MINOR MENTION.

New spring goods at Reiter's. Conly one drunk to dispose of in police court yesterday.

Yesterday afternoon painters began to paint the ground floor of the Ogden house

The first work for the new police was to respond a call for an officer to care for Sport Miller.

Ex-City Treasurer Clausen was yester-day initiating the new treasurer, Mr. Spetman, into the mysteries of the city

To-night the Ancient Order of Hibernians are to give their grand ball in Temple hall. The affair promises to be a Miss Elizabeth F. Poppleton of Omaha will commence a series of lectures on "Shakespeare" at the Baptist church on Thursday evening. The course will com-prise seven lectures. City Auditor Kinnehan has been suffering for several days with a lame wrist, and until he is able to attend personally to the duties of his office he will be assisted by E. J. Abbott. Mr. Hitchcock, of Modale, the father of the young man who it is stated jumped into a well because his sweethcart went back on him. is in the city, and says he thinks his son, Cary, fell into the well instead of jumping in. The street car company will vacate their old barn before April 1, as Lewis & Arnd have leased the same. The street car company will use their new barn below the Broadway depot.

Dan Carrigg has purchased the building on Broadway so long known as Pat Lacy's place. William Lacy will continue to run the saloon, while Dan will have charge of the tables.

Mayor Chapman's inaugural has called forth many words of praise. He has out-lined many needed reforms and changes and if he carries out his avowed policy the city will be bettered in many respects

"Tex," the shining light behind the Phoenix bar, last night had a scarf pin that took the glimmer out of all com-petitors. It is an electric scarf pin, and looms up like the headlight of a miniature The contracts for putting up the building for the new canning factory have been let, J. P. Weayer having the brick work and the carpenter work being let to G. S. Lawson. The work is to be completed by the first of July. Permit to wed was yesterday granted Peter Johnson and Marian C. Miller, both of Norwalk township; Leonard Sen-bert and Paulina Neumeyer, both of this city; Hans H. Witt, of Boomer, and Christina Jensen, of Hazel Dell. The new city council did not waste any time in getting organized and at work. The speedy election of officers was a pleasing relief from the prolonged tussles which have characterized the previous organizations of new councils. The cramped and inconvenient arrangement of the city building is causing some agitation of the project for enlarging and improving it. The council chamber is particularly too small, and when there is any meeting of special interest eager citizens have to pack themselves in like raisins. Now that the city has a police force the old force the pay was $60 a month, paid in general fund warrants, which they often sold at twenty-five cents discount, so that they realized only about $45 a month cash. The least that can be done is to pay them in eash. The era of good feeling seems to have dawned on the city. Confidence in the city government is restored, and it remains with the powers that be as to whether this confidence shall be retained. The people will not give place to suspicion until the officials give just occasion therefor.

The other evangelists have pulled out of the contract for holding meetings in Dohany's old hall, and Alf. Morris has it alone. He will continue his meetings there nightly until further notice. Yes-terday he gave another of his spirited street talks. He is peculiar, but may be doing good and reaching a class which others might not be able to touch.

The decks are at last cleared for action in the case of Vincent against the city. A motion was made for judgment, and the city attorney moved to have this stricken from the files. Judge Aylesworth overruled both, and thus cleared the way for a chance to get at the case itself. It is expected that a decision on the merits of the case itself will be had in

There seems to be a disposition to divide up the city offices pretty evenly between the political parties. Of the police force three are democrats, one green-backer, the others republican. The newly elect chief of the fire department is a democrat, although elected by a republi-can council. The new city clerk has not enough partisanship to count on either side, he having had about as many nominations from one party as the other.

F. W. Vosswinkle leaves to-day for Fairbury, Neb., where he intends going into business, real estate, insurance, loans, etc., in company with Nate Phillips, also of this city. These young men are both well known here. Mr. Vosswinkle has been with Odell & Day for some time past, and is a young man thoroughly experienced and reliable. Mr. Phillipps has also many friends here to wish him the best of success, and the new firm will doubtless spring into a large and profitable business.

To morrow evening the musical insti-tute opens in the parlors of the Congrega-tional church. The presence of Prof. T. Martin Towne affords a most excellent opportunity to all to gain musical culture at a nominal cost. Those who love music should rally enthusiastically about this effort to further the culture of the city. Classes are to be organized at once, and those who desire to secure their advan-tages should lose no time in completing their arrangements. Prof. Towne is a musician and instructor whose name is familiar to all lovers of music, and his rank as one of the best directors and teachers in the land is conceded.

The new city weighmaster, Mr. Amy, is getting the city scales in good shape, and his office in the city building ready for business. He expects to open up to-morrow morning. It is understood that an effort will be made to have the city grounds so arranged as to provide a market place at the junction of Main and Pearl streets. This change has been attempted before, but with no very satisfactory results. There seems now a good prospect for the change being made, and the present council is said to be disposed to protect the officer elected by the people, and not allow his business to be perle, and not allow his business to be performed by private parties. Such a result will not be brought about without a struggle, however.

CHANGES IN THE RAILHOADS.

Opening of the Supreme Court-Annual Election of the National League-The New Fire Chief -Other Gatherings.

Railroad Rumpus. Yesterday was a lively day in railroad circles, the excitement being confined however to the ticket offices and railroad

As was stated in yesterday's BEE, the Rock Island road, through their representative here, obtained the lease of the "Union" ticket office, No. 507 Broadway, and on account of the Milwaukee and the Northwestern roads cutting passenger rates from this city to Chicago, the Rock Island gave these two roads notice "to quit," after which the notice was reseinded, only to be recalled yesterday morning on orders from Chicago. This left the Milwaukee and Northwestern no alternative except to hunt other quarters in which to sell their tickets.

The Milwaukee on Monday, by their representative, F. A. Nash, concluded, even after the notice to "move out" was rescinded, that the proper move for them was to hunt other quarters, as they were afraid the Rock Island folks might at any time serve them with a similar notice, although at that time the difficul-ties seemed to be healed. Consequently, Mr. Nash made application to the Coun-cil Bluffs & St. Louis road (formerly the Wabash) for quarters in their office by which J. C. Mitchell, the agent, could handle the Milwaukee's tickets. As the receiver of the Council Bluffs & St. Louis road was not in the city, Mr. Nash had to await a reply. That reply will probably be given this afternoon or late this evening, as Colonel T. McKissock, the receiver, is expected on the atternoon train from the south.

The Chicago & Northwestern people were a little behind, as their general agent is in Salt Lake and is not expected from the south. home until Saturday. At any rate, Mr. M. J. Alworth, the local freight agent, yesterday morning also made an application to be admitted to the Council Bluffs & St. Louis ticket office, No. 421 Broadway, at that time not knowing of the way, at that time not knowing of the Milwaukee's move. The Northwestern's application will also be accepted or rejected to-day.

Mr. Lane, the local agent of the Milwaukee, late yesterday afternoon relieved the auditor, Mr. Button, of the tickets he had just checked up in the 'union' office, where they remain locked up to await developments.

await developments.
The Northwestern tickets were checked up by Auditor Moses yesterday and taken to the Northwestern local depot.

The only roads now remaining in the late Union office are the Rock Island and the Union Pacific, of which A. T. Elwell remains the agent.

Painters will probably to-day obliterate the names of the roads going out, and another "union" office may possibly be opened on the old Wabash corner, while the "Q" and "K. C." offices will remain at their old stand.

The New Constellation.

The new police force went on duty vesterday. It is a surprise to many that the new mayor has been able to get such a class of citizens to serve upon the force. There are but two of the old force retained, Officers O'Brien and Beswick. They have made excellent records and their retention will meet with general satisfaction, although the reappointment of O'Brien is the hardest blow which the old force could have been given at the hands of the new administration. He was largely instrumental in bringing to light some of the doings of the old force, and some of those who suffered in consequence felt that all efforts should be used to keep O'Brien from being reappointed, while the rest of them were to be retired. These efforts proved of no avail, and O'Brien has been added to the new force. Among those who retired were some good men, but the reputation of the old force as a whole was so badly damaged by the general demorali-zation that it seemed best to have vir-tually a new force. Some of the old police force were not so much to blame individually as was the mayor, who was really chief of police. The tion of the force began with him. He had Skinner for chief in name, but he would not let him be chief in fact. The mayor interfered with him until the whole force felt that really Skinner was no authority. The mayor put men on in spite of the protests of the chief, and when the chief suspended officers the mayor would reverse the rulings.

Much of the trouble with the old force

Much of the trouble with the old force was due to this lack of harmony, and lack of authority. Added to this was the especial laxity of some of the members of the force. Now there has been a general cleaning out, and the new force starts in composed of as good a set of men as any city can produce. There is not a man on the force but has the confidence of the community, and there is not dence of the community, and there is not a bummer or loafer in the whole list.

Mayor Chapman proposes to have the discipline of the force kept up to the highest standard. He yesterday furnished each of the men with a copy of the new rules, which are briefer than those formulated by the retiring mayor, but which are to the point. It is understood that there will be no brass band parade, or feather and medal business, but that attention to duty will be the chief order of the day and night. The rules are:

Any person belonging to the police force shall be subject to suspension or dismissal for any of the following causes: 1-For taking a drink of any intoxicant while on duty.

2—For intoxication while off duty. 3-For using indecent, profane or harsh language.

4—For unnecessary violence to prisoners or citizens.
5—For leaving his beat or other absence without cause, or accepting any gift from any person connected with a saloon, gambling house or house of prostitution. 5-For entering houses of prostitution gambling houses or rooms, saloons or sporting houses of any description, while on duty, unless called there officially

7—For making known any proposed movement of the force.
8—For withholding from the mayor or chief any information pertaining to the efficiency of the service or better protec-

Business Chat. H. C. Addis, agent for the Eureka windmills, who has been traveling through this western country for many years, yesterday expressed his opinion to a BEE man in regard to business the coming season, and the future of the west, in substance and the future of the west, in substance as follows. "Business will pick up very lively now. Just as soon as the snow disappears and the weather becomes favorable all lines will then begin to boom. The implement trade in Nebraska will, I predict, be greater than at any time during the history of the state. Immigrants are flocking in, and inside of live years I believe all the lands between here and the Rocky mountains will be one vast farming district. Rain in the heretofore dry districts is becoming more frequent, caused to a great extent by the large amount of timber growing up. Irrigation will be unnecessary and the land that has been passed by, as being of no use except for grazing purposes, will shortly become a farming district of vast importance. Southwestern Nebraska is importance. Southwestern Nebraska is in a booming condition, and farming in this section has been fully demonstrated."

Changes at the Transfer.

Several changes in the way of promotions have taken place at the freight transfer. Alex Hodge, who was formerly in the cashier's department under William H. Burns, the agent, has been promoted and is now in the ticket office at the passenger transfer. R. H. Pollock has been given the place vacated by Mr. Hodge's promotion. Mr. Pollock was formerly abstract clerk in the west bound department. John Ludlow, who has been working on the "Q freight received," takes Mr. Pollock's place. Joseph Hoppock takes Ludlow's place and Mr. Eagan takes Hoppock's position. The above move necessarily gives all of these gentlemen an increase in salary.

A check clerk and four men employed in the "gent", who were laid off or year.

in the "gang," who were laid off on ac-count, as is alleged, of appearing for duty in an intoxicated condition, have been reinstated after an investigation by the agent, Mr. W. H. Burns.

Hall to the Chief.

The city council, in electing John L-Templeton as chief of the fire department, has acted in accordance with the wish of a very large majority of the citizens, and there will be no occasion to regret the choice. He has been a member of the fire department for fifteen years, and is not only thoroughly experienced, but has shown himself to have peculiar ability for such a position. He was the chief of the department for about three years, and should have been kept in that place. Now that he is restored, there will be general satisfact on. He is enthusiastic, reliable, posted, and honest. The department cannot but increase in efficiency under his charge. under his charge.

The Supreme Court. The supreme court of Iowa opened its session here yesterday. There was little done beyond the preliminary work, no decisions being rendered. All the judges are here except Judge Beck, who is ill and is at the Hot Springs in Arkansas. The other judges, together with Clerk Pray and Attorney General Baker, are on hand. Some decisions will probably be rendered to-day. The city marshal has sent into the council his appointments of a night a day jailer. The appointments have been laid over until the next meeting of the council. It is understood that the present council will not favor the employment of two city jailers, and the ordinance creating these offices will proba-bly be repealed or modified. The police adquarters will be hereafter at the city jail, and an attempt will be made to ar range for having the police force help in caring for the jail, instead of allowing the marshal two paid deputies. The marshal's office is a lucrative one, and it is thought he can afford to hire his own
