

THE DAILY BEE
COUNCIL BLUFFS.
MONDAY MORNING, MARCH 15.
OFFICE, NO. 12, PEARL STREET.

Delivered by carrier in any part of the city at twenty cents per week.
H. W. TILTON, Manager.

MINOR MENTION.
New spring goods at Reiter's.
Knox hats. Spring styles at Stubbs'.
First meeting of the new council to-night.

The supreme court is to meet here tomorrow.
The new school board, which is in fact the old one, will meet to-day.

R. McGuire is jailed for beating a board bill at the St. Jo house.
The American Express company has enlarged and refitted its local office.

Mass Wise sold on Saturday sixty head of mules to Malory & Cushing, railway contractors.

Quiet in police circles yesterday. Only two drunks run in—P. Hanifan and Robert Richardson.

The men at work on the new bridge have been laid off until after the spring rise of the river is past.

Interesting exercises are held each Friday afternoon in the school department of the Bloomer building.

Blanche Pouter was given a pleasant birthday surprise at her home on Vine street on Saturday evening by her many young friends.

Mrs. T. S. Hines of Dayton died yesterday morning of consumption at the residence of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Snow, in this city.

One of the best stock salesmen in the west is H. H. Inman of Council Bluffs, and those desiring the services of a well posted salesman should give Harry a call.

The A. O. H. dance in Masonic hall Wednesday night and the Rory O'Moore dramatic entertainment in the opera house Saturday night are both for the benefit of the Farnell fund.

It is said that the new mayor, instead of appointing his policemen all himself, will present to the new council a list of fifteen or twenty names and allow the aldermen to suggest which to select from these.

The old council had its last meeting on Saturday, and unanimously and enthusiastically sat down on Mayor Vaughan's veto of the ordinance raising the salaries of the city attorney and city engineer from $1,000 to $1,250.

The need of more policemen and less thieves was made apparent Saturday evening. A citizen called on Mayor Chapman, leaving his own car on the porch. When he came out the shoes were gone and the thief too.

The funeral of little Fannie H., infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Eisenman, was held yesterday afternoon and largely attended. The remains were laid away in the Hebrew cemetery at Oak Hill. Rabbi Benson of Omaha officiated.

A SHELL OF A CALABOOSE.
Several Prisoners Tumble Out of It, But Are Recaptured.

A COLD WATER JOLLIFICATION.
An Indian Pupil Jumps From a Train—Another Tribute to Robert Percival—The City's New Administration Begins To-day.

In Memoriam.
Whereas, the Grand Master of the universe, in his divine wisdom has called from this lodge to the celestial one above our beloved brother, Robert Percival, Be it

Resolved, That it is with profound sorrow we place upon our records this last affectionate tribute to his memory.

That while we bow with humble submission to the divine will, Excelsior lodge No. 250, A. F. & A. M., mourns the loss of our brother as one justly beloved, whose genial temperament, goodness of heart and strict integrity, won to himself the regard and respect of friends and associates.

That this lodge shall wear the usual emblem of mourning out of respect for him.

That we express to the relatives and friends who have been admitted to the warm glow of his personal friendship and the enjoyment of his social intercourse, our heartfelt sympathy in their bereavement.

And finally that these resolutions be published in the city papers.

Digging Out of Jail.
Saturday evening another jail break was made from the city calaboose.

The prisoners were in the corridor, bent left there to eat their supper before being locked in their cells. Deputy Marshal Mullen stepped over to the city building for a few minutes, and taking advantage of his absence they went to work on the brick wall, at the hole where the escape was made a short time ago.

Four of them had succeeded in crawling out, and the fifth was passing out some of their clothing and preparing to follow, when Mullen came onto them. He pulled his gun and marched them around to the front door and into jail again.

The prisoners were taken to the city jail, and it is said that they had made good their escape there would have been no great regret felt. The fault in the city jail could be remedied by the expenditure of a few dollars, but it seems to be neglected for some reason. The jail was never properly finished for holding prisoners, and it seems to be among the things which should first command the attention of the new city administration.

Best coal and wood in the city at Gleason's, 25 Pearl street.

Indian Boy Hurt.
Friday night as passenger train No. 3 was nearing Denison a small Indian boy jumped or fell from the cars while they were at full speed.

The boy was one of a company which Mr. Lewis was taking from Pine Ridge agency to the Philadelphia school. When the train came to a stop at Denison the conductor and Mr. W. V. Lewis went back, and found the boy lying insensible, his head badly cut and other injuries quite serious.

They brought him in a bus, and had him cared for at the hotel. He was at last conscious still unconscious, but there are hopes for his recovery. The other boys were taken care of by Mr. Lewis, and if this little fellow gets along as well as is now hoped for he will follow in the course of a week or so.

visiting his wife who, until recently, was in the military business. They are stopping at the Bechtel hotel.

Miss Rickman, who was taken quite ill at the People's store one day last week, had a similar attack Friday, and is quite seriously ill. It proves to be a heart difficulty.

Capt. O. M. Brown has returned from Ohio, whither he was called by the illness of his mother. He found her health improving somewhat when he arrived, and returned home, leaving his wife there.

A LUCKY PAYMASTER.
A Gambling Story of the War—Shrewd Schemes that Failed.

Detroit Free Press: During the two last years of the war I assisted in running a gambling den in Cincinnati. This statement will prepare the reader to believe that I was a bold, bad man. I shall not make my excuses to weaken this statement, but set out to relate an incident of those exciting times, and my being good or bad will not add to or detract from its interest.

We found a way after a while to drop $5 into the major's pocket, and put a good man at his elbow, and the result was as anticipated. During the next week he visited our rooms two or three times, and "dropped" about half the money. All his passes, and play tickets and one night during the second week he came into the game with $55. We were playing for a high stake. It was known to a certainty that he had from $10,000 to $20,000 in his safe, and that was the bundle our fingers itched to grasp.

Redwood was allowed to win until he had piled $2,000 before him. He then lost steadily until his pile was reduced to $500. We could see how desperate he was growing under his losses, for it is a fact that men had sooner lose their own honest money than to part with that gained by play. The paymaster of $2,000 and $500 dropped back to $200. Then he won $100, and dropped back to $75. He was now considerably under the influence of liquor and thoroughly excited.

He staked his $75 on one turn and won; he staked his pile again and lost. Ten minutes later we had his diamond pin and watch. When he had been cleaned out he uttered a tremendous oath and exclaimed: "Luck has been against me, but I will bust this bank or blow my brains out! Keep my place here for half an hour!"

He beckoned to an inward room, and put on his trail and the two went off together. We knew the paymaster was going after the greenbacks he had in his safe. He had been drinking but was by no means overcome, and then he proceeded to play the liquor from working on him. However, when he got out doors he began to get drunk pretty fast, and by the time he reached his office he was badly muddled. He could not remember the combination on which he had locked the safe. He was showered with cold water and filled up with strong coffee, and in brief, we worked him for two hours, but he was sober senses back, but the more we worked him the worse he got. He was finally left alone in his office, half dead with the treatment. Next day his hands of his escape reached the authorities at Washington, and, although he was not relieved, he received such a caution and was obliged to make such promises that he was never afterward even seen in a saloon. Had he been able to get into the safe that night we should have scooped in every dollar of the money.

PILES! PILES! PILES!
A sure cure for Blind, Bleeding, Itching and Ulcerated Piles has been discovered by Dr. Williams' (an inward remedy), called Dr. Williams' Indian Pile Ointment. A single box has cured the worst chronic cases of 25 or 30 years standing. By one who suffers five minutes after applying this wonderful ointment. Lotions and instruments do more harm than good. Williams' Indian Pile Ointment absorbs the tan and always intense itching, particularly at night after getting warm in bed, acts as a poultice, gives instant relief, and is guaranteed to cure all itching of private parts, and for nothing else.

SKIN DISEASES CURED.
Dr. Francis' Magic Ointment cures all by magic. Eruptions on the face, leaving the skin clear and beautiful. Also cures Itch, Eczema, Scabies, Nipples, Sores, Ulcers, Old Obsolete Ulcers.

Sold by druggists, or mailed on receipt of 50 cents.
Retailed by Kuhl & Co., and Schroeter & Conrad. At wholesale by C. F. Goodman.

The Funeral of a Chinese Vanderbilt.
Pall Mall Gazette: The Vanderbilt of China has just died and been buried. Not much is known in Europe of his life, less of his death, but the funeral is said to have been most picturesque. The face of Hang Chou was a miracle of luxury, and in creating this banker a provincial judge, and specially authorizing him to wear a yellow robe, the emperor of China made him the envy of all his other subjects.

But the glory of his funeral seems to have surpassed the splendor of his life. The whole city turned out to see the procession. First came a mob of coolies weighed down with leaden, on which were written moral sentences and apothegms. Then followed a procession of palanquins, supported by coolies, and musicians with songs, gongs, cymbals, and trumpets. It is hard to conceive anything less funeral. A hundred little boys came after the band brandishing the horrible arms of the deceased. The boys were followed by the bearers of his portrait.

Groups of ghosts came next in procession, some in white, some in red, some in yellow; then bearers of lamps, banners, parasols and fans; next the master of the ceremonies in white robes, on a white horse, preceding an enormous tent, under which the relatives of the deceased moved, entirely hidden from public view, and last the coffin borne on the shoulders of twenty-four men.

His Style of Cutting.
"Have you taken notice, Fred, what a nifty style there is to Mr. Sponger's attire?"
"Oh, yes! It always looks as if it was hung in there under protection."
"Very likely he does his own cutting."
"He does. His chief employment is cutting out of the way of his creditors."

Down on Anything Which Can't Kick.
Wall Street News: "Can you tell me," he asked, as he entered an office on Broad street, the other day, "why the railroads should discriminate so heavily against dressed-meat over live stock?"
"Certainly, sir. Dressed-meat is dead, isn't it?"
"Of course."
"Well, anything which can't kick is always bulldozed by a railroad company."

Henry Augustus is out again. St. Jacobs Oil cured his rheumatism. Fifty cents.

A Simple Request Granted.
"Look here, judge," said the burglar. "I ain't so bad as you think I am. Only give me time and I'll reform."
And the judge gave him fifteen years.

To the Public

Circumstances beyond our control have delayed the closing out of our entire stock as we had proposed.

The approaching season of spring trade finds us with a goodly stock of Dry Goods and Carpets, some lines depleted but cleared of unattractive goods.

Being in the dry goods business we know of no better place to continue the same than in Council Bluffs. We shall therefore re-stock every department with new and seasonable goods. Our Mr. E. E. Harkness, is now making purchases in eastern markets, and we shall soon have a

Choice, New Stock

To offer our customers. Our carpet department will be complete with the new patterns of Moquette, Body Brussels, Etc., Etc., Curtains and certain goods from domestic and foreign markets.

We have already on our tables the choicest selections of Swiss and Hamburg embroideries ever offered in the city, and an excellent assortment of white goods to which we shall make frequent additions.

We thank our many patrons for their favors and good will in the past, and we shall endeavor to merit the same in the future, by attention to their interests, and by good goods and we invite all to call and examine our new purchases before buying in other markets.
