The Resue hose company has contributed $55 for a window in the Episcopal church, and has also bought a tent and complete outfit for the use of its members during the fishing and hunting season. If the boys should tell too big fish stories, or go gunning on Sunday, they should be forgiven readily.

"Tex" now runs Lacy's old stand. Constable Ricketts shot a fine hunting dog belonging to A. C. Graham on Tuesday. Ricketts says he did not mean to kill the dog, and did not know whose dog it was or how valuable it was. Mr. Graham says he would rather have lost any one of his cows than that dog.

David Dunkle, of Crescent, is circulating a petition profesting against the confirmation of Thomas Bowman as postmaster of Council Bluffs. It is said that he has succeeded in getting three hundred signers, but who they are, and whather they have any interest or not in whether they have any interest or not in the postoflice business here is not known.
It is easy enough to get names to a petition, but numbers are not always indicative of its strength. If the strongest fight against Bowman consists of petitions, the fight is not a very heavy one.

It Proves Objectionable to Some of the Knights of Labor.

THE LULU MERCER SEDUCTION

The Superintendency of the Deaf and Dumb Institution - Progress of the House Being Built by Uncle Sam.

An Errant Knight.

The Knights of Labor seems to be liable to abuse, the same as other organizations. One apparent instance has arisen here, and has attracted the attention of some of the members of the local organization, who purpose entering some sort of a protest against it. A gentleman arrived here the other day, appearing in the role of traveling agent for a watch case factory, and at the same time as master workman of an eastern local assembly. He was canvassing the retail jewelers and furnishing them with advertising circulars, of which the follow-ing is a sample, the names omitted for obvious reasons: COMMUNICATION TO ENIGHTS OF LABOR obvious reasons:

COMMUNICATION TO KNIGHTS OF LABOR

AND WORKINGMEN.

We desire to call your attention to the merits of the — waten case. During the late conflict of the Knights of Labor with that company, the quality of the goods was never called in question. They are without doubt the best made watch cases in the market; and now that the company have acknowledged the justice of our cause, it is our bounden duty to do all in our power, as per agreement, to restore their business to its former prosperity; therefore, when any Knight of Labor wants a watch case, by buying one of this make he will be doing an act of justice and courtesy, and at the same time will secure a watch case that is as represented, and that for quality and workmanship cannot be surpassed. We hope that all Knights of Labor will see the justice of being as ready to help the company when they have acknowledged their error as they were to place the boycott on when the trouble first commenced. Yours,

K of L. 2487 Newport, Ky.

K. of L., 3487, Newport, Ky. This is said to be an attempt to use the official position of the signer and the influence of the order to help him personally in his business as traveling salesman for the watch ease company, and hence a gross violation of the rules of the order. Several other circulars are being used by the same traveler for a like purpose, one being addressed to locomotive engineers, and others to different trades, all being signed by him as master workman.

The attention of the Knights of Labor of this city being called to the circulars, they are considering the advisability of taking some action to head off such attempts to use the order for such personal purposes. They object to a master work man going about the country in this way If he wants to travel on the road for some factory he certainly has the right to do so, but not to use his title and position for the sake of gaining business for his par-

A Dirty Business.

The examination of Mrs. Frank, charged with having enticed the Mercer girl into a house of prostitution, was commenced vesterday before Judge Aylesworth. Mrs. Frank, whose real name is said to be Mrs. Huber, keeps a notorious house in Omaha, and the allurement of this girl is said to have occurred several weeks ago. The prosecution of the woman is being vigorously pushed by Mr. James, of the Law and Order League, who is present during the progress of the examination, and who seems confident that he will succeed in convicting the woman. Scott Williams is prosecuting attorney, while the defendant's interests are being cared for by Mr. Felker, of Omaha, and G. A. Holmes, of this city. The examination was made a secret one, not even the reporters being allowed to remain. This secrecy was at the request of the detense, who seemed to shun any further publicity concerning the matter, a wish which seems not un-reasonable in view of the story told by the girl, which, if true, should consign Mrs. Frank to some seene of still greater retirement than a court room with closed doors. There were several witnesses over from Omaha yesterday, among them Capt Cormick, of the police force, and Constable Edgerton.

The girl herself, Lulu Mercer, first took the witness stand, and occupied it most of the afternoon, her testimony in chief being given freely and speedily, but the cross-examination being tedious and very prolonged. The defense tried hard to break down the force of her statements and get her to cross herself, but despite the cunning of the attorneys, she clung to her original account of the affair

Her statement was in effect that she came to Council Biuffs with her parents about a year ago. She was then 15 years old. She had worked at different places, but earned meagre wages. About six weeks ago Mrs. Frank came to the house and said she was a dressmaker in Omaha, and wanted to get a young girl to learn the trade. After talking over the matter with the family it was decided that she should go. On reaching Omaha she was taken to Mrs. Frank's house, and for several days she remained there without discovering the character of the house, or what was to be her life there. Her questions in regard to sewing were met with evasive answers, and finally the truth was broken to her that it was a house of prostitution. She said she tried in vain to leave, but they would not jet her go out of the house, and after spending two or three days in her room, nearly crying her eyes out of her head, she was nduced to enter the parlor and see company. Her protests against such a life were continued, and several times she attempted to get away, but was forced to stay. Finally she got away, but without her clothing, and when she went back afterwards to claim her clothing, she was kept locked up in the house for two days, until Mr. James secured her re-

The attempt of the defense will be to break down the character of the girl, and to show that she was not such an innocent as she would have the public believe. An attempt will be made to bolster up such a claim by witnesses, who claim to have known the girl before she went to Omaha. This seems to be the main ques tion in the case, the woman and her business not being so much in the contest.

In confirmation of the girl's story several witnesses were examined yesterday.

The father and the sister told about the voman coming to the house, and what she represented to them in regard to the life the girl was to lead. Captain Cormick also testified to the real character of the house kept by Mrs. Frank, and the number of girls there, and the fines imposed upon them from time to time. posed upon them from time to time The examination is to be continued this morning, and will probably occupy a day or two yet.

The D. and D. Superintendency. It is understood that the board of trustees of the institution of the deaf and dumb is to meet in special session next Monday. All sorts of rumors are affoat as to what will be done concerning the action of the board as regards a superintendent. One is to the effect that some of Prof. Hammond's friends will try to get the board to retain him, the report of the committee recommending his removal being only a recommendation, leaving the board to act at its pleasure. While there may be no legal requirement for the board to dispense with Prof. Hammond's services, yet an attempt to retain him under such circumstances would be bitterly opposed, and raise a storm about the ears of the members of the board, which it would be very difficult to still. Another report is that an attempt will be made to secure Prof. Talbot who was formerly superintend. Talbot, who was formerly superintendent of the institution, and who is now at Columbus, Ohio. As Prof. Hammond's term does not expire until August or September, there will probably be no immediate action taken in regard to the cine sent with it. No doctor required. Dyspepsia! Dyspepsia! Dyspeptic, why live in misery, and die in dis pair with cancer of the stomach? Dr. Thomas Jefferies cures every case of incigestion and constipution in a very short time. Best of references given. Dyspepsia is the cause of ninety for two weeks treatment.

From the Council Bluffs Daily Herald: Mrs. E. M. Gerard, wife of Engineer Gerard, of the Union Pacific, this city, has been a great sufferer for many years, with what was supposed to be cancer of the throat. It was so bad that she was threatened with starvation. Her general health was completely broken down. She could only swallow liquid food, and even that her stomach could not digest or assimilate. Physicians of Council Bluffs and Omaha gave no relief Dr. Jefferis, of this city, was called. In four weeks' time he cared her throat, and has completely restored her general health. Had Mrs. Gerard not obtained relief soon she would have died from blood polson, the same condition that destroyed the life of Gen. Grant Dr. Jefferies' diptheria medicine is infallible in not give it the necessary and intelligent attention it deserves. They did not read the directions, and finding that it would not wash by laying A. B. C. Soap on top of the bundle of soiled clothes, they fell back to five cent soap.

Thousands write us: "Your A. B. C. Soap is all that you claim for it; it not only gives satisfaction, but we find that our most intelligent customers say that it is A BLESSING IN THE HOUSEHOLD and are enthusiastic and speak in the highest terms of praise about it. Why don't you advertise it?" It is therefore that we are making this extraordinary effort to bring A. B. C. Soap to the notice of every intelligent person and in order to induce every one to buy it, and continue to use it until they have fully tested its merits, we say to them

TO OBTAIN A PRESENT

Those who have not used A. B. C. Soap, of course, will ask, "what is it?"

A. B. C. Soap is our own invention, and all who have used it cheerfully concede to it the merit of being the greatest improvement ever made in domestic economy.

A. B. C. Soap, and the MODE OF WASHING WITH IT, is as different from all other soaps, and the old way of washing, and is as anch an improvement over the old system, as traveling by railway is over that by an ox-cart. A girl of 18, or the most delicate person, can wash
