Hair, the Hotel Register Flend, Sues the State Journal-The Title to Fifteenth Rests With Lytle-Court and Other News.

[FROM THE BEE'S LINCOLN BUREAU.] The committee of lawyers appointed by the supreme court to investigate the conduct of L. C. Burr in connection with the release of Zimmerman, the convicted murderer, filed their report late yesterday afternoon. After reciting the facts as stated in the papers laid before them the committee says:

We further find from the testimony that such proceedings did not take place at the office of said Saville, but at the hotel in Kearney. The writ was issued about 6 o'clock and served about 8 o'clock, and said Zimmerman released about 9 o'clock of the evening of the 25th of September, 1885. That said L. C. Burr persuaded the said Saville into the belief that as such commissioner he had jurisdiction and authority to release said Zimmerman on bail and that it was his duty to do so, and induced said Saville to issue said writ of habeas corpus and release the said prisoner on a bail bond of $1,000, signed by a citizen of Wyoming territory, but whose name is not given in the testimony. No notice of any of the foregoing proceedings were given to the state authorities.

The committee further reports as its conclusion of the law, that said Zimmer-man was legally confined in the jail of county in the custody of the sheriff of that county; that he was not entitled to bail; that said Saville had no authority to issue said writ and release the prisoner, and had no jurisduction to take any action whatever in the premises; that the whole of the proceedings taken to secure the release of the prisoner at Kearney were without any authority or precedent whatever, and were in flagrant violation of law and the judgment of this court in this case. It is also our conclusion of law that the professional or other conducts and acts of an attorney at law, an officer admitted to practice under its rules, as affecting the trusts and confidence reposed in him as such attorney, and relation to the court by virtue of his license, are within the jurisdiction of this court to take such action with re spect thereto as the facts may warrant.

CCOUN	T OF HAIR.

ALL ON A The State Journal company was sued in the United States court yesterday for $75,000 damages by the James T. Hair Hotel Register company of Chicago. The plaintiff alleges that the patent for an advertising hotel register was taken out in 1867 by Charles L. Hawes, and that in 1881 James T. Hair purchased all rights in Nebraska, Colorado, Dakota, Wyo-ming, Montana, Idaho, Washington, Utah, New Mexico, Arizona and Indian territory. The State Journal, it is claimed, has continually infringed on this patent in the states and territories named ever since 1868, at a damage to the plaintiff of $75,000. As the United States circuit court for the northern district of New York has three times affirmed the validity of the Hawes patent, Mr. Linthieum, the attorney for the Hair company, feels very confident that he has the big end of the case and will merely be compelled to show when, how and to what extent the rights of his clients have intringeo by Hawes is the one now in general use by hotels all over the country, the special feature being the insertion of a page of advertising matter on a blotter between the leaves of the register paper. THE TITLE TO FIFTEENTA STREET. The jury in the action of Samuel W. Lyttle vs The City of Lincoln, involving Lyttle vs The City of Lincoln, involving the ownership of Fifteenth street be-tween O and P, returned a special verdict vesterday, finding on all the main points for the plaintiff. The verdict recites that the property in dispute was patented by the United States in 1862 to one Irwin and that the latter platted it, but the plat was never recognized. In 1871 and 1873, the taxes for 1867-68-69 being delinquent, the land was sold by the city and bought by Nelson C. Brock, who afterward transferred it to Lyttle. The latter then plat ted it and the city, by resolution of the council, July 11, 1881, adopted and confirmed the plat. In this plat Lyttle allowed an alley of twenty feet about in the center of the present street, and he was never disturbed in possession until long afterwards, when, having put down a sidewalk across the trontage O street, the city tore it up and insisted on holding a 100 foot street open. The verdict gives Lyttle a rental of $1 since 1881, and leaves the question of possession and validity of title to be determined by the court, on argument by counsel. The attorneys for the city will claim that Lyttle's ten years of possession under the tax deeds is not sufficient, and that the municipal recognition of Lyttle' plat was an oversight. PUSHING THE NORTHWESTERN. A managing official of the Northwest ern railway, who was in Lincoln yester day looking after right of way matters, says everything is in readiness for begin-ning work on the extension from Fre-mont as soon as the weather will permit, and as the grading contractors are under bonds to be ready for tracklaying by June 1, they are naturally anxious to be up and doing. Most of the contractors have already engaged their force of men, but are finding some difficulty in getting but are finding some difficulty in getting teams, the opening of spring work on the farms making mule and horse power scarce, and a rise in the price to $3.75 a day is the result. Raymond & Campbell, who are to build the bridge across the Piatte, are getting the material on the ground and multing up quarters for the ground and putting up quarters for the workmen. This bridge is to be of the Howe truss pattern, and will be over half a mile long without the trestle approaches. It will consist of forty-six pony spans of sixty feet each, resting on ers. The timber used will be mostly Wisconsin oak, with a sprinkling of cypress from Arkansas. UNITED STATES COURT NOTES. Smith vs Woods. Motion to dissolve attachments overruled and defendants granted leave to file motion for rehearing. Valentine vs Wiseman et al. On motion for appointment of a receiver the court held that if the taxes are paid and an insurance of $600 effected the motion will not be allowed. In the matter of the failure of Annie M Day, the Eleventh street jeweler, the counsel for interested parties have agreed upon $7,500 as the actual value of the stock now held by the sheriff on attachments, and Judge Dundy will probably order it turned over to Charles H. Day, the mortgagee, on an in-demnity bond. If the bond is not forthcoming a receiver will be appointed. BRIEF MENTION A new flag walk is to be laid across O street from Zeimer's ticket office to the First National bank. It might be duplicated at many other crossings in the city with good results. The stories put in circulation by inter-ested parties concerning Miss Brown and alleging that her downfall was due to evil associations for med at the skating rink, are strongly denied by reputable people who assert that the girl never attended any of the gatherings either at the Casino or the present rink., Mr. Hickey, the former manager of the Casino, and Mr. Preston, who is now running the rink on M street, substantiate statements and assert that Miss Brown never entered either of the build-

COUNCIL COMMITTEES.

Contractor Hocl's Bill Declared to Be

Correct-Grading Discussed. The regular meeting of the city council committees was held last evening at the council chamber to discuss and act upon the various matters brought before them. The committee on grades and grading had under consideration the proposed change of grade on Leavenworth and Cuming streets. Profiles were submitted of the grades as defined in the recently submitted ordinances referred to the committee, and there was considerable discussion on their merits. The proposed change of the Leavenworth street grade is one which has vexed the council for a long time, and if the present proposed change gains the consent of a majority of the members it will fare exceedingly

Mr. Behm announced that he had examined the books of Aaron Hoel, the street cleaning contractor, and found that the rumors which have been made public charging Mr. Hoel with dishonesty are entirely without foundation. The books show, Mr. Behm said, that the bill for removing the snow was made in accordance with the wages paid the men-15 cents an hour, or $1.50 for a day of ten hours. The committee, however, to whom the matter was referred have not yet made up their report, but will un-doubtedly make it in accordance with the statement made by Mr. Behm last evening.

As it came to pass, Mr. Luther was not hanged, neither was he tarred over the Union Pacific, have at last beand feathered nor ridden on a rail. It might be well to say in brief that Mr. come a reality, the first one arriving in Martin Luther is one of the most re-spectable residents of Dodge county, Omaha Thursday night from California. The train consisted of twenty-five freight who for twenty years has farmed his one or or fruit and refrigerator cars all loaded two thousand acres of land near Hooker until to-day he is worth between one and with oranges, consigned to Omaha, St. Louis, Minneapolis, Chicago and as far Upon securing the placard Mr. Lather came immediately to Oma-ha and depositing $6,000 to the credit of Mr. J. The time made structed the detective to ferret out the by this train was remarkable, it having perpetrators of the libel and if necessary come from Los Angeles in much less time than that made by the fastest express to draw for $10,000 more. Time is everything in handling fruit, you know, for every day's delay means just so much additional loss. This scheme of fast fruit trains will give our merchants the advantage of fresher fruit, without the delay and consequent loss; and will help to keep up the reputation of the city as an important wholesale point for fruits. Besides it will give California a great advantage over eastern fruit districts. Even now the New York importers are experiencing difficulties in competing with the Pacific coast. See here what an extensive importer in New York writes: 'From the limited demand for oranges it becomes evident that California is largely distributing, and while our receipts are ruling light, I am con-vinced that the freeze up in Florida, compelling local purchasers of Valencias and fine grades of box fruits, has kept our importers from losing money on their "If they find it difficult to compete now with the west," continued the speaker, "they will find it doubly so as western transportation facilities become better developed. # for the Friendless,

During the month of December Omaha people donated goods and money to the amount of $50.23 toward the support of the flome for the Friendless in Lincoln. This, as most persons know, is a home for the friendless women and children of the state. In this home are now about 100 inmates, thirty of whom are from Omalia. A few days ago the superintendent, Mrs. Slaughter, took a pair of twin boys, three weeks old, from this place. While the buildings for the home are erected by the state, the food, fuel and clothing is all donated by the charitably disposed people of the state, and that much good is being accomplished by the institution no one can doubt who visits it Among the things most needed at the home just now are cribs, dining room chairs, flannel, muslin, calico and groceries. Everything goes free by express when marked "Home for the Friendless, Lincoin, Neb." The following is a list of

A NOBLE REVENCE

A fair, fragile-looking boy, of apparenty some 14 years, stood leaning over the railing in the counting room of Glendon & Co., the great importers and merchant princes of the city of Boston. There was a look of pitcous pleading in his soft brown eyes and his pale, sad face spoke more than words could tell of the fear and anguish with which his young heart was so cruelly rent. "It is not myself that I care for," he sobbed, gazing at the hard-featured man who was writing at one of the desks, "but it's my mother, sir-this shock will kill her!"

"Young man, you ought to have thought of that before," replied the hardfeatured man, in a cold harsh tone. "But I'm innocent, sir. Indeed, sir, never took the money.' "How, then, do you account for the possession of part of the bills?" "I can account for them in no other way, sir, than that I must have received

"I cannot tell where."

No error to be feared in administering; no injury from exposure after taking; no change of diet required; no change of habits; no neglect of duties or loss of time Simmons' Liver Regulator is entirely vegetable and is the purest and best family medicine con pounded. Prepared by J. H. ZEILIN & CO. Philadelphia, Pa., sole proprietors from three to five detectives in that vicinity since last October. Through a supremely ingenious maneuvre which ie declines to make public he at last secured from all the rersons who took part in the libel, their own afhdavit con essions and had them restated time and again in the presence of many witnesses while unseen stenograph operatives were recording the utterances.

Here another singular feature of the case is encountered. August Wagner and his wife, Elizabeth Wagner, are people in good circumstances, reputed to be worth $40,000. They as well as Luther are Germans, and the reputed two families lived adjoining. The Wagners found their motive in a grudge which they held against Luther since the fall election of 1884. On that day Wagner stabbed a man in a broil at Hooper and was tried at Fremont, Luther being a witness against him. Wagner in some manner secured his acquittal, but never forgave Luther. Not courageous enough to openly wreak his resentment upon Luther, Wagner conceived the invidious libel which has now dragged him into the courts. Others who have spread the slander have also been marked and further legal actions in which Mr. Luther s complainant will follow. "I left the town of Hooper in a state of unparalleled excitement," said Mr. Ne-ligh, "and I laugh when I think of the furore which will follow the suits we have yet to spring. It is just about as ugly a case as I ever handled. There is absoutely not the shadow of semblance of truth in the accusations against Mr. Luther. He is a man of the tenderest nature and I have the sworn statements of all his relatives and friends that he never raised his hand within his family circle except in kindness. The total claims for damages assessed by Mr. Luther will aggregate not less than $100,000 when we have finished."

The attorneys retained in the case by Mr. Luther are Wm. Munger of Fremont and C. J. Green and Judge Hull of Omaha. Wagner has not yet obtained counsel. As one of the attorneys in the case observed, Mr. Neligh deserves much credit for the novel, ingenius and thor-oughly successful manner on which he secured the evidence and entire testimony in the case.

YOUTHFUL HOUSEBREAKERS. A Gang of Young Boys Accused of

That Crime. Matthew Klauber. a 17-year old lad, was before Justice Anderson yesterday afternoon on a charge of housebreaking, he having been arrested on a warrant sworn out by Martin Sorenson. His face was dirty, and tears streaked the black with lines of white as the judge declared that he must hold him to the district court to answer to the charge. Klauber is accused of breaking into the house of Martin Sorenson, at Tenth and Bancroft streets, on Sunday, February 7, and stealing a saw, ox-yoke and a few other articles of small value. He admitted that he entered the house, but accused another boy of breakthe window through which he ing climbed. He also denied stealing any-thing and implicated five other boys in the theft. Matthew was, however, a little mixed in his statements, and the judge was convinced that he is the leader of the other boys whom he mentioned. Accord-ingly the whole crowd will be brought up and the matter investigated. The other five are Charles Gillian, George Meyers and William, George and Ben Jones. The three latter are brothers, their ages ranging from 8 to 18 years. If the charges against them are proven the older boys will be held and the younger ones sent to the reform school.
