works in this vicinity, he gave the cheering information that without doubt they would locate either in Omaha or Council Bluffs, but it was not decided which place was best. If Omaha was the favored spot, it would doubtless be necessary to have a large warehouse here with facilities for transferring here. It would be a big thing for whichever city was chosen, and would prove of no little advantage to Council Bluffs, in case Omaha was selected.

The district telegraph system is so much of a novelty to many here that it awakens curiosity, and some are inclined to play with it. It is very easy to use. In one office yesterday the boys, big boys too, got to betting on the time it would require to get a messenger from the central office. Before all the wagers for cigars had been settled there had been twenty calls from that box, every now and then some new one dropping in, and a new bet made, only to be decided by turning in the box.
