Pants to order, from $5 up, at Reiter's. The Imperial club has another of its enjoyable parties this evening.

A 5-year-old child of Theodore Brown, A 5-year-old child of Theodore Brown, president of the First National back of Griswold, got hold of some carbolic acid last Sunday, drinking some of it. The little one died from the effects and was buried yesterday.

Three vagrants and two drunks fornished business for the police court yes-terday. One of the drunks claimed that he went to the police station to keep from being arrested, and the police locked him up. He was fined just the same, nothing being thrown off for his thus saving the officers the trouble of hunting him up.

H. C. Addis, who was formerly general agent for the Perkins windmill, has sev-ered his connection with that mill, and after having taken a like position with the Eureka windmill, has sold the west-ern territory to Slugart, Waite & Weis, who now handle the Eureka. Mr. Addis has made arrangements by which he will travel for the firm and look particularly after the windmill business.

 Joseph Knight, who was arrested Tues-day night on the charge of insulting a little girl named Hanson, was discharged yesterday, no witness appearing against him. He has lived here for two or three years, and has been employed as coach-man for different parties. He denies that he said anything out of the way to the girl, and the dismissal of the case corrob-orates this statement.

Although the coasting carnival has necessarily been postponed, it has not been wholly abandoned, and the committee do not live as those without hope. Word has been received from surrounding towns and cities, that arrangements are being made to send big delegations here, and the committee have every assurance that such a carnival would be a great success. As soon as the weather proves favorable the announcement will be made of the time and place.

The funeral of the late L. W. Weirich was held yesterday afternoon and was largely attended, there being a goodly number of veterans among the friends. He was laid at rest beside his two brothers, both of whom, like himself, two brothers, both of whom, like himself, gave themselves to their country in its time of need. One, Sam, belonged to the Second Iowa infantry, Chris to the Fourth Iowa, and the one now placed beside them was a member of the First Colorado cavalry. Three brothers, taking all the sons in the family, now fill soldiers graves.

Deputy United States Marshal Dority Deputy United States Marshal Dority brought to this city Tuesday night Otis and Pearl Groom, brother and sister, who live at Creston. They are charged with tampering with the mails. It is claimed that a brother living in Missouri Valley wrote a letter to his wife at Creston, with whom he is not living on account of some domestic trouble. This letter was taken from the postoffice, read and destroyed. The accused gave bonds for their appearance at the next term of court and returned home.

MISSOURI VALLEY, Iowa, Feb. 9.-O Monday evening occurred the tenth an nual masquerade ball given by the Socia Hour club at the town hall. The attend ance was quite large, both by masker and spectators. The music was furnished by the Northwestern band. The cos tumes were furnished by a lady from Council Bluffs. They were very handsome, and several extra fine. It was the event of the season and a grand successs Quite a number were present from Council Bluffs and Omaha.

At the present time all the saloons are a war among themselves. Whether they will be permanently closed or not is a conundrum, and it will probably not be solved until after our spring election, which occurs in March.

Tribute to Hancock.

On the announcement of the death of General W. S. Hancock in the house at Des Moines, Colonel Keatley of this city moved an adjournment as follows:

Mr. Speaker:—As one who served in the Army of the Potomac, and who served under Major General Hancock, I realize with the profoundest personal grief the fact of the sudden death of that gallant and heroic soldier. No sadder intelligence has ever thrilled the electric wires than that sad announcement. His grand and chivalric character as a soldier of the union army is written in imperiabable. of the union army is written in imperishable characters in the history of this great and grand republic. His fame and name are the grand republic. His fame and uame are the property of a great, matchless and free republic, to be treasured by them as one of their most precious jewels. The intelligence of the death of the great and heroic soldier will make the nation sad and sorrowful; and it is meet and proper that this house do now adjourn, as a tribute to the memory of one whose great services have been matchless, patriotic and superb; and, therefore, I move that it do now adjourn, and that such adjournment be taken by a rising vote.

Aldermanic Wisdom. A special meeting of the council was had yesterday afternoon, at which Ald. Mynster presided in the absence of the mayor. Ald. Geise, who is still ill, was the only other absentee.

The sewer ditch question was considered. That enterprise has got into such a tangle that it puzzles the aldermanic brains terribly. Further action was taken yesterday, but whether it will tend to clear up the muddle remains to be seen. The resolution passed January 12 ordering the extension of the sewer ditch was reconsidered and rescinded. Then all bids for doing the work of ex-tending were rejected. The street supervisor was then instructed to make a survey of the ditch, note obstructions and other facts, so as to make an intelligible report to the sewer committee as to the condition of the ditch and what ought to be done. It was apparent from the action of the council yesterday that it is the intention to ignore Mr. Vincent's claim to having a contract for doing the work, and that the city will, under its own supervisor and with its own force of men, open a temporary waterway or out-let for the ditch.

Mr. Vincent, who seems determined to maintain his claim, expressed a willing-ness, in case of litigation, to have the matter submitted to either of the three judges, Loofbourow, Connor, or Ayles-

It was decided to grant relief to the four firemen who were injured in the Main street fire, the amount to be $25 each. The firemen lost their clothing and personal effects, besides having suffered otherwise. In view of the reports about misconduct on the part of the members of hose company No. 4, the council granted their request for an investigation. The witnesses are to be ex-mined this evening.

The statements made in regard to the eculiar manner in which some of the police force helped themselves to some of the clothing and provisions contributed for the poor was also the cause of an-other demand for an investigation. The council decided to inquire into the matter in secret session, as committee of the whole, this evening.

The clerk was instructed to advise the mayor that his presence to-night was desiable, that he might listen to the testimony, he being the head of police.

The council then adjourned until to-

The Coming Court.

The February term of the circuit court opens next Tuesday. The term at Avoca opens a month later. The bar docket just out for the term here shows 365 cases. Among them are a number of saloon cases, in which it is sought to secure injunctions against nearly every saloon in the city. The city is interested m a large number of cases also, it being plaintiff in two and defendant in thirty. Many of these are concerning right of way, condemnation, etc., but they are enough to command the time of the city attorney pretty closely to protect the city's interests. The divorce cases also loom up numerically, there being twenty

The petit jury as drawn consists of the following: George West, sr., Rockford L. P. Jacobson, Norwalk; H. A. Hough Crescent; John Holzfaster, Minden; Hugh Dowling, Neola; J. B. Mathews, Wash, ington; Milton Parker, Hardin; James A. Summers, Silver Creek; Charley Deich ler, Keg Creek; B. G. Davis, Garner; J D. Frohardt, Lewis; John Short, Kane, W. E. Laughery, Boomer; William Duell' Garner; Thomas Leonard, Hazel Dell' Fred Britton, Kane; G. H. Jones, Kane, W. J. Amy, Kane; J. N. Donohue, Kane, John Stagg, Kane; Ed Flavin, Kane; W. J. Statter, Kane, Garge, Friends C. Spethman, Kane; George Fairman, Kane; W. L. Biggs, Kane.

Skipped Without the Moonlight. A few months ago there arrived in the city a young couple claiming to be from New York. They gave the names of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Laselle. He secured employment in the People's store, while she opened up dressmaking parlors and advertised as the fashionable modiste of the west, Mme. Laselle, late of New York City. They were both rather stylish, business acting sort of folks, and it was thought that they were doing a flourishing business. About a week ago Mr. Laselle was relieved from his duties in the store, and on Tuesday last they sold their furniture to a second hand dealer and sometime Tuesday night disappeared from the city. Where they went is unknown, but the sign, "Mme. Laselle, Modiste," now swings in the breeze in front of apartments which are placarded as for rent. Several creditors look in doubt upon sundry small bills upon their books which have not been balled. books which have not been balanced, these bills being for groceries, meat, etc.

Saw Through a Glass Darkly. George Chriss, a colored man, was arrested yesterday, on the charge of stealing a microscope from the office of Dr. Rice on Pearl street. He called at the office Tuesday night to get some medicine, and as he disappeared the microscope went too. The police found him in Belle Clover's house, where he has been employed. As the officers entered the room he had the microscope examining it, having taken it spart. He was at once locked up for a future hearing. He claims that it was a mere accident, that he was playing with the microscope while the doctor was putting up the medicine, and some way it got into his pocket, and he did not find that he had it until after he got home. The microscope is valued at about $3.

Called to the Front. We, voters of the Second ward, present the name of our fellow citizen, John E. Ables, as candidate for alderman to an independent republican ward caucus, standing outside of rings, a heavy taxpayer, with extensive knowledge gathered abroad, in city matters, sewerage, and with ample time to devote to the city's interests. He would undoubtedly represent all classes with equal honesty, intelligence and economy.

A Distinguished Tragedienne. Miss Lilian Olcott last week played to one of the largest week's business known in the history of the Tabor grand opera house, Denver. She was pronounced by the cattle kings a most beautiful woman. In speaking of her the Hartford Courant says: Miss Olcott as Galatea was a success at the theatre last night. Although the house was not overcrowded, the audience was very enthusiastic and called Miss Olcott pefore the curtain after every act. Galatea is the best performance that has been witnessed here for some time and the young and charming tragedienne is certainly destined to success.

THE WHITE HOUSE OCCUPANT. A Newspaper Correspondent's Fancy

Washington Correspondence Cincinnati Enquirer: President Cleveladn's success in the white house is a heavier type of self-love, without even the superficial refine-ment of Arthur, with the flavor of beer, and its shape stamped upon him, and an idea that roughness becomes the magis-trate. We seem to see the Bow street officer, as in the times of Henry Fielding, sitting on the bench, magnificent among his tipstaves, fetching up a great echo from the recesses of his stomach, and appalling the small boys whom he is to sentence. The attempt is being made to impose upon the United States, as this individual imposed upon the prisoners in the county jail of Buffalo, by clearing his throat, looking around in a sovereign manner, and intimidating the innocent and the guilty. It is fortunate that there has been a school teacher in this family who has seen boys of that sort in her classes, and studied long to know what could be made of them. You can not make a great reformer where there has been no personal dis-cipline. "Wackford Squeers" kept a "Detheboys Hall" in the top of Yorkshire, and his only text-book was brim-stone. The school was kept in tolerable awe, though now and then one of the subordinate teachers would thrash the pro-prietor. Over the door the sign of reform was conspicuous. Every boy who came in there was to be reformed, while the head of the school was to continue the half-quarried pudding-stone it had always been.

An Unlucky Poker Player's Dog. Chicago Herald: There was a little game of draw in the smoking car. One of the players eyidently had miserable luck, for he was always cursing it. Finally his pile of chips disappeared with an untimely bluff in a jack-pot, and he retired from the game.

"Guess I'll go and wake up my dog" he said, as he went away, "and play with him. You fellows have broke me."

Presently he returned to look at the game which had undone him. At his heels was a very tall, long, lean, hungrylooking, short-tailed cur, with a castdown appearance and a set of scraggy teeth. Soon one of the players accidentteeth. Soon one of the players accident-ally kicked the dog, and there was a growl, a showing of molars, and an admonishing elevation of the stumpy caudal appendage.

"Be quiet, there, Flush! Lie down, Flush!" exclaimed the looker-on.

"How did you ever come to name that dog Flush?" queried a man with his hat down over his eyes and a big stack of chips before him

"That dog? How did I come to name him Flush? Oh, just a little notion of mine. You see, boys, he is so infernal hungry and cadaverous that it's only bout once in a year I can fill him, though his keep costs me a right smart sum of money. He's the cusselest day your arrest. money. He's the cussedest dog you ever saw to brag and growl and show his teeth and make believe he's a fighter, but if another dog stands up to him he lays down quicker an' meeker than any pup in the business. And besides, he's a reg-ular bob-tail, you know. Be quiet,

Sunset Cox's Successor.

Wasnington Correspondence Chicago News: Tim Campbell, who succeeded "Sunset" Cox as the representative of the Sixth New York District, is one of the characters of the house. Campbell is a veritable rough diamond. He is really a very bright and witty fellow, with all the contempt of a New York ward politician for social and political conventionalities. It was Campbell who recently called upon Col. Lamont, and, at the conclusion of the interview, desirat the conclusion of the interview, desiring to know if the president was accessible, jerked his thinmb in the latter's direction, and coolly inquired if "his nibbs" was in. This is Campbell's first term in the house. When Mr. Carlisle was making up the committees, Campbell requested that he be assigned to a place on the naval committee.

"But you know nothing about naval affairs," said the speaker.

but you know nothing about havait affairs," said the speaker.

"The d—I I don't!" responded Campbell, irreverently. "Didn't I serve four years in the Albany legislature on the committee on yards and docks? What d'ye take me for?" and he flounced out of the room in a server and he flounced out of the room in a great rage.

Campbell is said to be jealous of the growing popularity of Congressman Lawler, whom he has been heard on several occasions to characterize as "that stiff from Chicago." He hopes during the course of the session to draw "our Frank' into a debate on the silver ques-tion, during the progress of which, to still further quote Mr. Campbell, he pro-poses to "wipe up the floor with him." If such an event should occur between these two statesmen it will have the effect of crowding the galleries to suffoca-

The Snow for the Creditor. Chicago Herald: "Rather a strange thing occurred the other day," said a jewelry drummer, as he lighted a match on his pantaloons: "I went to a town out in Iowa to settle up our account with a firm there that had been running behind on their payments. The firm, composed of two brothers, was one of the largest in the town, and I had no fear of trouble, but when I arrived there I found that they had dissolved partnership and closed business "

"Didn't lose anything, did you?" "Lose anything? Should say we did, One brother took all the stock and skipped east, and the other took all the cash and lit out for the west. What show has a poor creditor got coming in on the shank end of such a dissolution of copart-nership as that?"
