DEATH OF COLONEL POLK.

Attempted Suicide at "Irish Ann's"-Gillispie Property for Sale-Rabbi Benson's Lecture-Progressive Euchre.

IFHOM THE BEE'S LINDOLN BUREAU. About noon yesterday the police were notified by telephone that a shooting affray of some kind had occurred at "Irish Ann's" place, 800 N street Fire Warden Newbury, Officer Malone and Dr. Beachley went there and found a man suffering from a pistol shot wound in the right temple. About the first words he said as the officials entered were: "I did it my-self; no one else is to blame." Dr. Beachley reported that the pistol had evidently been held just back of the temple and pointed in a slanting direction, the shot cutting the temple artery and doing no further damage. This was confirmed by the wounded man's assertion that he had pushed the bullet out from under the skin, and the subsequent finding of the ball, a 32 calibre, on the floor. A few stitches repaired the damage, and put the patient, barring a few scratches, in as good shape as he was before the shooting.
The landlady, in giving her version of the affair, said the man, who is a stranger to her, went there yesterday morning about 10 o'clock, and after tlaking a few minutes said he had been drinking hard. and asked to be allowed to lie down and sleep awhile. He was shown to a room and nearly two hours after a shot was and hearty two hours after a shot was heard. Entering there with one of her girls "Irish Ann" found that he had wounded himself as stated. The man was identified by Officer Malone as Γ. Lawrence, of Creston, Iowa, married, and a B. & M. railway engineer by occuration. His reason for trying to take his pation. His reason for trying to take his life, if he had any reason, is not known, as he refuses to say anything except that he alone is responsible for the transac-

COL. POLK'S DEATH.
Colonel Burr H. Polk, who died in this city Saturday, was one of Lincoln's oldest and best known citizens. A native of Kentucky, where he was born in 1835, he entered the Union army at the outbreak of the war, serving until peace was de-clared in 1865, at which time he wore a colonel's shoulder straps. From 1868 until 1879 Colonel Polk was a resident of Vicksburg, Miss., and largely engaged in the cotton business. When he came to Lincoln some six years ago he bought a handsome house on L strdet, and installed there his family—a wite and three children—who are to-day sincere mourners at the bier of a lamented parent Colonel Polk's death was due to heart disease, the symptoms of which were first apparent two years ago. In the hope that a change of scene and climate might have a beneficial effect Colonel Polk last winter made a trip down the Missis-sippi to his old haunts, but the hand of death was already upon him, and even before his return had started to foreclose his claim. The funeral will take place from the family residence Monday at 2:30 SALE OF THE GILLISPIE LOTS

The sale of what is known as the Gillispie property, six lots in block 153, this city, will take place on Thursday next, These lots, as is well known, came into the possession of the state some years back at a valuation of $4,500. They are now appraised at an average of $2,225 each, and will probably bring something more than that. The resolution under which they are to be sold requires that they be offered separately, and knocked down to the highest bidder. One-tenth of the purchase money will be required in cash, and the balance can run for twenty years at 6 per cent interest. There are three lots fronting on G and Sixteenth streets, and three on G and Sixteenth streets, and three on G and seventeenth. One of the latter is what is known as the Gillispie homestead, and on it is the old frame building where, for nearly nineteen years, the family have lived, the father and mother growing old, and the children growing to man and womanhood. This lot and house has been appraised at $5,000, and as it is Mrs. Gillespie's wish to bid it in at as near that figure as possible, there is a general understanding among intending buyers that they will not jump the price on her.

A tramp named Joseph Kennedy fell from a train near Big Springs Wednes-day night, receiving injuries that will lay him up for some time, if they do not prove tatal. Kennedy's history is a succession of thrilling adventures in all quarters of the globe. At the age of 15 he left his home in Maine and sailed for the Arctic regions in a whaler. While harpooning a whale the boat was cap-sized. He swam to an ice floe and drifted sized. He swam to an ice line and drifted about for four days and nights, and was finally rescued by the Esquimo. He next joined a Russian exploring party, tramped through Siberia, and landed in a Russian prison as a nihilist. Escaping to Russian Poland, he trudged toward the Golden Horn, where he enlisted in the Turkish army. He remained long enough in this service to save a few shekels, deserted, went to Vienna and became an advance agent of socialism. For five years in London he worked that claim for all it was worth, and was sent to America to sow the seed of discontent and ruin. He was an active agitator in the recent strike troubles in Taxas, and was in the riots in Chlorigo, and immediately after farted west, under an asthe striking brakemen. But his activity was suddenly cut short, as well as his leg, and it is doubtful if the doctors can save him for a worse fate.
