

THE SENATE SCORES A POINT

Manning Creates a Rent in the Deadlock With the Administration.

REASONS GRACEFULLY GIVEN.

Proposed Change in Banking Laws Affecting Omaha—Dr. Norvin Green's Bad Boy—Western Postmasters Appointed.

Backdown By the Administration.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—[Special Telegram.]—There seems to be quite a rent in the deadlock between the senate and the president...

Washington, March 18.—[Special Telegram.]

The senate today passed, without debate, the bill providing for a commission of five persons to investigate the alcoholic liquor traffic...

Proposed Change in Banking Laws.

At present the national banking law requires that every banking association be located at Baltimore, Boston, Albany, Charleston, Chicago, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Detroit, Louisville, Milwaukee, New Orleans, New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Richmond, St. Louis, San Francisco and Washington...

The Bad Boy of a Rich Father.

Dr. Norvin Green, a prominent citizen of the West, who has been a member of the senate...

Capital Gleanings.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—The supervising architect recommends that a special appropriation be asked for the purchase of the following named public buildings...

Postmasters Nominated.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—The president sent the following nominations to the senate: To be postmasters at New Orleans, Samuels H. Back; at Canton, H. A. Perkins; at Sullivan, W. William Kirkwood; at Geneva, H. John C. Strader.

The President's Birthday.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—The president was born on today. There were no celebrations of any occasion at the white house.

Germany's Challenge to France.

BREITEN, March 18.—The post says: France confesses she is willing to attack Germany. This is serious. Germany, who desired to conciliate France will now recognize the uselessness of enticement, and will wish that Frenchmen will soon find the opportunity they desire.

SHOT BY A SISTER CYPRIAN

Jealousy Leads to a Terrible Tragedy in a Des Moines Bagnio.

THE LOVERS' TRIP CUT SHORT.

The Dying Woman Charges the Crime to Her Companion—Yesterday's Work in Both Legislative Branches.

Jealousy Leads to Murder.

DES MOINES, Iowa, March 18.—[Special Telegram.]—A shocking and mysterious tragedy occurred here to-day, which is baffling the ingenuity of the police. A house of questionable character on Cherry street was broken into about 1 o'clock this afternoon...

Water Receding at Columbus.

COLUMBUS, Mo., March 18.—[Special Telegram.]—The water of the river is receding rapidly. The anxiety for the safety of property is abating, and a feeling of security from further encroachments of the river prevails.

The Elkhorn Over Its Banks.

NORFOLK, Neb., March 18.—[Special Telegram.]—A rapid rise of the north fork of the Elkhorn caused an overflow of a portion of the lower part of this city early this morning, creating considerable consternation but causing no injury to the houses and but little damage to property.

A MANIA FOR FIRE.

A B-y Roasts His Brother and the School. READING, Pa., March 18.—The city superintendent of schools was informed yesterday of a pupil just entered in the public schools here who shows a remarkable mania for torturing persons and animals with fire.

NEBRASKA BUDGETS.

Dedictory Services at the State Normal School.

GAVE THE WHOLE GAME AWAY

A Loquacious New York Alderman Peaches on His Fellow Brick Takers.

A CLEVER DETECTIVE'S WORK.

Worms Into the Confidence of the Councilman, Secures Criminal Evidence, and Then Arrests His Dupe.

A Rascally Alderman Arrested.

NEW YORK, March 18.—Alderman Henry W. Jaehne was arrested at the city hall at noon to-day, charged with bribery. This arrest is due to the testimony produced against Jaehne before the Broadway investigation committee on the 13th of the month.

Water Receding at Columbus.

COLUMBUS, Mo., March 18.—[Special Telegram.]—The water of the river is receding rapidly. The anxiety for the safety of property is abating, and a feeling of security from further encroachments of the river prevails.

The Elkhorn Over Its Banks.

NORFOLK, Neb., March 18.—[Special Telegram.]—A rapid rise of the north fork of the Elkhorn caused an overflow of a portion of the lower part of this city early this morning, creating considerable consternation but causing no injury to the houses and but little damage to property.

A MANIA FOR FIRE.

A B-y Roasts His Brother and the School. READING, Pa., March 18.—The city superintendent of schools was informed yesterday of a pupil just entered in the public schools here who shows a remarkable mania for torturing persons and animals with fire.

Water Receding at Columbus.

COLUMBUS, Mo., March 18.—[Special Telegram.]—The water of the river is receding rapidly. The anxiety for the safety of property is abating, and a feeling of security from further encroachments of the river prevails.

The Elkhorn Over Its Banks.

NORFOLK, Neb., March 18.—[Special Telegram.]—A rapid rise of the north fork of the Elkhorn caused an overflow of a portion of the lower part of this city early this morning, creating considerable consternation but causing no injury to the houses and but little damage to property.

A MANIA FOR FIRE.

A B-y Roasts His Brother and the School. READING, Pa., March 18.—The city superintendent of schools was informed yesterday of a pupil just entered in the public schools here who shows a remarkable mania for torturing persons and animals with fire.

Water Receding at Columbus.

COLUMBUS, Mo., March 18.—[Special Telegram.]—The water of the river is receding rapidly. The anxiety for the safety of property is abating, and a feeling of security from further encroachments of the river prevails.

The Elkhorn Over Its Banks.

NORFOLK, Neb., March 18.—[Special Telegram.]—A rapid rise of the north fork of the Elkhorn caused an overflow of a portion of the lower part of this city early this morning, creating considerable consternation but causing no injury to the houses and but little damage to property.

A MANIA FOR FIRE.

A B-y Roasts His Brother and the School. READING, Pa., March 18.—The city superintendent of schools was informed yesterday of a pupil just entered in the public schools here who shows a remarkable mania for torturing persons and animals with fire.

Water Receding at Columbus.

COLUMBUS, Mo., March 18.—[Special Telegram.]—The water of the river is receding rapidly. The anxiety for the safety of property is abating, and a feeling of security from further encroachments of the river prevails.

The Elkhorn Over Its Banks.

NORFOLK, Neb., March 18.—[Special Telegram.]—A rapid rise of the north fork of the Elkhorn caused an overflow of a portion of the lower part of this city early this morning, creating considerable consternation but causing no injury to the houses and but little damage to property.

A MANIA FOR FIRE.

A B-y Roasts His Brother and the School. READING, Pa., March 18.—The city superintendent of schools was informed yesterday of a pupil just entered in the public schools here who shows a remarkable mania for torturing persons and animals with fire.

Water Receding at Columbus.

COLUMBUS, Mo., March 18.—[Special Telegram.]—The water of the river is receding rapidly. The anxiety for the safety of property is abating, and a feeling of security from further encroachments of the river prevails.

THE SOUTHERN BUTCHERY.

Accurate Information of Yesterday's Horrible Crime.

TWO DAYS WILL SEE THE END

The Great Gould Strike in a Fair Way to Draw Its Last Gasp.

COMPROMISE SEEMS PROBABLE

Master Workman Powderly, On the Scene of the Trouble, Wonders Why It Was Ever Instituted—Predicts a Settlement.

The Strike Nearing the End.

ST. LOUIS, March 18.—A general impression prevails here this morning in railroad circles that the Gould strike is nearing the end. The rumor is that the concentration of Powderly, general master workman of the Knights of Labor, to confer with the dissatisfied Gould knights, and they express confidence that his efforts towards a settlement of the difficulties will result successfully and in their favor.

Water Receding at Columbus.

COLUMBUS, Mo., March 18.—[Special Telegram.]—The water of the river is receding rapidly. The anxiety for the safety of property is abating, and a feeling of security from further encroachments of the river prevails.

The Elkhorn Over Its Banks.

NORFOLK, Neb., March 18.—[Special Telegram.]—A rapid rise of the north fork of the Elkhorn caused an overflow of a portion of the lower part of this city early this morning, creating considerable consternation but causing no injury to the houses and but little damage to property.

A MANIA FOR FIRE.

A B-y Roasts His Brother and the School. READING, Pa., March 18.—The city superintendent of schools was informed yesterday of a pupil just entered in the public schools here who shows a remarkable mania for torturing persons and animals with fire.

Water Receding at Columbus.

COLUMBUS, Mo., March 18.—[Special Telegram.]—The water of the river is receding rapidly. The anxiety for the safety of property is abating, and a feeling of security from further encroachments of the river prevails.

The Elkhorn Over Its Banks.

NORFOLK, Neb., March 18.—[Special Telegram.]—A rapid rise of the north fork of the Elkhorn caused an overflow of a portion of the lower part of this city early this morning, creating considerable consternation but causing no injury to the houses and but little damage to property.

A MANIA FOR FIRE.

A B-y Roasts His Brother and the School. READING, Pa., March 18.—The city superintendent of schools was informed yesterday of a pupil just entered in the public schools here who shows a remarkable mania for torturing persons and animals with fire.

Water Receding at Columbus.

COLUMBUS, Mo., March 18.—[Special Telegram.]—The water of the river is receding rapidly. The anxiety for the safety of property is abating, and a feeling of security from further encroachments of the river prevails.

The Elkhorn Over Its Banks.

NORFOLK, Neb., March 18.—[Special Telegram.]—A rapid rise of the north fork of the Elkhorn caused an overflow of a portion of the lower part of this city early this morning, creating considerable consternation but causing no injury to the houses and but little damage to property.

A MANIA FOR FIRE.

A B-y Roasts His Brother and the School. READING, Pa., March 18.—The city superintendent of schools was informed yesterday of a pupil just entered in the public schools here who shows a remarkable mania for torturing persons and animals with fire.

Water Receding at Columbus.

COLUMBUS, Mo., March 18.—[Special Telegram.]—The water of the river is receding rapidly. The anxiety for the safety of property is abating, and a feeling of security from further encroachments of the river prevails.

The Elkhorn Over Its Banks.

NORFOLK, Neb., March 18.—[Special Telegram.]—A rapid rise of the north fork of the Elkhorn caused an overflow of a portion of the lower part of this city early this morning, creating considerable consternation but causing no injury to the houses and but little damage to property.

A MANIA FOR FIRE.

A B-y Roasts His Brother and the School. READING, Pa., March 18.—The city superintendent of schools was informed yesterday of a pupil just entered in the public schools here who shows a remarkable mania for torturing persons and animals with fire.

Water Receding at Columbus.

COLUMBUS, Mo., March 18.—[Special Telegram.]—The water of the river is receding rapidly. The anxiety for the safety of property is abating, and a feeling of security from further encroachments of the river prevails.

THE SOUTHERN BUTCHERY.

Accurate Information of Yesterday's Horrible Crime.

TWO DAYS WILL SEE THE END

The Great Gould Strike in a Fair Way to Draw Its Last Gasp.

COMPROMISE SEEMS PROBABLE

Master Workman Powderly, On the Scene of the Trouble, Wonders Why It Was Ever Instituted—Predicts a Settlement.

The Strike Nearing the End.

ST. LOUIS, March 18.—A general impression prevails here this morning in railroad circles that the Gould strike is nearing the end. The rumor is that the concentration of Powderly, general master workman of the Knights of Labor, to confer with the dissatisfied Gould knights, and they express confidence that his efforts towards a settlement of the difficulties will result successfully and in their favor.

Water Receding at Columbus.

COLUMBUS, Mo., March 18.—[Special Telegram.]—The water of the river is receding rapidly. The anxiety for the safety of property is abating, and a feeling of security from further encroachments of the river prevails.

The Elkhorn Over Its Banks.

NORFOLK, Neb., March 18.—[Special Telegram.]—A rapid rise of the north fork of the Elkhorn caused an overflow of a portion of the lower part of this city early this morning, creating considerable consternation but causing no injury to the houses and but little damage to property.

A MANIA FOR FIRE.

A B-y Roasts His Brother and the School. READING, Pa., March 18.—The city superintendent of schools was informed yesterday of a pupil just entered in the public schools here who shows a remarkable mania for torturing persons and animals with fire.

Water Receding at Columbus.

COLUMBUS, Mo., March 18.—[Special Telegram.]—The water of the river is receding rapidly. The anxiety for the safety of property is abating, and a feeling of security from further encroachments of the river prevails.

The Elkhorn Over Its Banks.

NORFOLK, Neb., March 18.—[Special Telegram.]—A rapid rise of the north fork of the Elkhorn caused an overflow of a portion of the lower part of this city early this morning, creating considerable consternation but causing no injury to the houses and but little damage to property.

A MANIA FOR FIRE.

A B-y Roasts His Brother and the School. READING, Pa., March 18.—The city superintendent of schools was informed yesterday of a pupil just entered in the public schools here who shows a remarkable mania for torturing persons and animals with fire.

Water Receding at Columbus.

COLUMBUS, Mo., March 18.—[Special Telegram.]—The water of the river is receding rapidly. The anxiety for the safety of property is abating, and a feeling of security from further encroachments of the river prevails.

The Elkhorn Over Its Banks.

NORFOLK, Neb., March 18.—[Special Telegram.]—A rapid rise of the north fork of the Elkhorn caused an overflow of a portion of the lower part of this city early this morning, creating considerable consternation but causing no injury to the houses and but little damage to property.

A MANIA FOR FIRE.

A B-y Roasts His Brother and the School. READING, Pa., March 18.—The city superintendent of schools was informed yesterday of a pupil just entered in the public schools here who shows a remarkable mania for torturing persons and animals with fire.

Water Receding at Columbus.

COLUMBUS, Mo., March 18.—[Special Telegram.]—The water of the river is receding rapidly. The anxiety for the safety of property is abating, and a feeling of security from further encroachments of the river prevails.

The Elkhorn Over Its Banks.

NORFOLK, Neb., March 18.—[Special Telegram.]—A rapid rise of the north fork of the Elkhorn caused an overflow of a portion of the lower part of this city early this morning, creating considerable consternation but causing no injury to the houses and but little damage to property.

A MANIA FOR FIRE.

A B-y Roasts His Brother and the School. READING, Pa., March 18.—The city superintendent of schools was informed yesterday of a pupil just entered in the public schools here who shows a remarkable mania for torturing persons and animals with fire.

Water Receding at Columbus.

COLUMBUS, Mo., March 18.—[Special Telegram.]—The water of the river is receding rapidly. The anxiety for the safety of property is abating, and a feeling of security from further encroachments of the river prevails.

THE SOUTHERN BUTCHERY.

Accurate Information of Yesterday's Horrible Crime.

TWO DAYS WILL SEE THE END

The Great Gould Strike in a Fair Way to Draw Its Last Gasp.

COMPROMISE SEEMS PROBABLE

Master Workman Powderly, On the Scene of the Trouble, Wonders Why It Was Ever Instituted—Predicts a Settlement.

The Strike Nearing the End.

ST. LOUIS, March 18.—A general impression prevails here this morning in railroad circles that the Gould strike is nearing the end. The rumor is that the concentration of Powderly, general master workman of the Knights of Labor, to confer with the dissatisfied Gould knights, and they express confidence that his efforts towards a settlement of the difficulties will result successfully and in their favor.

Water Receding at Columbus.

COLUMBUS, Mo., March 18.—[Special Telegram.]—The water of the river is receding rapidly. The anxiety for the safety of property is abating, and a feeling of security from further encroachments of the river prevails.

The Elkhorn Over Its Banks.

NORFOLK, Neb., March 18.—[Special Telegram.]—A rapid rise of the north fork of the Elkhorn caused an overflow of a portion of the lower part of this city early this morning, creating considerable consternation but causing no injury to the houses and but little damage to property.

A MANIA FOR FIRE.

A B-y Roasts His Brother and the School. READING, Pa., March 18.—The city superintendent of schools was informed yesterday of a pupil just entered in the public schools here who shows a remarkable mania for torturing persons and animals with fire.

Water Receding at Columbus.

COLUMBUS, Mo., March 18.—[Special Telegram.]—The water of the river is receding rapidly. The anxiety for the safety of property is abating, and a feeling of security from further encroachments of the river prevails.

The Elkhorn Over Its Banks.

NORFOLK, Neb., March 18.—[Special Telegram.]—A rapid rise of the north fork of the Elkhorn caused an overflow of a portion of the lower part of this city early this morning, creating considerable consternation but causing no injury to the houses and but little damage to property.

A MANIA FOR FIRE.

A B-y Roasts His Brother and the School. READING, Pa., March 18.—The city superintendent of schools was informed yesterday of a pupil just entered in the public schools here who shows a remarkable mania for torturing persons and animals with fire.

Water Receding at Columbus.

COLUMBUS, Mo., March 18.—[Special Telegram.]—The water of the river is receding rapidly. The anxiety for the safety of property is abating, and a feeling of security from further encroachments of the river prevails.

The Elkhorn Over Its Banks.

NORFOLK, Neb., March 18.—[Special Telegram.]—A rapid rise of the north fork of the Elkhorn caused an overflow of a portion of the lower part of this city early this morning, creating considerable consternation but causing no injury to the houses and but little damage to property.

A MANIA FOR FIRE.

A B-y Roasts His Brother and the School. READING, Pa., March 18.—The city superintendent of schools was informed yesterday of a pupil just entered in the public schools here who shows a remarkable mania for torturing persons and animals with fire.

Water Receding at Columbus.

COLUMBUS, Mo., March 18.—[Special Telegram.]—The water of the river is receding rapidly. The anxiety for the safety of property is abating, and a feeling of security from further encroachments of the river prevails.

The Elkhorn Over Its Banks.

NORFOLK, Neb., March 18.—[Special Telegram.]—A rapid rise of the north fork of the Elkhorn caused an overflow of a portion of the lower part of this city early this morning, creating considerable consternation but causing no injury to the houses and but little damage to property.

A MANIA FOR FIRE.

A B-y Roasts His Brother and the School. READING, Pa., March 18.—The city superintendent of schools was informed yesterday of a pupil just entered in the public schools here who shows a remarkable mania for torturing persons and animals with fire.

Water Receding at Columbus.

COLUMBUS, Mo., March 18.—[Special Telegram.]—The water of the river is receding rapidly. The anxiety for the safety of property is abating, and a feeling of security from further encroachments of the river prevails.