

KILLED BY A FRIGHTFUL FALL

Dr. Chas. D. Lilly Dies from the Effects of a Mysterious Accident.

THE POWELL MURDER CASE.

The New Developments in It Yesterday—The Stoman Bros' Failure—Robbed on a Train—Road Notes, Etc.

A Sad Affair.

Yesterday morning about 4 o'clock, Dr. Chas. D. Lilly, a guest at the Arcade hotel was found lying on the pavement in front, bruised and bleeding. A terrible gash was on the left side of his temple, just above the eye, while his ankle was fractured.

A telegraph wire which stretched a few feet below the third story window, from which Lilly had fallen, was found to be broken, and had undoubtedly caused the descent and prevented instant death, which would otherwise have resulted from the accident.

The manner in which the accident occurred is a matter of some mystery. The most plausible theory is that the night before warm, light evening and steady rain, which is a very low one, and losing his balance fell out. The idea that he intended to commit suicide, or that he was intoxicated at the time, is regarded as too ridiculous to be entertained.

ADDITIONAL PARTICULARS. Dr. Lilly was a man about thirty-five years of age. He was formerly a practicing physician in Chicago, and removed from that place about four years ago and engaged in the drug business at Louisville, Ky. Two years ago he removed to Omaha, Neb., and engaged in the practice of his profession and connected a drug store at the same time. He is a cousin of Drs. T. A. & L. N. Lilly, of Chicago. The deceased arrived in Omaha on Sunday evening and stayed at the Arcade. On Monday he purchased a bill of goods of the H. T. Clarke Drug company. He retired to his room about 11 o'clock on Monday night, after having been engaged in a conversation in front of the hotel with Mr. Holoway.

Robbed on a Train. Officer Mostyn was engaged yesterday in looking through the various "joints" in the city for the stolen property of a Chapman (Neb.) stockman, who was robbed on a Union Pacific train on the 20th of May last.

POWELL'S CASE.

How the Alleged Forger Crosby was Sinned.

The case of the State vs. Powell was called in the district court yesterday. The defendants were the persons who have been present at all the sessions which have thus far taken place.

John Timmins was placed upon the stand for the defense and testified to unimportant facts. After which Crosby, the young man who is alleged to have committed perjury in testifying that he had been told by Leslie that he (Leslie) and two others had intended to shoot Powell on the night that Leslie, himself, was killed. He was questioned by Mr. Burnham as follows:

"Which of the witnesses have you met since you left the stand?"

"I have met the witness stand where you made a statement that you had testified to what was not true, and that you had been bribed to swear to it?"

"Did you ever speak to the defendant or to his relatives with reference to this case, or did he speak to you?"

"After you left the witness stand were you arrested?"

"Were you intimidated by a mob of men at Florence which forced you to contradict what you had testified to?"

"Did you go to the house of Mr. Baldwin with Dr. Solomon to meet this man Simpson?"

"Has any one acting for the defendant, or any of his relatives or friends, induced you to swear that what you have already testified to was false?"

To all of these questions the state, represented by Messrs. Estelle and Baldwin, refuse to allow an answer to be made. Their objections were sustained by the court and Crosby was consequently unable to deny the stories which have been told about his connection with the case.

The case was then closed and Mr. Baldwin commenced his closing remarks. He was followed by Mr. Burnham for the defense. District Attorney Estelle will close for the State to-day.

Crosby in conversation with a reporter said that he had made a confession to Judge Baldwin, that Shipley, (one of Powell's friends) had bribed him to testify as he did, simply to get rid of Baldwin, who was pestering him with questions. "I wasn't on oath when I was talking with Baldwin," he said, "and I could say what I pleased."

Crosby further denied most strenuously that he had perjured himself, or that he had received any bribe money.

Mr. Burnham, Powell's attorney, was very indignant at what he called a candid gotten up by one of the counsel for the prosecution. This is a cock-and-bull yarn he said which will be exposed when the time comes. I believe I am too shrewd and too honest to allow Baldwin to catch me napping in that way. I don't know the first thing about the alleged bribery, and am just as ready to have a full examination as any one. No, sir, I have not been near Crosby yesterday because if I did, the prosecution might be tempted to accuse me of trying to influence him."

In the district court this morning, J. T. Moriarty, attorney for Mrs. Sweeten, filed a petition to restrain her husband from calling at her rooms, removing her property, or in any manner intimidating her during the pendency of the divorce proceedings, for which she has petitioned. It seems that since Mrs. Sweeten filed her petition her husband has come home and threatened her life, and for which disorderly conduct he is now in jail.

Judge Wakely yesterday passed the cases of Kaufman vs. Holtz, Baker vs. Cannon, and Eitelsohn vs. Miller sheriff. The matter of the estate of Staley vs. Housel, to eject the latter from lot 5, block 392, is under consideration.

A HEAVY CRASH.

Stoman Bros. Fail for a Large Amount.

Bradstreet's local agency definitely announced yesterday the failure of one of Omaha's large leather and saddlery jobbing firms, Stoman Bros., of 1307 Douglas street.

For months past the friends of the firm have been expecting the crash to come, and the only wonder has been that the failure was "staved off" as long as it was.

According to the figures at present obtainable, the liabilities of the firm are about $75,000 and the assets not over $35,000 or $40,000. Mortgages amounting to $57,947.77 have been given to various parties to secure the indebtedness of the firm. Of the amount about $10,000 appears to be duplicated. The mortgages have been given as follows:

Herman C. Teichmeier of Detroit, $20,437.77.
B. F. Page & Co. Chicago, $5,160.
C. A. Bristol, $2,550.
S. Katz, $4,000.
Meyer Hellman, $5,000.
S. A. Stoman, $13,700.

There are other liabilities which will swell the amount to $75,000 Samuel A. Stoman an elder brother who up to a few months ago was connected with the firm has been appointed receiver for the concern by an order of Judge Dunlap. Mr. Stoman is endeavoring as rapidly as possible to straighten out his affairs preparatory to affecting a settlement.

A gentleman who is well acquainted with the affairs of the firm, in speaking of the failure said to-day: "The cause of the failure is bad management of business affairs. The firm have been getting poorer and deeper into the hole, and have at last got to borrowing notes from their friends and getting them discounted. These notes are known as 'accommodation paper' for they are given without any return value. These mortgages were given to secure some of these accommodation notes. The fact is that for two years the firm have been drifting toward bankruptcy and last fall S. A. Stoman, who was really backing the establishment with his money, withdrew, taking with him all his capital. This left only Morris Stoman in the firm. Things went from bad to worse and finally Mr. Bradstreet telegraphed eastern business firms, warning them of the condition of affairs. I am only surprised that the Stomans have kept afloat as long as they have."

Robbed on a Train. Officer Mostyn was engaged yesterday in looking through the various "joints" in the city for the stolen property of a Chapman (Neb.) stockman, who was robbed on a Union Pacific train on the 20th of May last.

The story told by the victim, Mr. John G. Nordgren, is as follows: He boarded the train to come to Omaha, having in his possession two suits of clothes, about $7,000 in money and $1,300 in notes, together with a watch valued at $100 or $125. At Grand Island he got off and deposited the $7,000 in the bank, reserving about $25 for expense money. Just after leaving Grand Island he fell asleep and when he awoke it was to find that he had been robbed of this money, his watch and chain and the $1,300 worth of notes. There was not the slightest clue to the thief and none of the passengers in the coach had noticed at any time that there were any suspicious looking strangers carrying the pockets of the sleeping man.

Coming to Omaha Nordgren inserted an advertisement in the Bee offering a large reward for the stolen property. Monday he received a reply, written by a man who claimed to know where the stolen goods were, which announced that for a heavy consideration, the stolen property would be returned to Mr. Nordgren. That gentleman at once replied with an advertisement which appeared in last night's Bee, as follows:

REWARD.—The reward ("U. B.") for my papers intrusted; sent to me C. O. D. by express to John G. Nordgren, Chapman, Neb., or to his brother, John G. Nordgren, 315-1/2 N. 1st St., Omaha, Neb., is $1,000. Nothing has been heard from the mysterious advertiser as yet. The police say that in all probability he is a detective fishing for the job of recovering the stolen goods.

Yesterday after much diligent inquiry and careful work, Officer Mostyn succeeded in recovering the clothes in Robins' pawn shop on lower Farnam street. The wagon was also recovered. The stolen property will be in reach before the close of another twenty-four hours.

REACHING FOR THE BONDS.

Bids for the Evidences of Omaha's Prosperity.

At noon yesterday City Treasurer Buck opened bids for two sets of city bonds, which are to be sold for the purpose of enabling the school board to redeem the bonds of the school district of this city which become due on the 1st of next July.

The first section of these is for $10,000 of city of Omaha funding bonds, dated November 1, 1880, and payable November 1, 1900, bearing 7 per cent, semi-annual interest. Twenty bonds each for $500.

For these McCague Bros. bid $11,625; Bowler & Merrill of Bangor, Me., $12,005; Blake Bros. of Boston $11,145; S. A. Bowler of Chicago $11,100; S. M. Hart of Chicago, $11,735; and the Vermont National bank of Brattleboro, Vt., $11,875.

The bids upon the Omaha alley district paving bonds, bearing 6 per cent due at various periods up to August 1, 1888, and amounting to $20,500, the following were received:

N. W. Harris, $21,600; Bowler & Merrill, $21,900; Blake Bros., $20,710; Vermont National bank, $21,875.

For the $17,000 bonds section, the county of Douglas was the only bidder. These bonds are to run only one year, and the county's bid, which was the only one made, was $17,500. The county will pay for them with its own bonds, to be sold June 1, 1886.

The highest bidders for the $10,000 amount were Bowler & Merrill for the $20,500, the Vermont National bank, of Brattleboro, Vt.

The others will doubtless go to the county. The board of education will pass upon the bids at the next meeting.

A Dashing Runaway.

Yesterday at 3 o'clock one of the light delivery wagons of the city steam laundry went tearing east on Farnam behind a frightened horse. It collided with a farmer's wagon opposite Ed. Witbig's nearly overturned a buggy at Fourteenth street, came near running down a woman at the Thirteenth street crossing, and when last seen it was scattering pedestrians on all sides on Tenth street. The wagon was a new one and seemed substantially constructed, because it was submitted to the severest tests.

The Rubie Murder.

Yesterday William Fielder the man who was arrested for complicity in the murder of Christ Rubie, was brought in to Justice Holsley's court for preliminary examination. After a brief examination, he was recommitted to jail without bail on charge of murder. The complaint filed against him in Judge Holsley's court alleges that William Fielder has committed the said crime, to-wit: On the 18th day of May, 1886, the said William Fielder then and there did purpose and of deliberate and premeditated malice with a deadly weapon which the said William Fielder held in his right hand, and Warmer weather is here, and with it the markets are beginning to assume a decidedly "summerish" aspect. In the way of vegetables there are few changes to note from the list given last week, except that home grown articles are becoming more plentiful and cheaper. Home grown strawberries are likewise beginning to be placed on the market, and the consequence is that the red luscious fruit is no longer the expensive luxury that it used to be.
