A River-Sick Tourist-Anniversary Exercises of Christian Young Men-The Easter Services -The Mercer Case.

The Union Pacific and the Bluffs. President Adams, of the Union Pacific. kept his promise Saturday, and came to this city to here meet Mayor Chapman, and a committee of the board of trade, prominent shippers and other citizens. He was accompanied by General Super intendent Callaway, General Traihe Manager Kimball and Director F. Ames, chairman of the executive committee of the board of directors. The conference was held with closed doors, and the reporters were especially relieved of the task of being in attendance. Like all such secret conclaves, the doings of the afternoon became known, however, to the press, but there was really little to report beyond the glittering generalities, and hints at better things for Council Bluffs, these hints not taking the form of any definite promises, and hence there is not laid the foundation for any future charge of a breech of faith. The citizens presented as their chief grievances alleged discriminations in freight, which were working to the dis-advantage of Council Bluffs; the narrowing of the channel of the river by the new oridge building, and the throwing up of an embankment, daming the water, and making floods liable; the shutting up of the stock yards; the failure to run the dummy trains in accordance with the agreement made when the city gave up to the road Union avenue.

There was also an eagerness to get some information as to whether the company was contemplating the removal of its shops and freight yards to this side of the river. It was urged that the company had plenty of room here, owning abundance of land, and that getting crowded in Omaha, it would be to the company's interest to locate the shops here. The fact that Omaha is getting so crowded, and that land is getting very valuable there, was touched upon in Mr. Adams' address to the Quada citizens at the banquet Friday night, and the inti-mation that the day was not far off when mation that the day was not far off when these shops and yards would be removed a few miles, had aroused the hope of the Council Bluffs people, that when so moved, Council Bluffs would be chosen as the new site. The conference resulted in very little information to satisfy the eager inquiry of the citizens here. Preseager inquiry of the citizens here. Pres-ident Adams, in substance, told the citizens that he had not the happiest ex-periences in disclosing the plans of the company. He had in the past found that by telling what the company was going to do, he had brought a storm about his ears from other sources, and that from his past experience he had come to the conclusion that he would not hereafter make any public announcements of plans and purposes, but let the public learn from the progress of the work, rather than from any statements made in ad-

than from any statements made in ad-vance of the work. In other words, he told the Council Bluffs folks to wait and see, assuring them that the policy of the road in re-gard to improvements affecting this city, would be to aid the city, and increase its prosperity, so far as this could be done without any injury to the best interests of the road.

The alleged discrimination in freight did not show up, very strong, but the assurance was given that whenever any such discriminations were made to ap-savings bank, and these were all brought pear, they would be promptly corrected, as the company had no object in permitin yesterday afternoon, broken open, and the money counted out. At the Catholic church services were held morning, afternoon and evening. The Methodist church was adorned with flowers in profusion. In the morn-ing the pastor preached upon the theme ting discriminations against any point on its line, or in favor of any point on its line. Mr. Adams stated that the plan for building an embankment out to the first pier of the new bridge had been abau-doned, and that trestle work would be of the day, and for the evening a concert exercise had been arranged for the chilused instead, so that the water might tren. have full course in case of flood.

It remains as much a mystery as ever, therefore, whether Council Bluffs is to have any of the improvements for which it has been waiting so long. Under the old management of the road this city was soon to come, but which proved to be a hope long deferred, making the heart sick. The new management starts in with about the same kind of general inti-mations and hopeful hints, but those who were present at the conference seem to have renewed confidence that the new management means to treat the city

Three years ago we started out to sell A. B. C. Soap on its merits, to day thousands of the most intelligent housekeepers in this and all the principal cities of the Union use our A. B. C. Soap and marvel why it is not used in every home.

The principal grocers throughout the Union tell us one reason why its use has not become general is that has not been sufficiently advertised ; and another reason is, because many people who have bought it, did not give it the necessary and intelligent attention it deserves. They did not read the directions, and finding that it would not wash by laying A. B. C. Soap on top of the bundle of soiled clothes, they fell back to five cent soap.

Thousands write us: "Your A B. C. Soap is all that you claim for it; it not only gives satisfaction, but we find that our most intelligent customers say that it is
