TALKS WITH TRAVELERS. THE FIRST CUT TO CHICAGO.

The Milwaukee Makes a Slash on Passenger Traffic From Omaha.

The Shocking Tragedy of Which Edward Clapper Was the Victim-Thieves Tell What They Know -Other Local News.

Cheap Fare to Chicago.

The first cut in passenger rates from Omaha to Chicago will be inaugurated by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul this morning, when tickets will be placed on sale at the company's offices at reduced figures. Last night notification wassent to the Milwaukee's agents that the following rates would prevail from Council Bluffs to Chicago on and after to-day to-day: First-class, limited, $10. Second-class, limited, $8.50. This action is taken by the Milwankee road to retaliate on the Rock Island for its cut on passenger rates out of St. Paul. The Milwankee is preparing to have its own way in Omaha at the railroad office in the Paxton, as soon as the Rock Island transfers its quarters on Monday. EAU. SOTES.

RAIL NOTES .

There was no change yesterday in the situation in the local yards, so far as the moving of Missouri Pacific freight is concerned. Not a single car has yet been moved.

"The Republican seems to be considerably at sea in regard to the true conditions existing upon Portland traffic as indicated by recent reductions from Chicago or Omaha to Portland points," said a prominent freight official to a reporter "The truth of the matter is that the sixty-five cent rate inaugurated from Chicago to Portland upon all classes of freight, was the result of an urgent ap-appeal on the part of the Union Pacific road who demanded, so far as it was in their power, that Portland merchants should be as well protected in the Pacific coast struggle as were those doing business in San Francisco." "Again, that paper erred grossly in announcing the fact that the North Pacific owned a line of steamers from Pacific owned a line of steamers from Portland to San Francisco. Be assured that they do not own a single boat, but that they are compelled to utilize the steamers of the Oregon Railway & Navi-gation company which are equally open to the Union Pacific and Oregon Short Line. The article in the Republican places the Union Pacific in a false posi-tion since the Union Pacific are in postion, since the Union Pacific are in pos-session, not only of their usual route to San Francisco via. Ogden, but can, if they desire, utilize the route via steamer from Portland, thus showing that we are amply protected in the fight for our fair share of the Pacific coast traffic."

BAD BOYS TALK.

They Tell Tales of Who Bought Their Stolen Goods.

The trial of the two Van Ness boys and young Roth, members of the North Omaha band of young thieves, began in police court at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. A number of witnesses were sworn in relation to the various thefts committed and where the stolen articles were disposed of. The trial continued during the afternoon, and a number of interesting facts were developed. When Ralph Van Ness, the oldest of the three, was placed on the stand, he was closely questioned by a representaof the district attorney who conducted

It seems that both Short Interviews Gathered in the Howoman have been gossiping about each other's affairs and this has naturally led to a good deal of ill feeling between the two. Mrs. Simer gave satisfactory as-surance that she would keep the peace tel Rotundas. There are now about forty pro-ducing mines in that city, all of them yielding finely. Aspen, Col., promises to be a great mining point in the near future. Some magnificent deposits have been opened up there. unable to attend to his duties as fille in-spector for the past few days. Among the many letters of the sort which are continually received at army headquarters was one which General Howard got a few weeks since from a woman in Salt Lake City, Utah, asking for the pardon of her husband, a soldier, who had been sentenced to six months in the military prison for theft. The writer Union Pacific is talking of building a line from Aspen to Denver this summer, and I think that in all probability the branch will be constructed."

who had been sentenced to six months in the military prison, for theft. The writer described herself as being in the direst distress and poverty, and made a pitiful appeal for the release of her spouse. Thinking the case was really deserving of some further atten-tion, Gen. Howard wrote to the woman asking for further particulars. The let-ter never reached its destination, but was returned to Gen. Howard, through the dead letter office. The woman, in the meantime wrote again to the general, making a still more piteous appeal for Church Howe, Auburn, Neb .: [Mr. H. was seated in the Paxton rotunda last night, stroking his long, silken moustache complacently, and buried in a deep reverie.] "No, sir, I am not in Omaha on any special business-am spending the week here as a sort of vacation, enjoying the good grub. The Missouri Pacific will have that branch from Weeping Water to Lincoln constructed by September so meantime wrote again to the general, making a still more piteous appeal for the pardon of her husband. The matter was referred to Gen. McCook, commandant at Fort Douglas, where the convict had been serving before his im-prisonment. Gen. McCook in a letter to Gen. Howard, which was received yes-terday, says that he has examined the matter pretty fully and cannot report in that trains will be running over it. The teams to be employed on the grading force arrived in Louisville to-day, and start to work at once. What do I think about the rumored Missouri Pacific exten-sion into the northwest? There's nothing new about the northwest? There should great here should great it is only a question of time before such a road is built. Jay Gould will construct that branch when he gets ready, quietly and without making a great splurge about it before hand." matter pretty fully and cannot report in favor of the husband's relief. He says favor of the husband's rehef. He says that he received a visit from the wife, who claims to be in such distress and poverty, and that she was decked out in silks and satins, with heavy dia-monds thrown in by way of effect. Gen. McCook's opinion, in short, is that the Edward Eddy, Denver, Col.: [Mr. Eddy is president of the Omaha and Grant Smelting works, being in charge woman is an imposter, and that her hus-band ought to be compelled to serve out of the extensive refinery at Denver.] "I

An Iowa sheriff arrived in Omaha yesterday and arrested a Swede named Frank Kaster on a warrant charging him with forgery. The officer landed his prisoner at the central police station, promising to call for him in the afternoon. Yesterday morning he still maintained his innocence, but the evidence was too strong against him. He was sentenced to three months in jail (one month thereof on bread and water), on a charge of de-frauding a hotel. Judge Stenberg is frauding a hotel. Judge Stenberg is daily receiving notification of other for-geries which the young man has practiced on other business men about town, and if he were prosecuted in all of these cases it would go hard with him. F. B. Horton, a rustic from the interior of the state, had come to Omaha with $145 in his pocket and the intention of going to California on the cheap rate. He fell into bad company here, got to drinking and when he woke up yes-terday found himself in jail, minus his money and his ticket. He was released, and will take immediate "tie passage" for home. the case. He made a complete and detailed confession of the various thefts he had been connected with and what had become of the stolen goods. According to his story, under oath, he has been engaged in steal-ing for two years and a half, and dis-posed of almost all his booty to two men -George A. Hill, a saloon-keeper at Twenty-first and Cuming streets, and Zenas Stevens, a grocer in that vicinity. Van Ness also testified that for the last two years he had furnished Hill with nearly all the provisions for his house-hold, Mr. Hill telling him what he needed, and he (Van Ness) going out and stealing the desired articles. The boy also designated numerous articles stolen at various times from business men which he had sold to both Hill and Stevens. He said that he was in the act of concluding a bargain with the latter for the barrel of salsoda found buried back of Hill's saloon when Officer James came in and arrested him.

Leon Hewitt, atias "Sleepy," was also called as a witness. He said that he had sold stolen articles to Stevens. He entered the back door of the store and Stev-ens turned down the light and opened negotiations. He also related a number of instances which had come to his knowledge of the disposition of stolen property. . The trial was not concluded until after 5 o'clock. Judge Stenberg then sen-tenced Ralph Van Ness to thirty days in the county jail for stealing the sal soda, and held the other lads to the district court to be sent to the reform school.

Burned to Death.

Acting Coroner Maul was apprised yesterday of a terrible tragedy which took place Thursday morning in the western part of this county, about seven miles from Fremont. The victim of the affair was a man named Edward Clapper who was burned to death in a conflagration which destroyed the house in which he was asleep. Clapper had been in Fremont the previous day, enjoying a good time, and left for home late at night feel-ing in pretty good spirits, though not in-toxicated. That was the last seen of him alive. He went to his house, which was a one story cottage, and was found the next morning a blackened corpse, ly-ing amid the ruins of the par-tially destroyed structure. How or when the fire occurred is not known, and there is no one who can throw any light upon the matter. It is supposed that the unfortunate man went home, and feeling cold lighted a fire and dozed and feeling cold lighted a fire and dozed off to sleep. The theory is that the blaze caught from a defective flue, or something of the sort. Clapper was an unmarried man, and lived a hermit life, making a living by doing odd pieces of work. Very little is known about his antece-dents or relatives. Mr. Maul has de cided not to hold an inquest. The re-mains have been interred near Fremont.

A Letter From the People.

OMAHA, March 12, 1886 .- [Editor of the BEE.]-Seven months ago the city council passed a resolution ordering a sidewalk laid to the curbline, on the north and south side of Webster street, from Sixteenth street east to the St. Paul track. The board of public works advertised and ordered the work done, but they neglected their duty in not seeing that it was done. On the north side of Webster street, east of Thirteenth, not a plank has The Old Doctor been laid, but fourteen feet of the sidewalk is taken up with lumber. On the south side the St. Paul number yard takes up fourteen feet of the sidewalk with lumber and the sidewalk has been covered to a depth of about three feet with snow all winter.
