

THE DAILY BEE.

COUNCIL BLUFFS.

FRIDAY MORNING MAY, 28.
OFFICE, NO. 12, PEARL STREET.
Delivered by carrier in any part of the city at twenty cents per week.
B. W. TILTON, Manager.
TELEPHONE:
BUSINESS OFFICE, NO. 45.
EDITORIAL OFFICE, NO. 23.

MINOR MENTION.

New York Plumbing company.
New summer goods at Reiter's.
Leonard & Jewett refrigerators at Cooper & McGee's, No. 41 Main street.
The Sons of Veterans are preparing to give their first benefit ball next Wednesday night.
Ladies, visit the Coradine baking exhibition at Parks & Platter's, and tomorrow at James & Haverstock's.

Three drunks constituted the police court business yesterday. One paid, two took to the jail. An average day.
Last night was a great one for church entertainment. The Methodists, Congregationalists and Baptists each held socials.

The case of the State vs. George Wilson for stealing a jersey from Culver's store, was on trial yesterday in the district court.

Judgments were rendered yesterday in favor of W. S. Mayne and J. W. Roderfer, against the city, they being claims on grading certificates.

Justice Schurz yesterday married Sam Marsters and Sarah J. Davis, both of Loup, Neb., the ceremony being performed at his office.

The memorial services are not to be changed in accordance with the petitions sent out by the G. A. R., but are to be held on Sunday.

The veterans desire to remind all citizens to make due preparations for supplying an abundance of flowers for Decoration Day. There should be no lack for the wounds of the fallen heroes.

Mate Wise received yesterday morning the first lot of mules, 40 head, that have ever been in this market. As they came from the depot to his stables they attracted much attention.

Judge Lofthourow is to deliver the chief address at the memorial services here next Sunday. It is expected that Hon. John Y. Stone will be present and also deliver an address.

Edith A. Shepard, the 24-year-old daughter of C. P. Shepard, gave a lawn party yesterday afternoon between 4 and 6 o'clock to a number of her friends on the lawn of Mayor Chapman.

The luckless criminal who is brought before Justice Schurz to receive a sentence has a horse shoe hanging over his head. The "good luck" is not always brought by a shoe after all.

The assessors' books from all parts of the county are now in except those of Council Bluffs. They should have been returned by the third of May in May, but for some reason have been delayed.

The case of the State vs. Peter Drury, for malicious mischief, was tried in the district court yesterday. The defendant is a well known farmer of Boomer township, and the offense consisted of tearing away a bridge.

The knowledge that the Women's Exchange can furnish elegant refreshments for luncheon parties is spreading to adjoining cities. An order from Sioux City was filled yesterday. Give them a call. No. 28 Pearl street.

On Sunday morning there will be memorial services held in the Congregational church, the pastor of which will preach a sermon appropriate to the day.
A cordial invitation is extended to all and especially the veterans to be present.

Miss S. D. Kehse, the well known artist and teacher, has decided to spend the summer here, and while she will not open her studio regularly, she has decided to have a sketching class, which will doubtless be joined by many of the old pupils, as well as some new ones. The opportunity offered is an excellent one, and in addition Council Bluffs there are many views of beauty and excellent subjects for sketching.

Wm. Siedentopf, the insurance man, calls his horse "Nero." The significance of this choice of a cognomen does not appear at first, but when it is recalled that Nero fiddled while Rome burned, one cannot be far from a guess.
At that big fire the buildings were not insured, and Nero was happy because the insurance company of which he was president did not have to pay for the loss.

President H. S. De Forest, of the Freedmen's college at Talladega, Ala., has lately been showing of that college, which especially interests his friends here. It is a historical sketch of the college, illustrated with views of the grounds and buildings. It was published originally in the Christian at Work, and is now being sent out in supplement form to the many friends of the institution.
There are now eighteen teachers, and an attendance of 365.

Marshall Herbert, of Atlantic, Iowa, searched a job practice office for gambling implements, tools, etc. He found none. If Atlantic's marshal really wants a game he should come to Council Bluffs, where there are several gambling houses so anxious for suckers that they keep the chips rattling whether a game is going or not, for fear that some passerby might not know that there was a chance to play. The marshal would not have to hunt around job offices in Council Bluffs.

Order your fireworks of the Meller Music company, 113 Main street. Wholesale only. Mail orders promptly attended to.

I. O. O. F.
All Uniformed members of Canton Pottawattamie No. 61 will meet at I. O. O.
F. hall Sunday, May 30, at 1 p. m. sharp, to attend Decoration services.
By Order of Captain of Canton.

The Hardman piano is still ahead.
One hundred of them were shipped in the last two months to the London, England, agency alone.

Flammant Free.
The jury in the case of Mike Flammant has acquitted him. In this case the defendant was charged with assault with intent to murder, the affair occurring in Minneapolis three years ago, as narrated in yesterday's BEE.

Atlantic's Brewery.
Complaint was made last week by one Curtis that E. G. Fisher, at Atlantic, was violating the prohibition law. Search was made and the brewery placed in charge of Deputy Sheriff Goodspeed. Mr.
Fisher demanded that bonds be given for damages to his business, and security furnished to indemnify him against all loss of goods seized. The bonds were not given, and the case was called for trial Monday morning. It resulted in a verdict of "not guilty." It is claimed that ten cases of beer seized at the time the brewery was closed have not yet been returned.

Mrs. Randolph, the famous mind reader, has just arrived. Tells past, present and future. Cases well recommended. All those wishing to see her will call at 615 Eighth street, between Sixth and Seventh avenues. Ladies, 25 cents; gents, 50 cents.

GROWLERS GRINDING AWAY.

Council Bluffs Stoutly Supporting Its Charges Against the Union Pacific.

FLAMMANT GOES FREE.

A Small Search—Social Dolours—Need of Beautifying the Cemetery—Other Notings
About Town.

Showing Up the Union Pacific.
The investigation of the charges against the Union Pacific was continued yesterday. The board of railway commissioners held their sessions in the parlors of the Ogden house, and each day the rooms are well filled. Many merchants and shippers are watching the proceedings, although there is little learned from the witnesses beyond what has time and again been made public.

The railway evidence has been strongly in support of the claim that Council Bluffs has been discriminated against, and that the Union Pacific has not been complying with the mandamus. The fact that Council Bluffs called to the attention of the officials of the road as its own witnesses to support the charges made against the company, indicates that Council Bluffs is not afraid of its course. Since the examination of these witnesses, a large number of Council Bluffs shippers have been examined.
They have testified strongly in support of the charges made. Thus far the examination has been almost entirely in favor of Council Bluffs. When the Union Pacific gets to showing up its side of the case and examining its witnesses, then the complexion of the affair may be made to change a little.

Council Bluffs has undertaken quite a task. There seems now little doubt but that Council Bluffs has lost some of the advantages it formerly held, the stock yards for instance, and that there has been an inconvenience in both passenger and freight traffic. The great point of contention really is whether these changes have been brought about by the Union Pacific company as a blow to Council Bluffs and a help for Omaha, or whether these changes have come about from the pressure of business necessities.
It also remains to be seen whether these changes will be a complaint can be remedied.
Council Bluffs has awakened a new brave fight. As to its final results there are as many varied predictions as there are persons to predict.

One noticeable detail of the investigation is that all of the railway officials who place their names on the Ogden house register record themselves as belonging to Omaha, except W. H. Burns, who invariably registers as from "city." It seems then that Council Bluffs is the residence of one of the notable gathering.

Manager Callaway was not in attendance yesterday. The only new comer was W. E. Griffith, assistant general freight agent.

Yesterday James A. Jackson testified as to the stock yards in this city being infected in 1884, and in consequence he suffered a loss of about thirty head of cattle. Had not used the Council Bluffs yards since 1881 on account of that.

Ex-Congressman Pusey testified as to the establishment, growth and final decline of business at the stock yards.

Samuel Haas was recalled to the stand, and said in his experience in shipping cattle from the west he and his men always had to leave the caboose in Omaha and climb on top of the stock cars in transit to Council Bluffs, in order to be with the stock; that the accommodations at the yards in question, in 1881, were first class, and the same in the two following years; in 1884, however, the caboose was left in Omaha, and the stock was shipped east after the South Omaha yards were opened, and in Cheyenne he was approached by Mr. McShane, of the South Omaha yards, and asked him to ship cattle east after the Council Bluffs yards was very bad, as was the feed.
After arriving at the Council Bluffs yards Mr. Haas found that Mr. McShane was a dishonest man, and that he had been deceived. He then left the yards and went to Cheyenne, where he was partnered with him in shipping cattle to stop at the South Omaha yards, as the feed and attendance at the yards in this city were very poor; made reports of the condition of the yards to the Union Pacific officials, but no remedy came; had heard that Mr. William Paxton had said that he would make Haas go to the South Omaha yards in the future; but Mr. Kimball, general traffic manager of the Union Pacific, told him he would write to Paxton and that Haas should have courteous treatment.

C. A. Beebe was the next to testify. He claimed that the Broadway depot was wholly inadequate, that he could get no information there, they having no agent, but simply a check clerk. Freight had been refused at the depot after 5 o'clock on account of there not being room to accommodate it.

Mr. Merriam, of David Bradley & Co., testified as to the Lincoln train not running through to Council Bluffs. Various court decisions were also introduced in support of his testimony. The action of the Union Pacific in going back on the extension of the track up Twelfth avenue, to accommodate Main street shippers was also testified to. Mr. Merriam said that single railroad that did not have its general offices at its terminus. The Union Pacific was a solitary exception and had its general offices at one end of the stations in the line, instead of Council Bluffs, which was its legal terminus.

G. W. Stahl, driver for C. A. Beebe, swore as to the delay experienced in shipping freight at the Broadway depot caused by the facilities being inadequate being used by the facilities being inadequate.

Several other persons testified to substantially the same troubles, among them being C. B. Waite of Shugart, Waite & Wies.

W. W. Loomis of David Bradley & Co., testified that the facilities at the Broadway depot were wholly unequal to the demands made upon it.

An adjournment was had until the usual hour this morning.

Go to the New York Plumbing company for garden hose. They warrant all they sell. Opera house block.

A Small Search.
Yesterday afternoon a gasoline stove in the residence of Gus Heller, No. 614 East Pierce street, exploded, causing the flames to catch the wood work of an outer room in which the stove was situated. As usual there was a delay in getting an alarm turned in. No key was to be found to the box, and a messenger had to be sent to Geisse's brewery, from which place a telephone message was sent in. Before the department could reach the place the fire had been put out by hand. The loss was slight.

The building is owned by Mr. Baker.
When the alarm was sent in the team of the Bluff City hose cart came flying out of their stalls, but instead of waiting for the harness to drop upon them, they pushed through the front door, and went dashing off without any hose cart. They made a wild break to put out the fire, but their zeal exceeded their judgment, and they had to be hunted up and brought back to headquarters.

The City of the Dead.

A move is on foot to get a drinking fountain placed in the cemetery. The city, under its contract with the water works, is entitled to six public drinking fountains, but there are only five in place.
The cemetery folks want the sixth one.
It seems that Fairmount park needs all that the city can supply in the way of water works improvements. The cemetery association and the lot owners can easily provide themselves with all needed conveniences at little individual expense.
There is need of more pride and enterprise on the part of lot owners in the cemetery. Many lots are neglected and are allowed to become unsightly by an overgrowth of foliage and a lack of care. In many cemeteries the non-resident lot owners pay a small sum annually to the sexton to take care of their property and to keep it mown and otherwise in an attractive condition.
The cost would be but trifling, and the appearance of the cemetery would be greatly beautified. Those who reside here and own lots would then have further incentive to keep their lots beautiful. The cemetery is that all of the railway companies, as a whole, does not compare favorably with the cemeteries of other cities. In the care shown by lot owners. It is a most beautiful spot naturally, and can be made still more so by care and needed improvements. So long as so many lot owners show so little interest in improving their lots, it seems that the city at large can hardly be expected to do so.

Beard has an immense stock of wals paper and room mouldings, which can be turned into cash, so down go the price at Beard's.

Personal Paragraphs.
Colonel C. R. Scott, of Omaha, was in the city yesterday.

Mrs. Harlow, of Avoca, daughter of Arch Colman, is in the city.

A. W. Askwith and Fremont Benjamin are among the attorneys attending court.

Mr. Horace Everett left yesterday for an eastern trip, intending to visit Boston and other points.

C. L. Dunham, of Avoca, a prominent druggist of that place, was in the city yesterday, accompanied by his wife.

Chief Matthews is able to be up and about, although his arm is still in a bad condition as the result of Sifton's shot.

James Beard and wife, of Mapleton, Iowa, returned to their home today, after spending several days with Mrs.
General Dodge, their sister.

Rev. J. W. Crofts went to Logan yesterday to attend the Sunday school convention there and take his part on the program, it being an address to be delivered last evening on the subject "The Influence of the Bible on Life and Character."

F. M. Young, who has been steward at the Ogden house for nearly two years, leaves on Tuesday for Chadron, where he will take a position in the depot hotel.
He has not only shown himself to be a valuable hotel man, but has made many friends here.

S. C. Osborne, of Glenwood, the coming state auditor, was in the city yesterday. The mention of his name for this position has excited for many heavy interest. He has had for many years a large business in the press of western Iowa, and the press has but reflected the sentiment of many citizens. It seems now that this nomination would be considered to this part of the record of so Mr. Osborne will doubtless be the man.

Coke sales and Small Profits.
Drug Record: A man afflicted with deafness took a prescription to a Topeka druggist who filled it with care and in the latest style. The deaf man asked the price when the following tale occurred to him (leaning on the corner and smiling in a won't-you-pay-up manner).
"The price is seventy-five cents."
"Deaf customer—"Five cents? Here it is."

Druggist (in a louder voice):—"Seventy-five cents, please."
"Deaf customer—"Well, there's your five cents."

Druggist (in a very loud voice and very firm manner):—"I said seventy-five cents."
"Deaf customer (getting angry):—"Well, but more do you want? I just gave you five cents."

Druggist (sotto voice):—"Well, go to thunder with your medicine. I made three cents, any way."

Practical Advice to Girls.
A Vermont editor gives the following advice to the ladies: "When you have got a man to the sticking point—that is, when he proposes, don't turn away your head, or affect a blush, or refer him to pa, or ask for some time; all those tricks are understood now; but just look him right in the face; give him a hearty "buss" and tell him to go and order a cradle."
