At the services at the Congregational church yesterday morning one new member was received. One lady, who by illness had been prevented from publicly partaking of the communion for ten years past, was present and partook yesterday, her recovery being credited by her to the mind cure.

The resignation of Mayor Vaughan may cause a few days interim between the time of his stepping out and Col. Chapman stepping in. It is understood that Alderman Mynster, as president of the council, will serve as mayor. Brief glory, but it gives him the title of Mayor Mynster.

The Grand Detour Plow company three years ago bought land near David Bradley & Co's, and intended to build there. The management of the city affairs has kept them from doing so, and now that confidence is being restored, an attempt is being made to get the company to go ahead with its original project.

J. Dogenhardt, of Malvern, and Charles McDowell, who is employed by Beckman & Co., of this city, have a wager up as to who can stretch a pair of traces quickest. Two dates have been set for the trial, but the Malvern man has not appeared. One more date will be fixed, and then if he does not appear the Council Bfuffs man will take the Burglars visited O. H. Brown's drug store, 527 Main street, and secured an overcoat, a watch and about $10 in cash. The Swanson Music company have their show window the first piano ever made west of Chicago. It is a novelty, and attracts much attention. It is about twenty-one inches long by ten inches wide, and by it stands an automatic man with a tuning key, busy tuning the instru-ment. The ingenious novelty is of their own manufacture, and is gazed upon with interest by hundreds daily.

The new 'busses of Lewis & Arnd are being utilized not only for train purposes. but for many gatherings about the city The other evening parties of six or eight used them in getting to and from a party, finding them a convenient, comfortable and economical way of getting about the city. The proprietors of this line are making a specialty of thus conveniencing the citizens, and parties desiring to thus club together can be easily accommodated and very cheaply.

The mayor of my city has resigned.
The reasons as given by himself appear elsewhere. He no doubt prefers to have the records appear that he gave up the position voluntarily than that the people gave him up. It seems a good deal on the same principle by which convicts are often pardoned out a day or two before their terms expire. The difference in time does not amount to anything, but the record looks a little better. When his next batch of cards are printed he will have, doubtless, the date of his resignation upon them, giving to the nation the idea that he might have been mayor longer, but that he chose to give up the position. It makes but little difference, position. It makes but little difference, however, so long as he is got out. His farewell, like all of his state papers, is a great advertisement for himself. Whatever faults Vaughan has, he is a great rustler for himself, and it is needless for anylogy to waste any symmethy on him. anybody to waste any sympathy on him. He is irrepressible, and will be up on his feet in a new spot, and that right quickly. Dropping back into public life again, he will escape many of the darts which have been hurled at him as an official. Vaughan as mayor has been a target of some importance on account of the position, but Vaughan as a catch any but stray shots. but Vaughan as a citizen won't

Three Times and Out. The case of Gilman & Co. vs Yetzer & Rapp has been decided in favor of the defendants. The case has been fought inch by inch, and has taken up most of the week in the circuit court. Gilman & Co., now of Davenport, owned an elevator at Atlantic, and they sold, or claimed to have sold, $5,000 worth of wheat to Yetzer & Rapp, but before it was delivered the elevator burned, and the question was as to whether the detendants should pay for the wheat. In settling the loss with the insurance companies Gilman & Co. figured out the loss to be over $5,000, the amount of the insurance, but added the wheat involved in this suit, making the total amount of the loss shown as $11,000. These proofs of loss were used against Gilman & Co. as proof that they did not consider that the ownership of the wheat had actually passed to Yetzer & Rapp at the time the wheat was burned. Gilman & Co. claimed that they were induced to figure this wheat into the loss, as the adjuster wanted to make as good a showing as possible with his company as justificaion for paying the insurance. The case as been tried before Judge Reed at Atlantic and the jury disagreed. It was then tried before Judge Lyman here and a ve dict given for the defendants. Now, on a third trial, the same result comes. Mr. Cook of Dayenput among defendants. Mr. Cook of Davenport appeared for the plaintiffs and Mr. Delano of Atlantic for the defendants.

A petition of property owners on Pierce street was presented asking for a four foot sidewalk instead of three. The petitioners were exempted from the bids to be opened on the 10th, calling for the construction of a three foot walk.

The city attorney reported that the council, when acting as a board of equalization, were entitled to $2 for each six hours so engaged.

The official canvass of the late elec-

To-Day's Election. To-day occurs the annual school election. There seems to be little agitation over the matter, and the choice of voters will be made up largely from personal preferences, there being conceded to be no political lines drawn. The two retiring members of the board, J. B. Atkins and T. S. Couch, are candidates for reelection. There is no serious fight being made upon them, as was the case last year, when two members of the board sought re-election. Other good men are candidates for the positions, however. L. Bridenstein, Charles Loucks, Dr. Bellinger and George Blaxsim are among these, and the people will therefore not make any great mistake, whoever of these are chosen. The school interests are more important than many citizens realize. There is a great deal of money to be handled, a large amount of property to be cared for, and the education of hundreds of future citizens will be shaped more or less by the character of the board which controls the school system of the city. Voters should therefore use their franchise, and use it intelligently. There are not so many loaves and fishes to be distributed as in other elections, but the importance to the city is as great as any It is to be regretted that J. M. Mat-thews has decided to withdraw his name from consideration to-day. He is so en-thusiastic and experienced in school mat-ters, and has shown so much ability and good judgment in this line, that he would be a very valuable member of the board, and the people would gladly choose him. He is out of the race now, and the choice will doubtless be among those named. Besides the selection of school directors there are the following two propositions to be voted upon.

1—Shall the board of directors of the independent school district of Council Bluffs be authorized to sell lot No. 6 in block No. 1. Glendale addition to the city of Council Bluffs, Iowa, and a strip of ground 130 feet in depth off the east side of lot No. 167, original plat of said city, fronting on Glen avenue, and use the proceeds of such sale or so much thereof as shall be necessary to cut down and lower the lot and lower the high school building, 2—Shall the board of directors of the independent school district of Council Bluffs be authorized to levy a tax in the sum of $2,000 to be used in the con-struction of an addition to the Clark chool building.

The following are the polling places and the names of the judges and clerks of election: First precinct, being first ward, at Western house. J. R. Bell and A. S. Bon-ham, judges; M. I. Sears and C. C. Bump, Second precinct, being second ward, at the city building. R. T. Bryant and J. J. Stewart, judges; C. F. Adams and W. C. Unthank, clerks.

Enjoyable Musicale. Saturday evening in Mueller's music hall there was a very enjoyable musicate given by Professor C. B. Lipfert and his pupils. Professor Lipfert, since he located in this city, has done much to advance musical matters, and has gathered about him some of the most promising pupils. This entertainment proved not only enjoyable, the programme being of a high order and well executed, but was particularly gratifying as showing the advancement made by those who have had the benefit of Professor Lipfert's instruction. Two numbers, for two pianos, were given by Misses Cooley, Crofts, Smith, and Professor Lipfert. They were difficult, and the rendition showed an accuracy of time and independence of playing which was evidence of thorough drill and most careful study. Piano solos were given by Miss Mary Schneider, themselves so well as to win many words of praise from eager listeners.

Miss Minnie Milier, who has a sweet

Miss Minnie Miller, who has a sweet mezzo-soprano voice, gave a solo, "Sleep Well," she meriting the enthusiastic applanse won Frank Badollett gave two flute solos, which were very flue. Mr. Noble sang "Roll, Mighty Ocean," showing a bass voice of great power and evident entityation. Professor Lipfert favored the audience with a grand instrumental piece, and with Miss Lou Porterfield gave another pieasing number, Miss Porterfield showing much skill as a pianist. Altogether the evening was a muist. Altogether the evening was a mu-sical treat.

Resigned to His Fate. COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa, March 6, 1886. -To the City Council of the City of Council Bluffs-Gentlemen: I hereby tender to you, and through you to the citizens of this city, my resignation of the office of mayor for the remainder of my official term, the same to take effect

Wednesday, March 10, 1886. I have ready for press a work entitled "Life Sketches of Thomas A. Hendricks, From the Cradle to the Grave," written by Colonel A. T. Whittlesey, who was the life long friend of Governor Hendricks. and served as his secretary for four years. I am also publishing a book entitled "A History of the Governors of Iowa and Nebraska, and Other Prominent Men."
I ought to have been in New York in the interest of my publications sixty days ago and cannot delay going longer.

In retiring from the public service allow me to say I have served as the chief executive officer of this city during por-tions of the years 1881 and 1882 and again in the years 1884, 1885 and 1886 to the best of my ability. Under the latter part of my administration several miles of gran-ite stone and cedar block pavement have been constructed, costing, with other street improvements, nearly $400,030. It became my duty, as the executive of-ficer of your city, to sell the bonds of the municipal government necessary to defray the cost of the construction of these improvements. As the bonds were not sacrificed, nor sold at a discount, I think I may claim that the sale gave publie satisfaction. During the time I have served the people our water works have been put in successful operation, the electric light system has been devised and put into satisfactory service, and other indications of progress have restored life and activity to this growing city.

For the valuable assistance rendered me, in the encouragement of every enter-prise, by thrifty citizens and public spir-ited aldermen, I shall always feet grate-ful and deeply indebted. But as my time is limited, and my private engagements with my book publishers demand instant attention, and as the signing of warrants, bonds, ordinances, certificates and other public documents must be done by the mayor, and the delay of nearly half a month might cause serious inconveni-ence, I have thought it my bounden duty to tender my resignation. I retire from office entertaining sentiments of gratitude and respect for all who have been associated with me, and wish the city and her inhabitants unexampled prosperity in the future.

Very respectfully,

W. R. VAUGHAN.

Work on the Bridge. The first caisson, for the new bridge over the Missouri river between Council Bluffs and Omaha, yesterday virtually reached rock-bottom, there being only an inch or so yet to go.

They first put air on February 6th and lost nine days in February and three so far in March. This is considered very fast work, it having to go down eighty-five feet below low water mark. They are now pumping forty-four pounds of air to the square inch into the caisson.

This work being completed the caisson. This work being completed, the caisson will be sealed up and attention given to the framing of three caissons during the season in which the river may raise. As soon as this danger is passed the other caissons will be sunk

BUSINESS OPENINGS IN MEXICO. Who Do and Who Do Not Make Money

-Ventures for Americans. City of Mexico correspondence to Boston Herald: Many young men write here, asking if there is an opening for them. Some desire clerkships and others have a small capital which they wish to invest in lands. It is not advisable for a young man to come here in quest of a clerkship, especially if unacquainted with the Span-ish language. Clerkships here, unless secured beforehand in some strongly established house or in a corporation, are not satisfactory. A young fellow coming here should have some good prospect of a steady rise in position, else he had bet-ter stay at home. Without the language he will be of little use to himself or any one else. A young Bostonian who came here a short time ago remarked in unconcealed astonishment: "Why, everybody speaks Spanish here, you know." If a Mexican had said to him in Boston that everybody speaks English he know." If a Mexican had said to him in Boston that everybody spoke English, he would have set that Mexican down as an idiot. For men with small capitals for investment in lands Mexico is not the country. For some time to come syndi-cates and large capitalists will continue to purchase big tracts, and agriculture will be carried on in this way. Not until some time will small tracts be available. There is a field here always for men with useful specialties. First-class mechanics who can afford a trip here to look over the ground might well come, and people with odd knacks which are worth money. For example, a young Portuguese came here recently on a venture. His only art was a rare ability to paint on silk. This seemed a mighty poor capital to invest here, but he got an introduction into wealthy families, and has now a good income from teaching the senoritas his novel and beautiful art. The Mexicans love decorations and the decorative arts. Some young people are doing well here as tutors of English in rich families, for English is a fasion-able rage, and the senoritas like to be able rage, and the senoritas like to be able to say a few charming things in the language of Shakespee-arr. It is quite the elegant thing to be able to say 'good bye' and 'how do you do?' in English, and the zeal with which some young Mexican ladies pursue English is worthy of the Boston girl's craze on German.

Cafe keeping here is profitable; and, as we have an American barber shop and American bar-rooms, it seems quite feasible to make money out of an American ble to make money out of an American cafe where one could get buckwheat cakes, pumpkin pie (good pumpkins grow here), fish-balls and other Yankee dishes. An elderly Englishman here has made money out of a regular Johnny Bull eating-house, where one can get beef and plum pudding and ale ad lib The French have their cafe, with their own cooking, but the American tourist finds little that is familiar here. A genuine American restaurant, run by a live and energetic man, would pay well. The growing taste for American light carriages suggests the idea that an Amer-ican livery stable would be a profitable venture. Rent need not be high, and labor would be very cheap, and I think that the youth of Mexico would patronize liberally a good stable where one teams for display on the Paseo could be had. There are not many good carriage roads here, but there is an opportunity to rent here, but there is an opportunity to rent out phætons, buggies, etc. It would be a decided novelty here. And why not a livery stable as well as the present roller skating rink, where the jeunesse doree of Mexico go to bark their shins and crack their crowns. The despised roller skating rink is succeeding here, and down in Vera Cruz they regard their rink as a most delightfully fashionable place of entertainment.

place of entertainment. Another American novelty which is paying handsomely here is the circus, permanently established near where the inquisition used to bother people with little iron arrangements for extracting information.
