new opera house to-night. Religious services at the Baptist church Sunday at 10:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Sub-ject for evening, "Amusements." Scats free. All cordially invited.

The Sherwood concert last evening called forth much enthusiasm. It was a rich treat for the music lovers of the city, and those who missed it missed much.

Services in the Congregational church to-morrow morning and evening as usual. Subject of morning sermon, "Where a Wise Man Keeps His Eyes." Evening, "A Strong Invitation." All are welcome. On Thursday evening Prof. McNaughton entertained the young people's class of the Methodist Sunday school. They turned the tables on the professor and presented him with a handsome gold-

The show windows of Stubbs on Broadway have been attractively adorned with his name in gold script, one of the pret-tiest bits of lettering in the city. It was the work of George R. Beard, who has also done the interior decorations, which are very handsome.

The Rev. W. T. Smith, presiding elder of Council Bluffs district, will conduct the services at the Broadway M. E. church to-morrow. At the close of the morning service the holy communion will be administered. The love feast service will be held at 6:30 p. m.

Pierce, the hotel beat and insurance solicitor, was released from jail yester-day, his time being up. He did not tarry to vindicate his character, as he promised to do, but nurriedly took the great Rock Island route for the east, traveling on foot and alone that he might the easier inspect the condition of the track.

There was a jolly campline at Carson Wednesday night. Members of posts in Oakland, Macedonia and other towns were present. Ren. W. W. Ramsey of Harlan was the principal speaker and delivered a masterly address. A grand supper was served. The Carson post realized about $70 for its relief fund.

The police yesterday arrested a suspicious young boy named Baker from Missouri Valley. The boy had a horse, and claimed that his father had sent him to this city to sell it. The story seeming improbable, the police concluded to hold him until word could be received from Miscouri Valley. Missouri Valley.

Tramps are no longer to be allowed to loaf about the city. An opportunity is to be given them to work, an opportunity which they will have to accept or else move on. Yesterday six vagrants were sentenced to work, and as there is plenty to do on the streets there was no trouble in keeping them busy.

The musical institute, under the direction of Prof. Towne, seems to have aroused much enthusiasm, and there is every indication that there will be a very large attendance. His reputation as a composer and instructor is so well known that those desiring to gain musical in-struction and culture need little urging to avail themselves of this opportunity. His days will be devoted to the giving of private lessons to such as desire, and his evenings to the institute. To-night there should be a full attendance of all those who desire to enjoy the advantages of the institute. It will be held in the parlors of the Congregational church, and to-night will be in fact the first real session for instruction, the other gatherings being largely preliminary and for the purposes of organization.

Music Made In the Bluffs-Preparing For the Sisters' Fair-Tramps Being Given Street Work-Various Local Doings.

Music In the Bluffs.

Two new pieces of sheet music have been published which interest particularly Council Bluffs people, and at the same time have merit sufficient to commend them to music lovers everywhere and win their way into popular favor. They are especially of interest to residents here because they are the product of local talent and skill. One is entitled 'The Picture of My Angel Mother's Face," a song and chorus, the words and music by J. A. Roff, of this city. It is dedicated to his friend M. H. Peters, of Watseca, Ill., and there is a tender bit of history to the production. Mr. Roff as a boy was a paper carrier for Mr. Peters, a well known journalist of Illinois, and thus began an acquaintance which ripened into friendship. Mr. Peters lost his mother when he was a mere child, and her memory was very tenderly cherished by him. Several years ago Mr. Roft penned the words of this song, and they so pleased Mr. Peters that the promise was given to publish them in sheet music form. That promise is now met, and very appropriately the dedication is made to him. The words and music are very tenching and the piece is propounced as touching, and the piece is pronounced gem.

The other piece is entitled "Memory." The words are by the lamented Garfield, written by him when he was at college. The music is by J. A. Roff. The words have a double fitness to the title of "Memory," now that their author is cherished so in the memory of all. The music also merits special praise.

Both these pieces are published by Dalbey & Roff, of this city. It is not known perhaps to some of the readers of the BEE that Council Bluffs has a music publishing enterprise started, and these are among the first of the productions. Mr. J. A. Roff has composed a number of choice and popular songs within the past few years, but they have been published elsewhere until now. Professor Dalbey, who lately became a resident of this city, has gained quite a wide reputation as a composer, especially of band music, and he will continue his work here, a valuable acquisition to the city. He has composed some of the most popular music played to-day by the best bands in the country. The engraving of these pieces is done by Mr. F. E. Roft, a brother of J. A. Roft. The work is excellent and the title pages. The work is excellent, and the title pages.

very attractive and show rare taste and skill. The fact that Council Blufts possesses young men of such gifts and culture in musical art, and the starting of such an enterprise here, is a cause for congratula-tion, and there should be encouragement given that may cause the enterprise to grow and prosper. The pieces already published are to be found on sale in D. W. Bushnell's book store, and already there have been numerous orders received for them from different parts of the country. They are exciting much praise, and seem to have touched the popular Stabbed to the Heart. Mrs. Eva D. Folger committed suicide y stabbing herself in the left breast yes terday afternoon about 1:30 o'clock, in room 53 in the Union Pacific hotel at the transfer depot. The facts, as stated by her son, Ross Lloyd Folger, who handed his mother the knife by which she came to her death, explains the sad event in full as far as the coroner's jury learned. Ross L. Folger testified that he would be 14 years of age in June next; that his mother, who was 40 years old, and him-self left San Francisco on Monday, March 15, for Chicago. They came over the Union Pacific and arrived in this city yesterday (Friday) morning. He noticed nothing strange about his mother's appearance; they got on the Rock Island train at the transfer, bound for Chicago, when his mother left the car in a few minutes after. He next saw her on the platform with the brakeman and seemed sick; that she was taken up stairs in a fainting condition and after remaining fainting condition and after remaining there until about 1 o'clock asked him for his pocket-knife. He handed it to her and shortly afterward he heard something tear and turning around saw she was pushing the knife into her heart. He ran and pushed the bell button and a porter came up. He told him he needed help. A lady then came in. After his mother stabbed herself she sat on a chair and then fell on the floor. She died in about three min-

The boy further stated they were going to visit his uncle in Chicago, but knew little if anything of him. Said he has an uncle, James Folger, in Monroe, New Hampshire; also John Folger and an Aunt Mary in Boston. The last words his mother uttered was in asking for the loan of his knife.

Mrs. L. J. Van Orman, wite of the hotel manager, testified as to being called by her husband to attend to the wants of the lady who had a fainting wants of the lady who had a fainting spell. She seemed rational but disinchined to talk. Gave her some hot tea which revived her. This was about 10:30 in the morning. The next she heard was after 1 o'clock, when the porter was called to answer the bell. The woman was then lying on the floor, her head resting in the lap of her son. She died in a minute or so after witness arrived.

The chroner found $40 on the dead woman, $35 of which was in gold, the balance in silver, all tied up in a handkerchief.

After the woman had left the Rock

After the woman had left the Rock Island car Charles Keith, general agent for the "Q" road, and Jerome McClin-tock of the Rock Island, noticed she was In a fainting condition, and brought her into the depot and ordered a room. The jury, which was composed of Ed. Ingraham, Ed. A. Wiekham and E. C. Baldy, retured a verdiet in accordance with the foregoing facts, that she died by stabbing herself in the heart with a small pocket knife. The knife, which was exhibited to the jury, is an ordinary pocket knife, and the blade used was two inches long and only a quarter of an inch wide.

The boy will remain in the city until word is received from relatives, who have been telegraphed to. Then he will go to New Hampshire, as he has very few rel-atives, his father having died in 1882 in the east. His mother made a living in San Francisco at dress making, and her worldly possessions all worldly possessions are all supposed to have been with her at the time she so suddenly ended her life.

The body was brought up to Field & Estep's undertaking rooms, where it will be kept until an attempt is made to learn the wishes of her friends. The woman's trank had been checked on east, but word has been sent to have it returned, and it is expected to be here this morning. Its contents may throw some addi tional light upon the matter.

There was little to be learned giving any clue to the cause of the act. Her son, who is an intelligent boy, is unable to give any more information than that narrated above, and being so young, hardly realizes the terrible ending of his mother's life.

Information gleaned from other sources is to the effect that the woman had been taking morphine, which probably crazed her brain, leading her to the act. There are enough means to provide for the necessary expenses here.

J. S. Fountain appellant vs George West et al. From Harrison county court. Action on an injunction bond. Reversed.

State of Iowa on the relation of J. E. Pearson, appellant, vs Charles S. McEntee et al. From Polk circuit court. Reversed. Mr. McEntee was granted a permit to sell intoxicants and gave a bond. Petitioner claims that the bond was broken by his failing to make a return to the county auditor on the last Saturday of June. 1885, or within five days thereafter. Action brought to recover statutory penalty. A demurrer to the petition was sustained, and plaintiff demurred. The supreme court holds that the requirement to make such return within the specified time is mandatory instead of directory, and heretofore the court erred in sustaining the demurrer.

appellants, vs W. E. Harrison et al. From Lee circuit court. Action was brought by plaintiffs as devisees in the will of E. H. Harrison, deceased, against defendants as executors of the will, for the purpose of ascertaining their respective interests in the estate. The court found that the plaintiffs took nothing under the will, and they appealed. The testator died in 1877, and by his will his estate was to be divided among his wife and children. If it should exceed $100,000, all over that amount should go to the Unitarian society. At the time of appraise-$100,000, all over that amount should go to the Unitarian society. At the time of appraisement the estate was found to be less than $100,000, but before it was settled the assets appreciated until it became worth $121,000. The family had received $100,000, and there remained the balance in the executor's hands. It became a question as to what time the value of the estate should be ascertained, and by what means. The court held that the time of valuing the estate shall be at the time of the testator's death. Affirmed. of the testator's death. Affirmed.
