Some of the Outrageous Bills For "Amusing" the Insane Rejected By the Commissioners—Money Saved.

FROM THE BEE'S LINCOLN BUREAU.

At the meeting of the Nebraska Commandery of the Loyal Legion at the Commercial hotel, Wednesday evening, forty comrades answered "present" at roll call.

After the new members had taken their oath, and been accepted into full fellowship, an adjournment was made to the dining room of the Commercial, where the Loyal Legion, at the request of the Lincoln comrades, had prepared a banquet.

When the hunger and thirst of the party had been satisfied, there was a general lighting of cigars, and the chief toast, "Our Loyal Legion," was responded to by the speaker.

Two of the new members, Carroll S. Montgomery and J. H. Smith, responded briefly to the commander's call.

The regular army was well represented, thirteen officers being present.

It was a very interesting and profitable meeting, and the affair was a success.

The wheat market ruled steady to-day, ruling firm most of the time.

Brad Cook is in receipt of a letter from a friend in Butler county, stating that a new gold field has been discovered.

The slave's misfortune. Savannah News: An article in a southern journal, a few days ago, recalled the following incident, which is doubtless remembered by some over-occident friends.

The route from the upper tier of states was across Georgia to Alabama, and thence by boat to a gulf port.

In 1833 the people of a thriving city in this state were surprised to hear that a popular and energetic young man, and a prominent leader in society and a mem-

We leave behind us the ration house, and pass out to find everywhere groups of women, children, and ponies—lounging over the counter of their trader's store, which is strewn with calico and flannel, zossing about the gates, or mere dashes of brilliant coloring in the distance as they galloped over the brown hills.

Brooklyn Eagle: A stoutly built, gray-haired man with close clipped whiskers stood at the bar of the court of sessions this morning when the clerk called upon him for grand larceny in the first degree, and when arraigned his counsel, Mr. John Cooney, said:

"Now, if the court please," continued Mr. Cooney, "I desire, before sentence is passed, to present some considerations which I think will be of great importance in mitigating the sentence of this old man."

The prisoner, who is known as "Gen. Grunthall," has for forty years been known to the police as one of the most expert pickpockets in the country.

While President Cleveland was governor he pardoned Grunthall, who was in state prison, where he was serving a twenty years' sentence for robbery.
