

SOME COUNTER AFFIDAVITS

Which Have Been Filed By Mr. Foss, to Wipe Out Reflections Upon His Moral Character.

A LOYAL L. SMITH ROMANCE.

A Woman in the Case as Usual—She is a Beauty From Bean-Eating—Boston—Matters Being Arranged So Smith Can Marry Her.

[FROM THE BEE'S LINCOLN BUREAU.]

Late Saturday evening Mr. Fayette L. Foss, of Crete, the attorney for the defendant in the somewhat sensational divorce case of Thomas vs. Laura Powers, filed a package of sixty-eight affidavits with the clerk of the supreme court, all bearing on the ride to Denver last October which, thanks to the energetic reporters, has become almost as famous in this state as the celebrated horseback journey once made by Phil Sheridan.

On a hearing of the case on a habeas corpus proceedings for the custody of the boy Sammy, the attorney for the plaintiff, it will be remembered, charged in court that Mrs. Powers and her lawyer had been a little careless in their conduct during the visit to Denver, where they went to secure certain depositions. Mr. Foss was on his feet in an instant, repelling the accusation, and demanding, as Mrs. Powers had three lawyers, himself, Governor Dawes and Mr. Stevens, that as a matter of justice the charges should be made more specific.

In reply to this the plaintiff filed affidavits from parties in Denver intimating that Foss was the man, and that while at the Windsor hotel he was a little too free in the use of Mrs. Powers' room, and on leaving had sneaked out by a side entrance, first paying certain employees of the house to keep quiet about what they saw.

The affidavits now filed by Mr. Foss are in answer to these charges, and seem to dispose of them effectually. Mrs. Powers testifies that she went to Denver with Mr. Foss, and that she was the one who made the husband's notice that he wanted to get a deposition from Dr. Sherlock. Mr. Foss was on the train, and his conduct was so violent that she was afraid he would do her harm, and at her suggestion Mr. Foss occupied the berth over hers. At the hotel Powers dogged her so that she had her room changed so as to be near to Mr. and Mrs. Gere, and when leaving the house, she had a straight tip, won the shovels.

The jury in the Muckle-Arbuckle case, in which the plaintiff sued to recover damages from defendant for selling him a horse, and that horse being sold to her while confronted by the armed posse. In explaining the men's demands Mr. Kilpatrick said that his firm had paid the sub-contractor, and that the latter was not to be troubled with his work, but some of the thick-headed cases wanted pay at the same time for the month now ending, which would be impossible, as the work has not been measured yet.

At the pacing race Friday afternoon Fremman had an easy victory in straight heats. Best time, 2:47. The few who were on the track and had a straight tip, won the shovels.

The Association of Nebraska Undertakers will meet in this city on June 9. Governor Dawes has issued a requisition for the next day for the return to Nebraska of Joseph O'Connor, the man wanted for embezzling $150 from Lindquist & Co.

The Eight Weddings of the White House. Cleveland Leader: If Grover Cleveland should be married in the white house his wedding will be the ninth which has taken place there. He is now a president; married in the white house, Jan. Tyler had the wedding reception of his second marriage in the white house, and President Hayes and his wife celebrated their silver wedding there. The first marriage in the white house took place in 1811, when a Miss Todd, a relative of President Madison's wife married John J. Jackson, a Virginia congressman, in the east room of the white house. Andrew Jackson's close friend, Major Lewis, of Nashville, and Jackson's niece was married during this administration to a Mr. Polk, of Tennessee.

Inspector Bondfield Receives a Riot Gun. Chicago News: Inspector Bondfield received yesterday from the manufacturers in Connecticut what is called a "riot gun," for use by the city police. It is a centrififer weapon, with a spring needle, and shoots six times without reloading. Its weight is twenty pounds, it is larger than a .22-caliber ball, it operates rapidly, and is said to be very efficacious in scattering a crowd.

The warmer weather often has a depressing and debilitating effect. Hood's Sarsaparilla overcomes all languor and lassitude.

M'GILLICUDDY'S REMOVAL.

A Letter From the Noted Indian Agent of Pine Ridge.

THE FACTS IN HIS CASE.

He Indulges in Some Very Plain Talk in a Letter to the Indian Commissioner.

UNITED STATES INDIAN SERVICE, PINE RIDGE AGENCY, Dak., May 20, 1886.—(To the Editor.)—I notice the Hon. Commissioner Atkins does not give to the press my detail letter of reason of April 27, and as the same may prove interesting to people who believe a "public office is a public trust," etc., I enclose it for publication.

I presume that it stirred the Indian office up. A short time ago they sent Captain Lee, U. S. A., in charge of Cheyenne and Arapahoe agency, Indian Territory, a new clerk. Lee wired General Sheridan at once that if he insisted on placing the clerk on duty he would request to be relieved and sent back to his regiment. The Indian office backed down. Why did they do this?

I see your special of the 18th state that Atkins says Clerk Brown was discharged for the reason that he applied for a license to trade. That statement is false. Clerk Brown has never applied for license to trade, directly or indirectly, and the statement is a very lame attempt at justification for the arbitrary act of the Indian office in causing my suspension.

In the same special they state that Senator Dawes wired me advice to accept the clerk. I have received no advice whatever from Senator Dawes. I am still clerk on duty. He was urged to remain by Inspector Bannister and Captain Bell on the grounds of his unquestioned ability and record. Mr. Clark, the new clerk, has not shown himself worthy of the position.

I was fully prepared for the suspension, and expected it. I can stand the racket. My self-respect is worth more than $200.00 per year to conduct a business on $300.00 per year under a bond of $30.00.

I shall take up my residence in the Black Hills. My resignation was made out under date of March 27, but I was dissuaded from sending it in under a promise from one of the inspectors that the Indian office had dropped the matter of appointing Clark, and that my clerk should not be interfered with. I am glad that I did not send in my resignation, as I consider it more honorable to be suspended on such an issue.

UNITED STATES INDIAN SERVICE, PINE RIDGE AGENCY, Dak., May 20, 1886.—(To the Editor.)—The following appears in your issue of the 17th instant: "WASHINGTON, May 17, (Special Telegram.)—Indian Commissioner Atkins says: "The reason I discharged Daniel Brown, who had been M'Gilllicuddy's clerk, was that he had applied for a license as a trader, and it was not proper that he should remain in the service."

It is hardly credible that Commissioner Atkins made the above assertion. I never applied nor contemplated applying for a license as a trader, nor can the Indian office show any such application, or other paper, official or otherwise, bearing my signature, excepting such as have been in connection with my duties as a clerk at this agency, and which through the proper channel, the agent, BROWN.

PINE RIDGE AGENCY, Dak., April 27, 1886.—Hon. J. D. C. Atkins, Commissioner of Indian Affairs.—Sir: I have the honor to address the following in connection with your letter of the 21st inst., and my telegram of the 27th inst., in relation to the appointment of a clerk by your office for this agency.

The present incumbent, Mr. Brown, has been in this agency's employ for five years in different grades, and is experienced in every branch of the service, and has in addition what so many clerks lack, excellent executive and administrative ability, much more in fact than many of your Indian agents, and could to-day discharge the duties of any other agent. It is a pity that the present incumbent, Mr. Brown, is a consistent democrat, and not of the stripe of many who held positions under the old administration and have at a late date, as a matter of expediency, discovered the error of their ways and turned democrat.

If to displace such a man without charges is in the line of the much vaunted civil service reform, then I would protest against being a party to it. If, as I understand it, the avowed intention of your office in appointing "Tyler" is to "keep the wheels of the machinery of the agents, then I must congratulate the Indian service on its agents and clerks in the future, for an agent who will service reform in this manner will be either a man so incapable of making a living as to fear to trust himself in ordinary business on his own account or one who is making enough money irregularly out of his position to tempt him for his loss of self-respect, and comment on a clerk who would accept such a position is entirely unnecessary.

I would invite your attention to the fact that none of the agents, secretary, commissioner or secretary, are bonded, neither are the agents' subordinates, clerk appointed by you, etc.

The agent alone is bonded for the faithful performance of his duty, and the proper care, issue of the property, and disbursement of the funds that come into his hands by virtue of his position, and under no circumstances can he be otherwise than unbusiness-like and unofficial for your office to attempt to appoint the clerk for that agent and force the agent to turn the care of the property and funds for the people of the reservation to an unbonded clerk, a stranger to the agent.

Under no office or department of the government is it so easy to know a man and justice to my bondsmen, and I will not permit it in my case, my bondsmen vouch for me, and not for an unknown and irresponsible clerk of some one else's selection. Regretting that after twenty years continuous service under the government it became necessary for me to set in a seemingly insubordinate manner and requesting the department to decide what action they will take in the matter. I am, very respectfully,
V. T. M'GILLICUDDY,
United States Indian Agent.

STATE AND TERRITORY.

Nebraska Jottings.

Edgar boasts of a $15,000 note that is to be. The police of Hastings are blooming in new suits. The Grand Island Times is now published daily. The assessed valuation of real estate and personal property in Crete is $130,000. Union Pacific surveyors have staked an extension of the road sixty miles west of Cedar Rapids.

The authorities of Neligh propose to build the new $2,500 to provide tools for a fire brigade. Four churches, five temperance societies and three saloons supply the spiritual wants of Tekamah.

Major McMurphy has sold the Schuyler and returned temporarily to verbal howlers of peace and private affairs. Ten miles of the track of the Grand Island & Wyoming Central has been laid, and the work is being pushed rapidly.

The Patent Interior Publishing company of Falls City has collapsed. The promoters were induced to quit by rival losses. The new town of Curtis, in Frontier county, is growing rapidly. $300,000 worth of lots having been sold within a month.

C. D. Barrows, of Lancaster county, was bitten in the thumb by a rattlesnake while picking strawberries, and fatal results are feared. One of "Doc" Middleton's parads in the horse-lifting business was run down in Lincoln, and the horse and buggy were brought back to Stoney for trial.

Mrs. Meals is the appropriate name of the landlady of the principal hotel in Ainsworth. She tickles her boarders three times a day. The new port western county, boasts the ticket: "For president in 1888, Charles H. Van Wyck, of Nebraska."

The contract for the second building of the cannery factory in Blair has been awarded to the company at that place, and they are ready for business in a few months. An aching cavity in Beatrice was filled by the dentists last week. They met in annual convention to devise ways and means to lubricate the jaws of their victims.

Hastings stands a first-class chance of securing an extension of the Elkhorn Valley road from Lincoln. All that is necessary is a united appeal and a bonus. The remains of James Ewing, the founder of the town bearing his name, were brought up from Lincoln last week and buried in the Ewing cemetery with Masonic honors.

Sidney is anxiously waiting for a griet and a railroad on the North Platte valley. The M'Gilllicuddy plan will never secure either; such improvements must be forced to "turn up." The 4-year old son of L. C. Brown, of Grand Island, toyed with the tail of a cow, and was killed by the cow on the side of a building near by. The outline of his nose was lost in the collision, but the youngster will live.

The young ladies of Genoa have organized a broom brigade and are sweeping the city and mountains. The rolling pin has gone out of fashion. A clean sweep of eligible bachelors in the neighborhood is threatened. Amount is getting solid with the managers of the Elkhorn Valley railroad. Right on the heels of the banquet tendered Superintendent Hall last Thursday, the announcement is made that the directors of the road have decided to move from Norfolk to Fremont. The "Priestess" will hereafter bank on the Grub route.

H. P. Shumway, of Wakefield, has in his possession a deed to the family homestead of the late Gen. Charles H. Smith, of 1783, or forty-three years before the revolutionary war. The document is all written, and certain portions are scarcely legible. The homestead is still in the family, and is the birthplace of Shumway's mother.

J. Walmeyer & Son, of Baltimore, Md., and Atchison, Kan., are building at Falls City one of the largest cannery factories in the world. It will employ about 40,000 cans a day. It will be ready for business by June. They will employ between 400 and 500 hands on the crop and after that about 200 hands.

The level-headed Johnson County Journal gives the whole snare away, and it says: "Newspapers in the west are instituted for three specific purposes; first, to make money for the owners; second, to furnish an advertising medium for the business men of the town; third, to proclaim to the world the advantages of a place and adjacent country."

Harriet Hammond, the beloved wife of Ben, living near O'Neil City, fell desperately ill in love with a neighbor named "Tyler," and after a long courtship she was married to him. Her husband discovered the error of their ways and turned democrat.

A seedy and forlorn tramp attempted to hold up the editor of the Davenport Telegraph in Hastings for a "chew of tobacco." The wry wielder of the copyist's pen, however, refused to give him the hungry tramp in the gutter the proper landing him in the gutter. The Telegraph man then strung himself over space and reached the hotel in safety.

A company has been formed in Nebraska City to bridge the river at that place. The stock is $150,000, subject to an increase to 750,000. Some of the wealthiest citizens are interested in the movement, and among the incorporators are W. B. Stevenson, W. A. Cotton, D. P. Rolf, C. O'Neil, L. W. Holscher, H. S. Hawley, John Steinley, and others.

A bare knuckle fight between two married women occurred in Dixon county last week. It was a regular prize-fighting match, in which all the rules of the profession were knocked out as well as the pugilists. They bit and clawed and pulled hair for twenty minutes and fell exhausted, crying and mutilated. The battle-field was strewn with bangs and braids and blood. The fight was declared a draw and the stakes confiscated by the court.

The Brun Memorial library at Humboldt, Iowa, has just received $1,000 from the estate of the late Mr. Brun. The building will be a two-story brick structure, the upper floor to be used for the library. Besides the rental of the first floor, $100 per annum, Mr. Brun's estate has added a life annuity of $150 per annum, which will place it on a solid basis. Twenty-five hundred dollars' worth of books have been ordered.
