Maurice Corredor, arrived on that day at a place called Tiopario, in Sierra de Bavis, where they knew that the Apache Indians who had revolted under the leadership of Geronimo were. The Mexicans first on the United States troops in the belief that they were hostile. In the fight which ensued, Major Corredor, First lieutenant Hernandez, and a Cruz, Privates Martiana Madrid and Luz Estrada were killed and four other soldiers wounded. The United States troops, commanded by Captain Crawford at the mountains at Bavis, Chihuahua, on the 11th ult. It is stated in the report that the Mexican force, commanded by Major Maurice Corredor, arrived on that day at a place called Tiopario, in Sierra de Bavis, where they knew that the Apache Indians who had revolted under the leadership of Geronimo were. The Mexicans first on the United States troops in the belief that they were hostile. In the fight which ensued, Major Corredor, First lieutenant Hernandez, and a Cruz, Privates Martiana Madrid and Luz Estrada were killed and four other soldiers wounded. The United States troops, commanded by Captain Crawford at the mountains at Bavis, Chihuahua, on the 11th ult. It is stated in the report that the Mexican force, commanded by Major Maurice Corredor, arrived on that day at a place called Tiopario, in Sierra de Bavis, where they knew that the Apache Indians who had revolted under the leadership of Geronimo were. The Mexicans first on the United States troops in the belief that they were hostile. In the fight which ensued, Major Corredor, First lieutenant Hernandez, and a Cruz, Privates Martiana Madrid and Luz Estrada were killed and four other soldiers wounded. The United States troops, commanded by Captain Crawford at the mountains at Bavis, Chihuahua, on the 11th ult. It is stated in the report that the Mexican force, commanded by Major Maurice Corredor, arrived on that day at a place called Tiopario, in Sierra de Bavis, where they knew that the Apache Indians who had revolted under the leadership of Geronimo were. The Mexicans first on the United States troops in the belief that they were hostile. In the fight which ensued, Major Corredor, First lieutenant Hernandez, and a Cruz, Privates Martiana Madrid and Luz Estrada were killed and four other soldiers wounded. The United States troops, commanded by Captain Crawford at the mountains at Bavis, Chihuahua, on the 11th ult. It is stated in the report that the Mexican force, commanded by Major Maurice Corredor, arrived on that day at a place called Tiopario, in Sierra de Bavis, where they knew that the Apache Indians who had revolted under the leadership of Geronimo were. The Mexicans first on the United States troops in the belief that they were hostile. In the fight which ensued, Major Corredor, First lieutenant Hernandez, and a Cruz, Privates Martiana Madrid and Luz Estrada were killed and four other soldiers wounded. The United States troops, commanded by Captain Crawford at the mountains at Bavis, Chihuahua, on the 11th ult. It is stated in the report that the Mexican force, commanded by Major Maurice Corredor, arrived on that day at a place called Tiopario, in Sierra de Bavis, where they knew that the Apache Indians who had revolted under the leadership of Geronimo were. The Mexicans first on the United States troops in the belief that they were hostile. In the fight which ensued, Major Corredor, First lieutenant Hernandez, and a Cruz, Privates Martiana Madrid and Luz Estrada were killed and four other soldiers wounded. The United States troops, commanded by Captain Crawford at the mountains at Bavis, Chihuahua, on the 11th ult. It is stated in the report that the Mexican force, commanded by Major Maurice Corredor, arrived on that day at a place called Tiopario, in Sierra de Bavis, where they knew that the Apache Indians who had revolted under the leadership of Geronimo were. The Mexicans first on the United States troops in the belief that they were hostile. In the fight which ensued, Major Corredor, First lieutenant Hernandez, and a Cruz, Privates Martiana Madrid and Luz Estrada were killed and four other soldiers wounded. The United States troops, commanded by Captain Crawford at the mountains at Bavis, Chihuahua, on the 11th ult. It is stated in the report that the Mexican force, commanded by Major Maurice Corredor, arrived on that day at a place called Tiopario, in Sierra de Bavis, where they knew that the Apache Indians who had revolted under the leadership of Geronimo were. The Mexicans first on the United States troops in the belief that they were hostile. In the fight which ensued, Major Corredor, First lieutenant Hernandez, and a Cruz, Privates Martiana Madrid and Luz Estrada were killed and four other soldiers wounded. The United States troops, commanded by Captain Crawford at the mountains at Bavis, Chihuahua, on the 11th ult. It is stated in the report that the Mexican force, commanded by Major Maurice Corredor, arrived on that day at a place called Tiopario, in Sierra de Bavis, where they knew that the Apache Indians who had revolted under the leadership of Geronimo were. The Mexicans first on the United States troops in the belief that they were hostile. In the fight which ensued, Major Corredor, First lieutenant Hernandez, and a Cruz, Privates Martiana Madrid and Luz Estrada were killed and four other soldiers wounded. The United States troops, commanded by Captain Crawford at the mountains at Bavis, Chihuahua, on the 11th ult. It is stated in the report that the Mexican force, commanded by Major Maurice Corredor, arrived on that day at a place called Tiopario, in Sierra de Bavis, where they knew that the Apache Indians who had revolted under the leadership of Geronimo were. The Mexicans first on the United States troops in the belief that they were hostile. In the fight which ensued, Major Corredor, First lieutenant Hernandez, and a Cruz, Privates Martiana Madrid and Luz Estrada were killed and four other soldiers wounded. The United States troops, commanded by Captain Crawford at the mountains at Bavis, Chihuahua, on the 11th ult. It is stated in the report that the Mexican force, commanded by Major Maurice Corredor, arrived on that day at a place called Tiopario, in Sierra de Bavis, where they knew that the Apache Indians who had revolted under the leadership of Geronimo were. The Mexicans first on the United States troops in the belief that they were hostile. In the fight which ensued, Major Corredor, First lieutenant Hernandez, and a Cruz, Privates Martiana Madrid and Luz Estrada were killed and four other soldiers wounded. The United States troops, commanded by Captain Crawford at the mountains at Bavis, Chihuahua, on the 11th ult. It is stated in the report that the Mexican force, commanded by Major Maurice Corredor, arrived on that day at a place called Tiopario, in Sierra de Bavis, where they knew that the Apache Indians who had revolted under the leadership of Geronimo were. The Mexicans first on the United States troops in the belief that they were hostile. In the fight which ensued, Major Corredor, First lieutenant Hernandez, and a Cruz, Privates Martiana Madrid and Luz Estrada were killed and four other soldiers wounded. The United States troops, commanded by Captain Crawford at the mountains at Bavis, Chihuahua, on the 11th ult. It is stated in the report that the Mexican force, commanded by Major Maurice Corredor, arrived on that day at a place called Tiopario, in Sierra de Bavis, where they knew that the Apache Indians who had revolted under the leadership of Geronimo were. The Mexicans first on the United States troops in the belief that they were hostile. In the fight which ensued, Major Corredor, First lieutenant Hernandez, and a Cruz, Privates Martiana Madrid and Luz Estrada were killed and four other soldiers wounded. The United States troops, commanded by Captain Crawford at the mountains at Bavis, Chihuahua, on the 11th ult. It is stated in the report that the Mexican force, commanded by Major Maurice Corredor, arrived on that day at a place called Tiopario, in Sierra de Bavis, where they knew that the Apache Indians who had revolted under the leadership of Geronimo were. The Mexicans first on the United States troops in the belief that they were hostile. In the fight which ensued, Major Corredor, First lieutenant Hernandez, and a Cruz, Privates Martiana Madrid and Luz Estrada were killed and four other soldiers wounded. The United States troops, commanded by Captain Crawford at the mountains at Bavis, Chihuahua, on the 11th ult. It is stated in the report that the Mexican force, commanded by Major Maurice Corredor, arrived on that day at a place called Tiopario, in Sierra de Bavis, where they knew that the Apache Indians who had revolted under the leadership of Geronimo were. The Mexicans first on the United States troops in the belief that they were hostile. In the fight which ensued, Major Corredor, First lieutenant Hernandez, and a Cruz, Privates Martiana Madrid and Luz Estrada were killed and four other soldiers wounded. The United States troops, commanded by Captain Crawford at the mountains at Bavis, Chihuahua, on the 11th ult. It is stated in the report that the Mexican force, commanded by Major Maurice Corredor, arrived on that day at a place called Tiopario, in Sierra de Bavis, where they knew that the Apache Indians who had revolted under the leadership of Geronimo were. The Mexicans first on the United States troops in the belief that they were hostile. In the fight which ensued, Major Corredor, First lieutenant Hernandez, and a Cruz, Privates Martiana Madrid and Luz Estrada were killed and four other soldiers wounded. The United States troops, commanded by Captain Crawford at the mountains at Bavis, Chihuahua, on the 11th ult. It is stated in the report that the Mexican force, commanded by Major Maurice Corredor, arrived on that day at a place called Tiopario, in Sierra de Bavis, where they knew that the Apache Indians who had revolted under the leadership of Geronimo were. The Mexicans first on the United States troops in the belief that they were hostile. In the fight which ensued, Major Corredor, First lieutenant Hernandez, and a Cruz, Privates Martiana Madrid and Luz Estrada were killed and four other soldiers wounded. The United States troops, commanded by Captain Crawford at the mountains at Bavis, Chihuahua, on the 11th ult. It is stated in the report that the Mexican force, commanded by Major Maurice Corredor, arrived on that day at a place called Tiopario, in Sierra de Bavis, where they knew that the Apache Indians who had revolted under the leadership of Geronimo were. The Mexicans first on the United States troops in the belief that they were hostile. In the fight which ensued, Major Corredor, First lieutenant Hernandez, and a Cruz, Privates Martiana Madrid and Luz Estrada were killed and four other soldiers wounded. The United States troops, commanded by Captain Crawford at the mountains at Bavis, Chihuahua, on the 11th ult. It is stated in the report that the Mexican force, commanded by Major Maurice Corredor, arrived on that day at a place called Tiopario, in Sierra de Bavis, where they knew that the Apache Indians who had revolted under the leadership of Geronimo were. The Mexicans first on the United States troops in the belief that they were hostile. In the fight which ensued, Major Corredor, First lieutenant Hernandez, and a Cruz, Privates Martiana Madrid and Luz Estrada were killed and four other soldiers wounded. The United States troops, commanded by Captain Crawford at the mountains at Bavis, Chihuahua, on the 11th ult. It is stated in the report that the Mexican force, commanded by Major Maurice Corredor, arrived on that day at a place called Tiopario, in Sierra de Bavis, where they knew that the Apache Indians who had revolted under the leadership of Geronimo were. The Mexicans first on the United States troops in the belief that they were hostile. In the fight which ensued, Major Corredor, First lieutenant Hernandez, and a Cruz, Privates Martiana Madrid and Luz Estrada were killed and four other soldiers wounded. The United States troops, commanded by Captain Crawford at the mountains at Bavis, Chihuahua, on the 11th ult. It is stated in the report that the Mexican force, commanded by Major Maurice Corredor, arrived on that day at a place called Tiopario, in Sierra de Bavis, where they knew that the Apache Indians who had revolted under the leadership of Geronimo were. The Mexicans first on the United States troops in the belief that they were hostile. In the fight which ensued, Major Corredor, First lieutenant Hernandez, and a Cruz, Privates Martiana Madrid and Luz Estrada were killed and four other soldiers wounded. The United States troops, commanded by Captain Crawford at the mountains at Bavis, Chihuahua, on the 11th ult. It is stated in the report that the Mexican force, commanded by Major Maurice Corredor, arrived on that day at a place called Tiopario, in Sierra de Bavis, where they knew that the Apache Indians who had revolted under the leadership of Geronimo were. The Mexicans first on the United States troops in the belief that they were hostile. In the fight which ensued, Major Corredor, First lieutenant Hernandez, and a Cruz, Privates Martiana Madrid and Luz Estrada were killed and four other soldiers wounded. The United States troops, commanded by Captain Crawford at the mountains at Bavis, Chihuahua, on the 11th ult. It is stated in the report that the Mexican force, commanded by Major Maurice Corredor, arrived on that day at a place called Tiopario, in Sierra de Bavis, where they knew that the Apache Indians who had revolted under the leadership of Geronimo were. The Mexicans first on the United States troops in the belief that they were hostile. In the fight which ensued, Major Corredor, First lieutenant Hernandez, and a Cruz, Privates Martiana Madrid and Luz Estrada were killed and four other soldiers wounded. The United States troops, commanded by Captain Crawford at the mountains at Bavis, Chihuahua, on the 11th ult. It is stated in the report that the Mexican force, commanded by Major Maurice Corredor, arrived on that day at a place called Tiopario, in Sierra de Bavis, where they knew that the Apache Indians who had revolted under the leadership of Geronimo were. The Mexicans first on the United States troops in the belief that they were hostile. In the fight which ensued, Major Corredor, First lieutenant Hernandez, and a Cruz, Privates Martiana Madrid and Luz Estrada were killed and four other soldiers wounded. The United States troops, commanded by Captain Crawford at the mountains at Bavis, Chihuahua, on the 11th ult. It is stated in the report that the Mexican force, commanded by Major Maurice Corredor, arrived on that day at a place called Tiopario, in Sierra de Bavis, where they knew that the Apache Indians who had revolted under the leadership of Geronimo were. The Mexicans first on the United States troops in the belief that they were hostile. In the fight which ensued, Major Corredor, First lieutenant Hernandez, and a Cruz, Privates Martiana Madrid and Luz Estrada were killed and four other soldiers wounded. The United States troops, commanded by Captain Crawford at the mountains at Bavis, Chihuahua, on the 11th ult. It is stated in the report that the Mexican force, commanded by Major Maurice Corredor, arrived on that day at a place called Tiopario, in Sierra de Bavis, where they knew that the Apache Indians who had revolted under the leadership of Geronimo were. The Mexicans first on the United States troops in the belief that they were hostile. In the fight which ensued, Major Corredor, First lieutenant Hernandez, and a Cruz, Privates Martiana Madrid and Luz Estrada were killed and four other soldiers wounded. The United States troops, commanded by Captain Crawford at the mountains at Bavis, Chihuahua, on the 11th ult. It is stated in the report that the Mexican force, commanded by Major Maurice Corredor, arrived on that day at a place called Tiopario, in Sierra de Bavis, where they knew that the Apache Indians who had revolted under the leadership of Geronimo were. The Mexicans first on the United States troops in the belief that they were hostile. In the fight which ensued, Major Corredor, First lieutenant Hernandez, and a Cruz, Privates Martiana Madrid and Luz Estrada were killed and four other soldiers wounded. The United States troops, commanded by Captain Crawford at the mountains at Bavis, Chihuahua, on the 11th ult. It is stated in the report that the Mexican force, commanded by Major Maurice Corredor, arrived on that day at a place called Tiopario, in Sierra de Bavis, where they knew that the Apache Indians who had revolted under the leadership of Geronimo were. The Mexicans first on the United States troops in the belief that they were hostile. In the fight which ensued, Major Corredor, First lieutenant Hernandez, and a Cruz, Privates Martiana Madrid and Luz Estrada were killed and four other soldiers wounded. The United States troops, commanded by Captain Crawford at the mountains at Bavis, Chihuahua, on the 11th ult. It is stated in the report that the Mexican force, commanded by Major Maurice Corredor, arrived on that day at a place called Tiopario, in Sierra de Bavis, where they knew that the Apache Indians who had revolted under the leadership of Geronimo were. The Mexicans first on the United States troops in the belief that they were hostile. In the fight which ensued, Major Corredor, First lieutenant Hernandez, and a Cruz, Privates Martiana Madrid and Luz Estrada were killed and four other soldiers wounded. The United States troops, commanded by Captain Crawford at the mountains at Bavis, Chihuahua, on the 11th ult. It is stated in the report that the Mexican force, commanded by Major Maurice Corredor, arrived on that day at a place called Tiopario, in Sierra de Bavis, where they knew that the Apache Indians who had revolted under the leadership of Geronimo were. The Mexicans first on the United States troops in the belief that they were hostile. In the fight which ensued,