the boys yesterday.

Permit to wed was yesterday given to Ferdinand Rinschen and Anna Grabbert, both of Omaha.

Mrs. Laura Kelley, an aged lady in Hardin township, died Wednesday and was buried yesterday.

Next Wednesday night the Knights of Labor are to give a social, for which an excellent programme is being arranged. Miss Hattie Gardiner has been chosen by the school board as principal of the Pierce street school [in place of Miss Forsythe, resigned.

W. W. Chapman has received an order from the Carter White Lead company o Omaha for 100 sample cases on which to display their samples of different paints The first base ball game of the season will take place to morrow between the Athletics and Occidentals on the new grounds on Sixteenth avenue near Main Henderson and James Givens, examined into the facts of his death and found a street.

C. B. Jacquermin & Co. have completed their spring cleaning and over-hauling of their jewelry store, and have now placed on exhibition their new and leading novelties.

Rev. Dr. Cooley, pastor of the Baptist church, will to norrow deliver an ad-dress on labor. his theme being "Jesus as a Laboring Man." This will be followed on the next Sunday evening by another sermon on the labor question.

Services in the Congregational church to morrow morning and evening. Preach-ing by the pastor. Morning subject, "Strength," evening, "Happiness." A cordial invitation extended to all.

The report is current that there are to be new street cars put upon the Council Bluffs line. Such a move for the better is badly needed. The present cars are a disgrace to the city and to the company The Ladies' Aid society of St. Paul's church has elected as its officers Mrs. George Brown, president; Mrs. E. E. Aylesworth, vice-president; Mrs. H. C. Cory, treasurer; Mrs. O. M. Brown, secretary.

Henry Knepper has purchased the Me-Churg cracker company's well known team, and will put them at work on his farm in Harrison county. The company has purchased a new team for its use in this city.

Mrs. Ratekin, whose husband keeps a grecery on Main street, in waiting on a customer at the cigar case, dropped a lighted match. It ignited her dress, and before the flames could be put out she was quite badly burnt.

Pierce, the insurance agent, represent-ing a burial graveyard sort of a company, and who recently served a term in jail here for beating a hotel bill, is said to be now working Omaha. One would think that he would get farther away from here than that.

A Creston fellow named Kopenheiler, Senator Knight sends the following letter: who has been attending the federal court as a witness, was thrown out of the Revere house bodily and summarily for dily and summarily fo being drunk and insulting a lady The proprietor, Mr. St. John, is not the kind to allow any of that sort of foolishness about his hotel, and he is right. A. Ledman was arrested for peddling without a license, and was fined $5 and costs. The poor fellow seemed to be in such hard luck and just recovering from an illness, that he was finally allowed to go under a suspension of the penalty, with his promise to go somewhere else to peddle his wares. The mayor evidently means what he said about the saloons closing on Sundays. Yesterday an information was filed against John Nicholson charging him with having sold drinks last Sunday. It is understood that no fear or favor is to be shown but that all will be treated alike, and this policy will be heartily endorsed by the citizens generally. The Mexican Typical orchestra arrived here yesterday and were quartered at the Pacific house. There were thirty-three in the company. They attracted a great deal of attention by their peculiar dress, their fance hats, and gaudy scarfs. Last evening they gave an entertainment at the opera house, which proved quite meritorious, and called forth much en-thusias thusiasm. On of the faults in the construction of On of the faults in the construction of the new county jail, revealed by actual use, is the sewcrage leading from the cells into the center shaft of the great iron cylinder. These openings have proved to be too small and too easily clogged. George Oberly, of Indianapo-lis, has been here in the interests of the patentees, enlarging these openings and making the sewerage more effective. A few days ago Days Rice an old A few days ago Dave Rice, an old pressman known among all the news-paper offices, disappeared from the city, leaving his wife in destitute circum-stances. His wife has now left the city, and his little brother, a boy aged about 13, yesterday applied to the city jail for a place to stay and something to eat. Rice seems to have brought most of his trouble upon himself by drink, and the family has been thus broken up. There was little furniture left in the house, and party holding a chattel mortgage on in for $13 will take possession of that. The musical institute being held in the parlors of the Congregational church is proving a great success. Each evening's session is very largely attended, and the methods and manners of Prof. Towne excite much enthusiasm and praise. There is some talk of trying to arrange to There is some tak of trying to arrange to secure him for another week, and others favor an attempt to arrange for holding another institute at some later time, at the Methodist church, or some rooms in that part of the city, as there are many living in that part of the city who would gladly join such an institute were it more conveniently located. Prof. Towne is an instructor of rare gifts and much ex-perience, and all feel inclined to avail themselves of his presence here so far as

Some time ago the sample of a new re-peating rifle, which is to be introduced in the German army, was stolen by a man dressed in a major's uniform from a guard house at Spandau and offered to the French government, which, however, not only declined to purchase it, but communicated the fact to the German ambasador at Paris. Choice, senate yesterday, and after pretty full con-sideration was referred back to the committee on labor. I have no desire in the matter on labor. I have no desire in the matter other than to provide proper regulations for the protection of those who earn their living by labor and the bill was drafted with no other object in view, at the request of the representatives of the labor element of Dubuque, who called on me before I left home and asked me to present some such measure. There are some gentlemen here who have been around the legislature pretty much all the session and who say-they are authorized to speak for the legislature pretty much all the session and who say they are authorized to speak for the Knights of Labor. These gentlemen don't seem very enthusiastic on the labor question and rather throw cold water on the measure I have introduced. This, of course, makes no difference to me, for so long as the people of my county who live by labor approve of the measure it is all 1 can ask. I am not headstrong in regard to it, and don't propose to insist that the bill is perfect and needs no amendments. I am willing to listen to any-thing reasonable in that direction. All 1 ask for it is a fair consideration, for it was con-ceived as an honest effort in the direction in which it tends. Yours truly, W. J. KNIGHT. More Dress Patterns received at Hark ness Brothers.

Insulting a Lady.

Pat Bodkin was at the dummy depot vesterday and just full enough of gin to be reckless with his tongue. He made some insulting remark to a lady about to take the train for Omaha. Officer Unthank promptly collared him and locked him up. In the afternoon he was sober enough to be brought before Judge enough to be brought before Judge Aylesworth. He denied that he was drunk, but admitted to having had enough so that he used his tongue a little too freely to some lady. He was given the choice of pleading to insulting the lady or to being drunk, and chose the latter. He got back about $4 out of the $12 he had when arrested, and went out remark-ing that he could now go and get a woman of his own, and then he could talk to her when and how he wanted, and this he thought would be cheaper than trying to get acquainted with strangers.
