

NEBRASKA'S PHARMACISTS

Meet in Their Fifth Annual Session in Omaha.

TWO EXCITING RUNAWAYS.

The Mayor Vetoes the Salary Ordinance—Arranging for the Editors—Building the Cable Line—The June Festival.

Nebraska Pharmacists.

The fourth annual meeting of the Nebraska State Pharmaceutical association was called to order at the exposition building at 3 o'clock yesterday by President Henry D. Boyden, of Grand Island, who delivered the regular annual address.

In the absence of Mayor Boyd, who was unexpectedly called from the city, Mr. H. T. Clark delivered the address of welcome, as follows:

H. T. CLARK'S ADDRESS.

Mr. President and Gentlemen of the Convention: I have been in the habit of employing some one to talk for me, but it seems as if my friend on the right, Mr. President, has seen fit on this occasion to call upon me in person.

It is with much pleasure, gentlemen, that I have seen for years. This ground I trod some forty years ago. This city and buildings have gone up like magic. We take pride in welcoming you to our city.

In welcoming you, gentlemen, we hope that you will be as generous to our city as we are to you, and we will try to do all that is in our power to make this meeting profitable to you.

Mr. N. H. Kuhn of this city and late president of the association, made the following reply:

Mr. Clark, I have distinguished guests from outside the state, for the officers and members present, our comrades absent, and for the inhabitants of Nebraska, for all interested in having a better class of pharmacists.

In ancient times, pharmacy was an occult science. The magician of the past labored in vain for the "Elixir of Life," but the druggist of the present, while not holding out these delectable health giving remedies in a more palatable form, and with water, from the simple food, teaches the life world to teach that from these are to be derived the only "Elixir of Life."

Further, it should be said that, should your duties permit, you are to be open to you.

Asia, thanking you, we will begin our meeting with the desire that your kind hopes for our success may be fulfilled.

Mr. Kuhn's address was cordially greeted with cheers.

Mr. Henry D. Boyden, of Grand Island, president of the association, then delivered the annual address, of which the following is a synopsis:

PRESIDENT BOYDEN'S ADDRESS.

It is not to be expected that the keenest pleasure be able to meet you upon this fifth annual gathering of our association.

Time has flown by so swiftly since our first meeting in the capitol city of our state—four years ago—for the purpose of organizing the society for the promotion of the public interest, to consider, that I can hardly realize the time has fully come, and we are met for the first time in this city.

The growth of our association in numbers, in material strength, in social and moral influence, as well as in the dignity of the profession we represent, gives assurance of greater maturity in the future.

No one knows so well as the pharmacist himself, the great responsibilities that rest constantly upon him, responsibilities that make his position a most honorable one, and his conscience, the competent druggist realizes as no one else can how constantly he stands between the public and the deadly mistakes of short-sighted and forgetful, as well as criminally ignorant physicians and the recklessness and wickedness of private individuals.

The pharmacist rises far above the mere mechanical execution of a prescription. It is his standard of pharmacy and pharmaceutical practice that presides at the realization of the physician's prescription, and stamps it with its responsibility, with its fidelity, and fortifies it with his bond that involves his reputation and his money, then that he is not to be trifled with.

Nowhere in the world is the art and science of pharmacy so completely enthroned in the appreciation and admiration of an educated people as in Germany. It may be justly said that the highest practical education required, the high standard of scientific and practical qualification, and the restrictions imposed by law and controlled by the government, Germany stands first and highest.

A glance at the requirements that secure the pharmacist a title for the practice of his profession throughout the empire will reveal the secret of why this is so. The candidate for appointment to the class of pharmacist must have at least ten years of practical education, of which at least five must have been passed through a real school.

must last three years, during which the pupil progresses and the obligatory instruction of his master is controlled by annual examinations by a delegate of the district government. At the close of the course, the candidate is required to pass an examination before a board, also appointed by the district government, the candidate is to be considered as a pharmacist by serving three years more as an apprentice, and then he is entitled to enter upon the obligatory course of university study at any of the twenty German universities. He is free to attend such lectures as he may choose, and at the close of the lecture term he is to be examined by the board of examiners, whose report is submitted to the district government; while the state requires with uncompromising severity a satisfactory passage of a comprehensive final examination.

But the German student is not always content with the mere study of his university and laboratory studies, and by the subsequent passage of an examination before the philosophical faculty of a university, he obtains the title of doctor of pharmacy. This course of study and strict attention to the practical phases of art and science, which is the province of the pharmacist, who are held to strict account to the state for the faithful manner in which they discharge their duties, is a most commendable and honorable profession.

It is not to be expected that the keenest pleasure be able to meet you upon this fifth annual gathering of our association.

It is not to be expected that the keenest pleasure be able to meet you upon this fifth annual gathering of our association.

It is not to be expected that the keenest pleasure be able to meet you upon this fifth annual gathering of our association.

It is not to be expected that the keenest pleasure be able to meet you upon this fifth annual gathering of our association.

It is not to be expected that the keenest pleasure be able to meet you upon this fifth annual gathering of our association.

It is not to be expected that the keenest pleasure be able to meet you upon this fifth annual gathering of our association.

It is not to be expected that the keenest pleasure be able to meet you upon this fifth annual gathering of our association.

It is not to be expected that the keenest pleasure be able to meet you upon this fifth annual gathering of our association.

It is not to be expected that the keenest pleasure be able to meet you upon this fifth annual gathering of our association.

It is not to be expected that the keenest pleasure be able to meet you upon this fifth annual gathering of our association.

It is not to be expected that the keenest pleasure be able to meet you upon this fifth annual gathering of our association.

It is not to be expected that the keenest pleasure be able to meet you upon this fifth annual gathering of our association.

It is not to be expected that the keenest pleasure be able to meet you upon this fifth annual gathering of our association.

It is not to be expected that the keenest pleasure be able to meet you upon this fifth annual gathering of our association.

It is not to be expected that the keenest pleasure be able to meet you upon this fifth annual gathering of our association.

It is not to be expected that the keenest pleasure be able to meet you upon this fifth annual gathering of our association.

It is not to be expected that the keenest pleasure be able to meet you upon this fifth annual gathering of our association.

It is not to be expected that the keenest pleasure be able to meet you upon this fifth annual gathering of our association.

It is not to be expected that the keenest pleasure be able to meet you upon this fifth annual gathering of our association.

It is not to be expected that the keenest pleasure be able to meet you upon this fifth annual gathering of our association.

It is not to be expected that the keenest pleasure be able to meet you upon this fifth annual gathering of our association.

It is not to be expected that the keenest pleasure be able to meet you upon this fifth annual gathering of our association.

It is not to be expected that the keenest pleasure be able to meet you upon this fifth annual gathering of our association.

It is not to be expected that the keenest pleasure be able to meet you upon this fifth annual gathering of our association.

It is not to be expected that the keenest pleasure be able to meet you upon this fifth annual gathering of our association.

It is not to be expected that the keenest pleasure be able to meet you upon this fifth annual gathering of our association.

It is not to be expected that the keenest pleasure be able to meet you upon this fifth annual gathering of our association.

It is not to be expected that the keenest pleasure be able to meet you upon this fifth annual gathering of our association.

It is not to be expected that the keenest pleasure be able to meet you upon this fifth annual gathering of our association.

It is not to be expected that the keenest pleasure be able to meet you upon this fifth annual gathering of our association.

It is not to be expected that the keenest pleasure be able to meet you upon this fifth annual gathering of our association.

It is not to be expected that the keenest pleasure be able to meet you upon this fifth annual gathering of our association.

It is not to be expected that the keenest pleasure be able to meet you upon this fifth annual gathering of our association.

It is not to be expected that the keenest pleasure be able to meet you upon this fifth annual gathering of our association.

that justice demands the enactment of such exemption laws in every state. The demands of citizenship are not so unreasoning and imprudently as to require the pharmacist to leave his prescription book and engage in some other profession, and thus to endanger his life and the life of his patients, and to be held to a standard of practice which he is not qualified to maintain.

One of the principal subjects which will come up for discussion at the session to-day, will be the necessity for a law governing the practice of pharmacy in this state. At present no such law obtains. As a consequence in some places, it is claimed, that the profession is practiced by people with but the rudimentary knowledge of the details. As a consequence the reputation of the more reputable and competent practitioners is injured, and the public, even the lives of the people, needlessly endangered.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination. It will also be their duty to supervise the sale of poisonous drugs, to be on the watch for adulterations, and to severely punish those who may surreptitiously dispose of deleterious drugs.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

cadia; W. B. Shryock, Louisville; Dr. J. Bruns, Ashland; C. H. Bruner, Chas. W. White, C. Rider, Ashland; Wm. W. Braden, N. K. Krum, M. C. C. Goodman, D. W. Saxe, J. B. Conte, H. T. Clark, Jno. T. Clark, Max Becht, and Jas. Forsyth, Omaha; Chas. Dauwe, Omaha; J. H. St. Louis; J. C. Starke and M. E. Schiller, Berthoud; O. Car. Groschell, Omaha; M. W. Ryerson and A. W. Atwood, Broken Bow, and J. A. Roeder, Omaha.

One of the principal subjects which will come up for discussion at the session to-day, will be the necessity for a law governing the practice of pharmacy in this state. At present no such law obtains. As a consequence in some places, it is claimed, that the profession is practiced by people with but the rudimentary knowledge of the details. As a consequence the reputation of the more reputable and competent practitioners is injured, and the public, even the lives of the people, needlessly endangered.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

To remedy this growing evil, the members desire to have appointed by law a state board of pharmacy, whose duty shall be primarily to examine all persons desiring to act as pharmacists, granting permission so to act only to such as shall pass a stated examination.

AN EXILE FROM HIS COUNTRY

The Fall of Ex-Senator Thomas W. Ferry of Michigan.

Events Which Brought About the Ruin of a Man Who Was Sixteen Years in the United States Senate.

New York World: "It is not very generally known," said a Michigan man yesterday, "that ex-Senator Thomas W. Ferry is an exile from his state and country. He dare not return until matters pending against him are either outlawed or settled. There is an indictment against him for forgery."

At the time of his defeat for reelection a few years ago he passed as a very rich man.

"Yes, but that was far from the truth. Ten or fifteen years ago he was worth considerable money. He had an interest with his brother in some Michigan pine lands, and together they operated an extensive lumber yard in Chicago. I say together, but Thomas never had a cent to do with the management of the business. They made considerable money for a time, and, as usual, their fortune was squandered. However, come what may, ever, and in addition to this the senator began leading a very wild life at Washington. He spent more than his salary in dissipation, and became involved in several disgraceful exposures. His wife, however, how he was horsewhipped in his rooms at the National hotel by an irate young woman and her father. Poor Ferry crept under the bed and cried for mercy, but he was only stopped when they were completely exhausted. The story told at the time was to the effect that Ferry had insulted the young lady in some way and that was the method by which she and her father made any complaint, but the father of the young lady received a note from the senator a couple of days after the attack. He opened it, expecting to find at least a few words of apology, but he found an ultimatum for himself and family over the Pansylvania railroad. Quer? What a demanding satisfaction, wasn't it?"

"Ferry's exposure would have come before the public, but from the fact that he held a seat in the United States senate, and if he had been re-elected his affairs would have been hushed up somehow; but when he became a common citizen, with his patronage at his disposal, then all his creditors jumped on him. It was learned that he had been engaged in a number of very questionable transactions, among which was the charge of trying to bribe a senator to change the structure of the senate, and a machine discipline organized by Chas. Chandler in Michigan held his forces in line before the eighty-third election. There a break came, and the present Senator Palmer was the result. Ferry fled at once to Europe, and had scarcely got there when the charges were granted, and he was arrested on several different counts. This was five years ago. He has never returned, and he may die in exile. The ex-senator's brother, however, is devoted to Tom, and he has had a contract with the attorney to try to build up the fortunes of the family. It is a better man of the two, and has considerable business ability and push. I am told that he has been fortunate in some real estate investments, and he has been able to get on his feet, but in some cases I suppose some of his claims against Thomas were a criminal prosecution could be brought will be settled up, and the exile will find it safe to return home. He has never again been a factor in Michigan politics. Of late years he has become a victim of the morphia habit, which almost completely undermined his intellect."

"I believe he has passed most of his life in Italy, but he has been roaming all over Europe. A great effort was made to persuade President Arthur to pardon Ferry, but the commission just after the death of Minister Hunt, but Mr. Arthur concluded it was not best to appoint a man who could not visit his own country to present his application. Senator Palmer and the attorney believe, on the other hand, that it is a little bit singular that a man who served eighteen years in the senate, six years as president pro tempore of that body, acting vice president of the senate, and president of the senate, should find himself an exile from his own country and a fugitive from justice and law, and that he should be a factor in Michigan politics, and that he should be a victim of the morphia habit, which almost completely undermined his intellect."

"I believe he has passed most of his life in Italy, but he has been roaming all over Europe. A great effort was made to persuade President Arthur to pardon Ferry, but the commission just after the death of Minister Hunt, but Mr. Arthur concluded it was not best to appoint a man who could not visit his own country to present his application. Senator Palmer and the attorney believe, on the other hand, that it is a little bit singular that a man who served eighteen years in the senate, six years as president pro tempore of that body, acting vice president of the senate, and president of the senate, should find himself an exile from his own country and a fugitive from justice and law, and that he should be a factor in Michigan politics, and that he should be a victim of the morphia habit, which almost completely undermined his intellect."

"I believe he has passed most of his life in Italy, but he has been roaming all over Europe. A great effort was made to persuade President Arthur to pardon Ferry, but the commission just after the death of Minister Hunt, but Mr. Arthur concluded it was not best to appoint a man who could not visit his own country to present his application. Senator Palmer and the attorney believe, on the other hand, that it is a little bit singular that a man who served eighteen years in the senate, six years as president pro tempore of that body, acting vice president of the senate, and president of the senate, should find himself an exile from his own country and a fugitive from justice and law, and that he should be a factor in Michigan politics, and that he should be a victim of the morphia habit, which almost completely undermined his intellect."

"I believe he has passed most of his life in Italy, but he has been roaming all over Europe. A great effort was made to persuade President Arthur to pardon Ferry, but the commission just after the death of Minister Hunt, but Mr. Arthur concluded it was not best to appoint a man who could not visit his own country to present his application. Senator Palmer and the attorney believe, on the other hand, that it is a little bit singular that a man who served eighteen years in the senate, six years as president pro tempore of that body, acting vice president of the senate, and president of the senate, should find himself an exile from his own country and a fugitive from justice and law, and that he should be a factor in Michigan politics, and that he should be a victim of the morphia habit, which almost completely undermined his intellect."

"I believe he has passed most of his life in Italy, but he has been roaming all over Europe. A great effort was made to persuade President Arthur to pardon Ferry, but the commission just after the death of Minister Hunt, but Mr. Arthur concluded it was not best to appoint a man who could not visit his own country to present his application. Senator Palmer and the attorney believe, on the other hand, that it is a little bit singular that a man who served eighteen years in the senate, six years as president pro tempore of that body, acting vice president of the senate, and president of the senate