

ENGLAND'S GREAT SAMPSON.

Gladstone Has His Hands on the Pillars and Will Not Yield. TWIXT SCYLLA AND CHARYBDIS. Unless He Modifies the Irish Parliament Bill the Scotch Will Desert Him, While Parnell Will Abandon Him if He Does.

The Irish Question Complicated. LONDON, April 4.—[Special Telegram.]—England and Scotch opposition to home rule has been growing more and more pronounced all the week. When Gladstone announces next Thursday the provisions of his bill to amend the future government of Ireland, he will have to deal with three or four sets of opponents—those opposed to home rule in any form; those opposed to a separate parliament for Ireland; those opposed to home rule with land purchase, and those opposed to home rule without land purchase. It is now expected that all these heterogeneous forces will be marshaled under the joint leadership of Lords Harrington and Chamberlain.

A Masonic Dispute Settled. LONDON, April 4.—The benevolent board of the Grand Lodge of Masons has considered the case of the Illinois lodge, and has granted the request of the lodge, which is that the recent dispute does not affect the fraternal relations of lodges.

Bismarck and the Vatican. BERLIN, April 4.—Prince Bismarck has had several conferences during the past few days with Baron Schloesser, Prussian representative at the Vatican, and on Tuesday, at which subjects at issue between Prussia and the Vatican were discussed at length. So far, however, no promise has been given of the establishment of a modus vivendi with the curia. The National Zeitung declares that the curia is playing a double part. It says that Dr. Kopp's authority was charged to secure certain concessions from the Prussian government, and that after receiving the Prussian government's reply, which Canon Reuch, of Treves, was charged with presenting to the curia, it is impossible for Prussia to concede.

Escaping Klotzes Captured. PARIS, April 4.—A band of Belgian rioters were today stopped on the frontier as they were about to enter France. Two of the men were arrested, and the others were released. The person of one of their sixty-five francs were found.

Both Prince and Governor. CONSTANTINOPLE, April 4.—The Balkan conference will appoint Prince Alexander of Serbia as Eastern Rumania for five years, ignoring the Rumanian refusal to accept the appointment for that term.

ANGRY WATERS. The Damage They Are Doing in the South and East. LOUISVILLE, April 3.—The river here is twenty-five feet, a foot over the danger line, and raising two inches per hour. This is the highest point ever reached at this time of year since 1860.

AGAINST A SEPARATE PARLIAMENT. A great and enthusiastic meeting of bankers and merchants of the city of London, lord mayor presiding, and leading liberals and personal friends of Gladstone being present, resolved to oppose the new separate parliament to Dublin.

A Break in the Cabinet Imminent. LONDON, April 4.—The breaking of the cabinet is imminent. Lord Chamberlain, Sir William Harcourt, Childers and Mundella refuse to assent to any home rule measure giving Ireland the control of customs, and threaten to resign if such a measure be insisted upon by Gladstone. Morley demands a modification of the plans for the buying out of landowners in Ireland, however, remains inflexible, and will maintain his full scheme intact. Cabinet meetings are to be held Monday and Tuesday, and it is expected will be reached on Tuesday. The ministers themselves admit that an agreement seems improbable. Gladstone's cabinet is in London, but he is in England on Thursday last from the continent, where he had been spending several days for the benefit of his health.

The University Race. LONDON, April 3.—The annual university race between the Oxford and Cambridge crews was rowed over the usual course on the Thames from Putney to Mortlake, and resulted in a victory for the latter.

A NEW METHOD OF LOBBYING.

Enterprising Iowa Towns Furnish Mineral Water and Buttermilk to Legislators. AFTER THE SOLDIERS' HOME. The Location Yet Undecided, the Balloting Being Ineffectual—Hesitating Over Brown's Impediment.

A Long and Useless Session. DES MOINES, April 4.—[Special.]—The hardest and most tedious work of the whole session has been the final contest for the soldiers' home. The contest has been a long and a weary one, and has brought in exhibits of their wares, their building material, their mineral products, and views of their public and private buildings. Each town has had its little space filled high with bricks, marble, stone, and in one instance, canned goods, while pictures and medals and inscriptions greet the visitors at every hand.

HONORING COL. SMYTHE.

The Members of the Omaha Bar Pass Resolutions Regretting His Loss. SATURDAY MORNING the district court, Saturday morning the committee consisting of N. J. Burnham, G. W. Ambrose, C. A. Baldwin, Lee Estelle and J. T. Moriarty, who had been appointed to draw up resolutions on the death of Colonel Smythe reported the following:

Resolved, First, that we deeply regret he should have so suddenly snatched from us a man who was so full of life and vigor, and whose pleasing prospect of soon being ushered into the golden sun light of manhood's happy life was so bright.

Resolved, Second, that in his demise our bar has lost one of its active members and our city and state a widely known and esteemed citizen.

Resolved, Third, that among the many worthy traits which characterized him, we shall long remember with peculiar pride his courtesy, his polished manners, his genial and unassuming disposition, his humor, his respectful treatment of the court and his uniform willingness to oblige his brethren at the bar.

Resolved, Fourth, that we heartily sympathize with his sorrowing wife and child in their hour of sad bereavement, conscious that in his death a devoted husband and an ideal father has been lost.

Resolved, Fifth, that we request that these resolutions be read at the next meeting of this court and that a copy of the same be sent to the family of the deceased.

Resolved, Sixth, that the resolutions of the Omaha bar be read at the next meeting of the court and that a copy of the same be sent to the family of the deceased.

Resolved, Seventh, that the resolutions of the Omaha bar be read at the next meeting of the court and that a copy of the same be sent to the family of the deceased.

Resolved, Eighth, that the resolutions of the Omaha bar be read at the next meeting of the court and that a copy of the same be sent to the family of the deceased.

Resolved, Ninth, that the resolutions of the Omaha bar be read at the next meeting of the court and that a copy of the same be sent to the family of the deceased.

Resolved, Tenth, that the resolutions of the Omaha bar be read at the next meeting of the court and that a copy of the same be sent to the family of the deceased.

THE OMAHA LODGE OF ELKS.

Gives a Reception to the "Boston Ideals," Which is a Success. MRS. THOMAS A. HENDRICKS. Her Views on Omaha—Frank Maxwell Commits Suicide While Insane—The Irish National League's Yearly Meeting.

The Elks Reception to the "Ideals." It was close on to midnight when Exalted Ruler Davenport stepped upon his dais in the fourth story of Boyd's opera house and called to order the special social session of the Omaha Lodge of Elks. The occasion was a reception given in honor of the "Boston Ideals." The event will long be remembered by each and every one who attended as an occasion of unalloyed pleasure. Restraint was thrown away. Every body was friendly with every body else, and the treatment accorded by the members of the lodge to their guests verified the oft repeated saying that the Elks, of the lodge, know best how to manage a social.

The first thing on the programme was a duet by Messrs. Sanders and Downing. The latter possessed a deep rich bass voice, which he used to great advantage in the rendition of "Larboard Walk, Ahoy!"

Among those of the Boston Ideal troupe who thereafter took part in the programme were H. C. Barnabee, the venerable but ever youthful and frisky comedian of the company, Mr. Tom Hild, Mr. J. C. Harris, Alvin Mally, Mr. McDonald and Mr. H. M. Morsdel. Each number was a gem, and called forth stunning applause from the audience.

After the entertainment greeted the successful efforts of the vocalists, and still the crowd cried out "Enough!" The rendition of "Kathleen Mavourneen" by Mr. Karl, as an encore after "Dream of a Night" was a triumph to all who were fortunate enough to hear it. Every shape of meaning and feeling in the grand old song was brought out, and the most exquisite of feelings in those who heard him. The quartet club of the Ideals rendered a few selections, comic and otherwise, which were heartily received.

B. H. Barrows, Judge Hall, Martin Towne and others added a spice to the programme, which was fully appreciated by the members of a solid and liquid nature, were not wanting to complete the enjoyment of the occasion.

And so the evening passed. At length the time for parting came, and grasping hands the Elks formed the circle and sang "Auld Lang Syne." The lights went out with the exit of the Elks, their friends and guests. The reception was a grand success, and the memory of what will be cherished by all associated with Omaha lodge.

Among the prominent guests present were Messrs. Barrows, Barabee, McDonald, Morsdel and Frothingham, of the Ideals; Hon. B. H. Barrows, Hon. A. U. Wyman, Hon. Martin Towne, of Wyoming, and others.

MRS. THOMAS A. HENDRICKS. She Thinks Omaha a Model and a Growing City. Mrs. Hendricks, widow of the late lamented vice president, Thomas A. Hendricks has been spending a few days in Omaha on a visit to her brother-in-law, Captain Samuel Herman, formerly connected with the Union Pacific railroad in this city.

Amusements. The Boston Ideals Conclude a Most Successful Engagement. In looking over their engagement one is forced to the conclusion that their performances have been the most satisfactory of any ever given in Omaha this season.

Will the Women Vote on Tuesday? To THE EDITOR: Advertis to an urgent editorial in the BEE of the 29th, advocating the importance of electing proper school directors next Tuesday, it seems fitting to call the attention of the mothers of our children to their duty in this matter.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET.

Chicago, April 3.—[Special Telegram.]—When April 3rd evinced that London tendency which the BEE's special has for a month past been insisting upon as the only possible outcome to the facts and the attitude of the great speculators who have the power to swing this market, the Omaha plungers who bank on the BEE ought by this time to be able to go to Europe for the summer on their profits.

May opened a little lower than it closed, as usual, sagged down to 80 1/2, which was 1/2 below the bid price, and finally, under purchases made against puts and the efforts made to creep up to the bid price and close there unsteadily. Immediately after the close the price of May dropped to 80 1/2, and later on the curb was freely offered at 80 1/2, with few buyers at that figure.

Corn was weaker a shade, and closed heavy at 38 1/2 for May. The clause which some weeks ago were thought to be wanting to build it, now seem anxious to unload it every time it shows any firmness. Dows, Munn & Co. were large sellers to-day, the closing price being 38 1/2 for May. There is still some May short at 40, and the sellers claim to believe they will be able to buy at 35, if the visible supply doesn't begin to fall off very rapidly.

Wheat was buying, and the light-walsted shorts ran over so fast they put back 3 1/2 in the market. The market was advanced strongly, and laid in a little. The close was at a sharp reaction, but nevertheless firm, and the general sentiment of the prominent members of the trade appears to incline in better quotations. Estimated receipts for Monday are 100,000, and for next week about 100,000. Receipts this week, it may be mentioned, in this connection, overran inside estimates by 40,000.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET.

Chicago, April 3.—[Special Telegram.]—When April 3rd evinced that London tendency which the BEE's special has for a month past been insisting upon as the only possible outcome to the facts and the attitude of the great speculators who have the power to swing this market, the Omaha plungers who bank on the BEE ought by this time to be able to go to Europe for the summer on their profits.

May opened a little lower than it closed, as usual, sagged down to 80 1/2, which was 1/2 below the bid price, and finally, under purchases made against puts and the efforts made to creep up to the bid price and close there unsteadily. Immediately after the close the price of May dropped to 80 1/2, and later on the curb was freely offered at 80 1/2, with few buyers at that figure.

Corn was weaker a shade, and closed heavy at 38 1/2 for May. The clause which some weeks ago were thought to be wanting to build it, now seem anxious to unload it every time it shows any firmness. Dows, Munn & Co. were large sellers to-day, the closing price being 38 1/2 for May. There is still some May short at 40, and the sellers claim to believe they will be able to buy at 35, if the visible supply doesn't begin to fall off very rapidly.
