Terrible Loss of Life in an Accident in Massachusetts.

A Passenger Train Falls Two Hundred Feet and Then Burns Up.

A Horrible Holocaust.

GREENFIELD, Mass., April 7.—A terrible disaster occurred on the Pittsfield railroad to-night midway between Bardwell Ferry and West Deerfield station. The east-bound passenger train, due at Greenfield at 6:45 p. m., was going over an embankment 300 feet high. Six bodies have already been taken out of the ruins, and it is not known how many others were killed. The train was an eastern express, and consisted of a baggage car, the east-bound mail car, and two ordinary passenger cars. The train was in charge of Conductor Foster, with Herbert Littlejohn as engineer. The point where the accident occurred is the most dangerous on the road. Trains run on the edge of an embankment 300 feet high, and the Deerfield river, the bank is steep, and is covered with huge boulders and masses of rock. When the train arrived at this point the track commenced to settle under it for a distance covering its entire length. The coaches broke from their trucks and went rolling over and over down the precipice. The engine broke from the tender, tearing up the track for twenty feet. Below rolled the Deerfield river, on the very edge of which the cars were thrown. As soon as they struck they caught fire, and in a few minutes the wreck was an entire wreck. It was occupied by several passengers, not one of whom at this hour, is known to have escaped injury. One man, whose name is unknown, is imprisoned in the wreck of the sleeper, where he is being burned alive. One little girl was picked up.

A Remarkably Favorable Outlook Except in Kansas and Michigan.

OMAHA, April 7.—The following is the Farmers' Review summary of the wheat crop up to April 7: Growing winter wheat under the second of the spring months under conditions scarcely, if ever, better. This appears to be true from a close study of the reports of all the winter wheat states, with the exception of Kansas and Michigan. The former shows a very favorable appearance. The latter shows a very unfavorable appearance. The crop in Kansas is reported to be very good, and in Michigan it is reported to be very good. In the other wheat states, the crop is reported to be very good. In the other wheat states, the crop is reported to be very good.

THE GREAT CRISIS.

THE BRITISH CABINET AND IRISH HOME. LONDON, April 7.—The Times says that a desperate effort was made at yesterday's meeting of the cabinet to prevent a disruption and that the effort succeeded. Gladstone modifies his proposals regarding customs control by giving the English parliament the right to vote on the subject of the tariff. The cabinet also decided to support the bill for the repeal of the Corn Laws. The cabinet also decided to support the bill for the repeal of the Corn Laws.

BERLIN, April 7.—The lower house of the Prussian Landtag today, by a vote of 214 to 130, adopted a bill expatriating the land of the Poles in Posen and colonizing the province with Germans.

THE PACIFIC MAIL SUBSIDY.

The Eastern Roads Whipped Into Paying Most of the Subsidy. SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., April 7.—The Chronicle this morning publishes an article showing the methods adopted by the overland railroads in the disposition of the so-called Pacific mail subsidy. The article is in substance charges that although under the last agreement of the overland roads to pay the Pacific Mail $55,000 monthly to ease competition, the railroads shipped an average of $50,000 monthly by Pacific Mail steamers, leaving the balance of only $5,000 to be paid. The Chronicle says that even this amount the overland roads managed to avoid paying. They collected, as charged, through the medium of an advance rate system from all eastern trunk and Iowa lines, a certain proportion to be applied to what was termed the "advance rate" and out of which the Pacific Mail were to be paid. The Chronicle publishes figures to show that in the disposition of excess freight, the eastern trunk and Iowa lines were completely ignored, notwithstanding the fact that the Iowa lines had contributed 25 per cent to the fund.

Flour Mill Burned.

QUINCY, Ill., April 7.—The Criterion mill, recently rebuilt by Taylor Bros. of Pontiac, Ill., was totally destroyed by fire early this morning. Total loss, $125,000; insurance, $50,000. The fire originated in the drying room, and the efforts of the fire department to check the flames were futile.

THE ARMY BILL DEFEATED.

The Senate Rejects the Measure After a Long and Heated Discussion.

VAN WYCK SPEAKS AGAINST IT.

He Declares the Proposed Increase to be for the Benefit of Monopolistic Slave Owners—A Tilt With Logan.

GALVESTON, April 7.—The News Laredo special says that Laredo to-night is in sackcloth and ashes. The intense excitement and lawlessness which have prevailed here for the past fortnight culminated to-night in a bloody riot. The immediate cause is attributed by many to the circular which appeared this morning, announcing that the democrats would hold funeral services at 4 o'clock over the party known here as the "Huaqueros." Directly after the appearance of the circular, it was announced that the party would prevent any such demonstration. At 4 p. m., the streets leading to the point where the democratic procession was announced to start, was blocked with armed men. Later, the march of the Indians, and some because of the communists. The senator from Connecticut (Hawley) had said that he wanted the army to support the civil law and the constitution, referring to the fugitive-slave law and execution in New England. Mr. Van Wyck said the United States army had been tried in the way of the fugitive-slave law, and that the army had been used to suppress the rebellion. He asked whether New England had changed since then.

A Bad Traveling Man.

LINCOLN, Neb., April 7.—[Special Telegram.]—Yesterday afternoon Max Rubenstein, a traveling salesman employed by Stein Bros. of St. Louis, registered at the Opelt house. A few moments later, Mrs. Woods, a living lady, boarding at the house, went into the office to write a telegram. Her appearance captivated Rubenstein, who sent her an insulting note by one of the bell boys. Mrs. Woods reported the insult to Landlord Opelt, who started out to find the offender. Rubenstein was taken to the police station, where he was held for a few days. He was released on a $1000 bond, and is now in the city of St. Louis.

The News From Wahoo.

WAHOO, Neb., April 7.—[Special.]—The temperance people are jubilant and the non-temperance people correspondingly "sore" over the results of the city election yesterday. It was the first election since the village was transformed into a city of the second class. The issue was license or no license. On the temperance ticket, the candidate for mayor, C. M. Cook, was elected by a majority of 5. The candidates for clerk, city engineer and police judge were all elected by a majority ranging from 5 to 100, and four of the six candidates for aldermen were elected, leaving the license people the city treasurer and two aldermen. The majority will probably be contested. The entire school board on the temperance ticket, of which two of the candidates were ladies, were elected by a large majority. A large number of the ladies exercised their right of suffrage on the school election, and the large majorities received by the temperance ticket clearly shows where the temperance question would be won by the temperance people. Ashland, Valparaiso and Mead have also gone temperance, making almost a clean sweep for Saunders county.

Grading on the Fremont, Elkhorn & Missouri Valley railroad has begun within the city limits.

Serious Accident at Papillion.

PAPILLION, Neb., April 7.—[Special.]—David Owen, of this county, on the new B. & M. line through this county, had a narrow escape from a situation that promised certain death. When in the act of mounting a horse, the animal started to run. Owen's foot was fastened in the stirrup, and he was dragged several rods, breaking his collar bone and badly bruising his entire body. The stirrup strap broke and Owen was released just before the horse plunged into a deep ditch. The doctors say the injured man will recover.

Crete's Hot Contest.

CRETE, Neb., April 7.—[Special.]—Yesterday was the most exciting municipal election ever witnessed in Crete. Three candidates were in the field—C. D. Fay, J. Wilson and D. J. Reid. The two first named were the candidates of a caucus where no majority was required to nominate, but the candidates having the two highest votes were taken. This was unsatisfactory to a majority of republicans, who would have been compelled to support candidates either of whom would have been satisfactory to a prominent and ruling wing of the republican party heretofore in this city. The opponents of this wing brought out D. J. F. Reid, a staunch republican and wide awake man, for the interests of the city. His triumphant election is a victory for the interests of the city and the republicans who won the county fight last fall. The "strange thing" about yesterday's election was to see H. M. Wells and other opponents of Governor Dawes working hand in hand with the governor, who came down to vote, and his friends to elect one of the two opponents of Mr. Reid. They are a sort of men to-day, and hereafter you may look for strict party nominations in Crete city elections.

Blair's Quiet Election.

BLAIR, Neb., April 7.—[Special.]—The city election passed off quietly. The city engineer and police judge were elected by a majority of 100. The issues were license or no license. Mr. E. N. Bradley was the nominee of the prohibition faction for mayor, and W. C. Walton of the other. The latter was elected by about two to one. Two school tickets were in the field representing the same factions. The one nominated by the prohibitionists was elected with one exception. The ladies were out at the polls in full force, electing with as much force, spirit and "cheer" as the old-time politician. District court is in session here with Judge Nesbitt on the bench.

Platview Incorporated.

PLATVIEW, Neb., April 7.—[Special Telegram.]—Last evening our streets were lighted with bonfires, resulting from the fact that our town has at last been incorporated, after long waiting and praying of the inhabitants. The population of our town is about 250, and has the bright prospect of being one of the best towns in this part of Nebraska. The annual school meeting was held in the new school building yesterday, which resulted in electing an entire new board of directors, with satisfaction.

Train Wreckers Foiled.

PAPILLION, Neb., April 7.—[Special Telegram.]—At an early hour this morning it was discovered that all the switches in the Missouri Pacific yards had been tampered with during the night. It was the evident intention to wreck the 7 o'clock passenger train, but luckily this train was behind time, and did not arrive until after the diabolical plot had been discovered and frustrated.

THE ARMY BILL DEFEATED.

The Senate Rejects the Measure After a Long and Heated Discussion.

VAN WYCK SPEAKS AGAINST IT.

He Declares the Proposed Increase to be for the Benefit of Monopolistic Slave Owners—A Tilt With Logan.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—In the senate, the army bill was taken up and Mr. Hawley took the floor and spoke in its support. The arguments for the increase of the army, Mr. Van Wyck thought, were rather singular. Some senators had said that it was wanted because of the Indians, and some because of the communists. The senator from Connecticut (Hawley) had said that he wanted the army to support the civil law and the constitution, referring to the fugitive-slave law and execution in New England. Mr. Van Wyck said the United States army had been tried in the way of the fugitive-slave law, and that the army had been used to suppress the rebellion. Horrible Hydrophobia.

BALTIMORE, April 7.—[Special Telegram.]—A young Baltimore physician, last night, was bitten by a dog. He picked the dog up and held it in his arms. He was severely bitten on the hand and arm. He was taken to the hospital, and the doctors say he will recover.

The Iowa Legislature.

DES MOINES, April 7.—In the house today the speaker announced the following committee to prepare articles of impeachment against Governor Briggs, Messrs. Warner, Redman, Green, Hammon and Doherty. The house concurred in the bill passed by the senate removing the requirement of boards of supervisors to publish their proceedings in a paper of foreign counties in the state of Iowa.

He Was Released.

WATERLOO, Iowa, April 7.—The trial of Nathan Codner for the murder of George W. Henson, a colored barber, at Cedar Falls in 1881, was concluded to-day and the prisoner released upon his own recognizance, which was $10,000. The jury returned a verdict of acquittal. The case was a sensational one, and attracted much attention.

The Flood.

CINCINNATI, April 7.—The river having stood at 54 feet 2 inches, began to rise slowly and to-day it is 1 1/2 inches higher. There is no doubt that the rise will continue. The snow fall which has not ceased this morning is so heavy that the melting will feed every side stream for 400 miles. Passenger trains ceased to run into the central passenger depot owing to the water on the tracks. Freight traffic is much restricted on the road coming on the White water canal.

The Snow Storm.

DETROIT, Mich., April 7.—The snow storm continued until 10 o'clock this morning. The snow lay in drifts 12 inches high. The river touched the highest point (2 1/2 feet) early this morning, and is now falling. The damage is not heavy.

Gave Himself Up.

PAPILLION, Neb., April 7.—[Special Telegram.]—Dee Saling, the young man who recently figured in a shooting scrape at a Sarpy county school house, and for whose arrest a sheriff offered $50 reward, returned from a visit to his mother in Lincoln, and to the court. He says he wants an examination, and can prove his innocence. He will have a hearing next Wednesday.

Four Days in an Open Boat.

HALIFAX, April 7.—News has just been received of the terrible experience of four fishermen in a dory, which landed at Guyon island after being out four days. Two of the men had died of thirst and exposure. One of the dead bodies had been partially devoured by the survivors to sustain life.
