A Sunbury (Penn.) girl got out a license to marry one man, and the next day applied to the court clerk for another permit to marry a different party. It then transpired that she had two admirers, and it was the young woman's intentions to hold the two certificates in terrorem and finally marry the

A strange decree has been recently promul gated in Austria to the effect that no married Austrian subject shall henceforth receive a pasport for journeying beyond the frontier without the express consent of his wife. This has naturally created a commotion among portions of the community, and a question was asked in the landtag of lower Austria as to the motive of such a measure, which thus ar the government has left unanswered. Dr. Reviere, of Logansville, Ga., won the consent of Miss Octavia Nash, and obtained a marriage license. At the same time his rival, John Jackson, or scured a license, and the doctor's fears being excited, he mounted his horse, as did Jackson, and it was a race for the lady's house. Reviere reached there five minutes ahead of his rival, and after the ceremony had been performed, it was revealed that Miss Octavia had promised both more minutes and the same far and hour men, and named the same day and hour. THE SPECULATIVE MARKETS.

Wheat Very Nervous and Prices During the Day Up and Down.

NO CHANGE FROM YESTERDAY

Both Corn and Oats Show Unusual Animation-Armour Predicts a Big Jump in Pork-General Reports.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET. CHICAGO, Feb. 12 .- [Special Telegram.]

WHEAT-Wheat was very nervous to-day. The weather was the bulwark, and but for that factor the price would probably have gone lower, as the temper of the trading crowd was bearish. A high temperature holds values very steady be-yound question. The "amateurs," as they have been e nically termed, estimate the decrease in the visible supply at about 1,000,000 bushels this week, but they are somewhat shaky in their figures. Shipmen is have been general and reports as to city milling demand are conflicting, and estimates are "wobbly" as a consequence. The bears think that If stocks do not show a greater decrease than 1,0 :0,000 bushels they will have the best of it from a statistical point of view. Wheat opened at very nearly vesterday's closing figures, and the tone of the market was rather soft, but good buying hardened values slightly. Then quotations fell away Mc. May selling at 84% c, but subsequently rally ing to 85%, and then easing off to 84%@85c, where it remained pegged for a long time. The report of the shipment of nearly $500,000 in gold to Europe had a depressing effect, and but for the ever present fear of a freeze the market would have responded to this discouraging news, but the small bears do not feel disposed to venture far and the big bears are not rampant.

Conx-Speculation got into May corn today, and that option advanced be to 41c, declining afterward to 40%c, and closing at 1 o'clock a shade higher, OATS-Oats, too, showed animation and strength, and the market advanced Woowe. Provisions-Provisions were rather more excited to-day, and the tendency was upward. Light receipts of live hogs and the urgent shipping demand has a bracing effect on provisions. Tips from the grain crowd to buy lard were numerous, and the market for that staple was exceptionally strong but not much higher. Armour was quoted as predicting that perk would sell at $14.00 before sixty days, a prophecy that filled the speculative bulls with confidence.

AFTERNOON BOARD-The afternoon markets were quiet. Wheat was steady and unchanged. Corn and oats were rather easier. Provisions were firm and sold higher, but the closing shows no change from closing quotations on the long session.

CHICAGO, Feb. 12,-[Special Telegram.] CATTLE-Salesmen have of late so often seen a 10c advance, followed almost Immediately by a 20c decline, that they were generally quite chary to-day about quoting an improvement in the market. The general demand was moderately good and prices were better. There was a more active movement, and prices were unevenly stronger. Some sales were made 10@15c higher, but others again showed no quotable advance. The supply of desirable cattle was very well cleaned out at the stronger prices.
