E. P. Crabb, formerly with Harkness Bros., of tais city, but now with Hale, Thomas & Co., Minneapolis, was in the city yesterday.

Permit to wed has been given Elijah Waiters and Genevieve Jump, both of this city, also Robert Ran of Lincoln, Neb., and Lucie Pos of this city. Topic at Broadway M. E. church to-morrow morning, "The Cumulative Power of Christianity" Evening, "The Gambling Dens of Council Binffs."

In the case of Dr. Beilinger against the estate of Mrs. Catharine Daly, the jury in the circuit court has returned a verdict giving him $495 for his bill of about $800. Messrs. Harlan and Roeunan of Glenwood were in the city yesterday purchasa supply of agricultural implements for Papillion, Neb., at which place they propose to engage in business.

Yesterday afternoon the ladies of the Episcopal church held a meeting to complete arrangements for serving supper for the grand ball to be given by the Knights Templar.

Subject of the morning sermon at the Congregational church to-morrow will be, "The Brotherhood of Man." Evening, "Heaven." All who come will re-ceive a very cordial welcome.

Last evening Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Rohrer entertained at their residence, No. 239 Vine street, a number of their friends at an 8 o'clock tea, after which the evening was pleasantly spent at progressive Officer Towns, with his wife and child, were calling at Dr. Cook's office, leaving the baby carriage outside, when some sneak thief rolled it off. It was afterwards found in a pawnshop where the thief had raised a dollar on it.

F. M. Hunter, clerk of the United States court, yesterday gave H. W. Groom, of Creston, who is charged with sending obscene literature through the mails, a hear-ing. Bail was placed at $500 and Groom Bail was placed at $500 and Groom was allowed to go home and secure it.

The crazy Chinaman had so far recovered from his wildness yesterday that he was sent on his way to California, there being a carload of his countyrmen going through. It is thought the fellow's trouble arose from a lack of nutritions

G. C. Prescott has somehow or other disappeared, at least so his friends, the boys in Van Brunt, Thompson & Co.'s, say, since the arrival of Mr. Prescott's new boy baby. They have concluded that his absence will cost him a box of the wounding of J. T. Preston in New fine cigars on his first appearance.

A colored fellow, A Marcroft, has been causing trouble by turning off the gas in the gallery of the opera house, leaving the crowd to stumble down, after a show, as best they could in the dark. It was fun for him, but yesterday Judge Aylesworth turned the tables on him, and fined him $10 for the joke.

The revival meetings continue to grow in interest at Smith's hall, in the southern part of the city. On Thursday night the hall was packed, and after an earnest ad-dress by Rev. Mr. Crofts, the entire audience, with the exception of one man and a boy, arose for prayers. Last even-ing Rev. Dr. McCreary preached.

There was a large and happy gathering of married folks at the home of N. W. of married folks at the home of N. W. Wilhams, No. 111 Statsman street, Thursday evening. Thirty or forty couples were present, and the evening was happily passed in dancing and social chatting, while refreshments were served with hospitality and good cheer.

Petitions have been filed with the school board for an addition to the Hall street school; for a new school house at the junction of Graham avenue and First street, and another on the north side of the creek in the upper part of the First ward; also that the board sell the prop-erty on Glen avenue and devote the proceeds to lowering the grade of the High street school. The board is to meet this afternoon to consider the matters set forth in these petitions.

A darkey by the name of Marcroft delighted in darkness to such an extent as to cause himself to be arrested and successfully prosecuted yesterday for mali-cious mischief, and he now thinks it no light matter to turn out the lights. Man-ager Dohany was informed that very often the gas was turned off in the hall and stairway leading from the gallery of the opera house, and that great incon-venience resulted to those who were obliged to stumble down stairs. He accordingly summoned an officer, who caught Marcroft in the act of turning out

Max Brody of Council Bluff's met with quite an interesting episode in Carson last Thursday night. He and the Carson city marshal were having a little game of dice in the barber shop for eigars, and Max was doing him up in great shape, when the city functionary, becoming very angry at his losses, concluded to arvery angry at his losses, concluded to ar-rest Max on general principles, but there he got left worse than ever, for Max picked him up and downed him the first round. He then called for help to make the arrest, and in so doing started down street, but before going far concluded to let the job out and discharge his man, which he did.—Macedonian.

B. Shontz has decided to embark in the agricultural implement business in Correctionville, Iowa. For four years he has been a resident of this city, and has served most acceptably as county jailor. In his official capacity he has been faithful and capable, and in his social relations with the citizens he has won esteem and confidence, so that he has many friends here who wish him the greatest friends here who wish him the greatest of success in his new enterprise. The business is not a new one to him, he having been engaged in it before taking his official position here. He is thoroughly experienced and widely acquainted. His brother, V. B. Shontz of Minneapolis, will be associated with him, the new firm to be B. Shontz & Bro. They purpose starting in with a new and complete stock, and will make their warehouse one of the best in western Iowa.

A HOME BUILDING SCHEME

An Excellent Institution of That Character in Council Bluffs.

THE MURDER OF G. H. HOWSER.

Full Particulars in a Letter Received From the Scene-A Woman Hunting Her Husband - Charity Concert-Other News.

Home Building Scheme. The Council Bluff's Building and Loau

association is just entering upon its tenth year, and for an institution which has lone so much for its members and for the city, it has hardly received its share of public notice and encouragement. One of the reasons of this is probably that it is purely a mutual institution, and has been doing its work quietly. There are no salaried officers, and no one can get any special profits or emoluments, the gains being divided evenly among the individual members. Now that the association has been successful for a term of years, it can no longer be looked on as an experiment. The facts and figures as shown from the history of the organization are striking in some respects. Hundreds of persons have been enabled to build for themselves homes, and pay their rent into their own pockets; the city has the advantage of having many residences built which otherwise would not be here to-day, and persons have been given an opportunity to invest small savings in a profitable and safe way. The opportunity to invest small savings in a profitable and safe way. The details of how the organization is conducted cannot be given fully, without taking too much space and proving tedious. The results seem impossible, but the facts are at hand to substantiat them. stantiate them. Those who have bor-rowed from the association to build nomes with have only had to pay about 6 per cent for their money, while those who have put their savings in have realized nearly 12 per cent interest on their

An institution which can lend money to its members at 6 per cent and yet pay 12 per cent interest on the money borrowed eems to be a strangely arranged one and yet an examination into the work ings shows that such can be done. The principal and interest is paid in monthly installments, and thus lent right out again, and interest is kept carning interest, while the borrower, being a member and getting his share of the profits, gets his interest cut down low.

The plan is simple, safe and time has proved that it is practicable. It is a good cheme for any one preferring to have a home to paying rent, while it is an equally good scheme for any one desiring to save a certain amount monthly and invest it profitably.

A new series is to be opened the 1st of March, and thus an opportunity given of other members starting in. Howser's Death. A telegram in the BEE a few days age first gave news of the killing of G. H.

The following letter received yesterday by Mr. J. W. Damon of this city gives further particulars:

EL Paso, Texas, Feb. 16.—Dear Sir: As a painful duty I must write about the sad affair that happened to our friend, G. H. Howser, on the 6th of this month. I am the party who met Bryant, Sherman and parties and accompanied them to the state of Sinatoo, the place where we had located. All parties were well pleased with the property, and Mr. Howser made up his mind at once to return with me and arrange to remove at once to the mines. We left Guadulope by Calvo on the 1st of February and everything went well until at noon on the 6th, when two Mexicans came into camp just as we were saddling up to break camp. I hung my revolver on lay saddle while Mr. Howser's lay upon the ground near where the saddle had laid. One of the Mexicans walked up to where Howser's revolver lay and asked if it was for sale. I spoke to Mr. Howser, saying "don't let him get hold of your revolver," and he walked around his horse and, as I supposed, picked up his revolver. But the Mexican had picked it up instead. I was busy tieing on our coffee pot to our pack horse, and the next thing Mr. How-ser spoke and said "what does he mean?" I look around and the Mexican stood with the revolver presented at Mr. How-ser and fired, killing him instantly. The fire of the revolver caused my horse to jump and left me exposed without my revolver. He then fired at me twice before I could get hold of him. His second shot I could get hold of him. His second shot took effect in my left arm. I wrenched the revolver from him and snapped it twice at him then ran for my own and fired five shots at him as he ran away. I then walked to where Mr. Howser lay, but he had stopped breathing. I placed his hat over his face and had to ride forty-five miles for help, the nearest town being Parral. The authe nearest town being Parral. The au-thorities sent out a party under an officer to bury Mr. H. and also to look for the murderer. As yet I have heard no news, but am expecting to hear at any moment but an expecting to hear at any moment and will write you again as soon as I do. I have his revolver here by me. He has a horse and valise and some blankets. I will get them unless stolen by passers-by before the officers get there. I will rest here a couple of days before I go to Lordsburg, Grant county, New Mexico, which will be my address for the next month. Any information or any questions asked by his heart-stricken family I am ready to answer. I would have writam ready to answer. I would have writ-ten them but did not know their address. Hoping to hear from you soon, I remain yours truly, J. T. PRESTON.

For first-class Missouri wood call on Gleason, at his coal othee, 26 Peari street. Hunting Her Husband. Mrs. M. L. Dibble was married to her husband in Wisconsin about eight years ago, and they have lived together happily and peaceably ever since until about six weeks ago, when he disappeared in such a manner as to lead her friends to suspect that he had deserted her. For five years they were residents of Council Bluffs, and resided on Tenth avenue, he being employed at the transfer. About a year ago they moved to Weston, a few miles from here, where he bought a farm Six weeks ago he sold out at Westen and started for Indiana to look after eighty acres of land owned by his wife. In about three weeks he wrote to her to sell off all the household furniture except the bedding and follow him, as he had decided to set-tle on the land there. He informed her that her brother, who resided at the same that her brother, who resided at the same place, was very anxious for them to remain there, and wanted to see her very much. When Mrs. Dibble reached her destination she found that her husband had not been there at all, and no one knew where he was. Subsequent investigation showed that although the letter was dated from Indiana, it was really written, or at least mailed from some point in Wisconsin. Mrs. Dibble cannot account for the desertion, and has remained with her brother. Fortunately they had no children. His many tunately they had no children. His many acquaintances here will be considerably surprised at his unexplained action.

A Surprise All Around. Some time ago the press dispatches contained the information that Judge Love, of the United States court, had deeided to send back to the errenit court here the saloon cases sent there for hearing. It now appears that Judge Love has made no such decision in regard to the Council Bluffs cases, although he has made such a ruling in regard to similar cases from Keokuk. It has been expected that the cases being sent back here, they would be called up at the present term of the court, and would be passed upon probably by the issuance of injunctions. With this latest revelation, such a prospect is dashed to the ground. The cases will hardly get disposed of now. This announcement comes as a surprise to those on both sides of the Mueller Music Company. Yesterday forenoon the stockholders of the Mueller Music company held their semi-annual meeting to hear the report of the business presented by J. Mueller, manager, which was considered a very flattering showing. A satisfactory dividend was declared, which was doubtless enjoyed fully as much as the report. A board of directors was also elected. In the afternoon the directors held a meeting and endorsed the management of the business, and re-elected J. Mueller manager. The following is the list of officers elected: R. B. Gregory president, J. P. Byrne vice-president, C. N. Past treasurer, J. Mueller secretary and nanager, J. P. Byrne assistant secretary. There will be scores and hundreds who will be greatly pleased to learn of the success of the company.

Shooting at Silver City.

Silver City was startled yesterday by the report, which proved only too true, that a young man named Hastings, residing near that place, had been found dead in his father's home, with a bullet hole in his temple over the right eye. A neighbor called yesterday morning and knocked at the door. Receiving no response he looked in the window and saw Hastings sitting in a chair. He attempt to rouse him, but finding it useless he broke open the door. A revolver was lying beside his chair. It is believed that the shooting was accidental. The family were absent at the time visiting friends in a neighboring town. Hastings was about 20 years of age and was one of the promising young men of that section. The coroner was summoned from Glenwood.

Money to loan by Forrest Smith.

M. H. Ferris, who for two years was examiner of applications for the home office of the Council Bluffs Insurance office of the Council Bluffs Insurance company, but who has not been connected with the company since January 1, was yesterday arrested for obtaining money under false pretenses. He secured an application for insurance, and wrote a policy for a man named McNulty, representing that he was an agent for J. C. Lange & Co. of this city. He then requested the firm to carry a risk for him. He collected and retained the money paid as premium, and McNulty had him aras premium and McNulty had him ar-rested. Ferris is a smart man, but liquor is too much for him.

A Case of Faith Cure. Philadelphia Press: A long, lean, lank cadaverous looking man, with long gra hair and beard and very thin clothes yesterday approached a blind man at th southwest corner of Thirteenth and Mar ket streets, who was peddling lead pen cils. The stranger seanned the features of the blind man for some time, and at length said:

"Brother, art thou totally blind;"
"Yes," answered the pencil merchant.
"Hast never tried to be healed;" "No use," replied the other. "My eyes were burned out in a powder mill explosion."

"If thou hast faith thou caust be healed," said the stranger. Let us pray,"

By this time a crowd had gathered round the pair, and a lively interest was manifested in the proceedings. The apostle of faith-cure knelt down and offered a long prayer for the blind man, while the crowd kept increasing until it nearly blocked up Thirteenth street. After prayer the ancient arose and went through a series of gyrations similar to a After prayer the ancient arose and went through a series of gyrations similar to a mesmerist. He made all manner of passes in the air with his hands, and finally took hold of the man, rubbed his eyes, slapped his back, pinched his checks, and asked him if he could sees To the great disappointment of the audience he replied that he could not. The faith-cure man was about to begin his performances again when a policeman performances again when a policeman came up and ordered him to move on.
